Daily Hearings On Marin Budget Set

Public hearings will begin Monday at the Civic Center on the county's 1970-71 budget of more than $36 million, up about $3 million from the current year's budget.

Marin County Board of Supervisors will open two weeks of daily hearings in the supervisors' chambers on the third floor.

Three departments, human rights, new careers and the farm adviser, will be fighting for survival. Other department heads will be fighting to retain programs and personnel which have been recommended for cutbacks by County Administrator Alan Bruce.

The indicated tax rate is somewhere between $2.50 and $2.60 per $100 assessed valuation, as compared with this year's $2.395. Since the county schools office budget will be considered separately for the new fiscal year, the county rate will drop by about 10 cents, but the effect on taxpayers will be the same because they must foot the bills.

Here is the schedule of hearings, department by department:

MONDAY

Opening statements by the county administrator and auditor-controller. They will discuss managerial salaries not covered by contracts with bargaining units and other employee costs such as changes in retirement costs.

10:30 a.m. — Medical department.

11:15 a.m. — Public health.

1:45 p.m. — Weights and measures and agricultural commissioner, which the county administrator wants consolidated.

2:15 p.m. — Farm adviser, followed by veterans service, assessor, treasurer-tax collector, auditor-controller, and district attorney.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fifty-eight foreigners held hostage in Amman were reported released today, but Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported that a commando group was holding the widow of an American military attache killed by guerrillas in the Jordanian capital earlier this week.

A guerrilla organization in Beirut announced that the radical Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine this morning released the 58 Americans, Britons and other foreigners it had help captive for more than 36 hours in Amman's two main hotels.

Diplomats in the Lebanese capital confirmed the report, but had no details. Regular communication channels with the Jordanian capital were still cut.

The American woman reported a prisoner of the commandos was the widow of Maj. Robert P. Perry of Chicago, an attache of the U.S. Embassy in Amman

SACRAMENTO — Although time is running out, hope was still alive yesterday that the Legislature will vote this session on a measure to control development of the California coastline.

A behind-the-scenes effort to merge three bills, each creating a coastal regulating agency similar to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, has been under way since last month.

Although some progress is reported, one of the negotiators observed yesterday that legislative adjournment is near, possibly next month.

"The question is, is there enough time?" said a staff aide to Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, sponsor of one of the measures. Authors of the other two bills are Assemblymen George Milias, R-Gilroy, and Pete Wilson, R-San Diego.

Because of sharp differences over a feature of one of the bills, it was conceded that the negotiators might not reach agreement this year, although Sieroty's aide said there is a

SAUSALITO BARRICADE

Sandbags Traded For Shrubbery

By PAT ANGLE

Sausalito city crews today began removing controversial sandbags from a two-block portion of downtown bridgeway, replacing them with planter boxes filled with shrubs that promptly proved equally controversial.

The city parking ban along the street, which the sacks have been used to enforce, is still in effect. And downtown merchants, who say the removal of about 30 parking spaces in the area is seriously hurting their businesses, refused to be mollified by the exchange.

As public works employees used fork lifts to cart away the sandbags and bring in the plants, businessmen watched glumly from the sidewalks and made wry jokes about the proceedings.

"I'm sure the dogs of Sausalito will love these planters - but they'll be the only ones," cracked Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla Inn and vice president of the Sausalito Businessmen's Association, a group formed to fight the parking ban.

Miss Stanford peered closely at one of the planters. "God, it's full of crabgrass," she crowed triumphantly, "and old tin cans." She lifted a root beer can from among the plants. A few merchants laughed.

"Isn't this something," she continued, pointing to the work going on. "If the city council had any brains, they'd be dangerous and if they had any sense, they wouldn't have started this no-parking business in the first place."

On a more serious note, Robert D. Bauerle, president of the association, said the sandbag removal was "not a concession of any kind" on the part of the city.

"They are using the sandbags to cover up the main issue," Bauerle said. "The situation remains exactly the same - the parking is still gone and the businessmen are hurting and we are still going to fight to get that parking ban lifted."

Yesterday the association filed in Marin Superior Court asking for a writ of mandate to force the city to remove the bags, but most of the businessmen assembled agreed today's

Unbalanced Reagan Budget Up To Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's 1970 budget battle moved to the Senate today where members set the stage for debate on their trimmed-down version of Gov Reagan's unbalanced $6.48 billion spending bill.

Debate now is expected late Monday or Tuesday.

The Assembly unexpectedly passed its budget bill Thursday, 54-16, after Republicans and Democrats deadlocked over how to go about cutting the measure to meet a $141 million deficit.

Chairman Frank Lanterman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee finally gave up efforts to return the budget to committee for revision. He angrily told lower house Democrats, "You leave me no alternative but to send it as it is right now over to the Senate."

The Assembly did just that, with the help of 16 Democratic votes, despite these cautionary words of Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda:

"We are the laughing stock of the legislature and the state if we send an unbalanced budget to the Senate."

The Senate's version was trimmed down by about $100 million to $6.38 billion by the Finance Committee by way of a 1.6 per cent across-the-board cut — branded an irresponsible approach by Lanterman, R-La Canada.

Senate debate had been planned for today, but that was delayed partly by Democrats' reluctance to vote so soon and the mechanics involved in the Senate's receipt of the Assembly-approved measure.

Chairman Donald L. Grunsky, R-Watsonville, of the Senate Finance Committee, expects some opposition from senators who don't like the "meat ax" 1.6 per cent blanket cut. But he thinks he has the 27 votes required for passage in the 40-member house.

Republicans control the Senate 21-19 and have a 40-39 edge

Calm and composed in a bright yellow dress, the 33-year-old Mrs. Thoresen answered "not guilty" to charges of murder and marijuana possession.

She was arrested after the body of her 32-year-old husband, shot repeatedly in the chest, was found Wednesday in an upstairs bedroom of their Fresno home.

REPORT: CAMBODIA CEDING BIG AREA

Cong, Viets Holding Half Of Nation; West Aides Say Action 'Realistic'

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government, faced with sharply mounting pressure from the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, has decided reluctantly to cede almost half the country to enemy control, well informed sources said today.

The disclosure came as military sources reported that enemy troops seized nearly half of the provincial capital of Kompong Speu, 30 miles south of Phnom Penh in heavy fighting.

Refugees from the town, which lies on the only highway open to Cambodia's major port of Kompong Som, formerly Sihanoukville, said the enemy held the central market and virtually all of that part of the town which lies south of a river bisecting it.

Western military experts termed the decision to cede territory to the enemy realistic, and said that even by concentrating its forces around Phnom Penh and northwest of the capital, the government will have only a 50-50 chance of surviving the next four or five months of monsoon rains.

The threat to the port of Kompong Som, through which all of Phnom Penh's fuel and other vital supplies must pass could have critical consequences.

Enemy troops also made a strong attack 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh in what could be a prelude to new assaults on the key Mekong River town of Kompong Cham.

Spokesmen said the fighting at Siem Reap, near the Angkor temple ruins, had subsided, but strong enemy forces were still in the area.

The diplomats said Premier Lon Nol's government, in assessing its prospects, had written off the extensive eastern territory in which U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have been operating. With its army and strategic reserves already spread dangerously thin, the sources said the government realizes that much of the area east and south of Phnom Penh will revert to Communist control if the U.S. and South Vietnamese leave.

Reports from Kompong Speu, indicated the fighting was still going on. A government spokesman said he considered the attack a threat to Phnom Penh, even though the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have penetrated much closer to the capital in the past.

"The Communists have never given up the idea of attacking Phnom Penh one day," the spokesman said.

American and South Vietnamese spokesmen reported several new flareups of fighting with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units along the Cambodia-

Brooklyn Fires Erupt; Firemen Need Protection

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fires which burned out a supermarket and several shops and vacant tenements in a Brooklyn ghetto area were brought under control today by firemen who were escorted into the area by police after reports of snipers.

New York Fire Chief John O'Jagan said there was a half-hour delay in sending firemen to the scene because they had been "targets for thrown missiles, including rocks and bottles" through a night of racial disturbances in the East New York and Brownsville secaions. Most of the fires were reported out by 8 a. m. EDT.

"When the small arms fire started we would not allow our men into the area," O'Hagan said in answer to questions about the firefighting delay.

The supermarket and a number of shops were reported to have been looted and a police radio car was firebombed. The burned tenements had been slated for demolition as part of an urban renewal program in the predominantly black neighborhood,

It was the first serious racial outbreak of the summer in New York and came after a day os searing heat which hit 91 degrees. There were no reports of injuries but at least eight persons were arrested. The trouble was triggered by police attempts to arrest looters in the East New York supermarket.

Asked if there actually had been any small arms fire in Brownsville, O'Hagan said: "Listen, I spoke to policemen who were on the scene who know what they're talking about and the report seems to be valid."

A spokesman for Mayor Lindsay, however, said the sniper reports were unconfirmed and were "just rumors." There was no foundation to the sniper reports, the spokesman said.

Order was restored in the area later in the morning. Police escorted firemen into the area and by 6 a.m. (EDT) the blazes were limited to small rubbish fires in and around the block of buildings.

Resounding Loss For ABM Foes; Financing Bill Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejecting a last-ditch attempt to kill the Safeguard antimissile system, the House has passed a $1.99 billion military construction appropriation.

Approved 308 to 57 Thursday and sent to the Senate, the measure includes $365.8 million for Safeguard development, construction and housing.

But an effort by Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., to eliminate most of the Safeguard funds was defeated 98 to 26.

Quoting previous Defense Department testimony on Capitol Hill, Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., said the antiballistic missile system is unreliable.

"An ABM system that doesn't knock out 100 per cent of these incoming missiles permits destruction of New York City and some of our other cities and it's worthless," Giaimo said.

Spokesmen for the ABM system included Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., who said the system will be made to work, and Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, R-Mich., who told his opponents on the issue: "If I'm wrong we lose money. But if you're wrong we lose the country."

A Relative Calm Returns To Isla Vista

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Relative calm returned to the strife torn Isla Vista student community Thursday ending five successive nighst of violence.

Only three persons were arrested compared to a total of 667 for the prior five nights during an illegal sit-in and clashes between nearly 300 officers and bands of rock-throwing young persons.

There were only minor incidents of rock throwing late Thursday and two reports of trash fires in the 15-square-block area adjacent to the University of California.

The dusk to dawn curfew was relaxed earlier in the day to 11 p.m. except in a two-square-block area encompassing perfect park and the hard-hit branch of the Bank of America.

About 100 deputies and highway patrolmen moved into the area shortly before the curfew and sealed it off. Up to 600 students gathered on the outskirts of the line of officers but there was no violence.

"They (the officers) talked with the kids and gained a good rapport. When 11 p.m. came everybody went home," said Sheriff Lt. Michael Swan.

Earlier, Gov. Ronald Reagan had authorized the use of the National Guard in the troubled area. The action came after the county supervisors, meeting in emergency session, asked the governor to declare a state of emergency and send in sufficient troops to maintain order. The National Guard was not called in, however.

Shelton made the statement after being told the Army was reoptining its investigation into charges a Ku Klux Klan Klavern is operating in an American unit based in West Gemany.

"Yes, we have Klan units in the Army and in the Army in Germany," Shelton said. "And, before it's over, we're going to have the Klan in every town and village and hamlet in the United States."

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist party chief Leonid I. Brehznev will travel to Bucharest early in July to sign a long-delayed Soviet-Romanian friendship treaty, Tass reported today.

The official Soviet news agency called it "an official friendly visit at the invitation of the Central Committee to the Romanian Communist party and government." It gave no specific date.

Enlistments Plunge

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected drop in Army enlistments last month could herald trouble for Pentagon hopes of cutting the draft to as low as 150,000 men this year.

The Army said enlistments in May totaled 7,629—nearly 3,500 below the month's objective.

Officials were unable to explain the drop, except to note a sharp upturn in antiwar demonstration during May as a result of the U.S. drive into Cambodia.

Defense officials indicated they will pay close attention to the trend in enlistments this month and next—when the end of school traditionally brings more volunteers—in hopes the situation ights itself.

Any deficit in enlistments is made up by increasing draft calls in future months.

The Pentagon Thusday announced a July draft call of 15,000 young men for the Army.

Wingless, But Flies

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — A wingless craft under consideration as part of a projected space shuttle program performed satisfactorily in the first of a series of tests in which an engine was used during its landing approach.

The HL10, piloted Thursday by Air Force Maj. Pete C. Hoag is a project of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

It was dropped from a bomber at 45,000 feet. Then the "wingless wedge," as it has been called, glided to a perfect landing. It is also known as a "lifting body."

The craft had been dropped from the "mother plane" at a 16-degree angle, but Hoag ignited three rocket engines in the course of a 3½-minute flight.

Bonn Envoy To Brazil Is Kidnaped

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Police seeking clues in the kidnaping of West Germany's ambassador to Brazil today reported finding a burned out car which may have been used in the getaway. The kidnapers killed a bodyguard and wounded another in a hail of machine gun fire,

The abduction Thursday night of Ambassador Ehrenfried Von Holleben was the ninth diplomatic kidnaping in Latin America since September and the third in a year in Brazil. The kidnapers demanded release of political prisoners held by the Brazilian government.

ONE MURDER

The West German Ambassador in Guatemala, Count Karl Von Spreti, was kidnaped last March by terrorists who murdered him when the government refused to meet ransom demands.

Detectives trying to find Von Holleben and some trace of his leftwing kidnapers today reported discovery of the burned car, a Volkswagen, in the outlying Barra da Tijuca neighborhood on North River Street.

In Bonn, West German Foreign Minister Walter Scheel said today he has taken both "conventional and unconventional steps" to arrange the release of Von Holleben. He did not elaborate on these steps.

"The Brazilian government is deeply interested in bringing about Von Holeben's release," Schele said at a news conference. "I have the impression the Brazilian government will do everything necessary to arrange his release.

PAST EXPERIENCE

"Experience in Brazil has been that the government there is able to bring about the release of kidnaped diplomats."

Scheel was apparently recalling the abduction of U.S. Ambassador C. Burke Elbrick on Sept. 4, 1969, by leftwing guerrilla groups. He was freed four days later when the government met ransom demands and released 15 political prisoners.

Von Holleben was kidnaped as he was driving him from the West Germany Embassy.

Agnew, Humphrey Agree On One Thing—Economic Gloom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Depending on which vice president you listen to, either the Democrats or the Republicans are to blame for the present state of the U.S. economy and voters will lower the boom on the guilty party in November.

Speaking in Washington Thursday night, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said the previous Democratic administrations are responsible for both the inflation and the Southeast Asian war and "for the first time in eight years somebody is trying to do something about the cost of living."

He also credited President Nixon with being the first chief executive "trying to get us out of that war."

Agnew's remarks were made to some 500 Republican congressional candidates, their wives and campaign aides attending a candidates' conference here.

But at the same time former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told a Democratic audience in New York that the economy will be the primary issue in the 1970 congressional elections and he charged that the Nixon administration "has done nothing to help" the current inflationary situation.

Humphrey, who is expected to announce Saturday he will be a candidate for U.S. senator from Minnesota, predicted great gains for the Democrats in the fall elections.

Humphrey also praised the Senate's Thursday action defeating an amendment that would have authorized Nixon to send U.S. ground troops into Cambodia after July 1 whenever the President felt it necessary to protect American forces in South Vietnam.

"All steps must be taken to withdraw our troops from Indochina as soon as possible," Humphrey told the $1,000-a-plate dinner audience.

But in Washington, Agnew called the Senate's 52-47 defeat of the proposal by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., a "grave mistake on the part of that distinguished body."

Brooklyn Fires Erupt; Firemen Need Protection

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fires which burned out a supermarket and several shops and vacant tenements in a Brooklyn ghetto area were brought under control today by firemen who were escorted into the area by police after reports of snipers.

New York Fire Chief John O'Jagan said there was a half-hour delay in sending firemen to the scene because they had been "targets for thrown missiles, including rocks and bottles" through a night of racial disturbances in the East New York and Brownsville secaions. Most of the fires were reported out by 8 a. m. EDT.

"When the small arms fire started we would not allow our men into the area," O'Hagan said in answer to questions about the firefighting delay.

The supermarket and a number of shops were reported to have been looted and a police radio car was firebombed. The burned tenements had been slated for demolition as part of an urban renewal program in the predominantly black neighborhood,

It was the first serious racial outbreak of the summer in New York and came after a day os searing heat which hit 91 degrees. There were no reports of injuries but at least eight persons were arrested. The trouble was triggered by police attempts to arrest looters in the East New York supermarket.

Asked if there actually had been any small arms fire in Brownsville, O'Hagan said:

"Listen, I spoke to policemen who were on the scene who know what they're talking about and the report seems to be valid."

A spokesman for Mayor Lindsay, however, said the sniper reports were unconfirmed and were "just rumors." There was no foundation to the sniper reports, the spokesman said.

Order was restored in the area later in the morning. Police escorted firemen into the area and by 6 a.m. (EDT) the blazes were limited to small rubbish fires in and around the block of buildings.

FRESNO ARSENAL

Federal agent William Bertalani is surrounded by some of the weapons found in the home of William Thoresen III, who was shot to death Wednesday. The gun collector's wife, Louise, 33, was arraigned yesterday on charges of murder and of possessing marijuana for sale, after investigators found 50 pounds of the weed in the couple's Fresno home, along with dynamite, grenades, guns and ammunition. Resounding Loss For ABM Foes; Financing Bill Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejecting a last-ditch attempt to kill the Safeguard antimissile system, the House has passed a $1.99 billion military construction appropriation.

Approved 308 to 57 Thursday and sent to the Senate, the measure includes $365.8 million for Safeguard development, construction and housing.

But an effort by Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., to eliminate most of the Safeguard funds was defeated 98 to 26.

Quoting previous Defense Department testimony on Capitol Hill, Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., said the antiballistic missile system is unreliable.

"An ABM system that doesn't knock out 100 per cent of these incoming missiles permits destruction of New York City and some of our other cities and it's worthless," Giaimo said.

Spokesmen for the ABM system included Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., who said the system will be made to work, and Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, R-Mich., who told his opponents on the issue: "If I'm wrong we lose money. But if you're wrong we lose the country."

A Relative Calm Returns To Isla Vista

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Relative calm returned to the strife torn Isla Vista student community Thursday ending five successive nighst of violence.

Only three persons were arrested compared to a total of 667 for the prior five nights during an illegal sit-in and clashes between nearly 300 officers and bands of rock-throwing young persons.

There were only minor incidents of rock throwing late Thursday and two reports of trash fires in the 15-square-block area adjacent to the University of California.

The dusk to dawn curfew was relaxed earlier in the day to 11 p.m. except in a two-square-block area encompassing perfect park and the hard-hit branch of the Bank of America.

About 100 deputies and highway patrolmen moved into the area shortly before the curfew and sealed it off. Up to 600 students gathered on the outskirts of the line of officers but there was no violence.

"They (the officers) talked with the kids and gained a good rapport. When 11 p.m. came everybody went home," said Sheriff Lt. Michael Swan.

Earlier, Gov. Ronald Reagan had authorized the use of the National Guard in the troubled area. The action came after the county supervisors, meeting in emergency session, asked the governor to declare a state of emergency and send in sufficient troops to maintain order. The National Guard was not called in, however.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Yes, KKK In Army

TUSCALOOSA, Ala, (UPI) — Robert M. Shelton, Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America, said Thursday the Klan has units in the armed forces, both in the United States and abroad.

Shelton made the statement after being told the Army was reoptining its investigation into charges a Ku Klux Klan Klavern is operating in an American unit based in West Gemany.

"Yes, we have Klan units in the Army and in the Army in Germany," Shelton said. "And, before it's over, we're going to have the Klan in every town and village and hamlet in the United States."

Reds To Ink Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist party chief Leonid I. Brehznev will travel to Bucharest early in July to sign a long-delayed Soviet-Romanian friendship treaty, Tass reported today.

The official Soviet news agency called it "an official friendly visit at the invitation of the Central Committee to the Romanian Communist party and government." It gave no specific date.

Enlistments Plunge

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected drop in Army enlistments last month could herald trouble for Pentagon hopes of cutting the draft to as low as 150,000 men this year.

The Army said enlistments in May totaled 7,629—nearly 3,500 below the month's objective.

Officials were unable to explain the drop, except to note a sharp upturn in antiwar demonstration during May as a result of the U.S. drive into Cambodia.

Defense officials indicated they will pay close attention to the trend in enlistments this month and next—when the end of school traditionally brings more volunteers—in hopes the situation ights itself.

Any deficit in enlistments is made up by increasing draft calls in future months.

The Pentagon Thusday announced a July draft call of 15,000 young men for the Army.

Senators Hit Navy Bay Fill Project

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A Senate committee yesterday approved a resolution calling upon the Navy to comply with regulations of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission in its plans for a 95-acre fill project.

The measure, SR 225 by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, was approved by a voice vote of the Governmental Organization Committee and sent to the Senate floor.

"We're not taking on the Navy," Marks said. "We're pleased to have them in the bay, but we don't want to fill up the bay."

The Navy has announced plans to fill a former seaplane base for expansion at Alameda Naval Air Station but has reminded BCDC it is exempt from the commission's regulations as a federal agency.

The commission has strict controls over bay filling.

Alvin Baum, deputy director of BCDC, said letters had been sent to Navy brass asking compliance with commission regulations but no reply has been received.

Senators Kill Measure Hiking Car Licenses

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The Senate Governmental Organization Committee yesterday killed legislation authorizing a $1 boost in motor vehicle registration fees to pay for a three-year auto pollution research program.

The measure, SB 977 by Sen. William E. Coombs, R-Rialto, would have switched the power to conduct auto smog research from the state Air Resources Board to a new Motor Vehicle Air Pollution Research Board.

Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, objected to the fee increase as a tax. The boost would have been imposed for only one year and raised $12 million.

Marks said he is the author of rival legislation supported by Gov. Ronald Reagan that would raise research funds through the sale of personalized license plates.

Sen. George E. Danielson, D-Los Angeles, opposed the extra fee, he said, because it meant Californians would be paying for research to be applied worldwide.

The measure was backed by the Automobile Club of Southern California and the California State Automobile Association.

Vote Shelves Bill To Curb Open Meets

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to enable local governing bodies to meet behind closed doors to discuss the sale or puchase of property has died for the current legislative session.

The bill, SB 1034 by Sen. Clark L. Bradley, R-San Jose, was shelved for interim study yesterday by the Senate Governmental Organization Committee, which apparently held enough votes to kill the measure.

The bill would have added to the purposes under which agencies are permitted to meet in private under the state's Ralph M. Brown Act.

Violinist Honored

CAMBRIDGE, England (UPI)—Yehudi Menuhin, the American violinist, received an honorary doctorate of music degree Thursday from Cambridge University.

Bill To Hike Supervisors' Pay Voted

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly Local Government Committee yesterday passed legislation that would raise the salaries of Marin's five supervisors from $12,000 to $14,000 annually.

The annual pay of $15,996 for Sonoma supervisors would remain unchanged under the legislation, AB 468 by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond.

The hike for Marin supervisors would be effective in January.

E. L. Ball, general manager of the County Taxpayers' League of Sacramento County, objected that the legislation interfered with home rule because it removes from grand juries the power to recommend supervisors' salaries.

Assemblymen Clear Bill To Expand Public Records Act

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to guard against misuse of personal records contained in computers cleared an Assembly committee yesterday.

The bill, described earlier by Bagley as a "legislative first," was approved by the Governmental Organization Committee and sent to the Ways and Means Committee.

The legislation (AB 1982), part of a three-bill package designed to stiffen Bagley's 1968 Public Records Act, would require state and local agencies to adopt procedures for making computerized public records available, guarantee a person's right to inspect his own record and make changes and require investigators to state the reason for probing a citizen's record.

It would also prohibit the bulk sale by county clerks of voter registration records.

Bagley told the committee the prospect of interconnected data banks and the "ultimate horror, a national data bank," made the legislation necessary.

The committee passed to the Assembly floor a second bill in the package (AB 1981), which would bring the state banking, savings and loan, corporations and insurance departments within the Public Records Act.

Private Lands Antilitter Bill Gains In Senate

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, that would enable a crackdown on litter on private property has been approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The measure (SB 1195), which now goes to the Senate floor, authorizes citations and fines of up to $500 against violators.

Freeway Sign Work To Greenbrae Firm

A $266,949 contract for sign work on Highway 101 has been awarded to E. A. Forde Jr. of Greenbrae, state Director of Public Works James A. Moe has announced.

Installation of overhead signs, roadside signs and sign illumination the length of Marin County on the freeway are called for in the contract, according to Moe.

The following Thursday, Mrs. Nixon will entertain 1,000 Washington, D.C. children on the South lawn of the White House. The children will preview activities planned by the National Park Service's Summer in the Parks 1970 program.

Senators Hit Navy Bay Fill Project

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A Senate committee yesterday approved a resolution calling upon the Navy to comply with regulations of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission in its plans for a 95-acre fill project.

The measure, SR 225 by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, was approved by a voice vote of the Governmental Organization Committee and sent to the Senate floor.

"We're not taking on the Navy," Marks said. "We're pleased to have them in the bay, but we don't want to fill up the bay."

The Navy has announced plans to fill a former seaplane base for expansion at Alameda Naval Air Station but has reminded BCDC it is exempt from the commission's regulations as a federal agency.

The commission has strict controls over bay filling.

Alvin Baum, deputy director of BCDC, said letters had been sent to Navy brass asking compliance with commission regulations but no reply has been received.

Bill To Hike Supervisors' Pay Voted

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly Local Government Committee yesterday passed legislation that would raise the salaries of Marin's five supervisors from $12,000 to $14,000 annually.

The annual pay of $15,996 for Sonoma supervisors would remain unchanged under the legislation, AB 468 by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond.

The hike for Marin supervisors would be effective in January.

E. L. Ball, general manager of the County Taxpayers' League of Sacramento County, objected that the legislation interfered with home rule because it removes from grand juries the power to recommend supervisors' salaries.

Assemblymen Clear Bill To Expand Public Records Act

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to guard against misuse of personal records contained in computers cleared an Assembly committee yesterday.

The bill, described earlier by Bagley as a "legislative first," was approved by the Governmental Organization Committee and sent to the Ways and Means Committee.

The legislation (AB 1982), part of a three-bill package designed to stiffen Bagley's 1968 Public Records Act, would require state and local agencies to adopt procedures for making computerized public records available, guarantee a person's right to inspect his own record and make changes and require investigators to state the reason for probing a citizen's record.

It would also prohibit the bulk sale by county clerks of voter registration records.

Bagley told the committee the prospect of interconnected data banks and the "ultimate horror, a national data bank," made the legislation necessary.

The committee passed to the Assembly floor a second bill in the package (AB 1981), which would bring the state banking, savings and loan, corporations and insurance departments within the Public Records Act.

Private Lands Antilitter Bill Gains In Senate

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, that would enable a crackdown on litter on private property has been approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The measure (SB 1195), which now goes to the Senate floor, authorizes citations and fines of up to $500 against violators.

Senators Kill Measure Hiking Car Licenses

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The Senate Governmental Organization Committee yesterday killed legislation authorizing a $1 boost in motor vehicle registration fees to pay for a three-year auto pollution research program.

The measure, SB 977 by Sen. William E. Coombs, R-Rialto, would have switched the power to conduct auto smog research from the state Air Resources Board to a new Motor Vehicle Air Pollution Research Board.

Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, objected to the fee increase as a tax. The boost would have been imposed for only one year and raised $12 million.

Marks said he is the author of rival legislation supported by Gov. Ronald Reagan that would raise research funds through the sale of personalized license plates.

Sen. George E. Danielson, D-Los Angeles, opposed the extra fee, he said, because it meant Californians would be paying for research to be applied worldwide.

The measure was backed by the Automobile Club of Southern California and the California State Automobile Association.

Vote Shelves Bill To Curb Open Meets

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to enable local governing bodies to meet behind closed doors to discuss the sale or puchase of property has died for the current legislative session.

The bill, SB 1034 by Sen. Clark L. Bradley, R-San Jose, was shelved for interim study yesterday by the Senate Governmental Organization Committee, which apparently held enough votes to kill the measure.

The bill would have added to the purposes under which agencies are permitted to meet in private under the state's Ralph M. Brown Act.

Guerrillas Release 58 Foreigners In Jordan

who was killed by a group of guerrillas who invaded his residence Wednesday at the height of the fighting between the Palestinians and Jordanian troops.

Earlier reports said Mrs. Perry and two of their three children were present when Perry was killed, but the Egyptian report today made no mention of the children. Nor did it give the circumstances of the reported capture of the woman.

As the Palestine guerrillas refused to be satisfied by concessions from King Hussein of Jordan and made new demands, U.S. officials were preparing to evacuate about 400 Americans living in Jordan.

In Washington, the White House said only "precautionary planning" was being done. But a representative of the International Red Cross arrived in Amman today to arrange the evacuation, and three Lebanese jetliners were standing by in Beirut to fly the evacuees to Athens.

Subsequently, the State Department said in Washington that the airlift to evacuate the Americans would enter Jordan today. A spokesman said planes have received landing permission from Jordan authorities.

The spokesman also said it was understood by the department that the hostages held by the guerrillas are being released.

Hussein made major concession to the guerrillas Thursday by dismissing his uncle from command of his army and removing a cousin from command of an army division that had spearheaded the battle against the guerrillas in Amman. But Al Fatah, the largest of the commando organizations, said in a broadcast from Cairo that this was only "the beginning of victory for the people."

It demanded that the king renounce his commitment to a political settlement with Israel and said only such a "radical solution" could end the strife in Jordan in which more than 700 persons are reported to have been killed or wounded.

The broadcast demanded that the king join the guerrillas in their commitment to "liberate" Israel from Jewish domination. It also demanded "the liquidation of America's entire fifth column in Jordan."

"What is needed is a radical solution, not merely decisions written on paper or broadcast on the radio," Al Fatah said.

Telephone communications with Amman were still cut off, and the electricity there was out for the third day as the result of guerrilla rocket hits on the power station. Operating on an emergency transmitter, Amman Radio called on government employees to stand by for repair work on the city's water supply system.

In the Arab-Israeli war, a Lebanese military spokesman reported that two civilians were killed and three wounded by a three-hour Israeli artillery barrage on a Lebanese village in the central part of the Lebanese-Israeli border. One house was destroyed and another damaged, the spokesman said, adding that Lebanese units returned the fire.

On the Suez Canal front, Israeli commandos crossed the canal at both ends Thursday night. The Israeli command said they killed about 20 soldiers and destroyed bunkers in a strip of fortifications north of El Quantara, and that four Israeli soldiers were killed and 15 wounded. Cairo claimed both attacks were foiled and 25 of the raiders were killed, drowned or wounded.

good chance a single bill will be written if the authors themselves are able to sit down and air disagreements.

He explained much of the negotiating to date has been done by staff because of the busy Assembly schedule.

If a lone bill does emerge before the Assembly Natural Resources Committee, where the package is stalled, Sieroty's aide said he expects a fight bigger than the one over BCDC last year.

"This is potentially the biggest conservation issue in the State of California," he said.

The aide said the major hurdle to an agreement is deciding the degree of local control over decision-making. Wilson's bill emphasizes this, but Sieroty and Milias feel it is too strong.

Mlias told the Independent-Journal that "hard rock opposition" to the bills is coming largely from local and county governments in Southern California. The Natural Recources Committee, which Milias chairs, took testimony on the bills last month. He added that a lobbyist for the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors said the board stiffly opposes relinquishing coastline jurisdiction to the state.

"We don't see why the state should pre-empt us," said lobbyist F. M. McLaughlin.

Oil and power companies also are reportedly critical of the measures.

"The horror of this," Sieroty's aide said, "is that there will be a big fight once we get a bill but we have to get a bill first."

He said only moderate public interest in the legislation had surfaced but believed it would increase when and if a single bill is agreed upon.

Each of the three measures would create regional commissions in addition to a state board, with membership and the number of regional bodies varying under each bill.

Master plans for coastal use would be required within two to four years.

"We must insure that a bill passed by the Natural Resources Committee is the strongest, most conservationist-oriented one and has the best safeguards for preservation of the coastline," Sieroty's aide said.

"We are going to need a lot of grassroots help from all over the state if we are going to make it," Milias said.

Vietnam border to the south and east. Eighty-two enemy soldiers were listed as killed.

Six Americans were killed and 29 wounded in Cambodian fighting. The heaviest toll was three killed and 19 wounded when enemy troops ambushed a mechanized infantry unit near Minot, the second incident of its kind in two days. One North Vietnamese soldier was known dead.

The U.S. command said in a delayed report that a 10-member Viet Cong sapper team tried to break into the U.S. Navy air base at Cam Ranh Bay early Thursday. They got through the outer defenses but were stopped short of the main gate by guards' gunfire, spokesmen said. Two were killed, one was captured, and the rest escaped. Six Americans were wounded in the brief encounter.

Motorcyclist Hurt In Dog Accident

A 22-year-old Novato man was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for treatment after his motorcycle hit a dog at 8:15 p.m. yesterday at 1510 Armstrong Avenue.

Novato police said Frederick Geiger of 72 Western Drive was injured, but Hamilton hospital officials were unable to supply details.

Senate Nips Bid To Tie Army Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated Friday a move to cut the money out of the military sales bill, after hearing a warning that such action might complicate efforts to aid Israel.

The action came just one day after the Senate, in a decision likely to prove more symbolic than substantial, paved the way for expected approval next week of the proposal to curb future U.S. activities in Cambodia.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., sought to cut the funds out so that, in the future, the executive branch would have to submit detailed lists of proposed sales of military arms and equipment. At present, these can be financed out of the lump sums authorized in the bill.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., one of the Senate's leading advocates of the plan to provide jets for Israel, opposed the amendment, warning "It would result in holding it up, tying it up at a moment when we shouldn't."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, floor manager of the sales bill which has been the vehicle for the Senate's month-long debate on U.S. involvement in Cambodia, also opposed Williams' amendment.

The Williams amendment affected $250 million in cash for each of the next two years and $300 million in credits for each year that would be authorized by the pending legislation.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said the United States has sold jet planes to Arab nations under the sales bill and is currently training some 1,250 Arab pilots in the United States.

BUDGET

in the Assembly with one vacancy.

Sen. George Moscone of San Francisco, the Democratic leader, said, "I don't see any great sentiment (among Democrats) for voting for it."

Moscone said he would detail Democratic objections on the Senate floor after studying the latest version of the Senate measure.

The Republican Reagan administration proposed that the bulk of the deficit be made up by cutting various welfare programs and higher education spending — including professors' salary increases and postponing construction projects.

A final compromise will be worked out in a Senate-Assembly conference committee dominated 4-2 by Republicans.

Grunsky said he felt the budget-making process was moving well enough so that he didn't expect the type of budget crisis the state went through last year.

California went three days into the new fiscal year without a budget — something that had never happened before. Democrats held out their votes until they got promises from Reagan for new school funds.

They want more school money this year, too, but appear to be using Reagan's $1 billion tax reform package as the lever for that in 1970.

removal by the city was no victory at all.

There were mutterings about "taking it to the supreme court if necessary," and Miss Stanford received nods and smiles from the tiny group of onlookers when she offered to finance a recall of the city council.

The council ordered the no-parking area on Bridgeway between Princes sand Anchor streets last month and it went into effect May 25. City officials say its purpose is to alleviate traffic congestion in the downtown business district and make the street easier to clean.

Across the street from the merchants, in city hall, Acting City Mgr. H. Eric Borgwardt, who ordered the bags replaced by planters Wednesday, said, "I can only feel the use of planters will substantially enhance the appearance of the area. This will remove a great deal of the stigma generated by the sandbags themselves."

Borgwardt said the planters being used have been taken from city parking lots. He also indicated the sandbags will be put to good use, with the sand "probably" going to the city's Tiffany Beach Park which, because of tidal movement, suffers from a distinct lack of the grainy substance.

Thief Gets A Decoy Bank Bag

A thief Wednesday night stole $10 in small change and a grey bank bag containing newspaper cut to the size of paper money from Marin Auto Parts, 425 Irwin Street, San Rafael Police reported today.

Manager Holly Peake told police the decoy bank bag was placed where the money was previously kept because the store had been broken into three times previously.

A $40 glass door was broken to enter the store between 7:30 and 9:20 p.m., police said.

Performance will also be given at 8 p.m. on June 19 and 20 at Tamalpais High School.

$2,400 Haul In Theft At Lagunitas Lodge

Burglars who broke into the Lagunitas Lodge on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Lagunitas Tuesday stole cash, jewelry and alcohol valued at over $2,400, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

The thieves had ransacked both the family living quarters and public area of the lodge, according to the officers.

Minor Quakes Shake Danville

DANVILLE (UPI) — Minor and moderate earthquakes—more than 40 in 16 hours—rattled the Danville-Walnut Creek area Thursday night and today.

Seismologists at the University of California said the most severe jolt was at 8:30 p.m. Thursday and had a 4.3 magnitude on the Richter scale, not large enough to cause damage.

The Richter scale measures the energy output of quakes with a logarithmic progression of numbers. The San Francisco disaster of 1906 was registered at 8.25.

Five Students Hurt In Wreck

Five San Rafael High School students sustained minor injuries in a collision at Third and High streets yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

A car driven by Pamela S. Wendell, 16, 12 Dominican Drive, collided at 1:46 p.m. with one driven by Kerry E. Hickey, 17, 343 D Street.

Both drivers and three passengers in the Wendell car were to see their own doctors for treatment. Two passengers in the Hickey car were not injured.

Novato Girl, 16, Hurt As Car Hits Poles

Cynthia D. Smith, 16, of 1290 Leafwood Drive, Novato, was treated at Novato General Hospital today for knee cuts suffered in an accident last night, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said she was a passenger in a car driven by Jeffrey A. Wilson, 18, of 757 Diablo Avenue, Novato, that left a curve on Olive Avenue near Deer Island and struck two utility pole at 11:50 p.m.

Auto Embezzling Suspect Is Held

A 27-year-old man was held in lieu of $3,125 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on suspicion of embezzling a rental car from a Mill Valley service station.

Andrew Robert Valleau, of no known address, was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday after his arrest in Orange County earlier this week.

Mill Valley police said Valleau rented a 1970 Ford belonging to Hertz Rent-A-Car from I and M Shell Service, 485 Miller Avenue, on April 28 and failed to return it.

According to Sandra A. Graddy, 4 Riviera Place, the homeowners are tired of waiting for someone else to clean up the driftwood and weeds which line San Pedro and so will do the job themselves.

who was killed by a group of guerrillas who invaded his residence Wednesday at the height of the fighting between the Palestinians and Jordanian troops.

Earlier reports said Mrs. Perry and two of their three children were present when Perry was killed, but the Egyptian report today made no mention of the children. Nor did it give the circumstances of the reported capture of the woman.

As the Palestine guerrillas refused to be satisfied by concessions from King Hussein of Jordan and made new demands, U.S. officials were preparing to evacuate about 400 Americans living in Jordan.

In Washington, the White House said only "precautionary planning" was being done. But a representative of the International Red Cross arrived in Amman today to arrange the evacuation, and three Lebanese jetliners were standing by in Beirut to fly the evacuees to Athens.

Subsequently, the State Department said in Washington that the airlift to evacuate the Americans would enter Jordan today. A spokesman said planes have received landing permission from Jordan authorities.

The spokesman also said it was understood by the department that the hostages held by the guerrillas are being released.

Hussein made major concession to the guerrillas Thursday by dismissing his uncle from command of his army and removing a cousin from command of an army division that had spearheaded the battle against the guerrillas in Amman. But Al Fatah, the largest of the commando organizations, said in a broadcast from Cairo that this was only "the beginning of victory for the people."

It demanded that the king renounce his commitment to a political settlement with Israel and said only such a "radical solution" could end the strife in Jordan in which more than 700 persons are reported to have been killed or wounded.

The broadcast demanded that the king join the guerrillas in their commitment to "liberate" Israel from Jewish domination. It also demanded "the liquidation of America's entire fifth column in Jordan."

"What is needed is a radical solution, not merely decisions written on paper or broadcast on the radio," Al Fatah said.

Telephone communications with Amman were still cut off, and the electricity there was out for the third day as the result of guerrilla rocket hits on the power station. Operating on an emergency transmitter, Amman Radio called on government employees to stand by for repair work on the city's water supply system.

In the Arab-Israeli war, a Lebanese military spokesman reported that two civilians were killed and three wounded by a three-hour Israeli artillery barrage on a Lebanese village in the central part of the Lebanese-Israeli border. One house was destroyed and another damaged, the spokesman said, adding that Lebanese units returned the fire.

On the Suez Canal front, Israeli commandos crossed the canal at both ends Thursday night. The Israeli command said they killed about 20 soldiers and destroyed bunkers in a strip of fortifications north of El Quantara, and that four Israeli soldiers were killed and 15 wounded. Cairo claimed both attacks were foiled and 25 of the raiders were killed, drowned or wounded.

good chance a single bill will be written if the authors themselves are able to sit down and air disagreements.

He explained much of the negotiating to date has been done by staff because of the busy Assembly schedule.

If a lone bill does emerge before the Assembly Natural Resources Committee, where the package is stalled, Sieroty's aide said he expects a fight bigger than the one over BCDC last year.

"This is potentially the biggest conservation issue in the State of California," he said.

The aide said the major hurdle to an agreement is deciding the degree of local control over decision-making. Wilson's bill emphasizes this, but Sieroty and Milias feel it is too strong.

Mlias told the Independent-Journal that "hard rock opposition" to the bills is coming largely from local and county governments in Southern California. The Natural Recources Committee, which Milias chairs, took testimony on the bills last month. He added that a lobbyist for the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors said the board stiffly opposes relinquishing coastline jurisdiction to the state.

"We don't see why the state should pre-empt us," said lobbyist F. M. McLaughlin.

Oil and power companies also are reportedly critical of the measures.

"The horror of this," Sieroty's aide said, "is that there will be a big fight once we get a bill but we have to get a bill first."

He said only moderate public interest in the legislation had surfaced but believed it would increase when and if a single bill is agreed upon.

Each of the three measures would create regional commissions in addition to a state board, with membership and the number of regional bodies varying under each bill.

Master plans for coastal use would be required within two to four years.

"We must insure that a bill passed by the Natural Resources Committee is the strongest, most conservationist-oriented one and has the best safeguards for preservation of the coastline," Sieroty's aide said.

"We are going to need a lot of grassroots help from all over the state if we are going to make it," Milias said.

Vietnam border to the south and east. Eighty-two enemy soldiers were listed as killed.

Six Americans were killed and 29 wounded in Cambodian fighting. The heaviest toll was three killed and 19 wounded when enemy troops ambushed a mechanized infantry unit near Minot, the second incident of its kind in two days. One North Vietnamese soldier was known dead.

The U.S. command said in a delayed report that a 10-member Viet Cong sapper team tried to break into the U.S. Navy air base at Cam Ranh Bay early Thursday. They got through the outer defenses but were stopped short of the main gate by guards' gunfire, spokesmen said. Two were killed, one was captured, and the rest escaped. Six Americans were wounded in the brief encounter.

Motorcyclist Hurt In Dog Accident

A 22-year-old Novato man was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for treatment after his motorcycle hit a dog at 8:15 p.m. yesterday at 1510 Armstrong Avenue.

Novato police said Frederick Geiger of 72 Western Drive was injured, but Hamilton hospital officials were unable to supply details.

Senate Nips Bid To Tie Army Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated Friday a move to cut the money out of the military sales bill, after hearing a warning that such action might complicate efforts to aid Israel.

The action came just one day after the Senate, in a decision likely to prove more symbolic than substantial, paved the way for expected approval next week of the proposal to curb future U.S. activities in Cambodia.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., sought to cut the funds out so that, in the future, the executive branch would have to submit detailed lists of proposed sales of military arms and equipment. At present, these can be financed out of the lump sums authorized in the bill.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., one of the Senate's leading advocates of the plan to provide jets for Israel, opposed the amendment, warning "It would result in holding it up, tying it up at a moment when we shouldn't."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, floor manager of the sales bill which has been the vehicle for the Senate's month-long debate on U.S. involvement in Cambodia, also opposed Williams' amendment.

The Williams amendment affected $250 million in cash for each of the next two years and $300 million in credits for each year that would be authorized by the pending legislation.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said the United States has sold jet planes to Arab nations under the sales bill and is currently training some 1,250 Arab pilots in the United States.

BUDGET

in the Assembly with one vacancy.

Sen. George Moscone of San Francisco, the Democratic leader, said, "I don't see any great sentiment (among Democrats) for voting for it."

Moscone said he would detail Democratic objections on the Senate floor after studying the latest version of the Senate measure.

The Republican Reagan administration proposed that the bulk of the deficit be made up by cutting various welfare programs and higher education spending — including professors' salary increases and postponing construction projects.

A final compromise will be worked out in a Senate-Assembly conference committee dominated 4-2 by Republicans.

Grunsky said he felt the budget-making process was moving well enough so that he didn't expect the type of budget crisis the state went through last year.

California went three days into the new fiscal year without a budget — something that had never happened before. Democrats held out their votes until they got promises from Reagan for new school funds.

They want more school money this year, too, but appear to be using Reagan's $1 billion tax reform package as the lever for that in 1970.

BAGS

removal by the city was no victory at all.

There were mutterings about "taking it to the supreme court if necessary," and Miss Stanford received nods and smiles from the tiny group of onlookers when she offered to finance a recall of the city council.

The council ordered the no-parking area on Bridgeway between Princes sand Anchor streets last month and it went into effect May 25. City officials say its purpose is to alleviate traffic congestion in the downtown business district and make the street easier to clean.

Across the street from the merchants, in city hall, Acting City Mgr. H. Eric Borgwardt, who ordered the bags replaced by planters Wednesday, said, "I can only feel the use of planters will substantially enhance the appearance of the area. This will remove a great deal of the stigma generated by the sandbags themselves."

Borgwardt said the planters being used have been taken from city parking lots. He also indicated the sandbags will be put to good use, with the sand "probably" going to the city's Tiffany Beach Park which, because of tidal movement, suffers from a distinct lack of the grainy substance.

Thief Gets A Decoy Bank Bag

A thief Wednesday night stole $10 in small change and a grey bank bag containing newspaper cut to the size of paper money from Marin Auto Parts, 425 Irwin Street, San Rafael Police reported today.

Manager Holly Peake told police the decoy bank bag was placed where the money was previously kept because the store had been broken into three times previously.

A $40 glass door was broken to enter the store between 7:30 and 9:20 p.m., police said.

$2,400 Haul In Theft At Lagunitas Lodge

Burglars who broke into the Lagunitas Lodge on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Lagunitas Tuesday stole cash, jewelry and alcohol valued at over $2,400, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

The thieves had ransacked both the family living quarters and public area of the lodge, according to the officers.

Minor Quakes Shake Danville

DANVILLE (UPI) — Minor and moderate earthquakes—more than 40 in 16 hours—rattled the Danville-Walnut Creek area Thursday night and today.

Seismologists at the University of California said the most severe jolt was at 8:30 p.m. Thursday and had a 4.3 magnitude on the Richter scale, not large enough to cause damage.

The Richter scale measures the energy output of quakes with a logarithmic progression of numbers. The San Francisco disaster of 1906 was registered at 8.25.

Five Students Hurt In Wreck

Five San Rafael High School students sustained minor injuries in a collision at Third and High streets yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

A car driven by Pamela S. Wendell, 16, 12 Dominican Drive, collided at 1:46 p.m. with one driven by Kerry E. Hickey, 17, 343 D Street.

Both drivers and three passengers in the Wendell car were to see their own doctors for treatment. Two passengers in the Hickey car were not injured.

Novato Girl, 16, Hurt As Car Hits Poles

Cynthia D. Smith, 16, of 1290 Leafwood Drive, Novato, was treated at Novato General Hospital today for knee cuts suffered in an accident last night, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said she was a passenger in a car driven by Jeffrey A. Wilson, 18, of 757 Diablo Avenue, Novato, that left a curve on Olive Avenue near Deer Island and struck two utility pole at 11:50 p.m.

Auto Embezzling Suspect Is Held

A 27-year-old man was held in lieu of $3,125 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on suspicion of embezzling a rental car from a Mill Valley service station.

Andrew Robert Valleau, of no known address, was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday after his arrest in Orange County earlier this week.

Mill Valley police said Valleau rented a 1970 Ford belonging to Hertz Rent-A-Car from I and M Shell Service, 485 Miller Avenue, on April 28 and failed to return it.

Peacock Gap Slates Cleanup Of Roadside

Residents of Peacock Gap will stage a roadside cleanup tomorrow from 9 a.m. to noon along San Pedro Road between Peacock and Riviera drives.

According to Sandra A. Graddy, 4 Riviera Place, the homeowners are tired of waiting for someone else to clean up the driftwood and weeds which line San Pedro and so will do the job themselves.

San Anselmo To Try Wage Team

The San Anselmo City Council last night abandoned its traditional practice of negotiating directly with employees on salary matters and adopted a resolution naming the city attorney and city manager as a two-man wage negotiating team.

The council voted 4-1 — with Woodward V. Capurro dissenting — to end direct negotiations between the council and city employees.

The resolution, which goes into effect immediately, calls for City Atty. John G. Buresh and City Mgr. Alfred C. Kaeppel to meet with a committee made up of one employee from each of the city's departments.

Under the new setup, each department will have 10 days in which to elect its representative. The representative will be elected by secret ballot.

Mayor James F. Reed, in pushing for adoption of the resolution, said the change would put an end to ". . .collective begging." He noted that almost all of the other Marin County cities now use the negotiating team concept.

Capurro opposed the resolution and favored dealing directly with employees. "This just opens the city up to labor relations problems," he added.

After passage of the resolution, which came at the beginning of last night's budget session, the council set next Thursday at 8 p.m. as the date of a closed session to meet with the new team to discuss the salary negotiations. The council has not discussed salary proposals during its current budget study.

The council had hoped to get through the entire public works department budget last night but bogged down badly in the street maintenance section, about halfway through the budget.

Before bogging down, the council did give tentative approval to the board of design proposed budget of $1,401, the planning commission budget of $53,661 and the engineering and administration budget of $38,591. The council made no changes in the board of design and the planning commission budgets but did add $2,424 to the engineering budget for the hiring of a part-time typist.

The council debated for nearly 45 minutes on whether to budget aproximately $20,000 this year for financing the city's general plan, even though the plan failed to qualify this year for state or federal fund assistance. The council finally decided to leave the money in the budget since it had been budgeted last year and is merely a transfer from the reserves this year. The council decided that having the money earmarked for the study would help the plan qualify for state and federal money when it is resubmitted.

The street maintenance budget held the attention of the council for well over an hour because City Eng. Charles R. Leitzell asked for $251,471 and Kaeppel recommended only $147,997.

Leitzell told the council that the city needed $16,380 in resurfacing work and $110,700 in road improvement, but Kaeppel recommended only $7,110 in resurfacing money and $40,000 in road improvement funds.

"This area was extremely difficult for me to cut," Kaeppel said. "I was hoping we could do something forward looking in the way of improving our streets. But we only have so much money to run the city with."

Leitzell told the council the city tries to resurface or otherwise renovate five miles of road each year.

Councilmen agreed the city could not afford Leitzell's complete program and, with the hour growing late, asked him to draw up a priority list for the necessary road work for next Wednesday's budget meeting.

They are scheduled to study the parks and recreation and library budgets Tuesday night. Both meetings are scheduled for 8 p.m. in city hall.

Ex-Marinite Hospitalized In Slaying

LONDON (AP) — The daughter of former world heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney was committed to a mental hospital today after admitting she bludgeoned her husband to death last Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Joan Tunney Wilkinson, formerly of Tiburon, 30, had pleaded guilty to manslaughter on the grounds of diminished responsibility in the death of her 31-year-old husband, Lynn Carter Wilkinson, in their rented cottage.

The Old Bailey criminal court here was told by a psychiatrist that Mrs. Wilkinson had suffered from schizophrenia for nine years and there was a real danger of her committing further unprovoked homicidal attacks.

Prosecutor Alan de Piro recommended that Mrs. Wilkinson be detained at the maximum security hospital at Broadmoor "without limitation on time."

Judge Carl Aarvold ordered her to be detained there. The judge said it was quite clear she was in great need of help from the medical services. He said he was satisfied she was suffering from mental illness.

Wilkinson's body was found in his bed. The couples' two daughters, Alexandra, 6, and Erin, 3, were in the house at the time, as was Wilkinson's mother.

Trustees To Get Redwood Report

The Tamalpais High School District board will hear an evaluation of Redwood High School's "academic campus expansion" — a modified form of open campus — when it meets at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the district office.

Redwood Principal Donald Kreps will relate how the program has worked in its first year. Seniors are allowed to leave the campus for independent study and other specified reasons.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in closed session to discuss the progress of salary negotiations for 1970-71.

Air Force Exams Set In San Rafael

Examinations leading to qualifying in various activities of the Air Force will be given every Tuesday at 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. in room B-10, 910 D Street, San Rafael, T/Sgt. Bennie Montoya has announced.

All male and female high school graduates and seniors may take the examinations.

Human Rights Budget Alternatives Drafted

The Marin County Human Rights Commission decided last night to present three possible human rights department budgets to choose from at a county budget hearing at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday.

The proposals, along with the commission's opinions on what kind of human rights department each would produce, are to be given the board of supervisors in lieu of a budget recommendation.

Proposals are for budgets of $77,484, which would allow expansion of the human rights department staff and of programs; $56,745, which would provide approximately the same programs and staff in fiscal 1970-71 as in 1969-70 with a $52,751 budget; and $46,746, which would cut programs and staff.

County Administrator Alan Bruce has proposed that the supervisors eliminate the paid staff of the human rights department and continue the human rights commission with a $1,000 budget, a move which prompted the resignation of a department staff member and statements from six commissioners that they would resign if the proposal were accepted.

Thompson requested the $77,484 budget and produced $46,746 as the least figure which would keep the department alive. He said that with that budget "we can exist; I'm not sure that we can do an effective job."

Bruce advanced the $56,745 figure before he made his proposal to eliminate the department, according to Thompson.

The County Human Rights Commission Also:

DISCRIMINATION — Supported California legislation to forbid sex discrimination in hiring and proposed that the county adopt comparable legislation.

SCHOOL LUNCH — Supported legislation to allow school districts to use tax money for new school lunch programs.

FARM ADVISOR'S OFFICE —Recommended to the board of supervisors that the farm adviser's office and county budget contributions to the 4-H Club program be continued.

RIGHTS BILL — Supported California Assembly Bill 2417 standerdizing rights and duties for human relations commissions.

COMMENDATION — Requested the board of supervisors to commend former field representative Joyce M. Bailey, student representative Alan Mills and housing consultant Ursula Gaaley for outstanding work with the commission.

UNIONIZATION AND SEWAGE — Agreed to discuss inadequacies of sewer treatment plants on Richardson Bay and the desirability of unionization of the Sausalito and Mill Valley school districts at their next meeting at 8 p.m. July 9 in the planning commission chambers of the civic center.

Hope Applauds Cambodian Plan

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Entertainer Bob Hope believes history will show the United States not only saved Vietnam but also India and Southeast Asia.

Hope, addressing the graduating class of the University of Nevada at Las Vegas Thursday, predicted U. S. troops will be out of Vietnam in a year and a half. He said he supported President Nixon's move into Cambodia but said the announcement was handled poorly.

He said the announcement made it sound as if the United States were moving into another war rather than backing the leaders of Cambodia and eliminating enemy sanctuaries.

Hope was presented with his 16th honorary degree, a doctorate of humane letters. He is not a college graduate.

Hub Planners To Eye Federal Insurance

A federal plan to subsidize flood and mudslide insurance for property owners will be discussed when the San Anselmo Planning Commission meets at 8 p.m. Monday at city hall.

The commission also will hear a request by Grant Perkins, John P. McGinnis and Max F. Holsinger for apartment zoning of two lots on Essex Avenue, now in commercial and one-family residential zoning.

San Anselmo To Try Wage Team

The San Anselmo City Council last night abandoned its traditional practice of negotiating directly with employees on salary matters and adopted a resolution naming the city attorney and city manager as a two-man wage negotiating team.

The council voted 4-1 — with Woodward V. Capurro dissenting — to end direct negotiations between the council and city employees.

The resolution, which goes into effect immediately, calls for City Atty. John G. Buresh and City Mgr. Alfred C. Kaeppel to meet with a committee made up of one employee from each of the city's departments.

Under the new setup, each department will have 10 days in which to elect its representative. The representative will be elected by secret ballot.

Mayor James F. Reed, in pushing for adoption of the resolution, said the change would put an end to ". . .collective begging." He noted that almost all of the other Marin County cities now use the negotiating team concept.

Capurro opposed the resolution and favored dealing directly with employees. "This just opens the city up to labor relations problems," he added.

After passage of the resolution, which came at the beginning of last night's budget session, the council set next Thursday at 8 p.m. as the date of a closed session to meet with the new team to discuss the salary negotiations. The council has not discussed salary proposals during its current budget study.

The council had hoped to get through the entire public works department budget last night but bogged down badly in the street maintenance section, about halfway through the budget.

Before bogging down, the council did give tentative approval to the board of design proposed budget of $1,401, the planning commission budget of $53,661 and the engineering and administration budget of $38,591. The council made no changes in the board of design and the planning commission budgets but did add $2,424 to the engineering budget for the hiring of a part-time typist.

The council debated for nearly 45 minutes on whether to budget aproximately $20,000 this year for financing the city's general plan, even though the plan failed to qualify this year for state or federal fund assistance. The council finally decided to leave the money in the budget since it had been budgeted last year and is merely a transfer from the reserves this year. The council decided that having the money earmarked for the study would help the plan qualify for state and federal money when it is resubmitted.

The street maintenance budget held the attention of the council for well over an hour because City Eng. Charles R. Leitzell asked for $251,471 and Kaeppel recommended only $147,997.

Leitzell told the council that the city needed $16,380 in resurfacing work and $110,700 in road improvement, but Kaeppel recommended only $7,110 in resurfacing money and $40,000 in road improvement funds.

"This area was extremely difficult for me to cut," Kaeppel said. "I was hoping we could do something forward looking in the way of improving our streets. But we only have so much money to run the city with."

Leitzell told the council the city tries to resurface or otherwise renovate five miles of road each year.

Councilmen agreed the city could not afford Leitzell's complete program and, with the hour growing late, asked him to draw up a priority list for the necessary road work for next Wednesday's budget meeting.

They are scheduled to study the parks and recreation and library budgets Tuesday night. Both meetings are scheduled for 8 p.m. in city hall.

Ex-Marinite Hospitalized In Slaying

LONDON (AP) — The daughter of former world heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney was committed to a mental hospital today after admitting she bludgeoned her husband to death last Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Joan Tunney Wilkinson, formerly of Tiburon, 30, had pleaded guilty to manslaughter on the grounds of diminished responsibility in the death of her 31-year-old husband, Lynn Carter Wilkinson, in their rented cottage.

The Old Bailey criminal court here was told by a psychiatrist that Mrs. Wilkinson had suffered from schizophrenia for nine years and there was a real danger of her committing further unprovoked homicidal attacks.

Prosecutor Alan de Piro recommended that Mrs. Wilkinson be detained at the maximum security hospital at Broadmoor "without limitation on time."

Judge Carl Aarvold ordered her to be detained there. The judge said it was quite clear she was in great need of help from the medical services. He said he was satisfied she was suffering from mental illness.

Wilkinson's body was found in his bed. The couples' two daughters, Alexandra, 6, and Erin, 3, were in the house at the time, as was Wilkinson's mother.

Trustees To Get Redwood Report

The Tamalpais High School District board will hear an evaluation of Redwood High School's "academic campus expansion" — a modified form of open campus — when it meets at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the district office.

Redwood Principal Donald Kreps will relate how the program has worked in its first year. Seniors are allowed to leave the campus for independent study and other specified reasons.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in closed session to discuss the progress of salary negotiations for 1970-71.

Air Force Exams Set In San Rafael

Examinations leading to qualifying in various activities of the Air Force will be given every Tuesday at 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. in room B-10, 910 D Street, San Rafael, T/Sgt. Bennie Montoya has announced.

All male and female high school graduates and seniors may take the examinations.

Human Rights Budget Alternatives Drafted

The Marin County Human Rights Commission decided last night to present three possible human rights department budgets to choose from at a county budget hearing at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday.

The proposals, along with the commission's opinions on what kind of human rights department each would produce, are to be given the board of supervisors in lieu of a budget recommendation.

Proposals are for budgets of $77,484, which would allow expansion of the human rights department staff and of programs; $56,745, which would provide approximately the same programs and staff in fiscal 1970-71 as in 1969-70 with a $52,751 budget; and $46,746, which would cut programs and staff.

County Administrator Alan Bruce has proposed that the supervisors eliminate the paid staff of the human rights department and continue the human rights commission with a $1,000 budget, a move which prompted the resignation of a department staff member and statements from six commissioners that they would resign if the proposal were accepted.

Thompson requested the $77,484 budget and produced $46,746 as the least figure which would keep the department alive. He said that with that budget "we can exist; I'm not sure that we can do an effective job."

Bruce advanced the $56,745 figure before he made his proposal to eliminate the department, according to Thompson.

Hoffman Selected Engineer For Ross

The Ross Town Council last night appointed Roy H. Hoffman of San Rafael as town engineer. He succeeds Philip B. Lygren who died May 15.

Hoffman, who is with the San Rafael engineering and planning firm of Hoffman and Albritton, is also town engineer of Larkspur.

In his application Hoffman noted that he or a member of his firm had several times served as acting Ross town engineer on specific projects in which Lygren was directly involved as a private consultant.

Hoffman won the job from two other competitors, Ray W. Foreaker Jr. of Foreaker-Berini Site Engineering Inc. of San Rafael and the firm of Dan Coleman Associates of Greenbrae.

The Ross Town Council Also:

DRAKE — Accepted improvements in the surface and traffic signals on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Lagunitas Road and Laurel Grove Avenue, but deducted $2,275 from the $7,395 bill for the signals because Hundley Co. Inc. of Los Angeles was late in installing them.

SHADY LANE — Accepted improvements at Lagunitas Road and Shady Lane, but specifically excluded work done to roadway withm the 1 Shady Lane subdivision. Approval was subject to one year's maintenance of the road improvements by the developer.

MAP EXTENSION — Granted a one-year extension to H. D. Pischel of Canyon Road for filing a final parcel map so he can clear up discrepancies. Councilman Roy F. Jones abstained.

LYGREN — Passed a resolution commending Lygren for his work during five years as town engineer and ordered that a copy of the resolution be sent to his wife.

REAL ESTATE — Instructed the Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott, to draw up an ordinance requiring owners to provide zoning information for prospective property buyers for introduction at the next meeting, July 9.

CREEK BLOCKAGE — Asked Elliott to draw up a resolution for introduction July 9 similar to a county one that would make landowners adjoining creeks keep their portion of a creek or water course unobstructed or bear the cost of having it cleared.

ALARMS — Directed the town attorney to draw up for introduction at the next meeting an ordinance governing burglar and fire alarms.

ARMSBY CIRCLE — Decided against buying Armsby Circle and told Paul Neese of Armsby Circle he may buy the land under the circle if he wants it.

LANDSCAPE — Decided to accept the offer of a $448 per year three-year contract for landscaping work in the town beginning fiscal 1970-71. The previous rate was $435 annually.

CARMEL — Voted to contribute $25 to Carmel to help defray Carmel's expense of $8,000 in successfully challenging in court a law that would have required disclosure of funds by public officials.

ABAG — Decided to endorse Mill Valley Councilman Jean Barnard as alternate delegate to the Association of Bay Area Governments at the June 24 meeting of Marin mayors and councilmen.

SCHOOL MEETING — Authorized councilmen Ralph C. Walker and Jewell Osterloh, who was absent, to plan a joint meeting of the council and the Ross School District board with two board members June 22.

PLANS — Officially thanked Justin Foster and John J. Fitzgerald III, two College of Marin engineering students, for drawing a lot-by-lot map of Ross that would have cost $1,200 if done by professionals.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to the July 9 meeting in memory of Lygren.

Guilty Plea By Ex-Convict In Theft Of Yacht

A 30-year-old ex-convict from Corning, Glenn County, admitted yesterday in Marin Municipal Court that he stole a $60,000 yacht belonging to San Francisco nightclub owner Joseph Finocchio.

Duane Le Roy Dittus, was ordered to appear in Superior Court Monday for setting of a sentencing date on the grand theft conviction.

Dittus was arrested aboard the "Lady Eve III" in Tomales Bay early Wednesday and was also accused of having property aboard stolen from other San Rafael yachts.

This charge as well as counts of having stolen a boat from a Long Beach man and wrecking it were dismissed yesterday when Dittus pleaded guilty to the yacht charge.

The yacht was reported missing Monday and Dittus was done aboard the vessel when wo deputies rowed out to it when it was seen anchored in Marconi cove.

According to sheriff's officers Dittus arrived at Lowrie's Yacht harbor about a month ago aboard the boat taken from the Long Beach man. This 23-foot cruiser, was later found scuttled near Angel Island.

Branson Boys Campus Nod Is Requested

Katharine Branson School in Ross, is renewing plans and preparations for a separate campus for boys in Kentfield despite threatened legal action from Kentfield residents.

Katharine Branson officials Monday will ask the county zoning administrator to grant a use permit to start a boarding and day high school on 10.5 acres at the corner of Laurel Grove Avenue and Hanken Drive, site of Dominican Order noviate.

When the school announced its proposed expansion in January, about 50 Kentfield property owners circulated a petition opposing the school because it would increase noise and traffic in the quiet residential area.

Some opponents notified Branson authorities law suits would be filed if planning was not halted.

Hearing on the use permit will be at 2:30 p.m. in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center before Deputy Zoning Administrator Ralph D. Cairns.

The boys' school, to be called Mount Tamalpais School, would add a gymnasium, additional classrooms and a tennis court to the 45-room building now used as a novitiate. A playing field, swimming pool and parking spaces for about 34 cars are also planned.

The zoning administrator will also hear four other requests, starting at 10 a.m.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of 49 Oak Knoll Avenue, Sleepy Hollow, wants a variance to build a two-car covered carport to within 13 feet of the front property line. Normal setback is 25 feet.

Frances Morris wants a use permit to keep two horses in a corral in the 500 block of Pixie Trail, Mill Valley, fronting on an unnamed street between Edgewood Avenue and Pixie Trail.

Yuri Toporof will ask for permission to set up a temporary "Flea Market" including a tent structure on the north side of Donahue Street at the corner of Drake Avenue, Marin City.

Dr. Denny Tuffanelli of 30 Vista Drive, Kentfield, wants to extend a swimming pool deck area to within six feet of the side yard where 15 feet is required.

Australia, often called an island, actually is a continent of almost 3 million square miles.

Pruning Shears Most Likely For Proposed Ross Government Outlay

The Ross Town Council last night continued planning for fiscal 1970-71, taking up estimated general government expenditures of $54,302. The figure is $11,000 higher than the equivalent section of this year's budget.

The tentative general government outlay was referred to the council's finance committee, probably for a few healthy slashes with pruning shears.

At least one item — $900 to help support a 32-week after-school community recreation program sponsored by the Ross School Parent-Teacher Association — will probably be deleted to save a penny on the tax rate, the council indicated.

Mrs. Justin L. Williams, who battled the pennypinching tendencies of the council for more than an hour at the May 14 meeting, also attended last night to plead for her program, but got little encouragement.

Mrs. Williams, who told the council 250 Ross children participated in the activities last year, said, "I think there's been a very positive opinion in the community for you to do this thing."

Mayor Frederick S. Allen replied, "I still have mixed emotions about this thing. I still don't think this is the taxpayers' burden."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones was more certain. "The basic philosophy I've heard is this: It's fine to have things to do for children, but the taxpayers shouldn't have to pay for it," he said.

After being told no final decision would be made until August, Mrs. Williams asked, "How about a little vote of confidence to last me till August?"

Allen answered, "I'm sure you all realize we're behind your program and all, but when it comes down to the real nitty-gritty. . ."

Several other items including $800 to refurbish firehouse living quarters and $404 for the county animal control program were not equivalent to categories in the 1969-70 budget. These nonmatching items totalled $3,044.

The budget proposal also showed a salary increase from $530 to $612 for the director of public works with pay for the town attorney, clerk, treasurer, auditor and accountant remaining unchanged.

The largest proposed jumps were from $2,500 in 1969-70 to $6,000 for building maintenance and from $13,000 to $15,000 for insurance.

A $1,000 jump in the cost of engineering services to $4,000 is also contemplated for the new fiscal year.

Ross discusses a segment of its budget at each monthly meeting before combining them in August. Last year the portion discussed last night equalled $43,250 of a total budget of $235,269.

BART Budget Cuts Tax Need

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tentative tax rates are lower for fiscal 1970-71 on the basis of a new $44.6 million Bay Area Rapid Transit District budget.

The budget was adopted Thursday for building of the high speed train lines which are scheduled to begin limited operation in the East Bay in late 1971. Operation through the tube under San Francisco Bay is not expected until well into 1972.

Of the total budget, $35.5 million was for debt service and $9.1 million for administrative expenses.

A tentative tax rate of 52.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation was set against 56.1 cents this year, except in Berkeley. Berkeley taxpayers now have a rate of 80 cents and a proposed 76.7-cent rate for 1970-71. BART is undergrounded through Berkeley.

Brake Failure Hurts Woman Motorist

Mary Sturla, 44, of 100 Jessie Lane, Petaluma, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for a nose injury suffered in an accident yesterday at 5:25 p.m. on El Rose Drive at Hayes Lane, Petaluma.

Police said the brakes failed on Mrs. Sturla's car and that it struck an embankment.

Kennel Permit Denied By Panel

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments yesterday denied a request for a dog and cat kennel in rural Petaluma after hearing complaints from neighbors.

Paul G. Hefner and Howard Jensen had requested permission to breed and board 80 dogs and to board 20 cats at kennels at 2761 I Street extension.

The board said the kennel use would be incompatible with the many single-family homes being built in the area.

Driver Arrested In Petaluma Collision

James Quinn, 30, of 541 Cherry Street, Petaluma, was reported in satisfactory condition at Hillcrest Hospital with head and face cuts suffered in an accident at 2:06 a.m. today on Petaluma Boulevard North at Center Park.

Although police had no details of the accident, they said Quinn was injured when a car driven by Charles Edward Powell, 22, of 724 F Street, Petaluma, struck three parked cars. Powell was arrested on suspicion of driving under the influence of alcohol.

REAL ESTATE — Instructed the Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott, to draw up an ordinance requiring owners to provide zoning information for prospective property buyers for introduction at the next meeting, July 9.

CREEK BLOCKAGE — Asked Elliott to draw up a resolution for introduction July 9 similar to a county one that would make landowners adjoining creeks keep their portion of a creek or water course unobstructed or bear the cost of having it cleared.

ALARMS — Directed the town attorney to draw up for introduction at the next meeting an ordinance governing burglar and fire alarms.

ARMSBY CIRCLE — Decided against buying Armsby Circle and told Paul Neese of Armsby Circle he may buy the land under the circle if he wants it.

LANDSCAPE — Decided to accept the offer of a $448 per year three-year contract for landscaping work in the town beginning fiscal 1970-71. The previous rate was $435 annually.

CARMEL — Voted to contribute $25 to Carmel to help defray Carmel's expense of $8,000 in successfully challenging in court a law that would have required disclosure of funds by public officials.

ABAG — Decided to endorse Mill Valley Councilman Jean Barnard as alternate delegate to the Association of Bay Area Governments at the June 24 meeting of Marin mayors and councilmen.

SCHOOL MEETING — Authorized councilmen Ralph C. Walker and Jewell Osterloh, who was absent, to plan a joint meeting of the council and the Ross School District board with two board members June 22.

PLANS — Officially thanked Justin Foster and John J. Fitzgerald III, two College of Marin engineering students, for drawing a lot-by-lot map of Ross that would have cost $1,200 if done by professionals.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to the July 9 meeting in memory of Lygren.

Guilty Plea By Ex-Convict In Theft Of Yacht

A 30-year-old ex-convict from Corning, Glenn County, admitted yesterday in Marin Municipal Court that he stole a $60,000 yacht belonging to San Francisco nightclub owner Joseph Finocchio.

Duane Le Roy Dittus, was ordered to appear in Superior Court Monday for setting of a sentencing date on the grand theft conviction.

Dittus was arrested aboard the "Lady Eve III" in Tomales Bay early Wednesday and was also accused of having property aboard stolen from other San Rafael yachts.

This charge as well as counts of having stolen a boat from a Long Beach man and wrecking it were dismissed yesterday when Dittus pleaded guilty to the yacht charge.

The yacht was reported missing Monday and Dittus was done aboard the vessel when wo deputies rowed out to it when it was seen anchored in Marconi cove.

According to sheriff's officers Dittus arrived at Lowrie's Yacht harbor about a month ago aboard the boat taken from the Long Beach man. This 23-foot cruiser, was later found scuttled near Angel Island.

Branson Boys Campus Nod Is Requested

Katharine Branson School in Ross, is renewing plans and preparations for a separate campus for boys in Kentfield despite threatened legal action from Kentfield residents.

Katharine Branson officials Monday will ask the county zoning administrator to grant a use permit to start a boarding and day high school on 10.5 acres at the corner of Laurel Grove Avenue and Hanken Drive, site of Dominican Order noviate.

When the school announced its proposed expansion in January, about 50 Kentfield property owners circulated a petition opposing the school because it would increase noise and traffic in the quiet residential area.

Some opponents notified Branson authorities law suits would be filed if planning was not halted.

Hearing on the use permit will be at 2:30 p.m. in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center before Deputy Zoning Administrator Ralph D. Cairns.

The boys' school, to be called Mount Tamalpais School, would add a gymnasium, additional classrooms and a tennis court to the 45-room building now used as a novitiate. A playing field, swimming pool and parking spaces for about 34 cars are also planned.

The zoning administrator will also hear four other requests, starting at 10 a.m.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of 49 Oak Knoll Avenue, Sleepy Hollow, wants a variance to build a two-car covered carport to within 13 feet of the front property line. Normal setback is 25 feet.

Frances Morris wants a use permit to keep two horses in a corral in the 500 block of Pixie Trail, Mill Valley, fronting on an unnamed street between Edgewood Avenue and Pixie Trail.

Yuri Toporof will ask for permission to set up a temporary "Flea Market" including a tent structure on the north side of Donahue Street at the corner of Drake Avenue, Marin City.

Dr. Denny Tuffanelli of 30 Vista Drive, Kentfield, wants to extend a swimming pool deck area to within six feet of the side yard where 15 feet is required.

Australia, often called an island, actually is a continent of almost 3 million square miles.

The Ross Town Council last night continued planning for fiscal 1970-71, taking up estimated general government expenditures of $54,302. The figure is $11,000 higher than the equivalent section of this year's budget.

The tentative general government outlay was referred to the council's finance committee, probably for a few healthy slashes with pruning shears.

At least one item — $900 to help support a 32-week after-school community recreation program sponsored by the Ross School Parent-Teacher Association — will probably be deleted to save a penny on the tax rate, the council indicated.

Mrs. Justin L. Williams, who battled the pennypinching tendencies of the council for more than an hour at the May 14 meeting, also attended last night to plead for her program, but got little encouragement.

Mrs. Williams, who told the council 250 Ross children participated in the activities last year, said, "I think there's been a very positive opinion in the community for you to do this thing."

Mayor Frederick S. Allen replied, "I still have mixed emotions about this thing. I still don't think this is the taxpayers' burden."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones was more certain. "The basic philosophy I've heard is this: It's fine to have things to do for children, but the taxpayers shouldn't have to pay for it," he said.

After being told no final decision would be made until August, Mrs. Williams asked, "How about a little vote of confidence to last me till August?"

Allen answered, "I'm sure you all realize we're behind your program and all, but when it comes down to the real nitty-gritty. . ."

Several other items including $800 to refurbish firehouse living quarters and $404 for the county animal control program were not equivalent to categories in the 1969-70 budget. These nonmatching items totalled $3,044.

The budget proposal also showed a salary increase from $530 to $612 for the director of public works with pay for the town attorney, clerk, treasurer, auditor and accountant remaining unchanged.

The largest proposed jumps were from $2,500 in 1969-70 to $6,000 for building maintenance and from $13,000 to $15,000 for insurance.

A $1,000 jump in the cost of engineering services to $4,000 is also contemplated for the new fiscal year.

Ross discusses a segment of its budget at each monthly meeting before combining them in August. Last year the portion discussed last night equalled $43,250 of a total budget of $235,269.

BART Budget Cuts Tax Need

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tentative tax rates are lower for fiscal 1970-71 on the basis of a new $44.6 million Bay Area Rapid Transit District budget.

The budget was adopted Thursday for building of the high speed train lines which are scheduled to begin limited operation in the East Bay in late 1971. Operation through the tube under San Francisco Bay is not expected until well into 1972.

Of the total budget, $35.5 million was for debt service and $9.1 million for administrative expenses.

A tentative tax rate of 52.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation was set against 56.1 cents this year, except in Berkeley. Berkeley taxpayers now have a rate of 80 cents and a proposed 76.7-cent rate for 1970-71. BART is undergrounded through Berkeley.

Brake Failure Hurts Woman Motorist

Mary Sturla, 44, of 100 Jessie Lane, Petaluma, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for a nose injury suffered in an accident yesterday at 5:25 p.m. on El Rose Drive at Hayes Lane, Petaluma.

Police said the brakes failed on Mrs. Sturla's car and that it struck an embankment.

Kennel Permit Denied By Panel

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments yesterday denied a request for a dog and cat kennel in rural Petaluma after hearing complaints from neighbors.

Paul G. Hefner and Howard Jensen had requested permission to breed and board 80 dogs and to board 20 cats at kennels at 2761 I Street extension.

The board said the kennel use would be incompatible with the many single-family homes being built in the area.

Driver Arrested In Petaluma Collision

James Quinn, 30, of 541 Cherry Street, Petaluma, was reported in satisfactory condition at Hillcrest Hospital with head and face cuts suffered in an accident at 2:06 a.m. today on Petaluma Boulevard North at Center Park.

Although police had no details of the accident, they said Quinn was injured when a car driven by Charles Edward Powell, 22, of 724 F Street, Petaluma, struck three parked cars. Powell was arrested on suspicion of driving under the influence of alcohol.

Remember the old swinging doors?

They've been replaced by bigger, more practical sliding ones.

Remember all those funny little windows?

They've been replaced by gigantic ones.

Of course we haven't touched the things that made our place famous to begin with.

Petition Drive Near To Gain 348 Lights

A petition drive sponsored by the San Geronimo Valley Association to bring 348 street lights to the valley will begin tomorrow, secretary Mary Bocchetti of Forest Knolls announced yesterday.

Petitions will be available for the next three Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon at all post offices in Woodacre, San Geronimo, Forest Knolls and Lagunitas, Mrs. Bocchetti said.

The association's plan calls for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install 142 lights in Woodacre, 94 in Forest Knolls, 47 in San Geronimo and 65 in Lagunitas.

PG&E will install and maintain the lights at a cost of about 9 or 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation, according to Mrs. Bocchetti.

If the supervisors decide to set up the light district, the issue will have to be approved by a majority of the voters of the valley.

Child Proves Training Worth

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — His parents told young Mark Echternach that in case they weren't around and he got into trouble, he should pick up one of several telephones in the house and dial "O."

They explained this would put him in touch with the operator who could help him.

Several days later, the telephone rang and the operator asked Mrs. Echternach, "Do you have a little boy named Mark?"

Mrs. Echternach hastened to assure her that she did.

"Well," the operator replied, "he's locked in the basement."

Pornography Trial Set In Oakland

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Donald Calvin Warnecke, 38, of Corte Madera, arrested last January on two charges of distributing obscene literature in Alameda County, has pleaded not guilty to one charge in Oakland Municipal Court.

Warnecke entered his plea Wednesday and will appear next Thursday for setting of a trial date. He also is expected to enter a plea on the second charge at that time.

Arthur Gaylord Slocum, 51, of Strawberry, arrested with Warnecke, will also plead next Thursday in the Oakland court to one charge of distributing obscene literature.

Warnecke also has been charged in Marin County with possessing obscene material for distribution, as a result of a raid on a warehouse in San Rafael in which quantities of allegedly pornographic magazines were stored.

Cancer Cure May Save The Tissues

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Ian MacPherson, head of the Department of Tumor Virology at Lincoln's Inn Fields Laboratories in London, held out the prospect that at some time cancer cells may be restored to normal instead of being killed.

The hint came in annual report of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund in which the scientist said cancerous hamster cells had been induced by drugs to return to normality.

Dr. MacPherson called it a "hopeful development."

Volunteers Sought For Hospital Work

Brutus And Pals Too Enthusiastic For Stage Julius

MELBOURNE (AP) — The stabbing scene in "Julius Caesar" was just a bit too life-like, or death-like, for actor Brian Muir.

Playing the Roman emperor, Muir slumped to the stage floor after being stabbed.

"Blood" from bags hidden in his clothing flowed freely—and so did his own. His assailants had wielded their knives overenthusiastically, wounding Brian in the arm.

"I lay there for the next 10 minutes of the scene wondering how much of the blood was mine," he said.

'Same Old Club,' Says Miss Rankin

JEANETTE RANKIN
First woman in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress "hasn't changed a particle" since she was elected to it in 1917, says Jeanette Rankin, the first woman to serve there. "It's still the same old club."

Nor has the condition of women changed much since then, said Miss Rankin, a leader in the female suffrage fight at the turn of the century. "The women's liberation movement is talking about the same issues now that we talked about then."

A petite, patrician-looking woman from Montana who served as a Republican in the House from 1917-1919 and again from 1941-1943, Miss Rankin celebrates her 90th birthday today with a dinner in her honor sponsored by several senators and congressmen.

Slowed only a little by a broken hip suffered six weeks ago, Miss Rankin devotes much of her time to antiwar efforts and pushing for direct preferential presidential elections.

One of 56 congressmen to vote against American entry into World War I and the only member of Congress to vote against declaring war on Japan, Miss Rankin calls the American foray into Cambodia "wrong, stupid and cruel."

"There are better methods for settling disputes than killing young men," she said, "but we—the public—have only ourselves to blame that they aren't being used."

Last fall, she walked in moratorium marches in Georgia and California. Two years ago, she led a rally of women in a march on Capitol Hill to protest the Vietnam war. The rally was dubbed the Jeanette Rankin brigade.

Miss Rankin, who divides her time between homes in Montana and Georgia, also writes numerous letters and makes countless telephone calls to members of Congress urging an end to the war. She wishes every American would do the same.

"But don't just state your position," she cautions. "Always ask a question. And be prepared to write a half dozen times before you get an answer."

Miss Rankin would like to see a female congressman from every district. "Maybe we wouldn't do any better than the men but we certainly couldn't do any worse," she said.

Women are too dependent on men, she said, to realize their full potential.

"If they're independent, talkative and say what they think they can't get a job or husband. 'Look at me,' she said jokingly, "unmarried and unemployed most of my life."

Workshops In Drama Scheduled

Three improvisational drama workshops will be offered this summer by Festival Theater actress, Carol Brumm, beginning the week of June 22.

Two workshops are scheduled for the 13-16 age group. The first will meet in the Cooperative Shopping Center meeting room in Corte Madera on Wednesdays beginning June 24; the second will meet at the Marin YMCA on Thursdays beginning June 25. Both will run from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

A workshop for experienced youngsters 16-19 is scheduled for Mondays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the YMCA beginning June 22.

Interested persons should contact Miss Brumm, 339 Corte Madera Avenue, Mill Valley.

Brutus And Pals Too Enthusiastic For Stage Julius

MELBOURNE (AP) — The stabbing scene in "Julius Caesar" was just a bit too life-like, or death-like, for actor Brian Muir.

Playing the Roman emperor, Muir slumped to the stage floor after being stabbed.

"Blood" from bags hidden in his clothing flowed freely—and so did his own. His assailants had wielded their knives overenthusiastically, wounding Brian in the arm.

"I lay there for the next 10 minutes of the scene wondering how much of the blood was mine," he said.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

An Expert Never Misses Certain Kind Of Key Play

The expert never misses a certain kind of play because experience has taught him that it costs nothing and may bring in a fortune. He unblocks without even thinking, knowing that there will be time aplenty to make up his mind about the rest of the hand.

CONTINUES HEARTS

West opens the queen of hearts and continues with another heart. South ruffs the second heart. And if South is an expert, he invariably ruffs with the nine (or some other high card). This cannot possibly cost him anything since he has more high trumps than he can possibly need.

Declarer may have nothing in mind when he makes this fine play, but he soon finds out that he is one of the most brilliant bridge players in the world. He draws two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen, and then leads out the ace and king of clubs in the hope that the queen will drop.

ONLY CHANCE

As it happens, South has no luck in clubs. This is not surprising, since the odds are about 4 to 1 against dropping the queen. Now South has only one chance for his contract: he must get four diamond tricks in order to get rid of the two losing clubs.

Declarer can get four diamond tricks if East has the queen of diamonds together with not more than two low diamonds. South must get to dummy to try a finesse with the ten of diamonds and then must return to dummy later to win tricks with the ace and jack of diamonds.

TWO ENTRIES

Since South needs two entries to dummy, he shows how brilliant he was at the second trick. He can lead the deuce of trumps to dummy's seven. Now he wins a finesse with the ten of diamonds (much to his relief), cashes the king of diamonds, and enters dummy with the king of trumps to lead the ace of diamonds. The queen falls (more relief for South), and declarer then cashes the jack of diamonds to bring the slam home.

What do you say?
Answer: Pass.

You have 12 points in high cards, and one point for the doubleton, enough for an optional bid — but you should not exercise your option. You need at least another point when your distribution is so balanced and your low cards are so miserably low.

4 Language Students Rate High In Test

Four foreign language students at Tamalpais High School have scored 90 per cent or better in the American Association Teacher French National Contest for first-year students, the association has announced.

Sally De Becker received the highest score, 91.5 and Andrea Ford, Frances Hartogh and Candyce Takahoshis all received scores of 90.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, June 12, the 163rd day of 1970 with 202 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1963 a sniper killed Negro civil right leader Medgar Evers in Jackson, Miss.

In 1967 the United States Supreme Court ruled that states could not outlaw interracial marriages.

A thought for the day: Plato said, "No evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death."

'Same Old Club,' Says Miss Rankin

JEANETTE RANKIN
First woman in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress "hasn't changed a particle" since she was elected to it in 1917, says Jeanette Rankin, the first woman to serve there. "It's still the same old club."

Nor has the condition of women changed much since then, said Miss Rankin, a leader in the female suffrage fight at the turn of the century. "The women's liberation movement is talking about the same issues now that we talked about then."

A petite, patrician-looking woman from Montana who served as a Republican in the House from 1917-1919 and again from 1941-1943, Miss Rankin celebrates her 90th birthday today with a dinner in her honor sponsored by several senators and congressmen.

Slowed only a little by a broken hip suffered six weeks ago, Miss Rankin devotes much of her time to antiwar efforts and pushing for direct preferential presidential elections.

One of 56 congressmen to vote against American entry into World War I and the only member of Congress to vote against declaring war on Japan, Miss Rankin calls the American foray into Cambodia "wrong, stupid and cruel."

"There are better methods for settling disputes than killing young men," she said, "but we —the public—have only ourselves to blame that they aren't being used."

Last fall, she walked in moratorium marches in Georgia and California. Two years ago, she led a rally of women in a march on Capitol Hill to protest the Vietnam war. The rally was dubbed the Jeanette Rankin brigade.

Miss Rankin, who divides her time between homes in Montana and Georgia, also writes numerous letters and makes countless telephone calls to members of Congress urging an end to the war. She wishes every American would do the same.

"But don't just state your position," she cautions. "Always ask a question. And be prepared to write a half dozen times before you get an answer."

Miss Rankin would like to see a female congressman from every district. "Maybe we wouldn't do any better than the men but we certainly couldn't do any worse," she said.

Women are too dependent on men, she said, to realize their full potential.

"If they're independent, talkative and say what they think they can't get a job or husband. "Look at me," she said jokingly, "unmarried and unemployed most of my life."

Organ grinders used the cebid variety of monkeys because they have thumbs enabling them to pick up coins tossed by admirers.

Rec Panel Puts Cuts In Budget

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night approved a revised recreation budget proposal totalling $101,393, Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of parks and recreation, reported today.

The city council Monday night refused to approve an original proposal of $162,276, and told Snyder that the city's contribution to the recreation budget would not be more than $100,000.

The revised proposal must be approved by the council.

Snyder said the new proposal contains cuts in the number of recreation supervisors at city parks and facilities and increases recreation fees.

In addition, he said that since the San Rafael Board of Education has cut off its financial support of the program, all persons living outside the city limits will be charged higher nonresident fees.

Residents of the San Rafael school districts living outside the city limits have been allowed to participate in recreation programs at the lower resident's fee rate.

Commissioner George S. Burton voiced concern about a possible hardship on families with several children.

City Mgr. James H. McCown suggested a trust fund to aid children from low-income families wishing to participate in recreation programs.

The commission also directed Snyder to inform the state division of highways that the city was not interested in leasing for a park land at the corner of Irwin street and Belle Avenue.

Russian Science Satellite Aloft

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has launched a scientific satellite, Cosmo 347, into earth orbit, Tass reported today.

Besides scientific apparatus, the satellite carries a radio system for the precision measurement of orbital elements and a radio telemetric system to transmit data to earth.

Tass reported equipment on the satellite was functioning normally.

Hub Burglary Try Denied By Suspects

Dennis Victor Chesley, 20, and Robert S. Evans, 22, both of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of attempting to burglarize a San Anselmo residence Wednesday.

A preliminary hearing was set for June 16.

Nose Count Easy At Budget Session

Novato city councilmen last night thumbed their way through about half the proposed $2,072,635 city budget for fiscal 1970-71, but failed to give any indication of where possible alterations may be imposed.

The council, meeting before an audience composed of one resident and about 30 empty chairs, deliberated three hours over nine of 22 department budgets.

The councilmen's toils netted one clerical change and a reduction of about $4,000 in animal control expenditure paid to the county.

The proposed package, if accepted, would cost Novato property owners $1.05 per $100 assessed valuation. This year's budget totals $1,906,730 at a cost of 81 cents.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown explained that last night's session, the first of seven such meetings, was only to familiarize the councilmen with his recommendations. He led the five councilmen on an item-by-item comparison of his proposed figures with those requested by department heads and with this year's budget figures.

Brown told the council most department increases could be attributed to tentative pay hikes — ranging from 2.5 to 17.5 per cent plus a 4 per cent across-the-board cost of living increase — proposed for city employees last month by the council .

About $106,000 of the $166,000 increase in the proposed budget over this year's is attributable to the planned pay raise and new employees.

A breakdown of the salary funds studied last night shows the city council remaining this year at $9,000, administration increasing from $34,500 to $35,950, legal retainer fees climbing from $6,000 to $7,200, planning hiked from $61,765 to $69,445 and nondepartmental dropping from $7,605 to $7,525 accompanied by a reduction of personnel.

Finance under the proposed pay package would drop from $36,055 to $35,450 due to a personnel shift and police would climb from $338,650 to $388,100 with an additional officer included.

Other departments studied, elections and community promotion, do not include salaries in their budgets.

The council will review the remaining 13 departments Saturday at 9 a.m. at city hall before beginning budget change considerations on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m.

Public hearings on the budget have been set for 8 p.m. June 23 and 30.

Education Board Will Reorganize

New officers for the Marin County Board of Education will be elected when the board committees meet jointly at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Marin County Schools office.

New committee assignments for 1970-71 will also be made.

The committee will discuss the 1970-71 service fund budget.

Edward Arthur Frowd, 21, and Mak Edwad Richey, 22, both of Larkspur, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of disturbing the peace in Corte Madera May 15.

Frowd had earlier been accused of attempted car theft and escaping officers, and Richey with resisting arrest.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed them on probation for one year and sentenced them to time already served inn jail.

Robb Asks To Go On Inactive Status

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon has announced Marine Maj. Charles S. Robb, son-in-law of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, has requested release from active military duty effective September 1.

Robb, 30, husband of Johnson's daughter Lynda Bird, has been serving as a Marine recruiting officer since his return from a year's duty in Vietnam in April, 1969. He is expected to enter the University of Virginia law school at Charlottesville, Va. this fall.

Marin City Survey Is Near Start

A community survey on the economic, social and physical needs of Marin City will be under way in a month, the Marin City Council reported last night.

The survey is a step toward revision of the Marin City master plan under the council's 701 planning grant study.

Council members approved the survey questionnaire and authorized hiring an intern, who will conduct the survey. The federal planning grant provides $1,800 in salary for an intern.

Council members agreed that residents should be notified before the survey is undertaken so they would know what it was all about.

Jack C. Williams, community coordinator, explained that future steps under the planning grant will be a market analysis, a master plan for housing and discussions with residents, community organizations and businessmen.

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill advised the community should do all it can under the existing master plan or get it amended "to agree with what you've got on the ground."

The council adjourned until 8 p.m. June 25 at Manzanita Center.

Bipartisan Fete Set For July 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — Invitations signed by high-ranking members of both major political parties have gone out to mayors of the nation's largest 108 cities, asking them to attend the July 4 Honor America Day celebration here.

GOP National Committee Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton and his Democratic counterpart Lawrence F. O'Brien and Senate Leaders Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., were among those who signed the invitations, which described the event as "a massive expression of appreciation for the blessings of our great nation."

The festivities will begin at 11 a.m. at the Lincoln Memorial and conclude at 7:30 p.m. at the nearby Washington Monument.

Terra Linda Seeking Swim Class Helpers

The Terra Linda Recreation-Park District needs swimming aide volunteers 11 years and older to give lessons to younger children from 10:30 to 11:00 Tuesday through Fridays, June 16 to August 21, the district office has announced.

Aquacade 70, to be held August 22, is also being planned. Beginners, advanced beginners and intermediates may sign up at the center or call Julia Browne before June 15.

Today is Friday, June 12, the 163rd day of 1970 with 202 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1963 a sniper killed Negro civil right leader Medgar Evers in Jackson, Miss.

In 1967 the United States Supreme Court ruled that states could not outlaw interracial marriages.

A thought for the day: Plato said, "No evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death."

Marin Seeks 10 Police Cadets

Ten young men are being sought by the Marin County Personnel Office as police cadets for a police-community relations project.

The personnel office announced that the cadets will spend one year working for different law enforcement agencies 30 hours a week and attending classes 10 hours a week. Salary will be $429 per month.

Male high school graduates in good health between 18 and 27 are eligible. Interested persons should contact the personnel office, Room 342, Civic Center, San Rafael, before June 26.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

An Expert Never Misses Certain Kind Of Key Play

The expert never misses a certain kind of play because experience has taught him that it costs nothing and may bring in a fortune. He unblocks without even thinking, knowing that there will be time aplenty to make up his mind about the rest of the hand.

CONTINUES HEARTS

West opens the queen of hearts and continues with another heart. South ruffs the second heart. And if South is an expert, he invariably ruffs with the nine (or some other high card). This cannot possibly cost him anything since he has more high trumps than he can possibly need.

Declarer may have nothing in mind when he makes this fine play, but he soon finds out that he is one of the most brilliant bridge players in the world. He draws two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen, and then leads out the ace and king of clubs in the hope that the queen will drop.

ONLY CHANCE

As it happens, South has no luck in clubs. This is not surprising, since the odds are about 4 to 1 against dropping the queen. Now South has only one chance for his contract: he must get four diamond tricks in order to get rid of the two losing clubs.

Declarer can get four diamond tricks if East has the queen of diamonds together with not more than two low diamonds. South must get to dummy to try a finesse with the ten of diamonds and then must return to dummy later to win tricks with the ace and jack of diamonds.

TWO ENTRIES

Since South needs two entries to dummy, he shows how brilliant he was at the second trick. He can lead the deuce of trumps to dummy's seven. Now he wins a finesse with the ten of diamonds (much to his relief), cashes the king of diamonds, and enters dummy with the king of trumps to lead the ace of diamonds. The queen falls (more relief for South), and declarer then cashes the jack of diamonds to bring the slam home.

What do you say?
Answer: Pass.

You have 12 points in high cards, and one point for the doubleton, enough for an optional bid — but you should not exercise your option. You need at least another point when your distribution is so balanced and your low cards are so miserably low.

4 Language Students Rate High In Test

Four foreign language students at Tamalpais High School have scored 90 per cent or better in the American Association Teacher French National Contest for first-year students, the association has announced.

Sally De Becker received the highest score, 91.5 and Andrea Ford, Frances Hartogh and Candyce Takahoshis all received scores of 90.

'Captain's Clams' Is Celebrated Dish Of The Grotto In San Rafael

Popular indeed is the "Captain's Clams" since this dish has been a regular part of the menu of the Grotto in San Rafael.

You must credit Ursula Valan for the development of this item, which is not a bouillabaise, not a paella and not a cioppino - so it can't claim French, Spanish or Italian descent. For her it originated years ago with a favorite dish of her father - cockles and rice. Remembering how fond he was of this combination and looking for a new idea, Ursula experimented and added a few more seafood goodies and mushrooms.

What she has now can stand or fall on its own merits, and I'd say that in time it could become a classic. So are new dishes born.

Each time I go the the Grotto it seems to me something new has been added - either by Ursula in the food line, or by husband Stan as a decorative touch. Both kee their minds working on their respective jobs, so it's not likely this place will ever become static.

Also well favored on the Grotto menu and at the same price ($2.85 including a few extras), although somewhat richer, is the "chef's special," a delight for gourmets that has chunks of North Atlantic cod, sauted in wine and butter.

As long as she is there, everything gets Ursula's personal inspection before it leaves the kitchen for the table.

A COMPLIMENTARY fresh fruit basket is now being served nightly with each complete dinner at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa in San Rafael. (Not served with a la carte orders).

KIRBY ATTERBURY is featuring some retail closeouts in fine European wines at the Caprice in Tiburon. Among them are a few of his wines imported from Portugal.

EDGAR HANNAGAN, who has done quite a bit of remodeling and refurbishing at his Villa Rafael Motel, 1600 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael this year, has recently been turning his attention to some big changes in the food department.

For the next few days the coffee shop will be closed (probably until next Tuesday) so work can be done here. What is in progress and was planned several months ago is the addition of separate steak house and cocktail lounge.

Early this year Ed bought out the Patio Bar and its general on sale liquor license at 869 Fourth Street, San Rafael. The Patio has now been closed and the liquor license has been transferred over to the Villa premises. But it will be another two weeks or so before everything is ready for this part of the new operation.

THERE IS A NEW OWNER and also a new name for Sausalito's little Mexican restaurant at 300 Valley Street that used to be known as Hernandez Hideaway.

George and Rose Hernandez have sold out to Mario C. Reyes of Daly City, who not calls it Tio Mario's. He formerly had a restaurant in San Francisco about seven years.

Tio Mario's is a block south of Sally's Valhalla Inn and has plenty of parking space. It does not serve lunches but is open daily for dinners starting at 5 p.m. Closing time is 11 p.m. through the week, at midnight on Fridays and Saturdays and at 10 p.m. on Sundays.

The various popular Mexican food specialties and combinations are served; there is a wine and beer license; and the restaurant seats about 50. Friday and Saturday nights are entertainment nights and there is live music from 8 p.m. to midnight, provided by Mexican guitarists.

NEW MENU at Gregory's in the Paradise Drive Shopping Center, Corte Madera makes it easier for the average diner to decide on a selection. French entrees and names which do not clearly identify the nature of the dish have been given English subtitles explaining exactly what is being ordered.

Chef and co-owner Bernard Epstein has added several new items to an already extensive list. Among them are Hungarian beef goulash, wiener schnitzel, the veal chanterelle Bernard that I recently wrote about, creamed veal sweetbreads (in addition to sweetbreads meuniere and financiere); also roast duck a l'Orange; azou tartare (a lamb filet with shallots, pimientos, mushrooms and tomatoes and served with a madeira gravy); another grenadin of beef — this one with cream gravy; and abalone meuniere.

NEXT "CALIFORNIA NIGHT" at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo will be June 24 and will honor Michael Biane of the Brookside Winery in old Guasti. But don't get your heart set on going unless you happen to be a member of a group called Les Bon Vinants. This has a membership of about 500 and Cafe Bon Vin can only hold 150 at the most. Les Bon Vinants have first call and I can't see that there's much chance of any spares being handed out.

All of which may put you in a sour grapes mood. And in that case you might try Fred Cherry's new champagne cuvee wine vinegar which is just going on the market.

BOTH THE TOP SIRLOIN and the London mixed grill are favorites at the colorful Vicarage at 681 Bridgeway, Sausalito new things planned. More about - where Tom Siddle has several this in a week or two.

ON THE SAN RAFAEL MIRACLE MILE, the Normandie French restaurant has been doing exceptionally well with its dinners recently. So much so that owners Andre Marquer and Michael Braud have decided to call off lunches in favor of concentrating on the evening trade.

They will run one more week of lunches and then Friday, the 19th, will see the last of them for a while.

Advance reservations should definitely be made for dinners.

NEARBY on the Miracle Mile, the new McDonald's quick service restaurant is almost completed. There could be an opening here before the end of the month, according to real estate broker Herman Deitch, who sold McDonald's the property and has been keeping in touch.

ON THE SAN ANSELMO section of the Miracle Mile, the London Arms has been closed while the Johnsons and their staff have been taking a vacation. Monday is the day for reopening.

I HAVEN'T BEEN there recently, but from friends who have, I understand Franchini's Tee House in Lake County has undergone some major remodeling changes since Roy and Bess Franchini opened last February.

Kiwanis Opposes Farm Adviser Cut

Proposed elimination of the county farm adviser's office was called "ill advised" Wednesday in a letter to Marin County supervisors from the San Rafael Kiwanis Club.

The letter, signed by president Ben C. Albritton, said the "worthy. . .and successful youth program" of 4-H clubs supervised by the office justify it and that transferring the 4-H program would not reduce the budget.

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce has proposed eliminating the office along with the health department's well-baby clinic and the Human Rights Department to reduce the county budget.

More Flooding

VIENNA (UPI)—Torrential rains sent rivers over their banks again today in much of northwestern Romania. Thousands of families were ordered to evacuate their homes. The floodwaters inundated the city of Dej for the fourth time in six weeks.

Did LBJ Ask For Bagpipers?

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson says former President Lyndon B. Johnson asked him four years ago for a token contingent of military bagpipers to serve with the U.S.-led allies in Vietnam.

Wilson, who is campaigning for reelection of his Labor government, told a television audience he turned Johnson down. He cited the incident as proof that the Laborites had "never been tied up" with U.S. foreign policy.

"In 1966 I got a request from President Johnson to put troops into Vietnam," Wilson said. "He wanted only, I think he said, only a troop of bagpipers to show the British flag. I refused."

Mount Washington, 6,288 feet high, is the tallest peak in the White Mountains of New Hampshire.

Rec Panel Puts Cuts In Budget

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night approved a revised recreation budget proposal totalling $101,393, Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of parks and recreation, reported today.

The city council Monday night refused to approve an original proposal of $162,276, and told Snyder that the city's contribution to the recreation budget would not be more than $100,000.

The revised proposal must be approved by the council.

Snyder said the new proposal contains cuts in the number of recreation supervisors at city parks and facilities and increases recreation fees.

In addition, he said that since the San Rafael Board of Education has cut off its financial support of the program, all persons living outside the city limits will be charged higher nonresident fees.

Residents of the San Rafael school districts living outside the city limits have been allowed to participate in recreation programs at the lower resident's fee rate.

Commissioner George S. Burton voiced concern about a possible hardship on families with several children.

City Mgr. James H. McCown suggested a trust fund to aid children from low-income families wishing to participate in recreation programs.

The commission also directed Snyder to inform the state division of highways that the city was not interested in leasing for a park land at the corner of Irwin street and Belle Avenue.

Russian Science Satellite Aloft

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has launched a scientific satellite, Cosmo 347, into earth orbit, Tass reported today.

Besides scientific apparatus, the satellite carries a radio system for the precision measurement of orbital elements and a radio telemetric system to transmit data to earth.

Tass reported equipment on the satellite was functioning normally.

Hub Burglary Try Denied By Suspects

Dennis Victor Chesley, 20, and Robert S. Evans, 22, both of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of attempting to burglarize a San Anselmo residence Wednesday.

A preliminary hearing was set for June 16.

Nose Count Easy At Budget Session

Novato city councilmen last night thumbed their way through about half the proposed $2,072,635 city budget for fiscal 1970-71, but failed to give any indication of where possible alterations may be imposed.

The council, meeting before an audience composed of one resident and about 30 empty chairs, deliberated three hours over nine of 22 department budgets.

The councilmen's toils netted one clerical change and a reduction of about $4,000 in animal control expenditure paid to the county.

The proposed package, if accepted, would cost Novato property owners $1.05 per $100 assessed valuation. This year's budget totals $1,906,730 at a cost of 81 cents.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown explained that last night's session, the first of seven such meetings, was only to familiarize the councilmen with his recommendations. He led the five councilmen on an item-by-item comparison of his proposed figures with those requested by department heads and with this year's budget figures.

Brown told the council most department increases could be attributed to tentative pay hikes — ranging from 2.5 to 17.5 per cent plus a 4 per cent across-the-board cost of living increase — proposed for city employees last month by the council .

About $106,000 of the $166,000 increase in the proposed budget over this year's is attributable to the planned pay raise and new employees.

A breakdown of the salary funds studied last night shows the city council remaining this year at $9,000, administration increasing from $34,500 to $35,950, legal retainer fees climbing from $6,000 to $7,200, planning hiked from $61,765 to $69,445 and nondepartmental dropping from $7,605 to $7,525 accompanied by a reduction of personnel.

Finance under the proposed pay package would drop from $36,055 to $35,450 due to a personnel shift and police would climb from $338,650 to $388,100 with an additional officer included.

The council will review the remaining 13 departments Saturday at 9 a.m. at city hall before beginning budget change considerations on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m.

Public hearings on the budget have been set for 8 p.m. June 23 and 30.

Education Board Will Reorganize

New officers for the Marin County Board of Education will be elected when the board committees meet jointly at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Marin County Schools office.

New committee assignments for 1970-71 will also be made.

The committee will discuss the 1970-71 service fund budget.

Edward Arthur Frowd, 21, and Mak Edwad Richey, 22, both of Larkspur, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of disturbing the peace in Corte Madera May 15.

Frowd had earlier been accused of attempted car theft and escaping officers, and Richey with resisting arrest.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed them on probation for one year and sentenced them to time already served inn jail.

Robb Asks To Go On Inactive Status

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon has announced Marine Maj. Charles S. Robb, son-in-law of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, has requested release from active military duty effective September 1.

Robb, 30, husband of Johnson's daughter Lynda Bird, has been serving as a Marine recruiting officer since his return from a year's duty in Vietnam in April, 1969. He is expected to enter the University of Virginia law school at Charlottesville, Va. this fall.

Terra Linda Seeking Swim Class Helpers

The Terra Linda Recreation-Park District needs swimming aide volunteers 11 years and older to give lessons to younger children from 10:30 to 11:00 Tuesday through Fridays, June 16 to August 21, the district office has announced.

Aquacade 70, to be held August 22, is also being planned. Beginners, advanced beginners and intermediates may sign up at the center or call Julia Browne before June 15.

Marin City Survey Is Near Start

A community survey on the economic, social and physical needs of Marin City will be under way in a month, the Marin City Council reported last night.

The survey is a step toward revision of the Marin City master plan under the council's 701 planning grant study.

Council members approved the survey questionnaire and authorized hiring an intern, who will conduct the survey. The federal planning grant provides $1,800 in salary for an intern.

Council members agreed that residents should be notified before the survey is undertaken so they would know what it was all about.

Jack C. Williams, community coordinator, explained that future steps under the planning grant will be a market analysis, a master plan for housing and discussions with residents, community organizations and businessmen.

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill advised the community should do all it can under the existing master plan or get it amended "to agree with what you've got on the ground."

The council adjourned until 8 p.m. June 25 at Manzanita Center.

Bipartisan Fete Set For July 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — Invitations signed by high-ranking members of both major political parties have gone out to mayors of the nation's largest 108 cities, asking them to attend the July 4 Honor America Day celebration here.

GOP National Committee Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton and his Democratic counterpart Lawrence F. O'Brien and Senate Leaders Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., were among those who signed the invitations, which described the event as "a massive expression of appreciation for the blessings of our great nation."

The festivities will begin at 11 a.m. at the Lincoln Memorial and conclude at 7:30 p.m. at the nearby Washington Monument.

COLLEEN MARTIN
West Marin queen

Livestock Show Queen Is Selected

The 17-year-old Marin Ctholic High School senior was named queen after selling more tickets to the show than five other contestants.

Miss Martin sold $2,458 worth of tickets and her princesses, Elaine Zetterquist of Inverness Park and Jeanne Ballatore of Valley Ford collected $2,262 and $1,029 respectively.

Other contestants were Emilie Barnes of San Rafael, Connie Farnham of Marinwood and Mary Jo Wheeler of Marshall.

Each queen candidate may keep 25 per cent of the money collected.

Ex-New Careers Aide Faces New Bench Warrant

SAN FRANCISCO — A third bench warrant has been issued for Michael R. James, 28, Marin's former New Careers program coordinator.

The "no bail" warrant was issued Wednesday by San Francisco Municipal Court after James failed to appear for the setting of a trial date. He had earlier pleaded innocent to a charge of possessing heroin.

James was arrested Dec. 8 in the Fillmore District of San Francisco with several small balloons of heroin in his possession, police said.

A bench warrant was issued Dec. 19 after James failed to appear for a preliminary hearing on the narcotics charge. The bench warrant was later withdrawn by the court.

A second warrant was issued Jan. 13 when James again failed to appear for his preliminary hearing.

Wednesday the court set June 18 for the forfeiture of his $1,000 bail.

New Schools Chief For San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The new San Francisco school superintendent will be Dr. Thomas S. Shaheen, 53, schools chief for the past five years in Rockford, Ill.

He will replace Robert Jenkins, 59, who resigned the post effective July 31 to become president of a Los Angeles-based book publishing firm.

School Board President Alan Nichols announced Shaheen's appointment Thursday, saying Shaheen is widely known in midwest school circles as a "quality educator."

In San Francisco, he will receive $42,000 a year under a four-year contract. Jenkins was paid $38,500 the last school year.

Among those mentioned as a possible successor to Jenkins had been Wilson Riles, black assistant state superintendent of schools who will oppose his chief, Max Rafferty, in a runoff election in November.

Nichols said Shaheen's present post involves supervision of 73 schools with a total enrollment of 45,000 students.

The San Francisco district includes some 90,000 pupils.

Before going to Rockford, Shaheen was a school superintendent in Rhode Island, New Jersey and New York state over a period of 25 years. He received his doctorate in education at Columbia University in 1963.

Mill Valley To Eye Fate Of Reservoir

The fate of Mill Valley's Cascade Reservoir, a source of annoyance and frustration to city officials as well as a source of water for fire fighting, will be before the city council Monday at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Abuses of the reservoir area, including nude swimming and sunbathing, littering, blocking streets with parked cars and creating a fire hazard, have been cited by residents as reasons for closing the area.

The city council appears to be ready to take that step, perhaps even ready to demolish the center of the dam, leaving the foundations for erosion control and allow old Mill Creek to seek its own level.

The reservoir was created by the Tamalpais Land and Water Co., forerunner of the Marin Municipal Water District, in the late 1890s to serve customers in Cascade Canyon.

In 1953, the last three homes using reservoir water were brought into the district's system, and the reservoir was attached to the fire main system. It was annexed by Mill Valley on Dec. 16, 1960.

It probably was the limited fire prevention function that stopped the dam's demolition last summer after a 12-year-old San Francisco youth drowned there.

Now, with summer approaching and school out, most residents favor immediate closing of the reservoir area as a fire hazard and eventual draining of the lake when improved water lines are brought in by the water district.

Until then, they fear a tinder-dry summer without water available to fight fires. Water pressure in the canyon is said to be dangerously low.

In a half million cases of serious injury, or death, in auto accidents last year, insurance covered only 20 per cent of the losses, a study by the Department of Transportation showed.

UCLA Group Supporting Angela Davis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If regents of the University of California decide next week that Communist Angela Davis should be fired as an assistant philosophy professor at the Los Angeles campus, she may still be retained.

A spokesman for the UCLA Academic Senate said Thursday that this body, voting by mail, has agreed to retain the 26-year-old black instructor and pay her salary through creation of what was termed "special committees."

The vote of the senate was 629-594.

Her course in the contribution of black persons to philosophy would be fully accredited, a spokesman said.

Miss Davis was fired last year by the regents but a court said they acted solely on the grounds she is a Communist—grounds the court said was insufficient.

Regents reportedly voted 16-4 Monday to fire her on grounds she has acted improperly in public appearances and that the university, caught in a financial crisis, should give priority to others.

The regents meet in Los Angeles a week from today.

They are expected to announce their decision.

The Academic Senate's mail canvass of its 1,900 members supported a resolution adopted May 18.

Revoked in the balloting was a proposal to suspend all ROTC activities under the senate's jurisdiction "until the United States has terminated military operations in Indochina." This went down 826-398.

The senate later met with a bare quorum of slightly more than 100 members present.

Those present, in a voice vote, called for establishment of a joint military-faculty committee to supervise what was termed a multilateral program.

'Captain's Clams' Is Celebrated Dish Of The Grotto In San Rafael

Popular indeed is the "Captain's Clams" since this dish has been a regular part of the menu of the Grotto in San Rafael.

You must credit Ursula Valan for the development of this item, which is not a bouillabaise, not a paella and not a cioppino - so it can't claim French, Spanish or Italian descent. For her it originated years ago with a favorite dish of her father - cockles and rice. Remembering how fond he was of this combination and looking for a new idea, Ursula experimented and added a few more seafood goodies and mushrooms.

What she has now can stand or fall on its own merits, and I'd say that in time it could become a classic. So are new dishes born.

Each time I go the the Grotto it seems to me something new has been added - either by Ursula in the food line, or by husband Stan as a decorative touch. Both kee their minds working on their respective jobs, so it's not likely this place will ever become static.

Also well favored on the Grotto menu and at the same price ($2.85 including a few extras), although somewhat richer, is the "chef's special," a delight for gourmets that has chunks of North Atlantic cod, sauted in wine and butter.

As long as she is there, everything gets Ursula's personal inspection before it leaves the kitchen for the table.

A COMPLIMENTARY fresh fruit basket is now being served nightly with each complete dinner at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa in San Rafael. (Not served with a la carte orders).

KIRBY ATTERBURY is featuring some retail closeouts in fine European wines at the Caprice in Tiburon. Among them are a few of his wines imported from Portugal.

EDGAR HANNAGAN, who has done quite a bit of remodeling and refurbishing at his Villa Rafael Motel, 1600 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael this year, has recently been turning his attention to some big changes in the food department.

For the next few days the coffee shop will be closed (probably until next Tuesday) so work can be done here. What is in progress and was planned several months ago is the addition of separate steak house and cocktail lounge.

Early this year Ed bought out the Patio Bar and its general on sale liquor license at 869 Fourth Street, San Rafael. The Patio has now been closed and the liquor license has been transferred over to the Villa premises. But it will be another two weeks or so before everything is ready for this part of the new operation.

THERE IS A NEW OWNER and also a new name for Sausalito's little Mexican restaurant at 300 Valley Street that used to be known as Hernandez Hideaway.

George and Rose Hernandez have sold out to Mario C. Reyes of Daly City, who not calls it Tio Mario's. He formerly had a restaurant in San Francisco about seven years.

Tio Mario's is a block south of Sally's Valhalla Inn and has plenty of parking space. It does not serve lunches but is open daily for dinners starting at 5 p.m. Closing time is 11 p.m. through the week, at midnight on Fridays and Saturdays and at 10 p.m. on Sundays.

The various popular Mexican food specialties and combinations are served; there is a wine and beer license; and the restaurant seats about 50. Friday and Saturday nights are entertainment nights and there is live music from 8 p.m. to midnight, provided by Mexican guitarists.

NEW MENU at Gregory's in the Paradise Drive Shopping Center, Corte Madera makes it easier for the average diner to decide on a selection. French entrees and names which do not clearly identify the nature of the dish have been given English subtitles explaining exactly what is being ordered.

Chef and co-owner Bernard Epstein has added several new items to an already extensive list. Among them are Hungarian beef goulash, wiener schnitzel, the veal chanterelle Bernard that I recently wrote about, creamed veal sweetbreads (in addition to sweetbreads meuniere and financiere); also roast duck a l'Orange; azou tartare (a lamb filet with shallots, pimientos, mushrooms and tomatoes and served with a madeira gravy); another grenadin of beef — this one with cream gravy; and abalone meuniere.

NEXT "CALIFORNIA NIGHT" at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo will be June 24 and will honor Michael Biane of the Brookside Winery in old Guasti. But don't get your heart set on going unless you happen to be a member of a group called Les Bon Vinants. This has a membership of about 500 and Cafe Bon Vin can only hold 150 at the most. Les Bon Vinants have first call and I can't see that there's much chance of any spares being handed out.

All of which may put you in a sour grapes mood. And in that case you might try Fred Cherry's new champagne cuvee wine vinegar which is just going on the market.

BOTH THE TOP SIRLOIN and the London mixed grill are favorites at the colorful Vicarage at 681 Bridgeway, Sausalito new things planned. More about - where Tom Siddle has several this in a week or two.

ON THE SAN RAFAEL MIRACLE MILE, the Normandie French restaurant has been doing exceptionally well with its dinners recently. So much so that owners Andre Marquer and Michael Braud have decided to call off lunches in favor of concentrating on the evening trade.

They will run one more week of lunches and then Friday, the 19th, will see the last of them for a while.

Advance reservations should definitely be made for dinners.

NEARBY on the Miracle Mile, the new McDonald's quick service restaurant is almost completed. There could be an opening here before the end of the month, according to real estate broker Herman Deitch, who sold McDonald's the property and has been keeping in touch.

ON THE SAN ANSELMO section of the Miracle Mile, the London Arms has been closed while the Johnsons and their staff have been taking a vacation. Monday is the day for reopening.

I HAVEN'T BEEN there recently, but from friends who have, I understand Franchini's Tee House in Lake County has undergone some major remodeling changes since Roy and Bess Franchini opened last February.

Kiwanis Opposes Farm Adviser Cut

Proposed elimination of the county farm adviser's office was called "ill advised" Wednesday in a letter to Marin County supervisors from the San Rafael Kiwanis Club.

The letter, signed by president Ben C. Albritton, said the "worthy. . .and successful youth program" of 4-H clubs supervised by the office justify it and that transferring the 4-H program would not reduce the budget.

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce has proposed eliminating the office along with the health department's well-baby clinic and the Human Rights Department to reduce the county budget.

Did LBJ Ask For Bagpipers?

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson says former President Lyndon B. Johnson asked him four years ago for a token contingent of military bagpipers to serve with the U.S.-led allies in Vietnam.

Wilson, who is campaigning for reelection of his Labor government, told a television audience he turned Johnson down. He cited the incident as proof that the Laborites had "never been tied up" with U.S. foreign policy.

"In 1966 I got a request from President Johnson to put troops into Vietnam," Wilson said. "He wanted only, I think he said, only a troop of bagpipers to show the British flag. I refused."

Marin Bike Trails Find It A Slow And Bumpy Struggle

Marin's effort to establish a county-wide bicycle trail system has achieved too little progress in the three years since it first began to receive serious, official consideration.

When the County Parks and Recreation Department staff first unveiled proposals for a bike trail plan, in May of 1967, the Parks and Recreation Commission appeared favorably impressed.

Because the suggested system of trails would cut across city lines, it was necessary to get approval of the cities involved. During 1968 and 1969, Tiburon, Mill Valley, Corte Madera and other city councils, one-by-one, approved and endorsed the scheme.

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District went a step farther. It allocated $40,000 to provide access ramps for bikes to the west sidewalk across the bridge. Army officialdom approved in principal the idea of bike paths through military reservations at each end of the bridge.

County supervisors approved $25,000 in the 1969-70 parks and recreation budget for bike trails. There was hope that this would provide a Sausalito-Mill Valley link. That hope is gone, although it is still likely that a bike crossing of Coyote Creek alongside Highway 1 at Tamalpais Valley will be forthcoming. Also, certain legal and title search expenses for the Sausalito-Mill Valley link are expected to be met — with part of the $25,000 still unspent and presumable available for right-of-way acquisition later.

The Parks and Recreation Department asked an additional $20,000 in the 1970-71 county budget, but the county administrator has recommended that this be deleted in the interests of economy.

Why hasn't more progress been made in the past three years?

Lack of funds is one big reason but is by no means the only stumbling block.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad and the state division of Highways have been ever greater obstacles.

NWP rights-of-way in many instances would provide ideal routes for bike trails developable at minimum expense — for example, from Sausalito to Mill Valley. But railroad officials have balked. They are intent on abandoning service and take the position that granting rights-of-way conceivable could interfere with achieving their ultimate goal, abandonment of service.

State highway officials stand steadfastly by their rule that bicycles are excluded from use of freeway properties. They argue that gas tax funds should be spent only for moving vehicles which pay gasoline taxes.

Both the railroad and the highway hierarchy have been under fire from various segments of the public.

Who knows? Perhaps they would be more cooperative if they could be brought to the realization that cooperating with bike trail seekers would help their respective public images.

Baby Robin

Several pairs of robins are nesting in our neighborhood this year. One baby robin has been flying awkwardly about our yard in short, inexpert, excited flights for about three days now.

Most of the time it just sits on bush, tree branch or clothes-line, squawking and trying to attract its parents' attention. The parent birds are kept busy searching for insects and worms to feed it.

In another week or so, this young bird will be on its own. After a brief period of uncertainty, his flight will be swift and sure and he will be able to fend for himself.

But he is just a helpless kid right now.

Race Issue Clouds English Campaigning

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON (UPI)—Race is the one issue all three main parties in Britain wanted at all costs to keep out of the June 18 general elections. Yet it has become one of the most explosive in the campaign.

FOR THE PAST TWO years the local point of a mounting storm in Britain over colored immigration from the commonwealth has been Enoch Powell, a right-wing former Conservative cabinet member.

Powell, 58, a slightly built, intense man who speaks with almost messianic fervor, touched off a nationwide furor by demanding a total halt to clolored immigration and government aid to immigrants who want to return home.

The government estimates there currently are about 1,250,000 colored immigrants in this country, mostly from the West Indies, Pakistan and India.

The labor government denounced Powell as a "racist." Conservative leader Edward Heath publicly condemned his views and ousted him from his "shadow" cabinet. Yet Powell touched on an issue that runs deep in Britain, too.

Because of possible damage to delicate race relations, party leaders wanted to keep race and immigration out of the election.

But Laborite Minister of Technology Anthony Wedgwood Benn forced it into the campaign last week with a personal attack against Powell, whose policies he denounced as "filthy and obscene racialist propaganda."

Prime Minister Harold Wilson chimed in: "All of us in the party and many outside are in complete agreement about our detestation of Powellism."

HEATH CALLEN on Wilson to condemn Benn for making race an election issue. Wilson sidestepped and called on Heath to condemn Powell.

With race now boiling near the top of campaign issues, party strategists were questioning how the estimated 850,000 colored immigrants entitled to vote will cast their ballots.

General consensus was that most probably would vote Labor

THE QUESTION was of considerable significance because districts there are enough colored voters to sway the result.

Boy Scout's Prompt Action In Tragedy

There was a drama behind the scenes last Friday (May 29) in the death of 84-year-old Max Pollak of Sausalito, who collapsed at Phoenix Lake while fishing. I think the Independent-Journal would like to know about it; would like to tell its readers that our young people can be most worthwhile; would like to recognize the value of training in the Boy Scout movement not only for the individual boy but for all of us.

The collapse of Mr. Pollak was observed by a number of persons, including several adults. No one did anything about it until Eagle Scout Bruce Collins, aged 14, senior patrol leader of Troop 11, Kentfield, stepped forward. As a Scout Bruce had learned — so well that he has become a teacher — the techniques of first aid, including artificial resuscitation.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Collins, 25 Patencio, Greenbrae.

For 20 minutes Bruce, a freshman at Redwood High School, gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. As he had been trained, he removed Mr. Pollak's dentures, noted that he had swallowed his tongue and brought it back to normal and — as Ross Asst. Fire Chief Thomas G. Casson later told him — actually had kept this fine artist breathing almost a half-hour while waiting an oxygen supply. It is possible that Mr. Pollak might be alive today had the adult community responded as promptly and efficiently as did this Eagle Scout. His initiative is a tribute to the fine qualities of our teen-agers. His training is a tribute to Scouting.

Should Return Part Of Salary

I understand my letter to the editor last week with regard to the homos from the Gay Liberation visiting the American Government class at Drake High School has prompted several hours of class discussion; readings of the letter, and attemps to have students prepare a counter letter to the editor. Also, yesterday, May 25 they had a repeat performance from the homosexuals as they were invited back to address the same classes.

Since Mr. Lim's salary at $14,060 per year to teach American Government (required of every senior to graduate) we should like to humbly suggest that he return his salary to the taxpayers for each day he doesn't teach this subject.

Also since the law calls for equal time to demonstrate an alternate viewpoint, does he now owe the classes two hours of talk with Lesbians (suggested by a member of his class)? Or will he have "Darby and Joan" tell high school kids why and how their "ideal" marriage works?

What has any of this to do with American Government I ask? Why not call the class Sexual Trivia and ask the taxpayers and parents if they want to put up $42,000 per year for three teachers to give this garbage to their kids at Drake High?

Consultant Dropped For Needed Program

In January Governor Reagan strongly advocated a program on drug abuse through the state Department of Education. He urged the development of a model curriculum as well as in-service training for teachers. A few weeks ago for budgetary reasons the only consultant in school health education in the state Department of Education is being abolished . . .

I have worked with the professional in this position over the last few years in various drug and smoking projects. It is clear to me that without the leadership emanating from this office there can be no implementation of the governor's high-minded and deserving program despite good intent.

If the governor is serious about a public education program intending to bring together top people about drugs, he can scarcely consider the abrupt abolition of his only delegate in this field to be a consistent act. It behooves all of us to react to such contradictory and two-faced behavior with appropriate responses in Sacramento.

What About Hike In Property Tax?

I was happy to learn that Proposition 8 lost. However, in last night's (June 3) paper, I read that our County Tax Assessor plans on increasing the percentage that property tax is paid upon.

With the overall rise in values and the growth in Marin County, why does the rate keep going up?

Ozarks Spa Plan Puts Poverty War On Hot Seat

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

The proposal calls for spending $4 million of federal anti-poverty funds to build a luxurious fun-in-the-sun recreation center in the plush Lake of the Ozarks area in Missouri. Another $1 million would be put up by the state.

Approved by the Duluth, Minn., regional office of EDA, this project would provide dining and merrymaking accommodations for 5,000 vacationists and pleasure seekers. The site is near two swank privately-owned resorts, and an airport completed last fall with $3 million of federal funds.

EDA, under the Department of Commerce, is a major federal antipoverty agency. It is headed by Assistant Commerce Secretary Robert Podesta.
officials contended it is de-

QUESTIONED ABOUT the unusual Missouri project, EDA officials contended it is designed to aid what they described as a "depressed area." This drew derisive hoots from local sources.

Republican State Rep. Granvil Vaughan characterized the proposal as "bordering on the ridiculous."

"Sure, we're glad to get it," he said, "but how anyone can call the lake area depressed is beyond me. Why land around there is priced at several thousand dollars an acre. The government could go broke buying bargains like that in this 'poverty-stricken' area."

Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, indignantly denouncing the proposal as another instance of "extravagant bureaucratic boondoggling," is demanding the EDA reject the approval of its Duluth regional office.

"IT IS PREPOSTEROUS PROJECTS of this kind," he declared, "which are causing so much disillusionment and discouragement among hard-working Americans who must ultimately pay the tab. They are getting thoroughly fed up with this sort of wasteful squandering of tax money."

Caustically noting that federal funds are being cut back for low-cost housing, aid to education, support of farm prices and numerous other pressing economic needs and problems, Scherle asserted, "I am going to do everything in my power to stop this wholly unnecessary and extravagant project. Whatever else the country needs at this time, it is not a swinging spa for fun-makers."

Scherle is up in arms over EDA secrecy about the proposal. He is still trying to uncover where and how it originated, why the Duluth regional office approved it, and who and what is pushing it.

EDA officials have been evasively silent about that.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS and airmen are fighting and dying in Cambodia, but the two hijackers of the munitions — carrying freighter Columbia Eagle are still enjoying pleasant political asylum there.

Neither the State Department nor Premier Lon Nol's government have done anything about returning the rebellious crewmen to the U.S. for trial.

Inquiry at the State Department produced the bland explanation that the U.S. "does not have an extradition treaty with Cambodia."

To the bureaucrats, the affair was just one of those things that had been stuck away in a pigeonhole and conveniently forgotten.

But it is very much on the mind of Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, member of the Internal Security Committee.

He is bluntly critical of the failure to forcefully press the Cambodian government to turn over the two hijackers. Scherle noted that they had seized the Columbia Eagle on the high seas while enroute to Thailand with a cargo of bombs and munitions for U.S. airbases there, and had diverted the ship to Cambodia where they were given asylum by Prince Norodom Sihanouk — who now admits he had secretly aided the Communists.

"This apparent apathy and indifference is inexplicable to me," says Scherle. "I can't understand it. It just doesn't make sense in view of the heavy sacrifice in men and treasure we are making in behalf of Cambodia . . ."

Scherle is considering asking the Internal Security Committee to summon State Department officials for questioning.

Clyde McKay Jr., 25, and Alvin Glatkowski, 20, both of California, the hijackers, reportedly are at Pnom-Penh, Cambodian naval base. The Columbia Eagle, released after the ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, returned to the U.S. last month.

Senator Song Presses Passage Of Bill To Watchdog Guarantees

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — If the state Legislature does anything this year toward requiring business to live up to its guarantees, it will be largely due to the efforts of Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park.

Song has faithfully and with perseverance carried on a campaign on behalf of the California consumer through the Senate Business and Professions Committee, which he chairs.

The committee recently sent SB 272 to the Senate with a do pass recommendation, and the measure probably will be taken up soon. It gives effective assistance to the purchaser who attempts to enforce the terms of a warranty or guarantee.

UNDER THE LEGISLATION, the consumer who buys defective goods covered by a warranty has the legal right to have the goods repaired or replaced if he returns them to the retailer. And the bill makes the manufacturer liable to the retailer for the full cost of servicing the warranty.

If the manufacturer refuses to make good on the product as represented, the bill would allow the buyer or the retailer to sue the manufacturer for three times the cost of the product, plus all attorney fees.

Song's committee has had the matter of warranties under consideration for some time, having held hearings last fall on the subject.

"The committee found," he said, "that some manufacturers back up their products with a warranty that is as good as gold.

"WE ALSO FOUND that others issue warranties and guarantees that are no more than worthless paper, primarily gimmicks to help sell their products. When buyers of products with bad warranties try to claim their repairs or replacements, they are met with the run-around treatment, double talk, extra charges, and stall tactics up to six months.

"Good companies will not have to worry about this bill, for they already back up their products with integrity. This bill, and others before the legislature, are aimed at the chiselers and sharp-shooters who have plagued the state for a long time, and given the market-place a bad reputation for years."

IN ADDITION, the Senate already has passed SB 921, by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, which provides that consumers do not lose the benefit of their warranties just because they fail to send in a registration card. The warranty thus will stand good as long as the consumer can prove that he purchased the goods.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

THE LORD CHIEF Justice of England reckoned at the last session of the year that the major portion of his judicial hours in the court for the 12 months coming to a close was spent "Investigating collisions between soberly propelled vehicles, each on its own side of the road, each sounding its horn, each with its bright lights dutifully switched off, and each absolutely stationary."

THE LATE CARDINAL Spellman had a robust sense of humor, and dearly enjoyed exchanging quips with the many Broadway and Hollywood stars he knew personally. On one Christmas tour of Vietnam bases, for instance, Bob Hope confessed to the Cardinal, "I was so bushed from our back-breaking itinerary yesterday that I'm afraid I fell asleep twice at your mass." "Don't let that bother you," the Cardinal assured him cheerfully, "I napped straight through your last three television shows!"

Livestock Show Queen Is Selected

The 17-year-old Marin Ctholic High School senior was named queen after selling more tickets to the show than five other contestants.

Miss Martin sold $2,458 worth of tickets and her princesses, Elaine Zetterquist of Inverness Park and Jeanne Ballatore of Valley Ford collected $2,262 and $1,029 respectively.

Other contestants were Emilie Barnes of San Rafael, Connie Farnham of Marinwood and Mary Jo Wheeler of Marshall.

Each queen candidate may keep 25 per cent of the money collected.

Ex-New Careers Aide Faces New Bench Warrant

SAN FRANCISCO — A third bench warrant has been issued for Michael R. James, 28, Marin's former New Careers program coordinator.

The "no bail" warrant was issued Wednesday by San Francisco Municipal Court after James failed to appear for the setting of a trial date. He had earlier pleaded innocent to a charge of possessing heroin.

James was arrested Dec. 8 in the Fillmore District of San Francisco with several small balloons of heroin in his possession, police said.

A bench warrant was issued Dec. 19 after James failed to appear for a preliminary hearing on the narcotics charge. The bench warrant was later withdrawn by the court.

A second warrant was issued Jan. 13 when James again failed to appear for his preliminary hearing.

Wednesday the court set June 18 for the forfeiture of his $1,000 bail.

New Schools Chief For San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The new San Francisco school superintendent will be Dr. Thomas S. Shaheen, 53, schools chief for the past five years in Rockford, Ill.

He will replace Robert Jenkins, 59, who resigned the post effective July 31 to become president of a Los Angeles-based book publishing firm.

School Board President Alan Nichols announced Shaheen's appointment Thursday, saying Shaheen is widely known in midwest school circles as a "quality educator."

In San Francisco, he will receive $42,000 a year under a four-year contract. Jenkins was paid $38,500 the last school year.

Among those mentioned as a possible successor to Jenkins had been Wilson Riles, black assistant state superintendent of schools who will oppose his chief, Max Rafferty, in a runoff election in November.

Nichols said Shaheen's present post involves supervision of 73 schools with a total enrollment of 45,000 students.

The San Francisco district includes some 90,000 pupils.

Before going to Rockford, Shaheen was a school superintendent in Rhode Island, New Jersey and New York state over a period of 25 years. He received his doctorate in education at Columbia University in 1963.

Mill Valley To Eye Fate Of Reservoir

The fate of Mill Valley's Cascade Reservoir, a source of annoyance and frustration to city officials as well as a source of water for fire fighting, will be before the city council Monday at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Abuses of the reservoir area, including nude swimming and sunbathing, littering, blocking streets with parked cars and creating a fire hazard, have been cited by residents as reasons for closing the area.

The city council appears to be ready to take that step, perhaps even ready to demolish the center of the dam, leaving the foundations for erosion control and allow old Mill Creek to seek its own level.

The reservoir was created by the Tamalpais Land and Water Co., forerunner of the Marin Municipal Water District, in the late 1890s to serve customers in Cascade Canyon.

In 1953, the last three homes using reservoir water were brought into the district's system, and the reservoir was attached to the fire main system. It was annexed by Mill Valley on Dec. 16, 1960.

It probably was the limited fire prevention function that stopped the dam's demolition last summer after a 12-year-old San Francisco youth drowned there.

Now, with summer approaching and school out, most residents favor immediate closing of the reservoir area as a fire hazard and eventual draining of the lake when improved water lines are brought in by the water district.

Until then, they fear a tinder-dry summer without water available to fight fires. Water pressure in the canyon is said to be dangerously low.

In a half million cases of serious injury, or death, in auto accidents last year, insurance covered only 20 per cent of the losses, a study by the Department of Transportation showed.

UCLA Group Supporting Angela Davis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If regents of the University of California decide next week that Communist Angela Davis should be fired as an assistant philosophy professor at the Los Angeles campus, she may still be retained.

A spokesman for the UCLA Academic Senate said Thursday that this body, voting by mail, has agreed to retain the 26-year-old black instructor and pay her salary through creation of what was termed "special committees."

The vote of the senate was 629-594.

Her course in the contribution of black persons to philosophy would be fully accredited, a spokesman said.

Miss Davis was fired last year by the regents but a court said they acted solely on the grounds she is a Communist—grounds the court said was insufficient.

Regents reportedly voted 16-4 Monday to fire her on grounds she has acted improperly in public appearances and that the university, caught in a financial crisis, should give priority to others.

The regents meet in Los Angeles a week from today.

They are expected to announce their decision.

The Academic Senate's mail canvass of its 1,900 members supported a resolution adopted May 18.

Revoked in the balloting was a proposal to suspend all ROTC activities under the senate's jurisdiction "until the United States has terminated military operations in Indochina." This went down 826-398.

The senate later met with a bare quorum of slightly more than 100 members present.

Those present, in a voice vote, called for establishment of a joint military-faculty committee to supervise what was termed a multilateral program.

'Mill Valley' Tune Fails To Sway Boundary Commissioners

The defeat of Mill Valley's bid to annex 110 acres of Strawberry by a 3-2 vote at the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission Wednesday, no doubt will delight Tiburon.

The two cities have been warring for about four years over the tax-rich Town and Country Village shopping nter. Tiburon has its eye on the entire Strawberry Peninsula, and Mill Valley's rejection enhances its prospects of absorbing the land.

THE FEUD BROKE OUT into the open four years ago when the cities filed conflicting bids for annexation. Mill Valley wanted the shopping center and Tiburon wanted the entire peninsula, just like this time.

Mill Valley withdrew its bid, and the Tiburon effort was blocked when more than 50 per cent of the homeowners in Strawberry protested the annexation.

CHANCES ARE that feelings haven't changed much in that time. It seems that Strawberry residents would prefer to be in Mill Valley.

Commissioners of LAFC apparently weren't swayed by the song "Mill Valley," written by Rita Abrams, teacher at Strawberry Point School, and recorded by a third-grade class there.

A contingent from Mill Valley had hoped to have 10 copies of the song available to give commissioners, but the records didn't arrive from Los Angeles in time.

Instead, each commissioner was given a certificate entitling him to a record when they get here.

Backers of the annexation bid had hoped the point wouldn't be lost on the commission — a chorus of third-graders from Strawberry Point School singing, "Mill Valley, that's my home." It didn't seem to do any good, though.

DEVELOPERS WTIH PLANS to build a large number of apartments and townhouses on part of the proposed annexation were backing Mill Valley, chiefly because sewer hookup fees in the Richardson Bay Sanitary District are about double what they are in Mill Valley.

A subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph wants to build more than 600 units of apartments, townhouses- and- single family residences on the hill above the Town and Country Village, but has held off so far because of the high hookup charge.

It is clear that the county doesn't want to lose the shopping center and adjacent commercial area from the county tax rolls. This probably played a key role in the denial of the annexation.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Zucker Fate Steals Limelight, Leaves Questions Unanswered

Fusselman

As I halfway expected, that which I was going to discuss was elbowed aside by the I-J front page Zucker story Wednesday afternoon. Most of us have always recognized the right of individuals to their beliefs and also their constitutional rights, but it has been interesting, though, to watch those who most insistently assert their rights, just as insistently try to deny others the same consideration.

This whole Zucker promotion has been loaded with this atmosphere. As an example, he made the pitch at one of the campaign debates, that, "My people are working for Mr. Baptiste in Novato, and he will be elected. Now, elect me and with Mr. Arrigoni and Mr. Wornum we wil have four votes and completely control county government." This was reported to me by one of those present, but too late to use.

In the report of the supervisors' meeting, this from Zucker — "I see absolutely no justification for the dismissal. There were no new issues. The only issue is that I ran for office."

He also asserted, that if the supervisors lacked confidence in him they should have fired him when he announced for election, not after the election.

NOW, WOULDN'T THAT have been just ducky for him? What a tear-jerking martyr of himself would he have exploited!

Of course there were no new issues. He had built up such a stack that there wasn't room for any more. He started in slamming things around from his first days on the job.

You may remember, I said "watch him."

There was entirely too much emphasis placed on planning and conservation in his campaign. It disclosed his unfitness for the job of supervisor. Those are only a part of the constant flow of problems over the desks of the supervisors to be solved.

TIME AFTER TIME I asked in this column as others were asking on the street and in the shopping centers — "Where is the list of his accomplishments?" We all wanted to measure and compare them with the heavy tax costs of his performance. Never an answer.

It was good to see Bill Gnoss refuse to let pressure tactics sway his vote.

Yup he, himself, made the motion for dismissal.

THERE WAS AN ANGLE to this whole show that could wonder one:

Alan Bruce, before election and after, pressed for immediate firing. This "immediate" is the "wonder" word. Ten years ago when the ordinance covering his own job was passed it provided a 10 day notice of dismissal — considered pretty foxy at that time. Then what did the laddy do after I was off the board, but get even more foxy.

He and his liberal buddies then on the board, rewrote that provision to read six months.

"How about that?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Two Plans That Could Cut Funds

The preservation of our California Constitution and the First Amendment to the United States Constitution is of vital importance to all of us. Therefore, I wish to bring to the attention of the public two bills, currently before the State Legislature, which I believe are unconstitutional and would deprive the Treasury of the State and our public schools of badly needed tax funds. If you believe in freedom of religion and also separation of church and state, please write to as many State Assemblymen and Senators as possible and ask them to vote against these bills.

SB-1204, sponsored by Senator George Moscone, provides tuition grants, transportation and books to private and parochial schools. . .

Parents who send their children to private and parochial schools do so by choice, and therefore should bear the costs themselves. . .

SB-2, introduced by Senator John Schmitz, has already been approved by the state senate. This bill would give income tax credit to parents who send their children to private schools. I hope the Assembly defeats this bill also, as it makes no difference whether tax credit is given to the parents or the money is given outright to the hierarchy that runs these schools; the result is the same.

If Senators Schmitz and Moscone were to direct their efforts toward preparing a bill which would tax the profits made by various religions and holdings (tapping a new charitable foundations from unrelated investments and source, rather than merely shifting present taxes), the state could probably afford to expand and improve its public school system, and the property owner and persons with lower incomes would really get a break.

Family Grateful For Fire Help

On Memorial Day our home was destroyed by fire and we would like to use your column to express our gratitude and thanks to all the wonderful people who came to our aid so quickly and willingly. Without their generosity and help, we don't know what we would have done.

The younger generation are seldom praised, but the children of our neighborhood were magnificent. They salvaged what few remains there were; a Koolaid stand was set up, piggy banks were raided and treasured toys were given happily. Complete strangers, as well as our friends, were calling continuously offering assitance.

To say thank you alone is inadequate, to thank everyone personally is impossible, but we hope by using this column we can express to everyone involved just a little of our deep appreciation.

Thank you all so very much.

Facts Distorted On Bulk Mail

Your June 1 editorial "The Bulk Mail Menace" represents the epitome of irresponsible journalism. Not only are the facts distorted beyond recognition, but the editorial itself is so patently a vicious, opinionated, self serving attack on a competitive medium, that it can best be described as pure libel.

First, third class bulk mail is NOT subsidized by the taxpayer, as you would have your readers believe. Had your editorial writer been concerned with some aspect of the truth he would have been aware of the latest postal cost analysis released by the U. S. Post Office Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969. As quoted in the April 13 edition of the Wall Street Journal . . . "A postal cost analysis by the Post Office Department shows that third class advertising matter paid nearly twice its handling cost in the year ending last June 30, but second class newspapers and magazines paid less than half of their handling costs . . .".

Second, by describing all third class mail as "junk" clearly stoops to the lowest form of bigotry. It is like characterising all newspapers as obscene because there are but a small percentage of "underground" newspapers that actually deserve that label. . .

Cat Story And Thomas Huxley

The recent interest in cats reminds me that Thomas Huxley once polished off a chain that Darwin had forged. This chain made it evident that old maids influence the strength of the British Navy. But it has connecting facets which once again proves that mothing is as simple as it appears. The links connect this way; with apologies.

Old maids compensate the maternal urging by keeping cats. Cats eat mice. Darwin states that mice eat bumblebees. Bees pollinate clover. Hence more clover, more cows. The people of old England eat a great deal of roast beef. More beef the more young men they can rear. So; following the chain, old maids, more cats, less mice, more bees, more clover, more cows, more young men, it can be said that the spinsters determine the strength of the British Navy. As for me I hope that's all. Power to the cats.

Novato School Lunches Defended

An article in the June 2 issue of the Independent-Journal reports the findings of the North Marin Food Service Committee. I would like to present this letter as a rebuttal in defense of the lunch program of the Novato School District.

I do have a vested interest in the program. I work in a secondary school kitchen and I have worked in the kitchen of an elementary school of the Novato Food Service. I am also a mother who has had three children go through the elementary schools and graduate from Novato High School. As my children were growing up I had, as a primary interest, the job of furnishing them with well balanced nutritive and attractive meals. It was not too difficult for me to do this as there are innumerable sources of informationy for anyone who is interested; but I found that it is one thing to present proper food to one's children and quite another to make them eat it!

. . . You should see the lunch room garbage cans of the elementary schools: discarded fresh crisp carrot and celery sticks, fruits of prime quality, half-eaten main dishes. The kitchen staff have eaten the same menu item and know of its palatability. The difference is we do not have someone to stand over the child and say "Johnny eat your vegetables or no dessert!"

As for the secondary schools, I was amazed, when I went to work there over a year ago, at the variety of sandwiches, special dishes and snacks that are offered. Sandwiches, of excellent quality, vary from 20 to 35c. Main dishes vary on the same range. What restaurant can compare? And we have the problem of serving 100 to 300 students in the space of about 40 min. Ask any restauranteur what problems this can entail. I believe we do it very well and make sure that no student goes hungry. I am proud of our program, both as a mother and a kitchen worker, and am both willing and eager to listen to and expedite any constructive suggestions within my power.

Marin Bike Trails Find It A Slow And Bumpy Struggle

Marin's effort to establish a county-wide bicycle trail system has achieved too little progress in the three years since it first began to receive serious, official consideration.

When the County Parks and Recreation Department staff first unveiled proposals for a bike trail plan, in May of 1967, the Parks and Recreation Commission appeared favorably impressed.

Because the suggested system of trails would cut across city lines, it was necessary to get approval of the cities involved. During 1968 and 1969, Tiburon, Mill Valley, Corte Madera and other city councils, one-by-one, approved and endorsed the scheme.

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District went a step farther. It allocated $40,000 to provide access ramps for bikes to the west sidewalk across the bridge. Army officialdom approved in principal the idea of bike paths through military reservations at each end of the bridge.

County supervisors approved $25,000 in the 1969-70 parks and recreation budget for bike trails. There was hope that this would provide a Sausalito-Mill Valley link. That hope is gone, although it is still likely that a bike crossing of Coyote Creek alongside Highway 1 at Tamalpais Valley will be forthcoming. Also, certain legal and title search expenses for the Sausalito-Mill Valley link are expected to be met — with part of the $25,000 still unspent and presumable available for right-of-way acquisition later.

The Parks and Recreation Department asked an additional $20,000 in the 1970-71 county budget, but the county administrator has recommended that this be deleted in the interests of economy.

Why hasn't more progress been made in the past three years?

Northwestern Pacific Railroad and the state division of Highways have been ever greater obstacles.

NWP rights-of-way in many instances would provide ideal routes for bike trails developable at minimum expense — for example, from Sausalito to Mill Valley. But railroad officials have balked. They are intent on abandoning service and take the position that granting rights-of-way conceivable could interfere with achieving their ultimate goal, abandonment of service.

State highway officials stand steadfastly by their rule that bicycles are excluded from use of freeway properties. They argue that gas tax funds should be spent only for moving vehicles which pay gasoline taxes.

Both the railroad and the highway hierarchy have been under fire from various segments of the public.

Who knows? Perhaps they would be more cooperative if they could be brought to the realization that cooperating with bike trail seekers would help their respective public images.

Baby Robin

Several pairs of robins are nesting in our neighborhood this year. One baby robin has been flying awkwardly about our yard in short, inexpert, excited flights for about three days now.

Most of the time it just sits on bush, tree branch or clothes-line, squawking and trying to attract its parents' attention. The parent birds are kept busy searching for insects and worms to feed it.

In another week or so, this young bird will be on its own. After a brief period of uncertainty, his flight will be swift and sure and he will be able to fend for himself.

But he is just a helpless kid right now.

Race Issue Clouds English Campaigning

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON (UPI)—Race is the one issue all three main parties in Britain wanted at all costs to keep out of the June 18 general elections. Yet it has become one of the most explosive in the campaign.

FOR THE PAST TWO years the local point of a mounting storm in Britain over colored immigration from the commonwealth has been Enoch Powell, a right-wing former Conservative cabinet member.

Powell, 58, a slightly built, intense man who speaks with almost messianic fervor, touched off a nationwide furor by demanding a total halt to clolored immigration and government aid to immigrants who want to return home.

The government estimates there currently are about 1,250,000 colored immigrants in this country, mostly from the West Indies, Pakistan and India.

The labor government denounced Powell as a "racist." Conservative leader Edward Heath publicly condemned his views and ousted him from his "shadow" cabinet. Yet Powell touched on an issue that runs deep in Britain, too.

Because of possible damage to delicate race relations, party leaders wanted to keep race and immigration out of the election.

But Laborite Minister of Technology Anthony Wedgwood Benn forced it into the campaign last week with a personal attack against Powell, whose policies he denounced as "filthy and obscene racialist propaganda."

Prime Minister Harold Wilson chimed in: "All of us in the party and many outside are in complete agreement about our detestation of Powellism."

HEATH CALLEN on Wilson to condemn Benn for making race an election issue. Wilson sidestepped and called on Heath to condemn Powell.

With race now boiling near the top of campaign issues, party strategists were questioning how the estimated 850,000 colored immigrants entitled to vote will cast their ballots.

General consensus was that most probably would vote Labor

THE QUESTION was of considerable significance because districts there are enough colored voters to sway the result.

Boy Scout's Prompt Action In Tragedy

There was a drama behind the scenes last Friday (May 29) in the death of 84-year-old Max Pollak of Sausalito, who collapsed at Phoenix Lake while fishing. I think the Independent-Journal would like to know about it; would like to tell its readers that our young people can be most worthwhile; would like to recognize the value of training in the Boy Scout movement not only for the individual boy but for all of us.

The collapse of Mr. Pollak was observed by a number of persons, including several adults. No one did anything about it until Eagle Scout Bruce Collins, aged 14, senior patrol leader of Troop 11, Kentfield, stepped forward. As a Scout Bruce had learned — so well that he has become a teacher — the techniques of first aid, including artificial resuscitation.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Collins, 25 Patencio, Greenbrae.

For 20 minutes Bruce, a freshman at Redwood High School, gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. As he had been trained, he removed Mr. Pollak's dentures, noted that he had swallowed his tongue and brought it back to normal and — as Ross Asst. Fire Chief Thomas G. Casson later told him — actually had kept this fine artist breathing almost a half-hour while waiting an oxygen supply. It is possible that Mr. Pollak might be alive today had the adult community responded as promptly and efficiently as did this Eagle Scout. His initiative is a tribute to the fine qualities of our teen-agers. His training is a tribute to Scouting.

Should Return Part Of Salary

I understand my letter to the editor last week with regard to the homos from the Gay Liberation visiting the American Government class at Drake High School has prompted several hours of class discussion; readings of the letter, and attemps to have students prepare a counter letter to the editor. Also, yesterday, May 25 they had a repeat performance from the homosexuals as they were invited back to address the same classes.

Since Mr. Lim's salary at $14,060 per year to teach American Government (required of every senior to graduate) we should like to humbly suggest that he return his salary to the taxpayers for each day he doesn't teach this subject.

Also since the law calls for equal time to demonstrate an alternate viewpoint, does he now owe the classes two hours of talk with Lesbians (suggested by a member of his class)? Or will he have "Darby and Joan" tell high school kids why and how their "ideal" marriage works?

What has any of this to do with American Government I ask? Why not call the class Sexual Trivia and ask the taxpayers and parents if they want to put up $42,000 per year for three teachers to give this garbage to their kids at Drake High?

Consultant Dropped For Needed Program

In January Governor Reagan strongly advocated a program on drug abuse through the state Department of Education. He urged the development of a model curriculum as well as in-service training for teachers. A few weeks ago for budgetary reasons the only consultant in school health education in the state Department of Education is being abolished . . .

I have worked with the professional in this position over the last few years in various drug and smoking projects. It is clear to me that without the leadership emanating from this office there can be no implementation of the governor's high-minded and deserving program despite good intent.

If the governor is serious about a public education program intending to bring together top people about drugs, he can scarcely consider the abrupt abolition of his only delegate in this field to be a consistent act. It behooves all of us to react to such contradictory and two-faced behavior with appropriate responses in Sacramento.

What About Hike In Property Tax?

I was happy to learn that Proposition 8 lost. However, in last night's (June 3) paper, I read that our County Tax Assessor plans on increasing the percentage that property tax is paid upon.

With the overall rise in values and the growth in Marin County, why does the rate keep going up?

Ozarks Spa Plan Puts Poverty War On Hot Seat

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

The proposal calls for spending $4 million of federal anti-poverty funds to build a luxurious fun-in-the-sun recreation center in the plush Lake of the Ozarks area in Missouri. Another $1 million would be put up by the state.

Approved by the Duluth, Minn., regional office of EDA, this project would provide dining and merrymaking accommodations for 5,000 vacationists and pleasure seekers. The site is near two swank privately-owned resorts, and an airport completed last fall with $3 million of federal funds.

EDA, under the Department of Commerce, is a major federal antipoverty agency. It is headed by Assistant Commerce Secretary Robert Podesta.
officials contended it is de-

QUESTIONED ABOUT the unusual Missouri project, EDA officials contended it is designed to aid what they described as a "depressed area." This drew derisive hoots from local sources.

Republican State Rep. Granvil Vaughan characterized the proposal as "bordering on the ridiculous."

"Sure, we're glad to get it," he said, "but how anyone can call the lake area depressed is beyond me. Why land around there is priced at several thousand dollars an acre. The government could go broke buying bargains like that in this 'poverty-stricken' area."

Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, indignantly denouncing the proposal as another instance of "extravagant bureaucratic boondoggling," is demanding the EDA reject the approval of its Duluth regional office.

"IT IS PREPOSTEROUS PROJECTS of this kind," he declared, "which are causing so much disillusionment and discouragement among hard-working Americans who must ultimately pay the tab. They are getting thoroughly fed up with this sort of wasteful squandering of tax money."

Caustically noting that federal funds are being cut back for low-cost housing, aid to education, support of farm prices and numerous other pressing economic needs and problems, Scherle asserted, "I am going to do everything in my power to stop this wholly unnecessary and extravagant project. Whatever else the country needs at this time, it is not a swinging spa for fun-makers."

Scherle is up in arms over EDA secrecy about the proposal. He is still trying to uncover where and how it originated, why the Duluth regional office approved it, and who and what is pushing it.

EDA officials have been evasively silent about that.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS and airmen are fighting and dying in Cambodia, but the two hijackers of the munitions — carrying freighter Columbia Eagle are still enjoying pleasant political asylum there.

Neither the State Department nor Premier Lon Nol's government have done anything about returning the rebellious crewmen to the U.S. for trial.

Inquiry at the State Department produced the bland explanation that the U.S. "does not have an extradition treaty with Cambodia."

To the bureaucrats, the affair was just one of those things that had been stuck away in a pigeonhole and conveniently forgotten.

But it is very much on the mind of Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, member of the Internal Security Committee.

He is bluntly critical of the failure to forcefully press the Cambodian government to turn over the two hijackers. Scherle noted that they had seized the Columbia Eagle on the high seas while enroute to Thailand with a cargo of bombs and munitions for U.S. airbases there, and had diverted the ship to Cambodia where they were given asylum by Prince Norodom Sihanouk — who now admits he had secretly aided the Communists.

"This apparent apathy and indifference is inexplicable to me," says Scherle. "I can't understand it. It just doesn't make sense in view of the heavy sacrifice in men and treasure we are making in behalf of Cambodia . . ."

Scherle is considering asking the Internal Security Committee to summon State Department officials for questioning.

Clyde McKay Jr., 25, and Alvin Glatkowski, 20, both of California, the hijackers, reportedly are at Pnom-Penh, Cambodian naval base. The Columbia Eagle, released after the ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, returned to the U.S. last month.

Senator Song Presses Passage Of Bill To Watchdog Guarantees

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — If the state Legislature does anything this year toward requiring business to live up to its guarantees, it will be largely due to the efforts of Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park.

Song has faithfully and with perseverance carried on a campaign on behalf of the California consumer through the Senate Business and Professions Committee, which he chairs.

The committee recently sent SB 272 to the Senate with a do pass recommendation, and the measure probably will be taken up soon. It gives effective assistance to the purchaser who attempts to enforce the terms of a warranty or guarantee.

UNDER THE LEGISLATION, the consumer who buys defective goods covered by a warranty has the legal right to have the goods repaired or replaced if he returns them to the retailer. And the bill makes the manufacturer liable to the retailer for the full cost of servicing the warranty.

If the manufacturer refuses to make good on the product as represented, the bill would allow the buyer or the retailer to sue the manufacturer for three times the cost of the product, plus all attorney fees.

Song's committee has had the matter of warranties under consideration for some time, having held hearings last fall on the subject.

"The committee found," he said, "that some manufacturers back up their products with a warranty that is as good as gold.

"WE ALSO FOUND that others issue warranties and guarantees that are no more than worthless paper, primarily gimmicks to help sell their products. When buyers of products with bad warranties try to claim their repairs or replacements, they are met with the run-around treatment, double talk, extra charges, and stall tactics up to six months.

"Good companies will not have to worry about this bill, for they already back up their products with integrity. This bill, and others before the legislature, are aimed at the chiselers and sharp-shooters who have plagued the state for a long time, and given the market-place a bad reputation for years."

IN ADDITION, the Senate already has passed SB 921, by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, which provides that consumers do not lose the benefit of their warranties just because they fail to send in a registration card. The warranty thus will stand good as long as the consumer can prove that he purchased the goods.

THE LORD CHIEF Justice of England reckoned at the last session of the year that the major portion of his judicial hours in the court for the 12 months coming to a close was spent "Investigating collisions between soberly propelled vehicles, each on its own side of the road, each sounding its horn, each with its bright lights dutifully switched off, and each absolutely stationary."

THE LATE CARDINAL Spellman had a robust sense of humor, and dearly enjoyed exchanging quips with the many Broadway and Hollywood stars he knew personally. On one Christmas tour of Vietnam bases, for instance, Bob Hope confessed to the Cardinal, "I was so bushed from our back-breaking itinerary yesterday that I'm afraid I fell asleep twice at your mass." "Don't let that bother you," the Cardinal assured him cheerfully, "I napped straight through your last three television shows!"

'Mill Valley' Tune Fails To Sway Boundary Commissioners

The defeat of Mill Valley's bid to annex 110 acres of Strawberry by a 3-2 vote at the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission Wednesday, no doubt will delight Tiburon.

The two cities have been warring for about four years over the tax-rich Town and Country Village shopping nter. Tiburon has its eye on the entire Strawberry Peninsula, and Mill Valley's rejection enhances its prospects of absorbing the land.

THE FEUD BROKE OUT into the open four years ago when the cities filed conflicting bids for annexation. Mill Valley wanted the shopping center and Tiburon wanted the entire peninsula, just like this time.

Mill Valley withdrew its bid, and the Tiburon effort was blocked when more than 50 per cent of the homeowners in Strawberry protested the annexation.

CHANCES ARE that feelings haven't changed much in that time. It seems that Strawberry residents would prefer to be in Mill Valley.

Commissioners of LAFC apparently weren't swayed by the song "Mill Valley," written by Rita Abrams, teacher at Strawberry Point School, and recorded by a third-grade class there.

A contingent from Mill Valley had hoped to have 10 copies of the song available to give commissioners, but the records didn't arrive from Los Angeles in time.

Instead, each commissioner was given a certificate entitling him to a record when they get here.

Backers of the annexation bid had hoped the point wouldn't be lost on the commission — a chorus of third-graders from Strawberry Point School singing, "Mill Valley, that's my home." It didn't seem to do any good, though.

DEVELOPERS WTIH PLANS to build a large number of apartments and townhouses on part of the proposed annexation were backing Mill Valley, chiefly because sewer hookup fees in the Richardson Bay Sanitary District are about double what they are in Mill Valley.

A subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph wants to build more than 600 units of apartments, townhouses- and- single family residences on the hill above the Town and Country Village, but has held off so far because of the high hookup charge.

It is clear that the county doesn't want to lose the shopping center and adjacent commercial area from the county tax rolls. This probably played a key role in the denial of the annexation.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Zucker Fate Steals Limelight, Leaves Questions Unanswered

Fusselman

As I halfway expected, that which I was going to discuss was elbowed aside by the I-J front page Zucker story Wednesday afternoon. Most of us have always recognized the right of individuals to their beliefs and also their constitutional rights, but it has been interesting, though, to watch those who most insistently assert their rights, just as insistently try to deny others the same consideration.

This whole Zucker promotion has been loaded with this atmosphere. As an example, he made the pitch at one of the campaign debates, that, "My people are working for Mr. Baptiste in Novato, and he will be elected. Now, elect me and with Mr. Arrigoni and Mr. Wornum we wil have four votes and completely control county government." This was reported to me by one of those present, but too late to use.

In the report of the supervisors' meeting, this from Zucker — "I see absolutely no justification for the dismissal. There were no new issues. The only issue is that I ran for office."

He also asserted, that if the supervisors lacked confidence in him they should have fired him when he announced for election, not after the election.

NOW, WOULDN'T THAT have been just ducky for him? What a tear-jerking martyr of himself would he have exploited!

Of course there were no new issues. He had built up such a stack that there wasn't room for any more. He started in slamming things around from his first days on the job.

You may remember, I said "watch him."

There was entirely too much emphasis placed on planning and conservation in his campaign. It disclosed his unfitness for the job of supervisor. Those are only a part of the constant flow of problems over the desks of the supervisors to be solved.

TIME AFTER TIME I asked in this column as others were asking on the street and in the shopping centers — "Where is the list of his accomplishments?" We all wanted to measure and compare them with the heavy tax costs of his performance. Never an answer.

It was good to see Bill Gnoss refuse to let pressure tactics sway his vote.

Yup he, himself, made the motion for dismissal.

THERE WAS AN ANGLE to this whole show that could wonder one:

Alan Bruce, before election and after, pressed for immediate firing. This "immediate" is the "wonder" word. Ten years ago when the ordinance covering his own job was passed it provided a 10 day notice of dismissal — considered pretty foxy at that time. Then what did the laddy do after I was off the board, but get even more foxy.

He and his liberal buddies then on the board, rewrote that provision to read six months.

"How about that?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Two Plans That Could Cut Funds

The preservation of our California Constitution and the First Amendment to the United States Constitution is of vital importance to all of us. Therefore, I wish to bring to the attention of the public two bills, currently before the State Legislature, which I believe are unconstitutional and would deprive the Treasury of the State and our public schools of badly needed tax funds. If you believe in freedom of religion and also separation of church and state, please write to as many State Assemblymen and Senators as possible and ask them to vote against these bills.

SB-1204, sponsored by Senator George Moscone, provides tuition grants, transportation and books to private and parochial schools. . .

Parents who send their children to private and parochial schools do so by choice, and therefore should bear the costs themselves. . .

SB-2, introduced by Senator John Schmitz, has already been approved by the state senate. This bill would give income tax credit to parents who send their children to private schools. I hope the Assembly defeats this bill also, as it makes no difference whether tax credit is given to the parents or the money is given outright to the hierarchy that runs these schools; the result is the same.

If Senators Schmitz and Moscone were to direct their efforts toward preparing a bill which would tax the profits made by various religions and holdings (tapping a new charitable foundations from unrelated investments and source, rather than merely shifting present taxes), the state could probably afford to expand and improve its public school system, and the property owner and persons with lower incomes would really get a break.

Family Grateful For Fire Help

On Memorial Day our home was destroyed by fire and we would like to use your column to express our gratitude and thanks to all the wonderful people who came to our aid so quickly and willingly. Without their generosity and help, we don't know what we would have done.

The younger generation are seldom praised, but the children of our neighborhood were magnificent. They salvaged what few remains there were; a Koolaid stand was set up, piggy banks were raided and treasured toys were given happily. Complete strangers, as well as our friends, were calling continuously offering assittance.

To say thank you alone is inadequate, to thank everyone personally is impossible, but we hope by using this column we can express to everyone involved just a little of our deep appreciation.

Thank you all so very much.

Facts Distorted On Bulk Mail

Your June 1 editorial "The Bulk Mail Menace" represents the epitome of irresponsible journalism. Not only are the facts distorted beyond recognition, but the editorial itself is so patently a vicious, opinionated, self serving attack on a competitive medium, that it can best be described as pure libel.

First, third class bulk mail is NOT subsidized by the taxpayer, as you would have your readers believe. Had your editorial writer been concerned with some aspect of the truth he would have been aware of the latest postal cost analysis released by the U. S. Post Office Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969. As quoted in the April 13 edition of the Wall Street Journal . . . "A postal cost analysis by the Post Office Department shows that third class advertising matter paid nearly twice its handling cost in the year ending last June 30, but second class newspapers and magazines paid less than half of their handling costs . . .".

Second, by describing all third class mail as "junk" clearly stoops to the lowest form of bigotry. It is like characterising all newspapers as obscene because there are but a small percentage of "underground" newspapers that actually deserve that label. . .

Cat Story And Thomas Huxley

The recent interest in cats reminds me that Thomas Huxley once polished off a chain that Darwin had forged. This chain made it evident that old maids influence the strength of the British Navy. But it has connecting facets which once again proves that mothing is as simple as it appears. The links connect this way; with apologies.

Old maids compensate the maternal urging by keeping cats. Cats eat mice. Darwin states that mice eat bumblebees. Bees pollinate clover. Hence more clover, more cows. The people of old England eat a great deal of roast beef. More beef the more young men they can rear. So; following the chain, old maids, more cats, less mice, more bees, more clover, more cows, more young men, it can be said that the spinsters determine the strength of the British Navy. As for me I hope that's all. Power to the cats.

Novato School Lunches Defended

An article in the June 2 issue of the Independent-Journal reports the findings of the North Marin Food Service Committee. I would like to present this letter as a rebuttal in defense of the lunch program of the Novato School District.

I do have a vested interest in the program. I work in a secondary school kitchen and I have worked in the kitchen of an elementary school of the Novato Food Service. I am also a mother who has had three children go through the elementary schools and graduate from Novato High School. As my children were growing up I had, as a primary interest, the job of furnishing them with well balanced nutritive and attractive meals. It was not too difficult for me to do this as there are innumerable sources of informationy for anyone who is interested; but I found that it is one thing to present proper food to one's children and quite another to make them eat it!

. . . You should see the lunch room garbage cans of the elementary schools: discarded fresh crisp carrot and celery sticks, fruits of prime quality, half-eaten main dishes. The kitchen staff have eaten the same menu item and know of its palatability. The difference is we do not have someone to stand over the child and say "Johnny eat your vegetables or no dessert!"

As for the secondary schools, I was amazed, when I went to work there over a year ago, at the variety of sandwiches, special dishes and snacks that are offered. Sandwiches, of excellent quality, vary from 20 to 35c. Main dishes vary on the same range. What restaurant can compare? And we have the problem of serving 100 to 300 students in the space of about 40 min. Ask any restauranteur what problems this can entail. I believe we do it very well and make sure that no student goes hungry. I am proud of our program, both as a mother and a kitchen worker, and am both willing and eager to listen to and expedite any constructive suggestions within my power.

The Face Seemed Familiar— Chapter Awards Nurses Aid

Mrs. Walter F. Johnson, chairman of the Marin Chapter of the March of Dimes, recently underwent surgery at Ross General Hospital. During her recovery she was cared for by a dark-haired nurse whose face seemed familiar.

Noticing Ruth Johnson's inquiring look, nurse Sena Cummings said, "You know me, Mrs. Johnson — part of me belongs to you."

Mrs. Craig E. Cummings, 23, explained that in 1965, while a senior at Terra Linda High School, she had applied to the March of Dimes for financial assistance in her nursing education and had been awarded a $500 scholarship by the volunteer organization.

"If it hadn't been for that scholarship," Sena said, "I would not be here now."

Sena is one of many young Marin women who have been aided in their nursing education since the March of Dimes scholarship program was developed in 1962 by Miss Valerie Ansel.

Under Ruth's chairmanship (she has served the March of Dimes for 18 years and was chairman from 1961 until 1967), one $500 scholarship was awarded that first year of the program, financed completely through donations to the Marin Chapter.

The following year, Ann Farmer, a 1963 Tamalpais High School graduate was the recipient of the chapter's nurses scholarship and enrolled in the College of Nursing at Sacramento State College.

Two scholarships were made available the next year and in 1964 they were presented to Cynthia Wirt of San Rafael High School and Nancy Cox of Dominican Convent.

Nancy was typical of the young people being encouraged by the March of Dimes. Midway through high school Nancy decided upon a nursing career and devoted one day a week to helping handicapped children at Marindale School.

VALERIE KEHRLEIN

In 1965 a scholarship was presented to Sena Olsen, now Mrs. Cummings, of Terra Linda High School. Sena was a graduate of the first nursing class of the College of Marin in 1967 and has been a nurse for three years at Parkway Convalescent Hospital in Terra Linda, Bayside Convalescent Hospital in Ross and now at Ross General Hospital.

This year's recipients of March of Dimes $500 nursing scholarships are Valerie Lee Lyons of San Marin High School in Novato and Catherine Mary Haley of Tomales High School in Tomales. Valerie Rose Kehrlein of Marin Catholic High School is the recipient of the $100 Betty Jean Becker scholarship.

CATHY HALEY

Catherine Haley plans to attend the Kaiser Foundation School of Nursing in Oakland and then to enroll in a California State College to study toward a bachelor of science degree.

"I realize a nurse's salary is not excellent when compared to that of other professions I might have chosen," says Catherine. "However I also realize that I must be happy and self-confident in my career choice and in nursing I know I will be."

Valerie Lyons has been accepted to Chico State College. She has been interested in becoming a nurse since she began Red Cross volunteer work when she entered high school and has worked as a volunteer at Sonoma State Hospital, London House Convalescent Home, and Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Valerie Kehrlein will attend the University of San Francisco. She has a pretty good idea of what her education will be as she has attended the weekly "Future Doctors" class at Marin General Hospital, served as a Red Cross volunteer and attended a course at St. Joseph's Nursing School.

"I think there is a great need for nurses" says Valerie, another future nurse being assisted by donations to the March of Dimes.

Miss Tell-A-Tale's Phone Never Quit

By MIKE WESTER

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — An innovation in library service for children, that of personalized bedtime stories, has proved a major success during its pilot run in this West Texas city.

Dial-a-bedtime stories from Miss Tell-A-Tale, given a six-week run in Lubbock, immediately hit a snag. Miss Tell-A-Tale was too popular!

"The program was expanded from six to eight weeks, Miss Tell-A-Tale got a private telephone number, and plans to include the program in the future are underway," said Mrs. Ella Mae Platz, head of children's services for the Lubbock City-County Library.

The one-hour program is only the second known attempt by a library to tell stories to children over the telephone. The other, at Sheridan, Wyo., pop. 11,600, also was successful — but operated on a much smaller basis. It used the slogan, "If the three bears answer, don't hang up".

Miss Tell-A-Tale's calls in Lubbock first were channeled through the city switchboard to the library. But after the first three days it was decided the narrator should have her own phone.

"IT WAS A madhouse at the city switchboard," said Mrs. Lou Prothro, communications supervisor for the city, which has a population of 180,000. "We have 20 incoming lines, and the first night they all lighted up and stayed that way for the hour the bedtime story was available. It was just like a Christmas tree."

Mrs. Prothro said it stayed that way through the first week, even after Miss Tell-A-Tale got her own phone. She said additional operators had to be used just to answer calls.

It just happened that the first night of the program a city official saw the switchboard confusion.

"What have we got — a disaster?" asked City Manager Bill Blackburn. He was told it was only children trying to reach Miss Tell-A-Tale. He was convinced there should be a special phone because the city also must take fire, police and power emergency calls.

"We tried to hold the stories to three minutes, and take another minute to get the child's name, age, and invite him to the library," said Mrs. Platz. "With three story tellers, we averaged about 45 calls per night. At that rate, we estimate we handled about 1,400 bedtime stories during the eight-week period."

IN ADDITION to members of the children's department of the library, volunteers were called upon. High school, college and young married women who enjoyed children and their books also read.

The average age of the caller was 4 to 7, although there were many older children. Mike Machen, 8, a Lubbock second-grader, said he tried to reach Miss Tell-A-Tale every night.

"It's fun to hear a bedtime story over the phone," he said. "It's better than being tucked into bed by Mother. You can get that any night."

Reaction of children was varied:

—"This isn't a recording, is it? My Daddy said it would be."

—"Now, I'm going to tell you a story. Once upon a time. . ."

—"I know Miss Tell-A-Tale doesn't come on until 8 p.m. But I'm just 6 and I can't tell time yet."

—"I'm too young to dial the phone. I had to get the operator to call for me. You won't tell, will you?"

—"No, I've never been to the library. But Mother says we're going to stop in some day."

And, after hearing his bedtime story, a young boy appeared at the library the next day.

"I want to meet Miss Tell-A-Tale," he said.

THE LIBRARIAN searched and found one of the story tellers. It happened to be the same girl, who remembered the boy. "I just want to thank you — and check out that book," he said.

Mrs. Platz said the program certainly helped create interest in the children's department and children's books. Those who already used the library came back more often, and new children started using it.

Mrs. Platz said stories were chosen that could be understood without pictures.

FIVE-YEAR-old Stephanie Fikes of Lubbock, Tex., listens to a dial-a-bedtime story from "Miss Tell-A-Tale," the story teller at the Lubbock City-County Library. The innovation in library service was given a six-week run but hit a snag because "Miss Tell-A-Tale" was too popular. (UPI Telephoto)

Drama And Opera To Benefit Autistic Program In Marin

An evening of opera and drama to benefit autistic children will be held at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur at 8 p.m., June 25 and 26.

Sponsored by the Marin County Autistic Society, the play "Children Of The Mime," by A. C. Nicholow, a specialist in emotional disorders who works with autistic children in Hayward, is about a 30-year-old autistic man — one who never developed the ability to communicate with other people.

Empathy Players will present this premier and the Mosaic Opera Co. of San Francisco will perform excerpts from six operas.

The society, under the direction of Clifford Juillerat, plans to purchase a half-acre lot by Hall School to build a treatment center so that the special education programs started at the school in 1967 by Mrs. Edna Koehler may be extended. With the help of volunteers Mrs. Koehler has been working with a class of about 15 autistic children on a one-to-one basis using a multi-stimuli approach which keeps them constantly busy.

Autism was defined in 1940 but psychologists and psychiatrists do not agree on its causes. Theories range from blaming it on an enzyme or vitamin shortage or brain damage to some damaging emotional experience.

"From very early in life, before two years old, the child

The bride is a graduate of Santa Rosa High School and Shasta Junior College and is a senior at Chico State College.

James was graduated from Terra Linda High School and Napa Junior College. He also is a student at Chico State College. He is employed during the summer with Mid Valley Title Co. in Chico.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

When Will Students Learn That Violence Is A Greater Wrong?

DEAR HELEN:

Can someone tell me how a generation whose biggest phrase is "love and peace" can justify burning buildings, rioting, shouting four-letter words at speakers, storming college offices and demanding their non-negotiable rights with raised fists?

And how can barricading a busy freeway, so that hundreds of people are late to work, possibly do anything to stop the war? When they burn down a bank, is this helping the cause of peace?

I wonder if those who begin such riots are really interested in ending the war, or in starting a revolution? And how can otherwise sane students get carried away by the mob to such an extent that they become a part of it?

Heaven knows I'm for world peace and for changes in our educational system and our country, but not by violence.

When will young people learn that they only defeat their cause when their wild actions are worse than the wrongs they are fighting against? — RYAN

DEAR RYAN:

That most of the "love and peace" generation are fairly peaceful dissenters has been proven by scores of non-violent demonstrations, several of the largest staged this spring at Washington, D.C.

But one bad move, magnified by a few firebrands, can turn a crowd into a raging mob. One or two students can throw firebombs that destroy irreplaceable research or property worth thousands of dollars.

And the blame falls on all.

Most of us are for free speech: Dissent brings needed changes, unless it erupts into mob action. Then violence brings reprisals, and the cause is lost. Youth knows this, having seen it happen many times.

It seems to me that young people themselves could do a better job of policing the destructionists.

When the majority realizes it can stop the minority cold by sheer weight of numbers, universities may get back to the business of education again. — H.

For further information, write to the party, Box 6062, Sacramento, California, 95860. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Has this ever occurred to anyone but me?

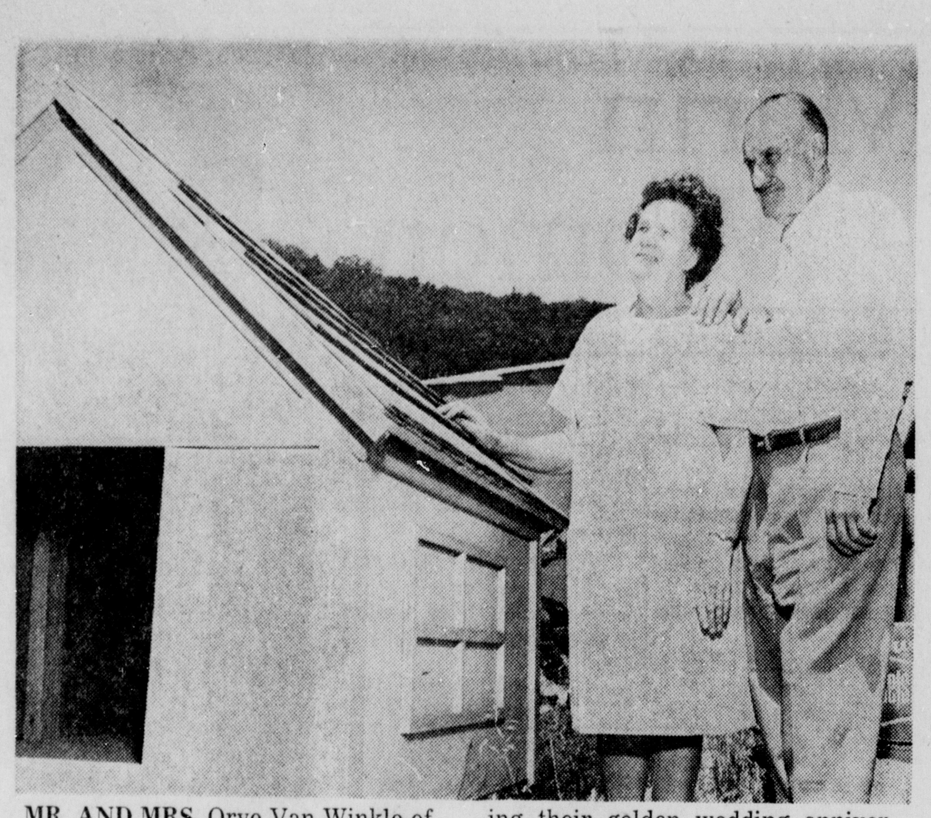
Campus violence is sometimes attributed to subversive organizations. Certain people say the Communists are masterminding the riots and battles.

But each time there is a college incident it brings us that much closer to electing a completely reactionary government of far-rights.

So isn't it possible that instead of our campus revolutionaries being paid by the Commies, they are in truth paid by the far-far-rightists who know that if you scare people badly enough, they'll swing the pendulum way back to the 1880s — with a total crack-down on everything, including heads? — T.C.

DEAR T.:

Do your initials stand for "Tongue in Cheek?"Or do they? — H.



MR. AND MRS. Orve Van Winkle of Novato stand before one of the many varieties of dog houses he makes and sells. They are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary today. The couple was married on June 12, 1920 in Auburn, Neb.

'Merry-Go-Round' Through 50 Years Of Married Life

"We met on a merry-go-round at a Fourth of July celebration and we've been on a merry-go-round ever since," said Orve Van Winkle as he and his wife reminisced about their 50 years of marriage.

Rip, as he is called by his friends, and Lola Wilson were married in the Methodist Parsonage in Auburn, Neb., 50 years ago today.

They came to California in 1938 during the depression years, and Mr. Van Winkle said, "If I'd had the money, I would have gone back to Nebraska." However, Mrs. Van Winkle says she would not have gone.

During their years of marriage Mr. Van Winkle said about his work, "You name it, and I've done it." He has worked as an auto mechanic, trucker and as a bartender.

As any couple married 50 years, they have had their sad and happy moments.

During World War II their son Floyd was a prisoner of war in Japan for 44 months. Ironically, following his release from the service, he was killed in a car accident in Colorado eight years ago.

They have four other children, who honored them at Pete's Shipwreck Lodge in Novato Saturday night with a buffet dinner.

Their children are Mrs. Arlene Foster of Burlingame, Mrs. Paul Sutton, who is visiting from Odessa, Tex., Mrs. L. G. Balmer of Novato and Lowell Van Winkle of Sonoma.

They have six grandchildren, Mrs. David Giovanolli and Roberta Foster, the children of Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Shirley Parker, Mrs. Gloria Edmiston, and William and Gerald Sutton, the children of Mrs. Sutton. They also have 10 great grandchildren.

The Van Winkles, who both have a fine sense of humor and continually kid one another, said their main pastime now is playing pinochle, almost every night with their friends. "We don't play partners, though," Mrs. Van Winkle said.

A heart condition a few years ago curtailed Mrs. Van Winkle's activities somewhat. She attends Our Lady of Loretto Church, where she became a convert five years ago.

Mr. Van Winkle keeps busy building and selling dog houses.

ON BEING BLACK

Time, Money Used For Funerals Is Better Spent On The Living

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Isn't the coffin beautiful?" whispered the elderly woman.

"Must have cost a fortune," agreed the lady seated next to her.

At least 30 persons were crowded into the small living room that was adorned with elaborate floral sprays. Periodically, trays of sandwiches, pastries and coffee were served.

This was the first wake I had attended in years, and it was unusual only because it was being held in the home of the deceased. Whereas this was standard practice years ago, today such services are generally held in funeral chapels.

As I watched the attention, time and care that were being given to the occasion of this man's death, I couldn't help wondering, if this same time and attention had been given him during his life, would he now be dead at age 30 — the victim of a drug overdose?

THERE WAS Mitch's mother seated next to the coffin. She took off from work to be with him now. How well I remembered childhood days when Mitch was always home alone. His father had split years ago and his Mom couldn't miss a day from her job. (After all, they had to eat, didn't they?) Once Mitch was out of school for 15 days waiting for his Mom to 'get time off' to go back to school with him and straighten out his transgressions against the hallowed-halls-of-learning. But she took a day off today.

This, of course, was not an isolated case of pomp and circumstance for the dead — for black folk have long considered death a monumental occasion. After all, birth, for an historically depressed peopre, was merely the beginning of a long, hard haul through life. And death was the final laying down of that burden. Proportionately few blacks have been among the esoterics who could say and believe that "live is beautiful." For too many, the epitaph has been "life is hell."

Black spirituals have long heralded the event of the "coming to the end of the line"—and many have struggled nobly to be worthy of this grand finale. Being well-versed in the Christian ethic, many blacks are believers in the "hereafter."

BLACK FOLK, of course, are not alone when it comes to wishing to "put away" their loved ones "in style." And there are reportedly several so-called psychological benefits (for the bereaved) from engaging in "Cadillac" funerals.

But, more important, there are the conditions that exist for the black family after the deceased is put away. It would appear that insurance money, now available, and savings could better be spent on the living — food for fatherless children, education and so on.

Albert Grassos, Longtime Marin Residents, Mark 50th Anniversary

Married June 6, 1920, in San Francisco were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grasso. They moved to Marin in 1921 and have lived in the Fairfax-San Anselmo area since.

Mrs. Grasso was president of the Fairfax Women's Club when that town was incorporated in 1931 and she remembers it as a "beautiful, small summertime place." The town has grown, she says, but some of the couple's friends who used to picnic together every Monday on McNear's beach are still living in Fairfax.

Mr. Grasso, who was a truck driver for Shell Oil Co. and later a bartender in Novato, San Anselmo and San Rafael, hauled gasoline to the construction site of the Golden Gate Bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Grasso were the first to walk across the bridge when it opened on May 27, 1937.

"It was terrific. It was beautiful," Mr. Grasso said of the crowds which swarmed over the completed bridge.

Mrs. Grasso was born Dorothy Hallmeyer in Oakland and attended high school in Santa Clara, and Mr. Grasso was born in San Francisco, and he attended high school there.

They have three children, Mrs. John Buttimer of Novato, George Grasso of San Mateo, who has two children, and Russell A. Grasso of Fairfax, who has two sons.

Asked if she had any advice for someone about to get married, Mrs. Grasso said "I wouldn't give them any advice at all, I'd mind my own business."

She and Mr. Grasso plan to "just live." They visit Lake Tahoe yearly and the San Mateo home of their son and daughter-in-law, who hosted a surprise cocktail party on the couple's anniversary.

The bride-elect is the sister of Penny van de Sandt of Petaluma and Kathryn Colsten of Sunnyvale.

Alan is the son of M. D. Cates of Amarillo, Tex., and Mrs. J. E. Cates of Petaluma. Mrs. M. W. Thompson of Petaulma is his grandmother and Jim Cates of Petaluma is Alan's brother.

The Face Seemed Familiar— Chapter Awards Nurses Aid

Mrs. Walter F. Johnson, chairman of the Marin Chapter of the March of Dimes, recently underwent surgery at Ross General Hospital. During her recovery she was cared for by a dark-haired nurse whose face seemed familiar.

Noticing Ruth Johnson's inquiring look, nurse Sena Cummings said, "You know me, Mrs. Johnson — part of me belongs to you."

Mrs. Craig E. Cummings, 23, explained that in 1965, while a senior at Terra Linda High School, she had applied to the March of Dimes for financial assistance in her nursing education and had been awarded a $500 scholarship by the volunteer organization.

"If it hadn't been for that scholarship," Sena said, "I would not be here now."

Sena is one of many young Marin women who have been aided in their nursing education since the March of Dimes scholarship program was developed in 1962 by Miss Valerie Ansel.

Under Ruth's chairmanship (she has served the March of Dimes for 18 years and was chairman from 1961 until 1967), one $500 scholarship was awarded that first year of the program, financed completely through donations to the Marin Chapter.

The following year, Ann Farmer, a 1963 Tamalpais High School graduate was the recipient of the chapter's nurses scholarship and enrolled in the College of Nursing at Sacramento State College.

Two scholarships were made available the next year and in 1964 they were presented to Cynthia Wirt of San Rafael High School and Nancy Cox of Dominican Convent.

Nancy was typical of the young people being encouraged by the March of Dimes. Midway through high school Nancy decided upon a nursing career and devoted one day a week to helping handicapped children at Marindale School.

In 1965 a scholarship was presented to Sena Olsen, now Mrs. Cummings, of Terra Linda High School. Sena was a graduate of the first nursing class of the College of Marin in 1967 and has been a nurse for three years at Parkway Convalescent Hospital in Terra Linda, Bayside Convalescent Hospital in Ross and now at Ross General Hospital.

This year's recipients of March of Dimes $500 nursing scholarships are Valerie Lee Lyons of San Marin High School in Novato and Catherine Mary Haley of Tomales High School in Tomales. Valerie Rose Kehrlein of Marin Catholic High School is the recipient of the $100 Betty Jean Becker scholarship.

Catherine Haley plans to attend the Kaiser Foundation School of Nursing in Oakland and then to enroll in a California State College to study toward a bachelor of science degree.

"I realize a nurse's salary is not excellent when compared to that of other professions I might have chosen," says Catherine. "However I also realize that I must be happy and self-confident in my career choice and in nursing I know I will be."

Valerie Lyons has been accepted to Chico State College. She has been interested in becoming a nurse since she began Red Cross volunteer work when she entered high school and has worked as a volunteer at Sonoma State Hospital, London House Convalescent Home, and Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Valerie Kehrlein will attend the University of San Francisco. She has a pretty good idea of what her education will be as she has attended the weekly "Future Doctors" class at Marin General Hospital, served as a Red Cross volunteer and attended a course at St. Joseph's Nursing School.

"I think there is a great need for nurses" says Valerie, another future nurse being assisted by donations to the March of Dimes.

Miss Tell-A-Tale's Phone Never Quit

By MIKE WESTER

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — An innovation in library service for children, that of personalized bedtime stories, has proved a major success during its pilot run in this West Texas city.

Dial-a-bedtime stories from Miss Tell-A-Tale, given a six-week run in Lubbock, immediately hit a snag. Miss Tell-A-Tale was too popular!

"The program was expanded from six to eight weeks, Miss Tell-A-Tale got a private telephone number, and plans to include the program in the future are underway," said Mrs. Ella Mae Platz, head of children's services for the Lubbock City-County Library.

The one-hour program is only the second known attempt by a library to tell stories to children over the telephone. The other, at Sheridan, Wyo., pop. 11,600, also was successful — but operated on a much smaller basis. It used the slogan, "If the three bears answer, don't hang up".

Miss Tell-A-Tale's calls in Lubbock first were channeled through the city switchboard to the library. But after the first three days it was decided the narrator should have her own phone.

"IT WAS A madhouse at the city switchboard," said Mrs. Lou Prothro, communications supervisor for the city, which has a population of 180,000. "We have 20 incoming lines, and the first night they all lighted up and stayed that way for the hour the bedtime story was available. It was just like a Christmas tree."

Mrs. Prothro said it stayed that way through the first week, even after Miss Tell-A-Tale got her own phone. She said additional operators had to be used just to answer calls.

It just happened that the first night of the program a city official saw the switchboard confusion.

"What have we got — a disaster?" asked City Manager Bill Blackburn. He was told it was only children trying to reach Miss Tell-A-Tale. He was convinced there should be a special phone because the city also must take fire, police and power emergency calls.

"We tried to hold the stories to three minutes, and take another minute to get the child's name, age, and invite him to the library," said Mrs. Platz. "With three story tellers, we averaged about 45 calls per night. At that rate, we estimate we handled about 1,400 bedtime stories during the eight-week period."

IN ADDITION to members of the children's department of the library, volunteers were called upon. High school, college and young married women who enjoyed children and their books also read.

The average age of the caller was 4 to 7, although there were many older children. Mike Machen, 8, a Lubbock second-grader, said he tried to reach Miss Tell-A-Tale every night.

"It's fun to hear a bedtime story over the phone," he said. "It's better than being tucked into bed by Mother. You can get that any night."

Reaction of children was varied:

—"This isn't a recording, is it? My Daddy said it would be."

—"Now, I'm going to tell you a story. Once upon a time. . ."

—"I know Miss Tell-A-Tale doesn't come on until 8 p.m. But I'm just 6 and I can't tell time yet."

—"I'm too young to dial the phone. I had to get the operator to call for me. You won't tell, will you?"

—"No, I've never been to the library. But Mother says we're going to stop in some day."

And, after hearing his bedtime story, a young boy appeared at the library the next day.

"I want to meet Miss Tell-A-Tale," he said.

THE LIBRARIAN searched and found one of the story tellers. It happened to be the same girl, who remembered the boy. "I just want to thank you — and check out that book," he said.

Mrs. Platz said the program certainly helped create interest in the children's department and children's books. Those who already used the library came back more often, and new children started using it.

Mrs. Platz said stories were chosen that could be understood without pictures.

FIVE-YEAR-old Stephanie Fikes of Lubbock, Tex., listens to a dial-a-bedtime story from "Miss Tell-A-Tale," the story teller at the Lubbock City-County Library. The inovation in library service was given a six-week run but hit a snag because "Miss Tell-A-Tale" was too popular. (UPI Telephoto)

Drama And Opera To Benefit Autistic Program In Marin

An evening of opera and drama to benefit autistic children will be held at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur at 8 p.m., June 25 and 26.

Sponsored by the Marin County Autistic Society, the play "Children Of The Mime," by A. C. Nicholow, a specialist in emotional disorders who works with autistic children in Hayward, is about a 30-year-old autistic man — one who never developed the ability to communicate with other people.

Empathy Players will present this premier and the Mosaic Opera Co. of San Francisco will perform excerpts from six operas.

The society, under the direction of Clifford Juillerat, plans to purchase a half-acre lot by Hall School to build a treatment center so that the special education programs started at the school in 1967 by Mrs. Edna Koehler may be extended. With the help of volunteers Mrs. Koehler has been working with a class of about 15 autistic children on a one-to-one basis using a multi-stimuli approach which keeps them constantly busy.

Autism was defined in 1940 but psychologists and psychiatrists do not agree on its causes. Theories range from blaming it on an enzyme or vitamin shortage or brain damage to some damaging emotional experience.

"From very early in life, before two years old, the child

The bride is a graduate of Santa Rosa High School and Shasta Junior College and is a senior at Chico State College.

James was graduated from Terra Linda High School and Napa Junior College. He also is a student at Chico State College. He is employed during the summer with Mid Valley Title Co. in Chico.

Treating Autism In Marin

tends to be withdrawn," said Dr. Earnest Giraldi, a Presidio doctor who has been working with Mrs. Koehler's class for almost a year.

"It's a complete refusal to interact with other human beings. An autistic child spends his time with an object like a toy or a piece of furniture instead of reacting to people. He wants to maintain the same environment and becomes disturbed if objects or people are not in their usual place. He lives in another world," the doctor explained.

"This (multistimuli approach) is working. We've proven that the child can be educated. Three or four kids are now spending all day in regular school which is really unheard of."

He is setting up a behavioral laboratory at Letterman General Hospital so that more children can benefit from this apparently successful treatment, which has worked on some children who have been turned down by institutions and deemed hopeless.

Partly to learn more about Mrs. Koehler's class the National Society for Autistic Children is meeting in San Francisco June 25 to 27. The Marin society will present a film and slides of the Larkspur program believed to be the only one of it's kind in the U.S.

Tickets for the drama and opera may be purchased from Clifford Juillerat of Belvedere.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

When Will Students Learn That Violence Is A Greater Wrong?

DEAR HELEN:

Can someone tell me how a generation whose biggest phrase is "love and peace" can justify burning buildings, rioting, shouting four-letter words at speakers, storming college offices and demanding their nonnegotiable rights with raised fists?

And how can barricading a busy freeway, so that hundreds of people are late to work, possibly do anything to stop the war? When they burn down a bank, is this helping the cause of peace?

I wonder if those who begin such riots are really interested in ending the war, or in starting a revolution? And how can otherwise sane students get carried away by the mob to such an extent that they become a part of it?

Heaven knows I'm for world peace and for changes in our educational system and our country, but not by violence.

When will young people learn that they only defeat their cause when their wild actions are worse than the wrongs they are fighting against? — RYAN

DEAR RYAN:

That most of the "love and peace" generation are fairly peaceful dissenters has been proven by scores of non-violent demonstrations, several of the largest staged this spring at Washington, D.C.

But one bad move, magnified by a few firebrands, can turn a crowd into a raging mob. One or two students can throw firebombs that destroy irreplaceable research or property worth thousands of dollars.

And the blame falls on all.

Most of us are for free speech: Dissent brings needed changes, unless it erupts into mob action. Then violence brings reprisals, and the cause is lost. Youth knows this, having seen it happen many times.

It seems to me that young people themselves could do a better job of policing the destructionists.

When the majority realizes it can stop the minority cold by sheer weight of numbers, universities may get back to the business of education again. — H.

For further information, write to the party, Box 6062, Sacramento, California, 95860. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Has this ever occurred to anyone but me?

Campus violence is sometimes attributed to subversive organizations. Certain people say the Communists are masterminding the riots and battles.

But each time there is a college incident it brings us that much closer to electing a completely reactionary government of far-rights.

So isn't it possible that instead of our campus revolutionaries being paid by the Commies, they are in truth paid by the far-far-rightists who know that if you scare people badly enough, they'll swing the pendulum way back to the 1880s — with a total crack-down on everything, including heads? — T.C.

DEAR T.:

Do your initials stand for "Tongue in Cheek?"Or do they? — H.

MR. AND MRS. Orve Van Winkle of Novato stand before one of the many varieties of dog houses he makes and sells. They are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary today. The couple was married on June 12, 1920 in Auburn, Neb.

'Merry-Go-Round' Through 50 Years Of Married Life

"We met on a merry-go-round at a Fourth of July celebration and we've been on a merry-go-round ever since," said Orve Van Winkle as he and his wife reminisced about their 50 years of marriage.

Rip, as he is called by his friends, and Lola Wilson were married in the Methodist Parsonage in Auburn, Neb., 50 years ago today.

They came to California in 1938 during the depression years, and Mr. Van Winkle said, "If I'd had the money, I would have gone back to Nebraska." However, Mrs. Van Winkle says she would not have gone.

During their years of marriage Mr. Van Winkle said about his work, "You name it, and I've done it." He has worked as an auto mechanic, trucker and as a bartender.

As any couple married 50 years, they have had their sad and happy moments.

During World War II their son Floyd was a prisoner of war in Japan for 44 months. Ironically, following his release from the service, he was killed in a car accident in Colorado eight years ago.

They have four other children, who honored them at Pete's Shipwreck Lodge in Novato Saturday night with a buffet dinner.

Their children are Mrs. Arlene Foster of Burlingame, Mrs. Paul Sutton, who is visiting from Odessa, Tex., Mrs. L. G. Balmer of Novato and Lowell Van Winkle of Sonoma.

They have six grandchildren, Mrs. David Giovanolli and Roberta Foster, the children of Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Shirley Parker, Mrs. Gloria Edmiston, and William and Gerald Sutton, the children of Mrs. Sutton. They also have 10 great grandchildren.

The Van Winkles, who both have a fine sense of humor and continually kid one another, said their main pastime now is playing pinochle, almost every night with their friends. "We don't play partners, though," Mrs. Van Winkle said.

A heart condition a few years ago curtailed Mrs. Van Winkle's activities somewhat. She attends Our Lady of Loretto Church, where she became a convert five years ago.

Mr. Van Winkle keeps busy building and selling dog houses.

ON BEING BLACK

Time, Money Used For Funerals Is Better Spent On The Living

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Isn't the coffin beautiful?" whispered the elderly woman.

"Must have cost a fortune," agreed the lady seated next to her.

At least 30 persons were crowded into the small living room that was adorned with elaborate floral sprays. Periodically, trays of sandwiches, pastries and coffee were served.

This was the first wake I had attended in years, and it was unusual only because it was being held in the home of the deceased. Whereas this was standard practice years ago, today such services are generally held in funeral chapels.

As I watched the attention, time and care that were being given to the occasion of this man's death, I couldn't help wondering, if this same time and attention had been given him during his life, would he now be dead at age 30 — the victim of a drug overdose?

THERE WAS Mitch's mother seated next to the coffin. She took off from work to be with him now. How well I remembered childhood days when Mitch was always home alone. His father had split years ago and his Mom couldn't miss a day from her job. (After all, they had to eat, didn't they?) Once Mitch was out of school for 15 days waiting for his Mom to 'get time off' to go back to school with him and straighten out his transgressions against the hallowed-halls-of-learning. But she took a day off today.

This, of course, was not an isolated case of pomp and circumstance for the dead — for black folk have long considered death a monumental occasion. After all, birth, for an historically depressed peopre, was merely the beginning of a long, hard haul through life. And death was the final laying down of that burden. Proportionately few blacks have been among the esoterics who could say and believe that "live is beautiful." For too many, the epitaph has been "life is hell."

Black spirituals have long heralded the event of the "coming to the end of the line"— and many have struggled nobly to be worthy of this grand finale. Being well-versed in the Christian ethic, many blacks are believers in the "hereafter."

BLACK FOLK, of course, are not alone when it comes to wishing to "put away" their loved ones "in style." And there are reportedly several so-called psychological benefits (for the bereaved) from engaging in "Cadillac" funerals.

But, more important, there are the conditions that exist for the black family after the deceased is put away. It would appear that insurance money, now available, and savings could better be spent on the living — food for fatherless children, education and so on.

Albert Grassos, Longtime Marin Residents, Mark 50th Anniversary

Married June 6, 1920, in San Francisco were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grasso. They moved to Marin in 1921 and have lived in the Fairfax-San Anselmo area since.

Mrs. Grasso was president of the Fairfax Women's Club when that town was incorporated in 1931 and she remembers it as a "beautiful, small summertime place." The town has grown, she says, but some of the couple's friends who used to picnic together every Monday on McNear's beach are still living in Fairfax.

Mr. Grasso, who was a truck driver for Shell Oil Co. and later a bartender in Novato, San Anselmo and San Rafael, hauled gasoline to the construction site of the Golden Gate Bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Grasso were the first to walk across the bridge when it opened on May 27, 1937.

"It was terrific. It was beautiful," Mr. Grasso said of the crowds which swarmed over the completed bridge.

Mrs. Grasso was born Dorothy Hallmeyer in Oakland and attended high school in Santa Clara, and Mr. Grasso was born in San Francisco, and he attended high school there.

They have three children, Mrs. John Buttimer of Novato, George Grasso of San Mateo, who has two children, and Russell A. Grasso of Fairfax, who has two sons.

Asked if she had any advice for someone about to get married, Mrs. Grasso said "I wouldn't give them any advice at all, I'd mind my own business."

She and Mr. Grasso plan to "just live." They visit Lake Tahoe yearly and the San Mateo home of their son and daughter-in-law, who hosted a surprise cocktail party on the couple's anniversary.

Warrant On Grand Theft Is Issued

A warrant charging grand theft has been issued by the Marin district attorney's office against the former captain of the guards employed at the Independent-Journal plant in San Rafael, who has been missing since March 27.

Charged with taking $1,431 from the owner of Nor-Cal Guards is Forrest Jerrold Morais, 34, who has also used the name of Jerrold Frank Morais.

In signing a complaint against Morais, Robert Borissoff claimed that he had given Morais a check for $1,431 during March to pay a bill for guard uniforms at a Sacramento store. Although Borissoff said that Morais assured him the bill had been paid, the store owner claimed it had not.

Borissoff said that he last saw Morais on March 26 and that he did not report for work on March 27 but was seen that day in Sacramento.

Borissoff also mentioned in his complaint that the house in Loma Verde which Morais and his wife had rented had been stripped and that neighbors reported seeing an unmarked moving van leave the residence.

It has been rumored that Morais, a tall, dark-haired and skinned man of Portuguese and Negro ancestry, has gone to Brazil with his small blonde wife, who was also an employee of Nor-Cal Guards.

Morais also has been charged with battery against an I-J picket and was set to be tried Aug. 3 in Marin Municipal Court.

Bail on the warrant for his arrest was set at $2,500.

Sonoma State Report Hits Tuition Proposal

A research report released yesterday at Sonoma State College declared that any legislation imposing tuition will "constitute a highly regressive education tax" unless the law waives tuition for low-income college and university students.

Tuition without regard to abiliy to pay "will hit hardest those least able to afford it — the self-supporting adult student," according to the report.

In the report on "Tuition and the Economic Condition of Students" issued by a research seminar conducted by Dr. George McCabe, the typical Sonoma State student was pictured as a self-supporting adult between the ages of 22 and 25 years.

In addition to carrying a full academic load, students work an average of 15 to 20 hours per week at $1.25 to $1.75 per hour. The report said the student is also likely to have borrowed $1,500 to cover education costs.

"If tuition is imposed on state college students, McCabe said, "It will hit hardest those least able to afford it — the self-supporting adult student. Tuition would be an educational tax imposed on one of the lowest income troups in our society — the young adult students earn between $100 and $125 per month."

The self-supporting student, according to the report, would absorb the additional education cost of tuition "by increasing a work load which is already too heavy and by going further into debt."

The minority of students whose education is being paid for by their parents will pay added costs by getting still more assistance from the family, McCabe said.

Compared to the self-supporting students, "fewer parent-supported students will pay for tuition from their own funds. Fewer will pay for tuition by borrowing. Fewer will defer tuition until after graduation. Fewer will drop out for a while to earn money. Fewer will drop out permanently," the report added.

The survey of 442 psychology majors showed that the amount of family income usually determines how much financial assistance students receive.

"For example," according to the survey, "the median income of families totally supporting men students is $18,000. Less affluent families seem to be more willing to support their daughters than they are their sons. The median income of families which pay more than half the expenses of their daughters is $12,000. But the majority of students of both sexes who support themselves come from markedly poorer families."

If legislation enacting tuition is to authorize the waiving of tuition for those who cannot afford it, as has been suggested by Gov. Ronald Reagan, as many as half the students enrolled in the state colleges will be exempted, the report showed.

If legislation does not provide for the waiving of tuition for lower income stduents, it will, in the opinion of McCabe, "constitute a highly regressive education tax which will hit hardest the self-reliant student who is working his way through college."

High Speed Chase Nabs Novato Youth

A 20-year-old Novato youth was booked at Marin County Jail at 4:28 a.m. today on suspicion of reckless driving, resisting arrest, and possession of alcohol while a minor after a chase through west Novato at speeds approaching 70 miles per hour.

Arresting officer Kenneth L. Ankeny reported seeing a sports car with only one headlight and one taillight driven by Robert Doyle Fuller, run a stop sign on Wilson Avenue.

When pursued by the officer, the car turned up Virginia Avenue and raced to Grant Avenue at about 70 m.p.h. with its lights out, Ankeny reported. At Grant Avenue, the car ran another stop sign and continued up Seventh Street before the chase ended at Carmel Drive and Vallejo Street at 3:37 a.m., he said.

Fuller, of 205 San Felipe Way, said his brakes didn't work, according to Ankeny. The officer reported finding a six-pack of beer in the car.

Fuller, who has been arrested several times on suspicion of narcotics or alcohol law violations, is awaiting trial in Superior Court on charges of possessing alcohol as a minor and possession of marijuana stemming from a March 30 arrest.

In November he was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, but pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of felonious assault and was sentenced to a week in jail and one year of summary probation.

He was released today on $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

FAMILY

"Let It Be" - The Beatles opened the doors to one of their rehearsals, this is a documentary film record of the event. Will appeal to Beatle fans.

"Horse in the Grey Flannel Suit" - Disney weaves pleasant characters, genial humor and a touch of romance that surround exciting scenes of superb horsemanship and magnificent horses.

"How the West Was Won" - Story of development of American West, following a family of early settlers and their descendants. Magnificent scenery, exciting action with a host of stars.

"King of Grizzlies" - Disney tells us of the adventurous life of a grizzly bear in the Canadian Rockies, marvelously photographed. Has appeal for whole family.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Anne of the 1000 Days" - Magnificently staged and cast, historical drama of lust and political intrigue which encompasses the courtship, marriage, trial and beheading of Anne Boleyn.

"Battle of Britain" - An exceptional and absorbing account of four terrible but triumphant months in England's history in the summer of 1940. Semi-documentary, superior direction, acting and photography.

"Impossible Years" - A slick farce about a professor of psycology getting a massive dose of those problems for which he had always blamed other parents. His attendant hysteria when he learns his daughter is no longer a virgin is old as time.

"Rider in the Rain" - Parental guidence suggested for this murder mystery that is a battle of wits between a young wife, who kills a stranger who invades her home and rapes her and then disposes of body, and an army Colonel who is searching for the murdered man. (Motion Picture Exhibitor Magazine).

"Sicilian Clan" - Head of Mafia arranges a prison break in order to accomplish one final robbery before retirement. Well acted and photographed. Treatment of sexual material makes film unsuitable for younger members of family, but much less violence than most of this type story.

BORDERLINE

"Alice's Restaurant" - Thought-provoking true story about a commune of hippies in an uncommitted life that is both sad and funny. Son of the language and actions are in very poor taste.

"Goodbye Columbus" - Sophisticated, very frank comedy about a summer love affair of a teen-aged Jewish girl. Her characterful family's behavior and mannerisms are real and humorous. A dispute over the use of contraceptives is very explicit.

"Lady In Cement" - In this tale of violence and crime, dialogue is rough, action brutal. Frank Sinatra is private detective and is much smarter than police - crime treated as comedy.

"Petulia" - Sophisticated comedy about a young couple's life of aimless luxury that is complicated when the wife becomes enamored with older man who is a doctor. Frequent use of flashback technique is sometimes confusing.

"Suppose They Gave a Way and Nobody Came" - Plot relates to no historical war but a slapstick skirmish between the U.S. military and the paramilitary citizenry near an army base in the southwest. It is a battle of computer against computer and the basic question is "What did it all prove?" (Catholic Newsletter)

ADULTS ONLY

"Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" - An irreverent social satire, slick in its trimmings and has a sharp bite in its characters, dialogue and frank appraisal of modern marriage and morals.

"The Losers" - The army recruits a motorcycle gang to rescue a Presidential adviser, a prisoner of the Chinese in Cambodia. Each member of gang has a reason for wanting to be there. Very violent. (Boxoffice Magazine)

"M-A-S-H" - Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Antiwar film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

"What Do You Say to a Naked Lady?" - Allen Funt of Candid Camera extends his debasing Peeping Tom technique to feature length with sex and nudity as the trashy gimmick.

"Women In Love" - Film abounds in art, visual effects and style. D. H. Lawrence's novel written 50 years ago is strongly put forth with very explicit, sensual eroticism and much nudity, both male and female.

New Mexico state engineers indicate their state will need to import 1.5 million acre-feet of water annually by the year 2020 to meet needs.

Narcotics Bust For Hells Angels

OAKLAND (AP) — A top Hells Angels leader was arrested Thursday night and $250,000 in heroin and cocaine was seized in one of the biggest narcotics raids in the city's history.

Arrested with Barger were Susan Marie Gruhlke, 20, who lives at Barger's house, and two other Hells Angels, Donald Howorth, 35, Studio City, and Alfred "Fat Freddie" Gutierrez, 32, who was arrested in a house across the street.

All were booked for investigation of possession of narcotics and dangerous drugs, violation of the federal firearms act and conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws.

Receives Degree

Francis L. Fogarty, 70 Corte Loyola, Greenbrae, was omitted from a list of graduates of the University of Pacific in Stockton published in yesterday's Independent-Journal. Fogarty received a bachelor of arts degree.

Five-Day Symposium On Indians Slated Next Week

Other authorities on Indian life who will take part include Sol Tax, professor of anthropology and a fellow at Stanford University's center for advanced study in behavioral sciences; and Dr. Robert Bergman, pilot and doctor from Window Rock, Arizona, who flies to Indian reservations to work with medicine men.

Moderator will be Kenneth Martin, an Assiniboin Indian, and a lecturer in the native American studies program at the University of California at Davis.

Topics will include "Colonialism and Resistance," "The Long Walk," "Indian Opportunity in the 70s" and "Conflict of Values."

The symposium, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, carries two units of college credit in American civilization.

Grosvenor To Head National Geographic

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Gilbert M. Grosvenor, fifth member of his family to serve with the National Geographic Magazine, has been elected editor of the publication effective Oct. 1.

Grosvenor will succeed Frederick G. Vosburg, who is retiring. Grosvenor's great-great grandfather, Gardiner Greene Hubbard, founded the publication in 1888, and his great grandfather, inventor Alexander Graham Bell, was its second president.

3 Large Signs Coming Down, Larkspur Says

Three large signs advertising the Bon Air Apartments will be removed by the Schultz Building Co., the Greenbrae Property Owners Association was told last night.

Director Howard M. Oser told the board that the city of Larkspur had assured the signs, long the subject of residents' complaints, are coming down, reported Secretary Beth Reilly.

One sign is on Via La Cumbre, visible from Highway 101, and the other two are in front of the apartments on Via Casitas.

The board named Clyde R. Widnes to represent the association in planning for a Larkspur town meeting this fall.

A resolution of appreciation was ordered sent to Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni for getting a pedestrian guard rail installed along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The rail is now under construction.

Treating Autism In Marin

tends to be withdrawn," said Dr. Earnest Giraldi, a Presidio doctor who has been working with Mrs. Koehler's class for almost a year.

"It's a complete refusal to interact with other human beings. An autistic child spends his time with an object like a toy or a piece of furniture instead of reacting to people. He wants to maintain the same environment and becomes disturbed if objects or people are not in their usual place. He lives in another world," the doctor explained.

"This (multistimuli approach) is working. We've proven that the child can be educated. Three or four kids are now spending all day in regular school which is really unheard of."

He is setting up a behavioral laboratory at Letterman General Hospital so that more children can benefit from this apparently successful treatment, which has worked on some children who have been turned down by institutions and deemed hopeless.

Partly to learn more about Mrs. Koehler's class the National Society for Autistic Children is meeting in San Francisco June 25 to 27. The Marin society will present a film and slides of the Larkspur program believed to be the only one of it's kind in the U.S.

Tickets for the drama and opera may be purchased from Clifford Juillerat of Belvedere.

FIRST GRADUATES OF SAN MARIN HIGH SCHOOL

Barbecue Almost Suffocates Family

A family of five at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary narrowly escaped death Wednesday when a portable barbecue was brought into their apartment before the coals were extinguished, it was reported today.

Ila Zeman, whose husband, Gregory, is a student at the seminary, told the Independent-Journal the family had used the new barbecue Tuesday evening. To keep it from rusting, she wheeled it into the living room of their apartment on the seminary campus about midnight.

At 2:30 a.m., she was awakened by her 16-year-old son Russell, who told her that Zeman was on the floor of the living room, where he had been studying, and couldn't get up.

Within minutes, Russell and Stephanie, 12, had passed out, and Rene, 14, was on the bedroom floor, also unable to get up.

Mrs. Zeman began opening windows and called a doctor. Zeman and the children had suffered carbon monoxide poisoning. Mrs. Zeman was unaffected because she had had the bedroom door closed.

Wildlife Habitat Is Blessed: $2,000 Gift

At commencement last night, Class President Joseph Enzensperger handed the $2,000 check, raised from class dues, bake sales and car washing, to Douglas P. Ferguson of Sausalito, Marin chairman of the Nature Conservancy, a nationwide foundation which initiated the purchase of the 330-acre bird sanctuary.

Nature Conservancy launched the purchase campaign last fall with a down payment of $27,000 toward the $300,000 price.

Enzensperger said class members listed suggestions on how to spend their money, then voted on the four mentioned most often.

"We didn't want to make the usual stereotyped gift," Enzensperger said. "Tubbs Island is a living thing, and all my classmates will be able to say that they helped make this island stay alive."

The gift is the largest ever presented by a Redwood senior class.

Tubbs Island is one of San Francisco Bay's few remaining wintering areas for canvasback ducks, and is populated with more than 60 other bird species, including egrets, herons, and the rare California clapper rail.

A $1,000 bronze verdigris figurine was stolen between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. Thursday from the Marin Medical Group courtyard, 11 Professional Parkway, San Rafael police reported today.

The figurine is a wingless version of a caduceus, the winged staff of Mercury, symbol of the medical profession.

Valley Ford Pot Suspect In Court

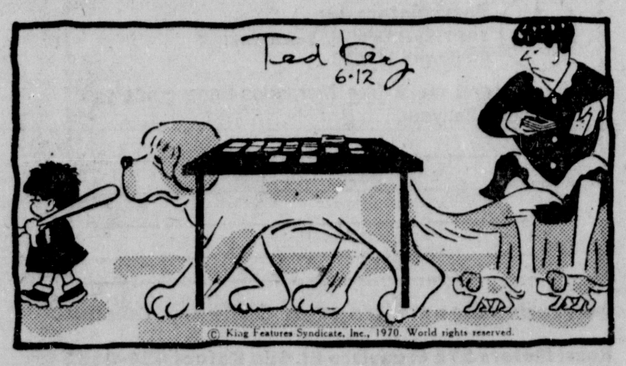
Michael Lee McCoy, 25, of Valley Ford, who told the officers who arrested him Wednesday they were "the nicest cops I've ever met," was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of growing and possessing marijuana.

His companion, arrested at the same time, Joel Richard Duckett, also 25, was freed yesterday, however, because of lack of evidence.

McCoy reportedly posed for officers in his patch of 400 pot plants at his rural home and then willingly pulled up all the plants.

He was to return to court today to enter pleas to the charges.

HAZEL



Motorcycle Crash Hurts Prove Fatal

John Allan May, of 376 Sunset Way, died of a head injury at 1 a.m., according to coroner's investigator Keith Craig.

Mill Valley police said May was riding his motorcycle south on Camino Alto at 12:35 p.m. Wednesday when a car driven by Lucie B. Mellor, 38, of 241 Solano Street, San Rafael, made a left turn in front of him at Sycamore Avenue.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

May's death brings to 17 the number of persons killed on Marin County highways this year, the same as at this time last year.

Educators To Discuss Tax Proposal

Marin school superintendents will meet at 10 a.m. Monday to discuss the possible effects on Marin schools of Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax overhaul plan.

Anthony G. Bacich, superintendent of Kentfield School District and president of the Association of Marin School Administrators, said today he called the meeting on learning that the tax plan would cost all Marin school districts sizeable amounts of money. The revenue loss in Kentfield district would be approximately $50,000, he said.

The tax bill, Assembly Bill 1000, authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, would freeze school spending at current operating levels, allowing increases only for higher costs of supplies and salaries or increased enrollment. Tax rate increases would require a vote in the district.

Bacich said the plan would knock out all district override taxes, such as those levied for the extra cost of seventh and eighth grade programs and paying teachers' fringe benefits.

The plan was attacked by educators in a hearing Wednesday before the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee. Another hearing is scheduled for June 24.

The superintendents will meet in the Marin County Schools Office.

Directors Favor Three Youth Jobs

The Richardson Bay Sanitary District board agreed last night to hire three high school youths for summer work in the district, according to president Douglas De La Fountaine.

The board authorized plant operator Max H. Graefe to hire the youths at $1.75 an hour for a minimum of six weeks. They will perform minor maintenance tasks such as weeding and painting, De La Fontaine said.

The next meeting was set for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Trestle Glen treatment plant, 500 Tiburon Boulevard.

Minor Injuries As Driver Blacks Out

A San Francisco man and his wife were treated for minor cuts and released at Marin General Hospital after 2 one-car accident in San Rafael yesterday.

Police reported that Henry Derruau Jr., 73, blacked out at the wheel and struck a utility pole in front of 22 Woodland Avenue at 4:44 p.m.

Warrant On Grand Theft Is Issued

A warrant charging grand theft has been issued by the Marin district attorney's office against the former captain of the guards employed at the Independent-Journal plant in San Rafael, who has been missing since March 27.

Charged with taking $1,431 from the owner of Nor-Cal Guards is Forrest Jerrold Morais, 34, who has also used the name of Jerrold Frank Morais.

In signing a complaint against Morais, Robert Borissoff claimed that he had given Morais a check for $1,431 during March to pay a bill for guard uniforms at a Sacramento store. Although Borissoff said that Morais assured him the bill had been paid, the store owner claimed it had not.

Borissoff said that he last saw Morais on March 26 and that he did not report for work on March 27 but was seen that day in Sacramento.

Borissoff also mentioned in his complaint that the house in Loma Verde which Morais and his wife had rented had been stripped and that neighbors reported seeing an unmarked moving van leave the residence.

It has been rumored that Morais, a tall, dark-haired and skinned man of Portuguese and Negro ancestry, has gone to Brazil with his small blonde wife, who was also an employee of Nor-Cal Guards.

Morais also has been charged with battery against an I-J picket and was set to be tried Aug. 3 in Marin Municipal Court.

Bail on the warrant for his arrest was set at $2,500.

Sonoma State Report Hits Tuition Proposal

A research report released yesterday at Sonoma State College declared that any legislation imposing tuition will "constitute a highly regressive education tax" unless the law waives tuition for low-income college and university students.

Tuition without regard to ability to pay "will hit hardest those least able to afford it — the self-supporting adult student," according to the report.

In the report on "Tuition and the Economic Condition of Students" issued by a research seminar conducted by Dr. George McCabe, the typical Sonoma State student was pictured as a self-supporting adult between the ages of 22 and 25 years.

In addition to carrying a full academic load, students work an average of 15 to 20 hours per week at $1.25 to $1.75 per hour. The report said the student is also likely to have borrowed $1,500 to cover education costs.

"If tuition is imposed on state college students, McCabe said, "It will hit hardest those least able to afford it — the self-supporting adult student. Tuition would be an educational tax imposed on one of the lowest income troups in our society — the young adult students earn between $100 and $125 per month."

The self-supporting student, according to the report, would absorb the additional education cost of tuition "by increasing a work load which is already too heavy and by going further into debt."

The minority of students whose education is being paid for by their parents will pay added costs by getting still more assistance from the family, McCabe said.

Compared to the self-supporting students, "fewer parent-supported students will pay for tuition from their own funds. Fewer will pay for tuition by borrowing. Fewer will defer tuition until after graduation. Fewer will drop out for a while to earn money. Fewer will drop out permanently," the report added.

The survey of 442 psychology majors showed that the amount of family income usually determines how much financial assistance students receive.

"For example," according to the survey, "the median income of families totally supporting men students is $18,000. Less affluent families seem to be more willing to support their daughters than they are their sons. The median income of families which pay more than half the expenses of their daughters is $12,000. But the majority of students of both sexes who support themselves come from markedly poorer families."

If legislation enacting tuition is to authorize the waiving of tuition for those who cannot afford it, as has been suggested by Gov. Ronald Reagan, as many as half the students enrolled in the state colleges will be exempted, the report showed.

If legislation does not provide for the waiving of tuition for lower income stduents, it will, in the opinion of McCabe, "constitute a highly regressive education tax which will hit hardest the self-reliant student who is working his way through college."

High Speed Chase Nabs Novato Youth

A 20-year-old Novato youth was booked at Marin County Jail at 4:28 a.m. today on suspicion of reckless driving, resisting arrest, and possession of alcohol while a minor after a chase through west Novato at speeds approaching 70 miles per hour.

Arresting officer Kenneth L. Ankeny reported seeing a sports car with only one headlight and one taillight driven by Robert Doyle Fuller, run a stop sign on Wilson Avenue.

When pursued by the officer, the car turned up Virginia Avenue and raced to Grant Avenue at about 70 m.p.h. with its lights out, Ankeny reported. At Grant Avenue, the car ran another stop sign and continued up Seventh Street before the chase ended at Carmel Drive and Vallejo Street at 3:37 a.m., he said.

Fuller, of 205 San Felipe Way, said his brakes didn't work, according to Ankeny. The officer reported finding a six-pack of beer in the car.

Fuller, who has been arrested several times on suspicion of narcotics or alcohol law violations, is awaiting trial in Superior Court on charges of possessing alcohol as a minor and possession of marijuana stemming from a March 30 arrest.

In November he was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, but pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of felonious assault and was sentenced to a week in jail and one year of summary probation.

He was released today on $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

FAMILY

"Let It Be" - The Beatles opened the doors to one of their rehearsals, this is a documentary film record of the event. Will appeal to Beatle fans.

"Horse in the Grey Flannel Suit" - Disney weaves pleasant characters, genial humor and a touch of romance that surround exciting scenes of superb horsemanship and magnificent horses.

"How the West Was Won" - Story of development of American West, following a family of early settlers and their descendants. Magnificent scenery, exciting action with a host of stars.

"King of Grizzlies" - Disney tells us of the adventurous life of a grizzly bear in the Canadian Rockies, marvelously photographed. Has appeal for whole family.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Anne of the 1000 Days" - Magnificently staged and cast, historical drama of lust and political intrigue which encompasses the courtship, marriage, trial and beheading of Anne Boleyn.

"Battle of Britain" - An exceptional and absorbing account of four terrible but triumphant months in England's history in the summer of 1940. Semi-documentary, superior direction, acting and photography.

"Impossible Years" - A slick farce about a professor of psycology getting a massive dose of those problems for which he had always blamed other parents. His attendant hysteria when he learns his daughter is no longer a virgin is old as time.

"Rider in the Rain" - Parental guidence suggested for this murder mystery that is a battle of wits between a young wife, who kills a stranger who invades her home and rapes her and then disposes of body, and an army Colonel who is searching for the murdered man. (Motion Picture Exhibitor Magazine).

"Sicilian Clan" - Head of Mafia arranges a prison break in order to accomplish one final robbery before retirement. Well acted and photographed. Treatment of sexual material makes film unsuitable for younger members of family, but much less violence than most of this type story.

BORDERLINE

"Alice's Restaurant" - Thought-provoking true story about a commune of hippies in an uncommitted life that is both sad and funny. Son of the language and actions are in very poor taste.

"Goodbye Columbus" - Sophisticated, very frank comedy about a summer love affair of a teen-aged Jewish girl. Her characterful family's behavior and mannerisms are real and humorous. A dispute over the use of contraceptives is very explicit.

"Lady In Cement" - In this tale of violence and crime, dialogue is rough, action brutal. Frank Sinatra is private detective and is much smarter than police - crime treated as comedy.

"Petulia" - Sophisticated comedy about a young couple's life of aimless luxury that is complicated when the wife becomes enamored with older man who is a doctor. Frequent use of flashback technique is sometimes confusing.

"Suppose They Gave a Way and Nobody Came" - Plot relates to no historical war but a slapstick skirmish between the U.S. military and the paramilitary citizenry near an army base in the southwest. It is a battle of computer against computer and the basic question is "What did it all prove?" (Catholic Newsletter)

ADULTS ONLY

"Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" - An irreverent social satire, slick in its trimmings and has a sharp bite in its characters, dialogue and frank appraisal of modern marriage and morals.

"The Losers" - The army recruits a motorcycle gang to rescue a Presidential adviser, a prisoner of the Chinese in Cambodia. Each member of gang has a reason for wanting to be there. Very violent. (Boxoffice Magazine)

"M-A-S-H" - Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Antiwar film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

"What Do You Say to a Naked Lady?" - Allen Funt of Candid Camera extends his debasing Peeping Tom technique to feature length with sex and nudity as the trashy gimmick.

"Women In Love" - Film abounds in art, visual effects and style. D. H. Lawrence's novel written 50 years ago is strongly put forth with very explicit, sensual eroticism and much nudity, both male and female.

New Mexico state engineers indicate their state will need to import 1.5 million acre-feet of water annually by the year 2020 to meet needs.

Narcotics Bust For Hells Angels

OAKLAND (AP) — A top Hells Angels leader was arrested Thursday night and $250,000 in heroin and cocaine was seized in one of the biggest narcotics raids in the city's history.

After a year of surveillance, 23 police searched the ranch-style home of Ralph Hubert "Sonny" Barger, president of the Oakland Hells Angels, one of the biggest chapters of the nationwide motorcycle club.

Arrested with Barger were Susan Marie Gruhlke, 20, who lives at Barger's house, and two other Hells Angels, Donald Howorth, 35, Studio City, and Alfred "Fat Freddie" Gutierrez, 32, who was arrested in a house across the street.

All were booked for investigation of possession of narcotics and dangerous drugs, violation of the federal firearms act and conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws.

Grosvenor To Head National Geographic

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Gilbert M. Grosvenor, fifth member of his family to serve with the National Geographic Magazine, has been elected editor of the publication effective Oct. 1.

Grosvenor will succeed Frederick G. Vosburg, who is retiring. Grosvenor's great-great grandfather, Gardiner Greene Hubbard, founded the publication in 1888, and his great grandfather, inventor Alexander Graham Bell, was its second president.

3 Large Signs Coming Down, Larkspur Says

Three large signs advertising the Bon Air Apartments will be removed by the Schultz Building Co., the Greenbrae Property Owners Association was told last night.

Director Howard M. Oser told the board that the city of Larkspur had assured the signs, long the subject of residents' complaints, are coming down, reported Secretary Beth Reilly.

One sign is on Via La Cumbre, visible from Highway 101, and the other two are in front of the apartments on Via Casitas.

The board named Clyde R. Widnes to represent the association in planning for a Larkspur town meeting this fall.

A resolution of appreciation was ordered sent to Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni for getting a pedestrian guard rail installed along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The rail is now under construction.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Ronson Stock Likely To Stay Depressed

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought Ronson at 21⅛ a share. Should I hang on or sell? — D.M.

A. Despite diversification moves into new product areas in 1969, Ronson was unable to reach its projected sales goal of $102 million for the year. A reshaping of marketing territories, designed to increase the number of distribution channels and thereby boost RON's selling potential, resulted in undermanned districts and lost sales. A 48 cents-a-share deficit was rung up for the fourth quarter. Also contributing to this sharp decline were extraordinary year-end write-offs and adjustments at the domestic appliance division.

An improvement was seen in the first quarter of 1970 with net reported at 10 cents per share on sales of $20.6 million. However, this was still well below first-quarter 1969 results. Pressures working against Ronson are expected to continue near term, but the introduction of new appliances and aggressive marketing of the firm's big ticket item, Foodmatic, should have a positive impact on sales during 1971. Until new products generate substantial earnings gains, RON shares are likely to remain depressed.

Q. Please explain the relationship between ecology and pollution. What companies are involved in the field of ecology? — J.Y.

A. Your evident confusion is not surprising. Ecology, which is a broader term than pollution, is the study of the relationships of one life form to another and the contribution of each to the natural elements which sustain human life. Pollution of these elements therefore threatens human life. If such pollution, being recognized, is neither controlled nor eradicated, the estimated damage to society will be appallling.

Because the social problems of ecological imbalance are so all-encompassing, ecology as a study is rightfully the function of government under the Department of the Interior. There are, however, numerous firms engaged in various aspects of pollution abatement, many of which have been discussed here in the past.

Stock Prices Dip Again; Sales Gain

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished lower today for the fourth consecutive session, although the Dow Jones Industrial Average made a smart recovery in the final hour.

Turnover was relatively light.

The UPI Marketwide Indicator showed a loss of 0.94 per cent on 1,497 issues traded. Of these, 866 retreated, 358 advanced.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 selected blue chips was off 0.21 at 684.21. It had been down more than 6 points at the halfway mark.

Turnover amounted to around 8,750,000 shares, up from 7,770,000 shares Thursday.

The market's action generally was described as a further consolidation of last month's sharp advance. But some analysts attributed part of the hesitancy to concern over events in Jordan and normal pre-weekend caution.

Point-sized losses cropped up most often in the electronics. IBM closed off 1-4 at 259. Honeywell was down 2 1-8 in late trading. Most other major stock groups surrendered fractions, although declines of a point or so were noted in a few instances.

Wells Fargo See Slump Over By '71

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Wells Fargo Bank predicted yesterday in its monthly business review that the current business slowdown will be shortlived, perhaps lasting only until the end of the year.

"The modest degree of slowing that has occurred so far indicates that the present decline will be mild when compared with postwar recessions, which also were relatively brief and hardly severe."

The bank found encouragement in the continued high level of consumer spending, the bottoming out in residential construction, and an end to the sharp drop in sales of autos and household durables.

FIRST GRADUATES OF SAN MARIN HIGH SCHOOL

Barbecue Almost Suffocates Family

A family of five at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary narrowly escaped death Wednesday when a portable barbecue was brought into their apartment before the coals were extinguished, it was reported today.

Ila Zeman, whose husband, Gregory, is a student at the seminary, told the Independent-Journal the family had used the new barbecue Tuesday evening. To keep it from rusting, she wheeled it into the living room of their apartment on the seminary campus about midnight.

At 2:30 a.m., she was awakened by her 16-year-old son Russell, who told her that Zeman was on the floor of the living room, where he had been studying, and couldn't get up.

Within minutes, Russell and Stephanie, 12, had passed out, and Rene, 14, was on the bedroom floor, also unable to get up.

Mrs. Zeman began opening windows and called a doctor. Zeman and the children had suffered carbon monoxide poisoning. Mrs. Zeman was unaffected because she had had the bedroom door closed.

Wildlife Habitat Is Blessed: $2,000 Gift

At commencement last night, Class President Joseph Enzensperger handed the $2,000 check, raised from class dues, bake sales and car washing, to Douglas P. Ferguson of Sausalito, Marin chairman of the Nature Conservancy, a nationwide foundation which initiated the purchase of the 330-acre bird sanctuary.

Nature Conservancy launched the purchase campaign last fall with a down payment of $27,000 toward the $300,000 price.

Enzensperger said class members listed suggestions on how to spend their money, then voted on the four mentioned most often.

"We didn't want to make the usual stereotyped gift," Enzensperger said. "Tubbs Island is a living thing, and all my classmates will be able to say that they helped make this island stay alive."

The gift is the largest ever presented by a Redwood senior class.

Tubbs Island is one of San Francisco Bay's few remaining wintering areas for canvasback ducks, and is populated with more than 60 other bird species, including egrets, herons, and the rare California clapper rail.

Gallinas Panel Sets Budget At $27,500

A $27,500 budget for 1970-71, the same as this year's budget, was unanimously approved last night by the Gallinas Village Community Services District board.

According to Marguerite F. Clark, secretary, Gloria Darke of Mill Valley has been hired as recreation director for two months at a salary of $600 a month, and Thomas Hackerson fo Sonoma, a student at Sacramento State College, as head of outdoor activities for the summer at $100 a week.

The board also announced an eight-week summer program would begin June 20 with a kickoff from 10 a.m. to noon at Pueblo Park, Mrs. Clark said. Games and races will be held with prizes going to the winners.

Registration for the program will be next Friday from 1 to 4 p.m. at the center.

The board will hold its next meeting July 9 at 8 p.m. in the recreation center.

$1,000 Bronze Figurine Stolen

A $1,000 bronze verdigris figurine was stolen between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. Thursday from the Marin Medical Group courtyard, 11 Professional Parkway, San Rafael police reported today.

The six-foot figurine of two snakes entwined around a staff was removed from a wooden signpost by cutting two mounting bolts with a bolt cutter.

Motorcycle Accident Hurts Novato Woman

A 24-year-old Novato woman was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a fractured right collarbone suffered in a motorcycle accident, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Grace P. Halloran, of 1253 Yukon Way, was thrown from her vehicle after the front wheel struck a small ditch while she was riding on the Gallagher Brothers Ranch near Nicasio at 8:20 p.m., officers said.

His retirement ends more than 29 years' service with the FBI. Norton has been resident agent in Marin for 17 years, previously working as special agent in Illinois and San Francisco.

Valley Ford Pot Suspect In Court

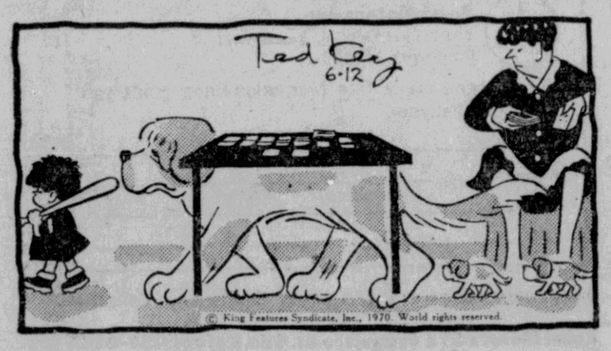
Michael Lee McCoy, 25, of Valley Ford, who told the officers who arrested him Wednesday they were "the nicest cops I've ever met," was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of growing and possessing marijuana.

His companion, arrested at the same time, Joel Richard Duckett, also 25, was freed yesterday, however, because of lack of evidence.

McCoy reportedly posed for officers in his patch of 400 pot plants at his rural home and then willingly pulled up all the plants.

He was to return to court today to enter pleas to the charges.

HAZEL



Motorcycle Crash Hurts Prove Fatal

John Allan May, of 376 Sunset Way, died of a head injury at 1 a.m., according to coroner's investigator Keith Craig.

Mill Valley police said May was riding his motorcycle south on Camino Alto at 12:35 p.m. Wednesday when a car driven by Lucie B. Mellor, 38, of 241 Solano Street, San Rafael, made a left turn in front of him at Sycamore Avenue.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

May's death brings to 17 the number of persons killed on Marin County highways this year, the same as at this time last year.

Educators To Discuss Tax Proposal

Marin school superintendents will meet at 10 a.m. Monday to discuss the possible effects on Marin schools of Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax overhaul plan.

Anthony G. Bacich, superintendent of Kentfield School District and president of the Association of Marin School Administrators, said today he called the meeting on learning that the tax plan would cost all Marin school districts sizeable amounts of money. The revenue loss in Kentfield district would be approximately $50,000, he said.

The tax bill, Assembly Bill 1000, authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, would freeze school spending at current operating levels, allowing increases only for higher costs of supplies and salaries or increased enrollment. Tax rate increases would require a vote in the district.

Bacich said the plan would knock out all district override taxes, such as those levied for the extra cost of seventh and eighth grade programs and paying teachers' fringe benefits.

The plan was attacked by educators in a hearing Wednesday before the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee. Another hearing is scheduled for June 24.

The superintendents will meet in the Marin County Schools Office.

Directors Favor Three Youth Jobs

The Richardson Bay Sanitary District board agreed last night to hire three high school youths for summer work in the district, according to president Douglas De La Fountaine.

The board authorized plant operator Max H. Graefe to hire the youths at $1.75 an hour for a minimum of six weeks. They will perform minor maintenance tasks such as weeding and painting, De La Fontaine said.

The next meeting was set for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Trestle Glen treatment plant, 500 Tiburon Boulevard.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Ronson Stock Likely To Stay Depressed

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought Ronson at 21⅛ a share. Should I hang on or sell? — D.M.

A. Despite diversification moves into new product areas in 1969, Ronson was unable to reach its projected sales goal of $102 million for the year. A reshaping of marketing territories, designed to increase the number of distribution channels and thereby boost RON's selling potential, resulted in undermanned districts and lost sales. A 48 cents-a-share deficit was rung up for the fourth quarter. Also contributing to this sharp decline were extraordinary year-end write-offs and adjustments at the domestic appliance division.

An improvement was seen in the first quarter of 1970 with net reported at 10 cents per share on sales of $20.6 million. However, this was still well below first-quarter 1969 results. Pressures working against Ronson are expected to continue near term, but the introduction of new appliances and aggressive marketing of the firm's big ticket item, Foodmatic, should have a positive impact on sales during 1971. Until new products generate substantial earnings gains, RON shares are likely to remain depressed.

Q. Please explain the relationship between ecology and pollution. What companies are involved in the field of ecology? — J.Y.

A. Your evident confusion is not surprising. Ecology, which is a broader term than pollution, is the study of the relationships of one life form to another and the contribution of each to the natural elements which sustain human life. Pollution of these elements therefore threatens human life. If such pollution, being recognized, is neither controlled nor eradicated, the estimated damage to society will be appalling.

Because the social problems of ecological imbalance are so all-encompassing, ecology as a study is rightfully the function of government under the Department of the Interior. There are, however, numerous firms engaged in various aspects of pollution abatement, many of which have been discussed here in the past.

NEW YORK (UPI) —Hair coloring now is a more than $250 million annual business and milady can presently choose from approximately 120 subtly different blonde shades alone, says the Clairol Blondes Information Bureau.

Stock Prices Dip Again; Sales Gain

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished lower today for the fourth consecutive session, although the Dow Jones Industrial Average made a smart recovery in the final hour.

Turnover was relatively light.

The UPI Marketwide Indicator showed a loss of 0.94 per cent on 1,497 issues traded. Of these, 866 retreated, 358 advanced.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 selected blue chips was off 0.21 at 684.21. It had been down more than 6 points at the halfway mark.

Turnover amounted to around 8,750,000 shares, up from 7,770,000 shares Thursday.

The market's action generally was described as a further consolidation of last month's sharp advance. But some analysts attributed part of the hesitancy to concern over events in Jordan and normal pre-weekend caution.

Point-sized losses cropped up most often in the electronics. IBM closed off 1-4 at 259. Honeywell was down 2 1-8 in late trading. Most other major stock groups surrendered fractions, although declines of a point or so were noted in a few instances.

Wells Fargo See Slump Over By '71

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Wells Fargo Bank predicted yesterday in its monthly business review that the current business slowdown will be shortlived, perhaps lasting only until the end of the year.

"The modest degree of slowing that has occurred so far indicates that the present decline will be mild when compared with postwar recessions, which also were relatively brief and hardly severe."

The bank found encouragement in the continued high level of consumer spending, the bottoming out in residential construction, and an end to the sharp drop in sales of autos and household durables.

ONLY MAN IN HIS CLASS WHO HAS ONE

Seventeen-year-old Darlene P. Balzan of 1201 Grand Avenue, wasn't one to let the graduation of her friend, Christopher Blanc Coyne, from San Rafael High School go unheralded. So she and Christopher's brother, Michael, prepared a surprise, a large red and white sign on her front lawn. Unsuspecting Christopher of 360 Summit Avenue, said, "It cracked me up," and it also brought smiles to passing motorists. The sign went up yesterday and will come down after graduation tonight.

Muskie, The Touted Fox, Back At Home

A young San Anselmo television personality who ran away from home about a month ago — possibly miffed at being denied a movie role — was returned Wednesday after a harrowing experience with gun-toting youngsters.

The runaway, known as Muskie, was not the typical youngster who throws a knapsack over his shoulder and stomps out of the house in pique. He is a fox.

Muskie has appeared on television with Captain San Francisco on Channel 44 and on Channle 2's "Dialing for Dollars." However, his budding career suffered a reversal when his owner Donald McCuaig Jr. of San Anselmo refused him a role in a Walt Disney film three months ago. He was afraid his pet would be mistreated.

Muskie's subsequent departure was his only comment, but he must have had a few oaths for the gunmen. One of them shot him in a paw while he was romping in an Upper Lucas Valley field Monday.

A farmer who saw the star on his land must not watch "Captain San Francisco" or Dialing for Dollars" because he sicced three boys on the fox, according to Mrs. Kirk Beales of 11 Mount Burny Court, who took the rover in.

He was returned to his 1417 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard home after his owner and friends saw his picture in the Independent-Journal Wednesday.

Although he was well cared for at the Beales' home after he was shot, McCuaig hopes he will stay home from now on.

The last time he strayed, a car ran over him, breaking both his hind legs and a hip.

Sisters Held In Burglary Cases

Two teen-age girls from San Pablo were arrested in Petaluma yesterday on suspicion of burglary and receiving stolen property.

Arrested were Beverly Diana Watters, 18, and her sister, Robin Marie Watters, 14.

Police said they stopped the girls' car for speeding on Petaluma Boulevard South and found a metal box that had been reported stolen yesterday from the home of Josephine Lane, 1787 Spring Hill Road, Petaluma.

The stolen box contained $74 in cash and personal papers. Police said they also found money and watches in the car that had been reported stolen in San Pablo.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Marijuana Legalization Would Add To Grief Of Booze, Smokes

Those who want to legalize marijuana claim the weed is no more harmful than alcohol and tobacco. Perhaps this is true, but two wrongs do not make a right.

At present, we are having enough trouble with alcohol and tobacco, and it would be a serious mistake to add pot to the list.

Less than 100 years ago, many prominent people said the same thing about opium. One wrote in the London Times "Pro-opiumists maintain that opium smoking is no worse than gin or whisky drinking."

Another described that habit "as harmless as twiddling your thumbs." Time disproved these theories.

MARIJUANA IS NOT a narcotic, although it is so classified for legal purposes. It is an hallucinogen that produces a feelinf of euphoria, exaltation, and a dreamy sensation associated with a free flow of ideas. The drug has no medical value. It produces a strong psychic dependence but not a physical dependence.

Once the amount needed to achieve the desired results is established, the dose need not be increased (tolerance) as in physical dependence. The drug can be sniffed or taken orally, but the effects occur most quickly when it is smoked.

The feeling that follows is roughly comparable to having a couple of drinks. At a pot party, the user is talkative and laughs easily; if he takes the drug when alone, he becomes drowsy and quiet.

The user may feel capable of extraordinary physical and mental feats which he seldom performs because he does not want to disrupt the "way out" feeling.

But marijuana is not as innocuous as many people have been led to believe. The ability to drive, for example, may be seriously impaired. The psychic dependence may lead to self-neglect, lethargy, and loss of ambition.

THE MOST SERIOUS objection to marijuana is that it may precipitate psychotic episodes with hallucinations. In a recent report, three people were admitted to a mental institution as a result of marijuana. A California study showed that 11 per cent of students smoked pot. But the majority of these young adults had only used it once or twice.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

INTRACTABLE FLU

C. C. writes: Can chronic influenza be cured?

REPLY

This depends upon what you mean by chronic flu. I assume you refer to an attack of flu that fails to subside. In such instances, a secondary infection or a complication usually exists. For example, infection may spread to the sinuses or the kidneys. Bouts of infiuenza often are followed by marked fatigue and injections of vitamin B or B12 may have a tonic effect. Now and then nervousness prolongs recovery.

SWEET TOOTH

W. T. writes: My elderly mother puts sugar in and on everything, including potatoes. She doesn't care much for meat or fish. Do you think I should let her continue to eat this way?

REPLY

Yes. There is no need for concern if she has been examined by the family doctor and is in good health. If she is not getting all the basic foods, a vitamin-mineral supplement is in order.

DELINQUENT TAX NOTICE
AFFIDAVIT OF INTENT TO SELL REAL PROPERTY TO THE STATE

STANLEY J. FONTEZ, Tax Collector of the County of Marin, State of California, being first duly sworn upon oath, deposes and says:

That notice is hereby given that unless the total amount due for taxes, assessments and other charges levied in the year 1969 for the fiscal year 1969-70 on any property as shown on the secured roll in my custody, is paid before 5:00 o'clock P.M. June 30, 1970, the real property on which such amounts are a lien (except real property previously sold to the state and not redeemed) will, by operation of law, be sold to the State of California at such time in the Office of the Tax Collector at the Civic Center, City of San Rafael, County of Marin.

Real property sold to the State may be redeemed by payment of all unpaid taxes and assessments together with such additional penalties and fees as prescribed by law, or may be redeemed under an installment plan of redemption.

Unless sooner redeemed or an installment plan of redemption is initiated and maintained thereon, real property sold to the State for delinquent taxes will be subsequently deeded to the State at the time prescribed by law. Thereafter, such real property deeded to the State may be sold at public auction or otherwise conveyed unless redeemed.

A DETAILED LIST OF ALL REAL PROPERTY WHICH IS SOLD TO THE STATE PURSUANT TO THIS NOTICE WILL BE PUBLISHED ON OR BEFORE SEPTEMBER 8, 1970, UNLESS SUCH PROPERTY IS SOONER REDEEMED.

All information concerning redemption, or the initiation of an installment plan of redemption of tax-sold property will, upon request, be furnished by Stanley J. Fontez, Tax Collector and Redemption Officer, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Parcel Numbering System Explanation:

The Assessor's map parcel number when used to describe property in this list, refers to the assessor's map book, the map page or block number in the book and the individual parcel number on the map page or within the block. A parcel number as for example '3-36-9' would mean Book 3 of the Assessor's Maps, Map Page 36, and Parcel 9 on that map. A parcel number as for example, '3-363-5' would mean Book 3 of the Assessor's Maps, Block 363 (Map 36, Block 3) and Parcel 5 within that block. The maps referred to are available for inspection in the office of the assessor.

The properties to be deeded and the subject of this notice are situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Hearing Is Continued To July

A preliminary hearing for three International Typographical Union members charged with conspiring to damage property of Independent-Journal advertisers yesterday was postponed in Marin Municipal Court to July 7 at 9 a.m.

The continuance was granted by Judge Peter Allen Smith when Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said that some of his witnesses were not available yesterday.

It was reported that the attorney for the defendants, Robert D. Carrow of Novato, would not be able to appear again until the July date.

The three men, Dennis Joseph Crowley, 41, of San Jose; James Robert Brucato, 31, of Santa Rosa, and Grant William Anders, 30, of Pleasant Hill, were arrested early the morning of June 3 near the Strawberry Shopping Center.

They are charged with conspiring to break windows of six San Rafael stores and three Novato businesses belonging to merchants who refused to discontinue advertising in the I-J.

They were the first persons arrested in connection with such window-smashing since the San Francisco Typographical Union 21 went on strike against the I-J in January. About 40 businesses have been vandalized.

Fairfax Artist's Birds Displayed

Sixteen ceramic birds and four linoleum block rints of birds are on display at the Fairfax branch of Marin County Library at 47 Broadway, Fairfax.

Branch Librarian Emily Shortell announced that the display, all the work of Mrs. John L. Rockwell of Fairfax, will continue through June 30.

A graduate of Oberlin College in Ohio, Mrs. Rockwell studied ceramics for several years with Edward Cadogan at College of Marin. She has lived in Fairfax 25 years.

TV REVIEW

No Longer Are They Uptight

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A cynic once wrote that all good ideas go to television when they die.

Well, Hollywood's movie star system is dead. And now it is moving over to video.

It's well known by now that such headliners as Henry Fonda, Glenn Ford, Tony Curtis, Shirley MacLaine and James Garner are going to do regular network series within the next year or two.

And James Stewart is the latest big catch, signing to do a weekly half-hour situation comedy on NBC-TV the season after next — with his role reported to be that of a college professor.

The question in all these signings, so far as the public is concerned, is: Why are movie stars, who used to look down on television generally, finally succumbing to its weekly lures?

There are a number of answers.

First, to be blunt: While some who have signed still can pull their weight on a movie marquee, others really are not major motion picture boxoffice attractions any more, despite their often superior talent and famous names.

So they are cleverly and — they hope — gracefully moving over to video while still big enough to command huge television fees.

By switching to the home screen, they are also, in a sense, returning to the older audience — televiewers — that was weaned on the Hollywood star sysiem, and still suitable is impressed.

The big new movie audience is very young, and anti-star system, at least the Hollywood kind. Yet there are occasional exceptions like Steve McQueen and Paul Newman. And sometimes a new star is even made — like Elliott Gould.

But you won't see any of these in a regular television series—certainly not so long as the are hot as major movie headliners.

Question: Why else are film stars switching to television?

Well, among other reasons, there is an element of the security that movie studios used to offer—a steady place to work for a reasonable length of time. Movies today, on the other hand, are a changing, insecure business—with no hit assuring long stardom.

But why is television coming up with some incredible deals for these stars when they are no guarantee to succeed—and when it may hurt the chances of a series to make a real profit?

For one reason, the networks are under increasing competitive pressure these days—with the future sure to bring opposition lures such as cable television and video cassettes. And pre-sold star power is a pretty shrewd commodity for middleaged home viewers.

ONLY MAN IN HIS CLASS WHO HAS ONE

Seventeen-year-old Darlene P. Balzan of 1201 Grand Avenue, wasn't one to let the graduation of her friend, Christopher Blanc Coyne, from San Rafael High School go unheralded. So she and Christopher's brother, Michael, prepared a surprise, a large red and white sign on her front lawn. Unsuspecting Christopher of 360 Summit Avenue, said, "It cracked me up," and it also brought smiles to passing motorists. The sign went up yesterday and will come down after graduation tonight.

Muskie, The Touted Fox, Back At Home

A young San Anselmo television personality who ran away from home about a month ago — possibly miffed at being denied a movie role — was returned Wednesday after a harrowing experience with gun-toting youngsters.

The runaway, known as Muskie, was not the typical youngster who throws a knapsack over his shoulder and stomps out of the house in pique. He is a fox.

Muskie has appeared on television with Captain San Francisco on Channel 44 and on Channle 2's "Dialing for Dollars." However, his budding career suffered a reversal when his owner Donald McCuaig Jr. of San Anselmo refused him a role in a Walt Disney film three months ago. He was afraid his pet would be mistreated.

Muskie's subsequent departure was his only comment, but he must have had a few oaths for the gunmen. One of them shot him in a paw while he was romping in an Upper Lucas Valley field Monday.

A farmer who saw the star on his land must not watch "Captain San Francisco" or Dialing for Dollars" because he sicced three boys on the fox, according to Mrs. Kirk Beales of 11 Mount Burny Court, who took the rover in.

He was returned to his 1417 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard home after his owner and friends saw his picture in the Independent-Journal Wednesday.

Although he was well cared for at the Beales' home after he was shot, McCuaig hopes he will stay home from now on.

The last time he strayed, a car ran over him, breaking both his hind legs and a hip.

Sisters Held In Burglary Cases

Two teen-age girls from San Pablo were arrested in Petaluma yesterday on suspicion of burglary and receiving stolen property.

Arrested were Beverly Diana Watters, 18, and her sister, Robin Marie Watters, 14.

Police said they stopped the girls' car for speeding on Petaluma Boulevard South and found a metal box that had been reported stolen yesterday from the home of Josephine Lane, 1787 Spring Hill Road, Petaluma.

The stolen box contained $74 in cash and personal papers. Police said they also found money and watches in the car that had been reported stolen in San Pablo.

Beverly Watters was booked into the Sonoma County Jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Robin Watters was turned over to juvenile authorities.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Marijuana Legalization Would Add To Grief Of Booze, Smokes

Those who want to legalize marijuana claim the weed is no more harmful than alcohol and tobacco. Perhaps this is true, but two wrongs do not make a right.

At present, we are having enough trouble with alcohol and tobacco, and it would be a serious mistake to add pot to the list.

Less than 100 years ago, many prominent people said the same thing about opium. One wrote in the London Times "Pro-opiumists maintain that opium smoking is no worse than gin or whisky drinking."

Another described that habit "as harmless as twiddling your thumbs." Time disproved these theories.

MARIJUANA IS NOT a narcotic, although it is so classified for legal purposes. It is an hallucinogen that produces a feelinf of euphoria, exaltation, and a dreamy sensation associated with a free flow of ideas. The drug has no medical value. It produces a strong psychic dependence but not a physical dependence.

Once the amount needed to achieve the desired results is established, the dose need not be increased (tolerance) as in physical dependence. The drug can be sniffed or taken orally, but the effects occur most quickly when it is smoked.

The feeling that follows is roughly comparable to having a couple of drinks. At a pot party, the user is talkative and laughs easily; if he takes the drug when alone, he becomes drowsy and quiet.

The user may feel capable of extraordinary physical and mental feats which he seldom performs because he does not want to disrupt the "way out" feeling.

But marijuana is not as innocuous as many people have been led to believe. The ability to drive, for example, may be seriously impaired. The psychic dependence may lead to self-neglect, lethargy, and loss of ambition.

THE MOST SERIOUS objection to marijuana is that it may precipitate psychotic episodes with hallucinations. In a recent report, three people were admitted to a mental institution as a result of marijuana. A California study showed that 11 per cent of students smoked pot. But the majority of these young adults had only used it once or twice.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

INTRACTABLE FLU

C. C. writes: Can chronic influenza be cured?

REPLY

This depends upon what you mean by chronic flu. I assume you refer to an attack of flu that fails to subside. In such instances, a secondary infection or a complication usually exists. For example, infection may spread to the sinuses or the kidneys. Bouts of influenza often are followed by marked fatigue and injections of vitamin B or B12 may have a tonic effect. Now and then nervousness prolongs recovery.

SWEET TOOTH

W. T. writes: My elderly mother puts sugar in and on everything, including potatoes. She doesn't care much for meat or fish. Do you think I should let her continue to eat this way?

REPLY

Yes. There is no need for concern if she has been examined by the family doctor and is in good health. If she is not getting all the basic foods, a vitamin-mineral supplement is in order.

Hearing Is Continued To July

A preliminary hearing for three International Typographical Union members charged with conspiring to damage property of Independent-Journal advertisers yesterday was postponed in Marin Municipal Court to July 7 at 9 a.m.

The continuance was granted by Judge Peter Allen Smith when Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said that some of his witnesses were not available yesterday.

It was reported that the attorney for the defendants, Robert D. Carrow of Novato, would not be able to appear again until the July date.

The three men, Dennis Joseph Crowley, 41, of San Jose; James Robert Brucato, 31, of Santa Rosa, and Grant William Anders, 30, of Pleasant Hill, were arrested early the morning of June 3 near the Strawberry Shopping Center.

They are charged with conspiring to break windows of six San Rafael stores and three Novato businesses belonging to merchants who refused to discontinue advertising in the I-J.

They were the first persons arrested in connection with such window-smashing since the San Francisco Typographical Union 21 went on strike against the I-J in January. About 40 businesses have been vandalized.

TV REVIEW

No Longer Are They Uptight

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A cynic once wrote that all good ideas go to television when they die.

Well, Hollywood's movie star system is dead. And now it is moving over to video.

It's well known by now that such headliners as Henry Fonda, Glenn Ford, Tony Curtis, Shirley MacLaine and James Garner are going to do regular network series within the next year or two.

And James Stewart is the latest big catch, signing to do a weekly half-hour situation comedy on NBC-TV the season after next — with his role reported to be that of a college professor.

The question in all these signings, so far as the public is concerned, is: Why are movie stars, who used to look down on television generally, finally succumbing to its weekly lures?

There are a number of answers.

First, to be blunt: While some who have signed still can pull their weight on a movie marquee, others really are not major motion picture boxoffice attractions any more, despite their often superior talent and famous names.

So they are cleverly and — they hope — gracefully moving over to video while still big enough to command huge television fees.

By switching to the home screen, they are also, in a sense, returning to the older audience — televiewers — that was weaned on the Hollywood star system, and still suitable is impressed.

The big new movie audience is very young, and anti-star system, at least the Hollywood kind. Yet there are occasional exceptions like Steve McQueen and Paul Newman. And sometimes a new star is even made — like Elliott Gould.

But you won't see any of these in a regular television series—certainly not so long as the are hot as major movie headliners.

Question: Why else are film stars switching to television?

Well, among other reasons, there is an element of the security that movie studios used to offer—a steady place to work for a reasonable length of time. Movies today, on the other hand, are a changing, insecure business—with no hit assuring long stardom.

But why is television coming up with some incredible deals for these stars when they are no guarantee to succeed—and when it may hurt the chances of a series to make a real profit?

For one reason, the networks are under increasing competitive pressure these days—with the future sure to bring opposition lures such as cable television and video cassettes. And pre-sold star power is a pretty shrewd commodity for middleaged home viewers.

Senators Favor Lockheed Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has voted in favor of an administration request for $200 million in contingency funds for the financially troubled Lockheed Aircraft Corp., manufacturer of the C5 cargo plane.

The funds are part of an advance payment to the company for the super transport. The vote breakdown was not disclosed.

The committee rejected an amendment by Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., to delete the $200 million from the $2 billion military procurement authorization bill.

MUST SIT ON ICE

Finley Delayed In Seals Deal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The current owners of the Oakland Seals have gone to bankruptcy court to delay at least temporarily the purchase of the debt-ridden hockey club by sports maverick Charles O. Finley.

U.S. District Judge Gerald S. Levin blocked the purchase Thursday by accepting a petition which gives the current owners more time to pay off nearly $4 million in debts.

MONDAY HEARING

Finley could find a clear road once again, however, if bankruptcy referee Sheridan Downey, Jr., dismisses the petition in a hearing set for Monday in Oakland.

Levin's decision came an hour before San Francisco Superior Court Judge Robert Schnacke was to sign the club over to Finley. Schnacke bowed to Levin's order and said he would hold off signing ownership transfer papers at least until Monday.

Finley, a millionaire insurance man, is the owner of baseball's Oakland A's. He is famous for trading star players, abruptly firing managers and dressing his baseball players in white shoes.

Finley has been in Montreal most of this week to try and get his $3.4 million offer for the Seals approved by the National Hockey League Board of Governors.

LATER IN N.Y.

But William Wirtz, president of the Chicago Black Hawks and chairman of the 14-man league governing board, said Finley's offer probably will be considered at a later date in New York.

"He came here (to Montreal) to meet some of the governors and study how to obtain the franchise," Wirtz said. "His effort to purchase runs through June 30 and it is likely the governors will meet in New York some time before then to consider it."

Trans-National Communications of New York owns 80 per cent of the Seals and Seymour and Northrup Knox of Buffalo, N.Y., hold the remainder.

Athletics Let One Get Away

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Oakland A's let one get away, just when they appeared to be putting it all together for a run toward the top of the American League West.

With two out in the ninth inning and two strikes against him, Chuck Hinton rifled a two-run homer to tie the A's Thursday night. Then Cleveland came from behind once again, after Oakland had scored a go-ahead run in the 10th, to win it 6-5 on Roy Foster's two-run homer.

HARD-LUCK

The defeat ruined a tough pitching effort by hard-luck Chuck Dobson and prevented the A's from climbing to within five games of the idle Minnesota Twins. Instead, they fell six games out of first place.

The A's had won three in a row and six of their last seven, gaining two full games on Minnesota in the first two contests against Cleveland. Now they'll have to regain the winning touch all over again, except this time they'll be up against the tough Baltimore Orioles.

Rollie Fingers (3-3) goes against Tom Phoebus (3-4) as the A's to dent the Orioles, first place team in the AL East, in the opener of a three-game set tonight.

NEW FACES

The A's will have a couple of new faces on the roster as they open against Baltimore.

Steve Hovley, an outfielder, was obtained from Milwaukee Thursday in exchange for pitcher Al Downing and veteran first baseman Tito Francona. Pitcher Fred Talbot was promoted from the A's Des Mines Triple-A club to fill Downing's spot.

Hovley is a 24-year-old outfielder and Stanford University graduate who batted .277 last year. He had 38 hits for a .288 average with the Brewers this season but entered manager Dave Bristol's dog house when he failed to pay a fine imposed for tardiness.

Talbot, who appeared briefly with Oakland late last season, had a 2-2 record and 4.08 earned run averages with Des Moines.

Rookie Debut Vs. Gibson

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Skip Pitlock's professional baseball career was delayed a couple of years by his college education, so he made up for it by advancing through the minors to the San Francisco Giants in short order.

Pitlock, 23, makes his first major league appearance tonight when San Francisco takes on Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The lithe lefthander has hurled only 204 professitnal innings after graduating from Southern Illinois University.

10-3 RECORD

In 106 innings with the Giants' Phoenix club of the Pacific Coast League, Pitlock won 10 games in 13 decisions and struckout 92 batters while walking 43. He piled up an earned run average of 2.46 in 13 games, and was called up a couple of days ago by San Francisco manager Charlie Fox.

Fox gave Pitlock's career a big lift when both started this season at Phoenix. Fox reviewed Pitlock's record in Class A ball and decided a big jump to Triple-A would not be premature.

The Giants are 15 1-2 games away from pacesetter Cincinnati in the National League West. They're coming off a 4-2 win Wednesday over Pittsburgh in which Gaylord Perry looked sharp and three players rammed homers.

BAD PITCHING

But San Francisco has failed to put together a winning streak of any duration, largely because of a pitching staff that has a combined earned run average of 5.65.

The Cardinals were stung Thursday night 2-1 by the Los Angeles Dodgers in 12 innings. The Cards, unlike the Giants, are in contention in their division race. St. Louis trails first place Chicago by 5 1-2 in the National League East.

Rich Robertson pitches against St. Louis' Chuck Taylor Saturday afternoon, with Juan Marichal rounding out the Candlestick Park series against the Cards' Mike Torrez on Sunday.

Golf Leader Says 'Do-It-Yourself'

Reid, never a winner on the pro tour at the age of 33, rebuilt his grip and his swing in his St. Louis home during the winter, ignoring the fact that he had the best single round and the best string of consecutive birdies on the pro tour last year.

FIVE UNDER

Thursday the new form worked so well he became the first day leader in the $130,000 Western Open with a five-under-par 66 at Beverly country Club and held a one-stroke margin over eight challengers.

The eight were Arnold Palmer, who had a four-putt green on his first round, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Dick Lotz, the second-leading money winner this year, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Hugh Royer.

Reid said he changed his style after lengthy consideration. "I decided if I ever was going to be successful," he said, "it wouldn't be with the grip I had. And when you make quite a change in the grip, the mechanics of the swing have to change, too.

"I've only felt comfortable for the last couple of weeks," he added. "Any change takes a while to become accustomed to. Nobody helped me. I developed it myself.

Actually Reid caught fire on the home stretch after a miserable opening. He birdied six of the last eight holes, two of them on putting snakes of 20 and 40 feet.

Palmer perhaps could have claimed a share of the lead, or maybe been in front alone, except for his performance on the green of the 570-yard, par five second hole.

He was "45 or 50 feet" from the pin after his second shot, but he left his first putt "eight or 10 feet short," charged his second 18 inches past the pin, sent the next effort past the cup to the right and said, "Thank God it was only a few inches, or I might have missed that."

Brundage Warns On Ski Future

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Avery Brundage has warned that skiing's future in the Olympic Games may depend on whether amateurism can be fostered in the sport by 1972.

Brundage, 82, is chairman of the International Olympics Games. He reiterated here Wednesday that there are only amateurs and professional athletes and the Olympics are for the former.

He told the U.S. Ski Association convention that the sport must "clean house" and said he was shocked at what happened during the 1968 winter games in Grenoble, France, when he said most of the competitors were given money to compete.

World Cup Soccer Action At Win-Or-Go-Home Stage

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — It's win from now on in the World Cup Soccer championships, or pack for home. It's that simple.

Mexico, Russia, Italy, Uruguay, Brazil, England, West Germany and Peru survived the group round-robin qualifications and square up for the quarterfinals Sunday where the loser takes the plane home. It's sudden death from now on.

The survivors rested up Friday in readiness for the quarters, although some teams will have to travel to new playing sites.

PAIRINGS

The quarter-final pairings for Sunday are Mexico or Russia against Uruguay at Mexico City, Mexico or Russia against Italy at Toluca, Brazil against Peru at Guadalajara and West Germany against England at Leon.

The International Football federation (FIFA) must decide whether Mexico or Russia travels to Toluca. The teams finished even at five points each and with a goal difference of five in group I. The group winner stays at the Aztec Stadium.

AZTEC STADIUM

Mexican officials are demanding the host nation be allowed to remain at the 107,000-seat Aztec Stadium, claiming a precedent was set in 1966 when England won the Cup without leaving home base at Wembley.

The Russians, however, also want to remain in Mexico City. Russian coach Gavrill Katchaline said "it's like home now. We have gotten used to the peculiar conditions and don't particularly want to go to Toluca."

Mexico made it into the quarter-finals with a disputed 15th minute penalty shot by fullback Gustavo Pena for a 1-0 triumph over Belgium.

England and Italy took the other quarter final places at stake, although neither displayed championship form.

Alan Clarke rapped in a 48th minute penalty, also a disputed shot, for England's 1-0 triumph over Czechoslovakia, while Italy was held to a scoreless tie by the amateur Israeli outfit.

In another match, of no interest as both teams were out of quarter finals contention, Bulgaria and Morocco played a 1-1 tie at Leon.

Determined To Win 'Baja Thing'

ENSENADA, Mexico (UPI)—Veteran race driver Parnelli Jones, a former Indianapolis 500 winner, raced around the rugged Baja California Peninsula in record time to win the second annual Baja 500 off-road race Thursday.

Jones, of Torrance, Calif., and car builder Bill Stroppe toured the 558 mile triangular course in 11 hours and 55 minutes in their Ford Bronco Colt, finishing ahead of 236 other entries.

HAPPY

Jones, thwarted in several past Baja events with mechanical troubles, was elated.

"I feel better now," he said. "I was determined to win one of these Baja things."

Jones' time was first overall and first in the four-wheel vehicle class. It beat last year's top time by five hours and five minutes.

First in the motorcycle category, with a time of 12 hours and 36 minutes, were Bill Silverthrone, Lemon Grove, Calif., and Gene Fetty, El Cajon, Calif.

Entrants in the National Off-Road Racing Association event left here at one minute intervals starting at n oon Wednesday. The final vehicles were gone by 4:30 p.m. and had 30 hours to finish the race and still qualify for the $80,000 in prize money.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Bob Bailey Happy, Not Satisfied

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Bob Bailey was happy but not satisfied.

Bailey smashed a two-run pinch hit homer for Montreal Thursday night as the Expos beat the Cincinnati Reds, 8-4, but he still had a complaint to lodge after the game.

"I only get into the game as a pinch hitter," Bailey said. "I sure would like to play regularly but I guess everyone would like to be a regular."

Obviously, Montreal manager Gene Mauch is hesitant about tampering with a good thing since it was only a month ago that Bailey delivered a pinch hit grand slam homer which beat the New York Mets.

AFTER ERROR

Bailey's homer against Cincinnati, his fourth of the season, came in the sixth inning after Reds third baseman Tony Perez misplayed San Anselman John Boccabella's grounder. It increased the Expos lead to 7-4 and gave reiever Claude Raymond some breathing room over the final three innings as Raymond shutout the Reds on one hit to preserve starter Carl Morton's sixth victory against three losses.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta beat Philadelphia, 6-4; Chicago downed San Diego, 7-1; and Los Angeles edged St. Louis, 2-1, in 12 innings. All other teams were idle.

A.L. SCORES

In the only American League action, Baltimore routed California, 9-1; Cleveland edged Oakland, 6-5, in 10 innings; Detroit beat Milwaukee, 6-2; and Washington at Kansas City was rained out.

The Expos jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead in the first inning off loser Jim Merritt (11-4) with John Bateman's three-run homer capping the outburst. Perez ignited a three-run Cincinnati uprising in the fourth with his 22nd homer and 64th RBI, both major league highs, and Johnny Bench brought the Reds to within one run in the sixth with his 19th homer.

Bailey put Montreal out of danger in the bottom of the sixth and Coco Laboy doubled home Rusty Staub with the Expos' final run in the seventh.

CEPEDA HITS

Orlando Cepeda collected three hits and drove in two runs for Atlanta as the Braves cut the Reds' lead in the West Division to nine games. Rico Carty, the leading hitter in the majors with a .401 average, tripled home the Braves' first run in the third off loser Rick Wise. Jim Nash, with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm and Bob Priddy, upped his record to 8-2.

Jim Hickman's 100th major league homer and the six-hit pitching of Bill Hands carried Chicago past San iDego and enabled the Cubs to increase their East Division lead to 4 1-2 games. The Cubs took advantage of Mike Corkins' wildness as the Padres' starter issued nine walks in 6 1-3 innings, including one to Johnny Callison in the first inning with the bases loaded which scored Glenn Beckert with the first run. The victory was Hands' eighth but his first since May 24.

12 INNINGS

Willie Davis doubled home Maury Wills with the winning run in the 12th inning as Los Angeles shaded St. Louis. Joe Hague's sacrifice fly gave the Cardinals a 1-0 lead in the fourth but the Dodgers tied it in their half of the inning on Manny Mota's second home run of the season and the first round tripper for Los Angeles since June 1. Jim Brewer (1-1) got the win in relief while Frank Linzy (3-3) took the loss.

'A ONE, AND A TWO, AND A . . .'

Bandleader Lawrence Welk, playing in the ninth annual Harrah's Invitational Golf Tournament yesterday at Lake Tahoe, could have used his well known words to count the strokes he lost when his shot on the 18th hole dropped into a water hazard, making him look more like a fisherman than a golfer. Casino manager Harry Goodheart won the tournament.

Finley Delayed In Seals Deal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The current owners of the Oakland Seals have gone to bankruptcy court to delay at least temporarily the purchase of the debt-ridden hockey club by sports maverick Charles O. Finley.

U.S. District Judge Gerald S. Levin blocked the purchase Thursday by accepting a petition which gives the current owners more time to pay off nearly $4 million in debts.

MONDAY HEARING

Finley could find a clear road once again, however, if bankruptcy referee Sheridan Downey, Jr., dismisses the petition in a hearing set for Monday in Oakland.

Levin's decision came an hour before San Francisco Superior Court Judge Robert Schnacke was to sign the club over to Finley. Schnacke bowed to Levin's order and said he would hold off signing ownership transfer papers at least until Monday.

Finley, a millionaire insurance man, is the owner of baseball's Oakland A's. He is famous for trading star players, abruptly firing managers and dressing his baseball players in white shoes.

Finley has been in Montreal most of this week to try and get his $3.4 million offer for the Seals approved by the National Hockey League Board of Governors.

LATER IN N.Y.

But William Wirtz, president of the Chicago Black Hawks and chairman of the 14-man league governing board, said Finley's offer probably will be considered at a later date in New York.

"He came here (to Montreal) to meet some of the governors and study how to obtain the franchise," Wirtz said. "His effort to purchase runs through June 30 and it is likely the governors will meet in New York some time before then to consider it."

Trans-National Communications of New York owns 80 per cent of the Seals and Seymour and Northrup Knox of Buffalo, N.Y., hold the remainder.

Athletics Let One Get Away

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Oakland A's let one get away, just when they appeared to be putting it all together for a run toward the top of the American League West.

With two out in the ninth inning and two strikes against him, Chuck Hinton rifled a two-run homer to tie the A's Thursday night. Then Cleveland came from behind once again, after Oakland had scored a go-ahead run in the 10th, to win it 6-5 on Roy Foster's two-run homer.

HARD-LUCK

The defeat ruined a tough pitching effort by hard-luck Chuck Dobson and prevented the A's from climbing to within five games of the idle Minnesota Twins. Instead, they fell six games out of first place.

The A's had won three in a row and six of their last seven, gaining two full games on Minnesota in the first two contests against Cleveland. Now they'll have to regain the winning touch all over again, except this time they'll be up against the tough Baltimore Orioles.

Rollie Fingers (3-3) goes against Tom Phoebus (3-4) as the A's to dent the Orioles, first place team in the AL East, in the opener of a three-game set tonight.

NEW FACES

The A's will have a couple of new faces on the roster as they open against Baltimore.

Steve Hovley, an outfielder, was obtained from Milwaukee Thursday in exchange for pitcher Al Downing and veteran first baseman Tito Francona. Pitcher Fred Talbot was promoted from the A's Des Mines Triple-A club to fill Downing's spot.

Hovley is a 24-year-old outfielder and Stanford University graduate who batted .277 last year. He had 38 hits for a .288 average with the Brewers this season but entered manager Dave Bristol's dog house when he failed to pay a fine imposed for tardiness.

Talbot, who appeared briefly with Oakland late last season, had a 2-2 record and 4.08 earned run averages with Des Moines.

Rookie Debut Vs. Gibson

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Skip Pitlock's professional baseball career was delayed a couple of years by his college education, so he made up for it by advancing through the minors to the San Francisco Giants in short order.

Pitlock, 23, makes his first major league appearance tonight when San Francisco takes on Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The lithe lefthander has hurled only 204 professitnal innings after graduating from Southern Illinois University.

10-3 RECORD

In 106 innings with the Giants' Phoenix club of the Pacific Coast League, Pitlock won 10 games in 13 decisions and struckout 92 batters while walking 43. He piled up an earned run average of 2.46 in 13 games, and was called up a couple of days ago by San Francisco manager Charlie Fox.

Fox gave Pitlock's career a big lift when both started this season at Phoenix. Fox reviewed Pitlock's record in Class A ball and decided a big jump to Triple-A would not be premature.

The Giants are 15 1-2 games away from pacesetter Cincinnati in the National League West. They're coming off a 4-2 win Wednesday over Pittsburgh in which Gaylord Perry looked sharp and three players rammed homers.

BAD PITCHING

But San Francisco has failed to put together a winning streak of any duration, largely because of a pitching staff that has a combined earned run average of 5.65.

The Cardinals were stung Thursday night 2-1 by the Los Angeles Dodgers in 12 innings. The Cards, unlike the Giants, are in contention in their division race. St. Louis trails first place Chicago by 5 1-2 in the National League East.

Rich Robertson pitches against St. Louis' Chuck Taylor Saturday afternoon, with Juan Marichal rounding out the Candlestick Park series against the Cards' Mike Torrez on Sunday.

Golf Leader Says 'Do-It-Yourself'

Reid, never a winner on the pro tour at the age of 33, rebuilt his grip and his swing in his St. Louis home during the winter, ignoring the fact that he had the best single round and the best string of consecutive birdies on the pro tour last year.

FIVE UNDER

Thursday the new form worked so well he became the first day leader in the $130,000 Western Open with a five-under-par 66 at Beverly country Club and held a one-stroke margin over eight challengers.

The eight were Arnold Palmer, who had a four-putt green on his first round, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Dick Lotz, the second-leading money winner this year, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Hugh Royer.

Reid said he changed his style after lengthy consideration. "I decided if I ever was going to be successful," he said, "it wouldn't be with the grip I had. And when you make quite a change in the grip, the mechanics of the swing have to change, too.

"I've only felt comfortable for the last couple of weeks," he added. "Any change takes a while to become accustomed to. Nobody helped me. I developed it myself.

Actually Reid caught fire on the home stretch after a miserable opening. He birdied six of the last eight holes, two of them on putting snakes of 20 and 40 feet.

Palmer perhaps could have claimed a share of the lead, or maybe been in front alone, except for his performance on the green of the 570-yard, par five second hole.

He was "45 or 50 feet" from the pin after his second shot, but he left his first putt "eight or 10 feet short," charged his second 18 inches past the pin, sent the next effort past the cup to the right and said, "Thank God it was only a few inches, or I might have missed that."

Brundage Warns On Ski Future

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Avery Brundage has warned that skiing's future in the Olympic Games may depend on whether amateurism can be fostered in the sport by 1972.

Brundage, 82, is chairman of the International Olympics Games. He reiterated here Wednesday that there are only amateurs and professional athletes and the Olympics are for the former.

He told the U.S. Ski Association convention that the sport must "clean house" and said he was shocked at what happened during the 1968 winter games in Grenoble, France, when he said most of the competitors were given money to compete.

World Cup Soccer Action At Win-Or-Go-Home Stage

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — It's win from now on in the World Cup Soccer championships, or pack for home. It's that simple.

Mexico, Russia, Italy, Uruguay, Brazil, England, West Germany and Peru survived the group round-robin qualifications and square up for the quarterfinals Sunday where the loser takes the plane home. It's sudden death from now on.

The survivors rested up Friday in readiness for the quarters, although some teams will have to travel to new playing sites.

PAIRINGS

The quarter-final pairings for Sunday are Mexico or Russia against Uruguay at Mexico City, Mexico or Russia against Italy at Toluca, Brazil against Peru at Guadalajara and West Germany against England at Leon.

The International Football federation (FIFA) must decide whether Mexico or Russia travels to Toluca. The teams finished even at five points each and with a goal difference of five in group I. The group winner stays at the Aztec Stadium.

AZTEC STADIUM

Mexican officials are demanding the host nation be allowed to remain at the 107,000-seat Aztec Stadium, claiming a precedent was set in 1966 when England won the Cup without leaving home base at Wembley.

The Russians, however, also want to remain in Mexico City. Russian coach Gavrill Katchaline said "it's like home now. We have gotten used to the peculiar conditions and don't particularly want to go to Toluca."

Mexico made it into the quarter-finals with a disputed 15th minute penalty shot by fullback Gustavo Pena for a 1-0 triumph over Belgium.

England and Italy took the other quarter final places at stake, although neither displayed championship form.

Alan Clarke rapped in a 48th minute penalty, also a disputed shot, for England's 1-0 triumph over Czechoslovakia, while Italy was held to a scoreless tie by the amateur Israeli outfit.

In another match, of no interest as both teams were out of quarter finals contention, Bulgaria and Morocco played a 1-1 tie at Leon.

Determined To Win 'Baja Thing'

ENSENADA, Mexico (UPI)—Veteran race driver Parnelli Jones, a former Indianapolis 500 winner, raced around the rugged Baja California Peninsula in record time to win the second annual Baja 500 off-road race Thursday.

Jones, of Torrance, Calif., and car builder Bill Stroppe toured the 558 mile triangular course in 11 hours and 55 minutes in their Ford Bronco Colt, finishing ahead of 236 other entries.

HAPPY

Jones, thwarted in several past Baja events with mechanical troubles, was elated.

"I feel better now," he said. "I was determined to win one of these Baja things."

Jones' time was first overall and first in the four-wheel vehicle class. It beat last year's top time by five hours and five minutes.

First in the motorcycle category, with a time of 12 hours and 36 minutes, were Bill Silverthrone, Lemon Grove, Calif., and Gene Fetty, El Cajon, Calif.

Entrants in the National Off-Road Racing Association event left here at one minute intervals starting at n oon Wednesday. The final vehicles were gone by 4:30 p.m. and had 30 hours to finish the race and still qualify for the $80,000 in prize money.

DIPLOMA AND PRO BASEBALL PACT

Big Week For Young Marinite

By DAVID EINSTEIN

On Tuesday, four days after graduating from San Jose State College with a degree in advertising, ex-Novato High School star Tom Corder signed a contract to play baseball for the Los Angeles Dodgers. Thus he fulfilled two American dreams in one week.

"All I've ever wanted was to play professional baseball, and now I'm going to get the chance," he reported exhuberantly from his San Jose apartment after Dodger scout Ray Perry signed him in what he termed was "A great deal, especially for a college senior."

In a sense, Corder has worked almost half his life to be able to go to Ogden, Utah, where the Dodgers are sending him next week to join one of their rookie teams.

To be exact, he has played baseball since age 12, when his family moved to Novato from Albany, Oregon. Until that time, he had played softball, but never baseball.

For nine seasons since then, on high school, college, American Legion and semi-pro teams, Corder has evolved into a complete shortstop. A news release from San Jose, where he played three varsity seasons, calls him one of the greatest players in the school's history.

In his junior year he hit .385 and was the most valuable player in the West Coast Athletic Conference. This season, although his average dropped to .289, he still led the Spartans in doubles (6), home runs (4), RBI's (33), total bases (61) and slugging percentage (.409).

His sub-par average this season is understandable for two reasons. First, San Jose played this season in the Pacific Coast Athletic Conference, a much stronger league than the WCAC.

Second, since he was the only professionally dangerous hitter on the team, Tom almost never saw a fastball, and found himself being pitched around and at more often than to.

Even so, his performance this was a disappointment to the scouts, who reflected their caution by passing over him until the 13th round of the major league draft last week. He was chosen number 328 out of almost 1,000.

For Corder, not hitting .300 was probably the best thing that could have happened. "It taught me a lot not having a good year," he said thoughtfully. "Now I know that when I have a slump in professional ball, and everybody does, I'll know how to handlie it."

Up until this season, Corder had always torn asunder whatever league he happened to be in, gaining all star recognition every year since 1965, when he was a junion at Novato High School.

After graduating he played for and was most valuable player on Gene Ferretti's Novato American Legion team for two summers. In 1968 and '69 he played for Joe Anselmo's semi-pro San Rafael Braves. "The summers I spent with Joe were the ones that helped me the most," says Corder.

Before the draft Corder made a list of the clubs that he would like to play for. The Dodgers were on it.

"The Dodgers have a great organization. They take care of their ballplayers,' he says. "They have a lot of young kids, but they always give you a chance. I'm lucky to have been drafted by them."

The Dodgers drafted Corder 13th out of a total of 45 players. So they must feel that he can do the job.

Before he signed, Perry asked him if he thought he could play in the class A California League. Tom said yes. Whether or not he gets a chance this season will be decided by his performance in Ogden, where his wife, Linda, will join him the first of July.

FISH AND GAME

Red Hot Trout Angling At Marin's Reservoirs

By AL GIDDINGS

With heavy trout plants in both Phoenix and Lagunitas reservoirs last Friday, the fishing really began to pick up by Sunday. Well, here's some more good news for you trout anglers! By the time you read this column, another large plant of trout in Phoenix, Lagunitas and Rodeo Lagoon will have been made! Fishing this weekend will be red hot! Get your kids up there and rig them up with small hooks and light leaders, not over three pound test; two pound, or even one and a quarter pound test is still better.

Norm Quadros from Mill Valley has been using the plastic floating bubble with a fly trailer at Rodeo. He took two quick limits in two evenings using this method. Use a spinning rod for this, casting out and retrieving in mixed pulls and jerks. At times, on one retrieve, he would get three or four hits until finally a fish would be hooked. This should work at Lagunitas and Phoenix too. The leader should be about two feet long behind the bubble.

ON MAY 29, the Marin Municipal Water District planted 436 yearling silver salmon in Papermill Creek in the vicinity of the westerly boundary of Samuel P. Taylor State Park. The district attorney, Bruce Bales, also dropped me a note saying an additional purchase by the MMWD of 7,000 to 8,000 fingerling steelhead has been made to be placed in the stream next spring to help maintain an ecological balance. The water company is to be commended for its quick action in this case.

AND FOR you travelers: Mr. Nick Campanion of Greenbrae called me after spending last weekend up on Trinity Lake. Nick said the trout fishing was excellent, but he had heard about some big black bass so decided to drift night crawlers in some of the hotspots. His catch? One 9¾ pound Black Bass which is the largest bass ever taken there.

ENOS FOSTER, Ropie Clark and Don Greer, all Marinites, took their families to Diamond Lake in Oregon for trout. I saw the fish they brought home — all beauties to 16 inches, but also very heavy. Enos used six pound test leaders and things were slow until they started using two pound test or less. The Oregon Fish and Game men give citations if you don't have a fire extinguisher and a life jacket for every person aboard. Go prepared.

UP AT Clear Lake, the residents working in conjunction with the F. and G. Dept. are determined to reestablish Clear Lake as a top fishing spot. They are growing catfish (20,000 of them) and releasing them when they reach eight inches in length. And a second stocking of Florida largemouth bass was completed last month. Approximately 380 of these broad fish have been stocked to date. These fish grow larger than the California bass, and will also crossbreed.

ANGLERS ARE reminded that the trout — salmon limit at Shasta Lake has been cut to five fish as part of the Fish and Game Dept's. program to bolster the lake's trophy trout fishing. There is no weight limit on the five fish limit. Some 3600 silver salmon were planted last fall. Indications are that silvers grow even faster than the populations of browns and rainbows now there. Ten thousand more silvers were planted this year. Spectacular fishing is expected this fall with fish from 3-5 pounds.

PLANS TO burn 50 acres in the Mendocino National Forest were announced by the U.S. Forest Service and the F. & G. Dept. This sounds like a good step in the right direction especially in areas where dense brush of little value as food for deer and other wildlife is concerned.

The Fish and Game Commission has revised its policy on season opening dates to provide a uniform statewide dove opener of Sept. 1. No season on doves may begin before Sept. 1. The usual Saturday opening on Sept. 5 would have been five days after the opening in Mexico and Arizona, so the commission adopted the Sept. 1 opening.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

In bowling, the wrist should be firm at all times. Should the wrist twist, the ball will probably have some sort of sidespin instead of the good, rolling motion needed.

Reno's VIP's Outlast The No-Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Reno's VIP's outlasted the KSFO No-Stars 11-9 Thursday night before more than 12,000 Cow Palace fans in a loosely-played softball game held annually for the benefit of the Police Athletic League.

David Hartman of the TV series "The Bold Ones" won the MVP award for slamming a three-run homer.

Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants also showed up long enough to belt a homer, but VIPs manager Reno Barsochinni managed somehow to convince scorekeepers that it was just a batting exhibition and should not count for real.

O'Dowd Cage Coach Gets Promotion

MORAGA (UPI)—Frank LaPorte, one of the winningest high school coaches in Northern California basketball, has been given the assistant varsity coaching job at St. Mary's College.

Athletic director Bruce Hale said LaPorte also will coach the frosh. LaPorte comes from Oakland's Bishop O'Dowd High School, where his clubs have amassed a tremendous won-lost record of 342-75.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Bob Bailey Happy, Not Satisfied

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Bob Bailey was happy but not satisfied.

Bailey smashed a two-run pinch hit homer for Montreal Thursday night as the Expos beat the Cincinnati Reds, 8-4, but he still had a complaint to lodge after the game.

"I only get into the game as a pinch hitter," Bailey said. "I sure would like to play regularly but I guess everyone would like to be a regular."

Obviously, Montreal manager Gene Mauch is hesitant about tampering with a good thing since it was only a month ago that Bailey delivered a pinch hit grand slam homer which beat the New York Mets.

AFTER ERROR

Bailey's homer against Cincinnati, his fourth of the season, came in the sixth inning after Reds third baseman Tony Perez misplayed San Anselman John Boccabella's grounder. It increased the Expos lead to 7-4 and gave reiever Claude Raymond some breathing room over the final three innings as Raymond shutout the Reds on one hit to preserve starter Carl Morton's sixth victory against three losses.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta beat Philadelphia, 6-4; Chicago downed San Diego, 7-1; and Los Angeles edged St. Louis, 2-1, in 12 innings. All other teams were idle.

A.L. SCORES

In the only American League action, Baltimore routed California, 9-1; Cleveland edged Oakland, 6-5, in 10 innings; Detroit beat Milwaukee, 6-2; and Washington at Kansas City was rained out.

The Expos jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead in the first inning off loser Jim Merritt (11-4) with John Bateman's three-run homer capping the outburst. Perez ignited a three-run Cincinnati uprising in the fourth with his 22nd homer and 64th RBI, both major league highs, and Johnny Bench brought the Reds to within one run in the sixth with his 19th homer.

Bailey put Montreal out of danger in the bottom of the sixth and Coco Laboy doubled home Rusty Staub with the Expos' final run in the seventh.

CEPEDA HITS

Orlando Cepeda collected three hits and drove in two runs for Atlanta as the Braves cut the Reds' lead in the West Division to nine games. Rico Carty, the leading hitter in the majors with a .401 average, tripled home the Braves' first run in the third off loser Rick Wise. Jim Nash, with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm and Bob Priddy, upped his record to 8-2.

Jim Hickman's 100th major league homer and the six-hit pitching of Bill Hands carried Chicago past San iDego and enabled the Cubs to increase their East Division lead to 4 1-2 games. The Cubs took advantage of Mike Corkins' wildness as the Padres' starter issued nine walks in 6 1-3 innings, including one to Johnny Callison in the first inning with the bases loaded which scored Glenn Beckert with the first run. The victory was Hands' eighth but his first since May 24.

12 INNINGS

Willie Davis doubled home Maury Wills with the winning run in the 12th inning as Los Angeles shaded St. Louis. Joe Hague's sacrifice fly gave the Cardinals a 1-0 lead in the fourth but the Dodgers tied it in their half of the inning on Manny Mota's second home run of the season and the first round tripper for Los Angeles since June 1. Jim Brewer (1-1) got the win in relief while Frank Linzy (3-3) took the loss.

Rico Carty, the leading hitter in the majors with a .401 average, tripled home the Braves' first run in the third off loser Rick Wise. Jim Nash, with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm and Bob Priddy, upped his record to 8-2.

Jim Hickman's 100th major league homer and the six-hit pitching of Bill Hands carried Chicago past San iDego and enabled the Cubs to increase their East Division lead to 4 1-2 games. The Cubs took advantage of Mike Corkins' wildness as the Padres' starter issued nine walks in 6 1-3 innings, including one to Johnny Callison in the first inning with the bases loaded which scored Glenn Beckert with the first run. The victory was Hands' eighth but his first since May 24.

12 INNINGS

Willie Davis doubled home Maury Wills with the winning run in the 12th inning as Los Angeles shaded St. Louis. Joe Hague's sacrifice fly gave the Cardinals a 1-0 lead in the fourth but the Dodgers tied it in their half of the inning on Manny Mota's second home run of the season and the first round tripper for Los Angeles since June 1. Jim Brewer (1-1) got the win in relief while Frank Linzy (3-3) took the loss.

DIPLOMA AND PRO BASEBALL PACT

Big Week For Young Marinite

By DAVID EINSTEIN

On Tuesday, four days after graduating from San Jose State College with a degree in advertising, ex-Novato High School star Tom Corder signed a contract to play baseball for the Los Angeles Dodgers. Thus he fulfilled two American dreams in one week.

"All I've ever wanted was to play professional baseball, and now I'm going to get the chance," he reported exhubertantly from his San Jose apartment after Dodger scout Ray Perry signed him in what he termed was "A great deal, especially for a college senior."

In a sense, Corder has worked almost half his life to be able to go to Ogden, Utah, where the Dodgers are sending him next week to join one of their rookie teams.

To be exact, he has played baseball since age 12, when his family moved to Novato from Albany, Oregon. Until that time, he had played softball, but never baseball.

For nine seasons since then, on high school, college, American Legion and semi-pro teams, Corder has evolved into a complete shortstop. A news release from San Jose, where he played three varsity seasons, calls him one of the greatest players in the school's history.

In his junior year he hit .385 and was the most valuable player in the West Coast Athletic Conference. This season, although his average dropped to .289, he still led the Spartans in doubles (6), home runs (4), RBI's (33), total bases (61) and slugging percentage (.409).

His sub-par average this season is understandable for two reasons. First, San Jose played this season in the Pacific Coast Athletic Conference, a much stronger league than the WCAC.

Second, since he was the only professionally dangerous hitter on the team, Tom almost never saw a fastball, and found himself being pitched around and at more often than to.

Even so, his performance this was a disappointment to the scouts, who reflected their caution by passing over him until the 13th round of the major league draft last week. He was chosen number 328 out of almost 1,000.

For Corder, not hitting .300 was probably the best thing that could have happened. "It taught me a lot not having a good year," he said thoughtfully. "Now I know that when I have a slump in professional ball, and everybody does, I'll know how to handle it."

Up until this season, Corder had always torn asunder whatever league he happened to be in, gaining all star recognition every year since 1965, when he was a junion at Novato High School.

After graduating he played for and was most valuable player on Gene Ferretti's Novato American Legion team for two summers. In 1968 and '69 he played for Joe Anselmo's semi-pro San Rafael Braves. "The summers I spent with Joe were the ones that helped me the most," says Corder.

Before the draft Corder made a list of the clubs that he would like to play for. The Dodgers were on it.

"The Dodgers have a great organization. They take care of their ballplayers,' he says. "They have a lot of young kids, but they always give you a chance. I'm lucky to have been drafted by them."

The Dodgers drafted Corder 13th out of a total of 45 players. So they must feel that he can do the job.

Before he signed, Perry asked him if he thought he could play in the class A California League. Tom said yes. Whether or not he gets a chance this season will be decided by his performance in Ogden, where his wife, Linda, will join him the first of July.

FISH AND GAME

Red Hot Trout Angling At Marin's Reservoirs

By AL GIDDINGS

With heavy trout plants in both Phoenix and Lagunitas reservoirs last Friday, the fishing really began to pick up by Sunday. Well, here's some more good news for you trout anglers! By the time you read this column, another large plant of trout in Phoenix, Lagunitas and Rodeo Lagoon will have been made! Fishing this weekend will be red hot! Get your kids up there and rig them up with small hooks and light leaders, not over three pound test; two pound, or even one and a quarter pound test is still better.

Norm Quadros from Mill Valley has been using the plastic floating bubble with a fly trailer at Rodeo. He took two quick limits in two evenings using this method. Use a spinning rod for this, casting out and retrieving in mixed pulls and jerks. At times, on one retrieve, he would get three or four hits until finally a fish would be hooked. This should work at Lagunitas and Phoenix too. The leader should be about two feet long behind the bubble.

ON MAY 29, the Marin Municipal Water District planted 436 yearling silver salmon in Papermill Creek in the vicinity of the westerly boundary of Samuel P. Taylor State Park. The district attorney, Bruce Bales, also dropped me a note saying an additional purchase by the MMWD of 7,000 to 8,000 fingerling steelhead has been made to be placed in the stream next spring to help maintain an ecological balance. The water company is to be commended for its quick action in this case.

AND FOR you travelers: Mr. Nick Campanion of Greenbrae called me after spending last weekend up on Trinity Lake. Nick said the trout fishing was excellent, but he had heard about some big black bass so decided to drift night crawlers in some of the hotspots. His catch? One 9¾ pound Black Bass which is the largest bass ever taken there.

ENOS FOSTER, Ropie Clark and Don Greer, all Marinites, took their families to Diamond Lake in Oregon for trout. I saw the fish they brought home — all beauties to 16 inches, but also very heavy. Enos used six pound test leaders and things were slow until they started using two pound test or less. The Oregon Fish and Game men give citations if you don't have a fire extinguisher and a life jacket for every person aboard. Go prepared.

UP AT Clear Lake, the residents working in conjunction with the F. and G. Dept. are determined to reestablish Clear Lake as a top fishing spot. They are growing catfish (20,000 of them) and releasing them when they reach eight inches in length. And a second stocking of Florida largemouth bass was completed last month. Approximately 380 of these broad fish have been stocked to date. These fish grow larger than the California bass, and will also crossbreed.

ANGLERS ARE reminded that the trout — salmon limit at Shasta Lake has been cut to five fish as part of the Fish and Game Dept's. program to bolster the lake's trophy trout fishing. There is no weight limit on the five fish limit. Some 3600 silver salmon were planted last fall. Indications are that silvers grow even faster than the populations of browns and rainbows now there. Ten thousand more silvers were planted this year. Spectacular fishing is expected this fall with fish from 3-5 pounds.

PLANS TO burn 50 acres in the Mendocino National Forest were announced by the U.S. Forest Service and the F. & G. Dept. This sounds like a good step in the right direction especially in areas where dense brush of little value as food for deer and other wildlife is concerned.

The Fish and Game Commission has revised its policy on season opening dates to provide a uniform statewide dove opener of Sept. 1. No season on doves may begin before Sept. 1. The usual Saturday opening on Sept. 5 would have been five days after the opening in Mexico and Arizona, so the commission adopted the Sept. 1 opening.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

In bowling, the wrist should be firm at all times. Should the wrist twist, the ball will probably have some sort of sidespin instead of the good, rolling motion needed.

Reno's VIP's Outlast The No-Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Reno's VIP's outlasted the KSFO No-Stars 11-9 Thursday night before more than 12,000 Cow Palace fans in a loosely-played softball game held annually for the benefit of the Police Athletic League.

David Hartman of the TV series "The Bold Ones" won the MVP award for slamming a three-run homer.

Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants also showed up long enough to belt a homer, but VIPs manager Reno Barsochinni managed somehow to convince scorekeepers that it was just a batting exhibition and should not count for real.

O'Dowd Cage Coach Gets Promotion

MORAGA (UPI)—Frank LaPorte, one of the winningest high school coaches in Northern California basketball, has been given the assistant varsity coaching job at St. Mary's College.

Athletic director Bruce Hale said LaPorte also will coach the frosh. LaPorte comes from Oakland's Bishop O'Dowd High School, where his clubs have amassed a tremendous won-lost record of 342-75.

DIPLOMA AND PRO BASEBALL PACT

Big Week For Young Marinite

By DAVID EINSTEIN

On Tuesday, four days after graduating from San Jose State College with a degree in advertising, ex-Novato High School star Tom Corder signed a contract to play baseball for the Los Angeles Dodgers. Thus he fulfilled two American dreams in one week.

"All I've ever wanted was to play professional baseball, and now I'm going to get the chance," he reported exhubertantly from his San Jose apartment after Dodger scout Ray Perry signed him in what he termed was "A great deal, especially for a college senior."

In a sense, Corder has worked almost half his life to be able to go to Ogden, Utah, where the Dodgers are sending him next week to join one of their rookie teams.

To be exact, he has played baseball since age 12, when his family moved to Novato from Albany, Oregon. Until that time, he had played softball, but never baseball.

For nine seasons since then, on high school, college, American Legion and semi-pro teams, Corder has evolved into a complete shortstop. A news release from San Jose, where he played three varsity seasons, calls him one of the greatest players in the school's history.

In his junior year he hit .385 and was the most valuable player in the West Coast Athletic Conference. This season, although his average dropped to .289, he still led the Spartans in doubles (6), home runs (4), RBI's (33), total bases (61) and slugging percentage (.409).

His sub-par average this season is understandable for two reasons. First, San Jose played this season in the Pacific Coast Athletic Conference, a much stronger league than the WCAC.

Second, since he was the only professionally dangerous hitter on the team, Tom almost never saw a fastball, and found himself being pitched around and at more often than to.

Even so, his performance this was a disappointment to the scouts, who reflected their caution by passing over him until the 13th round of the major league draft last week. He was chosen number 328 out of almost 1,000.

For Corder, not hitting .300 was probably the best thing that could have happened. "It taught me a lot not having a good year," he said thoughtfully. "Now I know that when I have a slump in professional ball, and everybody does, I'll know how to handlie it."

Up until this season, Corder had always torn asunder whatever league he happened to be in, gaining all star recognition every year since 1965, when he was a junion at Novato High School.

After graduating he played for and was most valuable player on Gene Ferretti's Novato American Legion team for two summers. In 1968 and '69 he played for Joe Anselmo's semi-pro San Rafael Braves. "The summers I spent with Joe were the ones that helped me the most," says Corder.

Before the draft Corder made a list of the clubs that he would like to play for. The Dodgers were on it.

"The Dodgers have a great organization. They take care of their ballplayers,' he says. "They have a lot of young kids, but they always give you a chance. I'm lucky to have been drafted by them."

The Dodgers drafted Corder 13th out of a total of 45 players. So they must feel that he can do the job.

Eefore he signed, Perry asked him if he thought he could play in the class A California League. Tom said yes. Whether or not he gets a chance this season will be decided by his performance in Ogden, where his wife, Linda, will join him the first of July.

FISH AND GAME

Red Hot Trout Angling At Marin's Reservoirs

By AL GIDDINGS

With heavy trout plants in both Phoenix and Lagunitas reservoirs last Friday, the fishing really began to pick up by Sunday. Well, here's some more good news for you trout anglers! By the time you read this column, another large plant of trout in Phoenix, Lagunitas and Rodeo Lagoon will have been made! Fishing this weekend will be red hot! Get your kids up there and rig them up with small hooks and light leaders, not over three pound test; two pound, or even one and a quarter pound test is still better.

Norm Quadros from Mill Valley has been using the plastic floating bubble with a fly trailer at Rodeo. He took two quick limits in two evenings using this method. Use a spinning rod for this, casting out and retrieving in mixed pulls and jerks. At times, on one retrieve, he would get three or four hits until finally a fish would be hooked. This should work at Lagunitas and Phoenix too. The leader should be about two feet long behind the bubble.

ON MAY 29, the Marin Municipal Water District planted 436 yearling silver salmon in Papermill Creek in the vicinity of the westerly boundary of Samuel P. Taylor State Park. The district attorney, Bruce Bales, also dropped me a note saying an additional purchase by the MMWD of 7,000 to 8,000 fingerling steelhead has been made to be placed in the stream next spring to help maintain an ecological balance. The water company is to be commended for its quick action in this case.

AND FOR you travelers: Mr. Nick Campanion of Greenbrae called me after spending last weekend up on Trinity Lake. Nick said the trout fishing was excellent, but he had heard about some big black bass so decided to drift night crawlers in some of the hotspots. His catch? One 9¾ pound Black Bass which is the largest bass ever taken there.

ENOS FOSTER, Ropie Clark and Don Greer, all Marinites, took their families to Diamond Lake in Oregon for trout. I saw the fish they brought home — all beauties to 16 inches, but also very heavy. Enos used six pound test leaders and things were slow until they started using two pound test or less. The Oregon Fish and Game men give citations if you don't have a fire extinguisher and a life jacket for every person aboard. Go prepared.

UP AT Clear Lake, the residents working in conjunction with the F. and G. Dept. are determined to reestablish Clear Lake as a top fishing spot. They are growing catfish (20,000 of them) and releasing them when they reach eight inches in length. And a second stocking of Florida largemouth bass was completed last month. Approximately 380 of these broad fish have been stocked to date. These fish grow larger than the California bass, and will also crossbreed.

ANGLERS ARE reminded that the trout — salmon limit at Shasta Lake has been cut to five fish as part of the Fish and Game Dept's. program to bolster the lake's trophy trout fishing. There is no weight limit on the five fish limit. Some 3600 silver salmon were planted last fall. Indications are that silvers grow even faster than the populations of browns and rainbows now there. Ten thousand more silvers were planted this year. Spectacular fishing is expected this fall with fish from 3-5 pounds.

PLANS TO burn 50 acres in the Mendocino National Forest were announced by the U.S. Forest Service and the F. & G. Dept. This sounds like a good step in the right direction especially in areas where dense brush of little value as food for deer and other wildlife is concerned.

The Fish and Game Commission has revised its policy on season opening dates to provide a uniform statewide dove opener of Sept. 1. No season on doves may begin before Sept. 1. The usual Saturday opening on Sept. 5 would have been five days after the opening in Mexico and Arizona, so the commission adopted the Sept. 1 opening.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

In bowling, the wrist should be firm at all times. Should the wrist twist, the ball will probably have some sort of sidespin instead of the good, rolling motion needed.

Reno's VIP's Outlast The No-Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Reno's VIP's outlasted the KSFO No-Stars 11-9 Thursday night before more than 12,000 Cow Palace fans in a loosely-played softball game held annually for the benefit of the Police Athletic League.

David Hartman of the TV series "The Bold Ones" won the MVP award for slamming a three-run homer.

Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants also showed up long enough to belt a homer, but VIPs manager Reno Barsochinni managed somehow to convince scorekeepers that it was just a batting exhibition and should not count for real.

O'Dowd Cage Coach Gets Promotion

MORAGA (UPI)—Frank LaPorte, one of the winningest high school coaches in Northern California basketball, has been given the assistant varsity coaching job at St. Mary's College.

Athletic director Bruce Hale said LaPorte also will coach the frosh. LaPorte comes from Oakland's Bishop O'Dowd High School, where his clubs have amassed a tremendous won-lost record of 342-75.

Daily Hearings On Marin Budget Set

Public hearings will begin Monday at the Civic Center on the county's 1970-71 budget of more than $36 million, up about $3 million from the current year's budget.

Marin County Board of Supervisors will open two weeks of daily hearings in the supervisors' chambers on the third floor.

Three departments, human rights, new careers and the farm adviser, will be fighting for survival. Other department heads will be fighting to retain programs and personnel which have been recommended for cutbacks by County Administrator Alan Bruce.

The indicated tax rate is somewhere between $2.50 and $2.60 per $100 assessed valuation, as compared with this year's $2.395. Since the county schools office budget will be considered separately for the new fiscal year, the county rate will drop by about 10 cents, but the effect on taxpayers will be the same because they must foot the bills.

Here is the schedule of hearings, department by department:

MONDAY

Opening statements by the county administrator and auditor-controller. They will discuss managerial salaries not covered by contracts with bargaining units and other employee costs such as changes in retirement costs.

10:30 a.m. — Medical department.

11:15 a.m. — Public health.

1:45 p.m. — Weights and measures and agricultural commissioner, which the county administrator wants consolidated.

2:15 p.m. — Farm adviser, followed by veterans service, assessor, treasurer-tax collector, auditor-controller, and district attorney.

TUESDAY

No budget hearing because

Arab Rebels Free 58 Foreigners

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fifty-eight foreigners held hostage in Amman were reported released today, but Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported that a commando group was holding the widow of an American military attache killed by guerrillas in the Jordanian capital earlier this week.

A guerrilla organization in Beirut announced that the radical Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine this morning released the 58 Americans, Britons and other foreigners it had help captive for more than 36 hours in Amman's two main hotels.

Diplomats in the Lebanese capital confirmed the report, but had no details. Regular communication channels with the Jordanian capital were still cut.

The American woman reported a prisoner of the commandos was the widow of Maj. Robert P. Perry of Chicago, an attache of the U.S. Embassy in Amman

Hopes Rising For Bill On Coastline

By DAVID DIETZ

SACRAMENTO — Although time is running out, hope was still alive yesterday that the Legislature will vote this session on a measure to control development of the California coastline.

A behind-the-scenes effort to merge three bills, each creating a coastal regulating agency similar to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, has been under way since last month.

Although some progress is reported, one of the negotiators observed yesterday that legislative adjournment is near, possibly next month.

"The question is, is there enough time?" said a staff aide to Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, sponsor of one of the measures. Authors of the other two bills are Assemblymen George Milias, R-Gilroy, and Pete Wilson, R-San Diego.

Because of sharp differences over a feature of one of the bills, it was conceded that the negotiators might not reach agreement this year, although Sieroty's aide said there is a

SAUSALITO BARRICADE

Sandbags Traded For Shrubbery

By PAT ANGLE

Sausalito city crews today began removing controversial sandbags from a two-block portion of downtown bridgeway, replacing them with planter boxes filled with shrubs that promptly proved equally controversial.

The city parking ban along the street, which the sacks have been used to enforce, is still in effect. And downtown merchants, who say the removal of about 30 parking spaces in the area is seriously hurting their businesses, refused to be mollified by the exchange.

As public works employees used fork lifts to cart away the sandbags and bring in the plants, businessmen watched glumly from the sidewalks and made wry jokes about the proceedings.

"I'm sure the dogs of Sausalito will love these planters - but they'll be the only ones," cracked Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla Inn and vice president of the Sausalito Businessmen's Association, a group formed to fight the parking ban.

Miss Stanford peered closely at one of the planters. "God, it's full of crabgrass," she crowed triumphantly, "and old tin cans." She lifted a root beer can from among the plants. A few merchants laughed.

"Isn't this something," she continued, pointing to the work going on. "If the city council had any brains, they'd be dangerous and if they had any sense, they wouldn't have started this no-parking business in the first place."

On a more serious note, Robert D. Bauerle, president of the association, said the sandbag removal was "not a concession of any kind" on the part of the city.

"They are using the sandbags to cover up the main issue," Bauerle said. "The situation remains exactly the same - the parking is still gone and the businessmen are hurting and we are still going to fight to get that parking ban lifted."

Yesterday the association filed in Marin Superior Court asking for a writ of mandate to force the city to remove the bags, but most of the businessmen assembled agreed today's

THORESEN'S WIFE DENIES TWO CHARGES

FRESNO (UPI) — Louise Thoresen, who married steel heir William E. Thoresen III in a "Cinderella wedding" and spent a decade in homes he turned into arsenals, pleaded innocent today to killing him with one of his own guns. (See photo of gun collection, page 2.)

Calm and composed in a bright yellow dress, the 33-year-old Mrs. Thoresen answered "not guilty" to charges of murder and marijuana possession.

She was arrested after the body of her 32-year-old husband, shot repeatedly in the chest, was found Wednesday in an upstairs bedroom of their Fresno home.

Unbalanced Reagan Budget Up To Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's 1970 budget battle moved to the Senate today where members set the stage for debate on their trimmed-down version of Gov Reagan's unbalanced $6.48 billion spending bill.

The Assembly unexpectedly passed its budget bill Thursday, 54-16, after Republicans and Democrats deadlocked over how to go about cutting the measure to meet a $141 million deficit.

Chairman Frank Lanterman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee finally gave up efforts to return the budget to committee for revision. He angrily told lower house Democrats, "You leave me no alternative but to send it as it is right now over to the Senate."

The Assembly did just that, with the help of 16 Democratic votes, despite these cautionary words of Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda:

"We are the laughing stock of the legislature and the state if we send an unbalanced budget to the Senate."

The Senate's version was trimmed down by about $100 million to $6.38 billion by the Finance Committee by way of a 1.6 per cent across-the-board cut — branded an irresponsible approach by Lanterman, R-La Canada.

Senate debate had been planned for today, but that was delayed partly by Democrats' reluctance to vote so soon and the mechanics involved in the Senate's receipt of the Assembly-approved measure.

Chairman Donald L. Grunsky, R-Watsonville, of the Senate Finance Committee, expects some opposition from senators who don't like the "meat ax" 1.6 per cent blanket cut. But he thinks he has the 27 votes required for passage in the 40-member house.

Republicans control the Senate 21-19 and have a 40-39 edge

REPORT: CAMBODIA CEDING BIG AREA

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government, faced with sharply mounting pressure from the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, has decided reluctantly to cede almost half the country to enemy control, well informed sources said today.

The disclosure came as military sources reported that enemy troops seized nearly half of the provincial capital of Kompong Speu, 30 miles south of Phnom Penh in heavy fighting.

Refugees from the town, which lies on the only highway open to Cambodia's major port of Kompong Som, formerly Sihanoukville, said the enemy held the central market and virtually all of that part of the town which lies south of a river bisecting it.

Western military experts termed the decision to cede territory to the enemy realistic, and said that even by concentrating its forces around Phnom Penh and northwest of the capital, the government will have only a 50-50 chance of surviving the next four or five months of monsoon rains.

The threat to the port of Kompong Som, through which all of Phnom Penh's fuel and other vital supplies must pass could have critical consequences.

Enemy troops also made a strong attack 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh in what could be a prelude to new assaults on the key Mekong River town of Kompong Cham.

Spokesmen said the fighting at Siem Reap, near the Angkor temple ruins, had subsided, but strong enemy forces were still in the area.

The diplomats said Premier Lon Nol's government, in assessing its prospects, had written off the extensive eastern territory in which U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have been operating. With its army and strategic reserves already spread dangerously thin, the sources said the government realizes that much of the area east and south of Phnom Penh will revert to Communist control if the U.S. and South Vietnamese leave.

Reports from Kompong Speu, indicated the fighting was still going on. A government spokesman said he considered the attack a threat to Phnom Penh, even though the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have penetrated much closer to the capital in the past.

"The Communists have never given up the idea of attacking Phnom Penh one day," the spokesman said.

American and South Vietnamese spokesmen reported several new flareups of fighting with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units along the Cambodia-

Brooklyn Fires Erupt; Firemen Need Protection

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fires which burned out a supermarket and several shops and vacant tenements in a Brooklyn ghetto area were brought under control today by firemen who were escorted into the area by police after reports of snipers.

New York Fire Chief John O'Jagan said there was a half-hour delay in sending firemen to the scene because they had been "targets for thrown missiles, including rocks and bottles" through a night of racial disturbances in the East New York and Brownsville secaions. Most of the fires were reported out by 8 a. m. EDT.

"When the small arms fire started we would not allow our men into the area," O'Hagan said in answer to questions about the firefighting delay.

The supermarket and a number of shops were reported to have been looted and a police radio car was firebombed. The burned tenements had been slated for demolition as part of an urban renewal program in the predominantly black neighborhood,

It was the first serious racial outbreak of the summer in New York and came after a day os searing heat which hit 91 degrees. There were no reports of injuries but at least eight persons were arrested. The trouble was triggered by police attempts to arrest looters in the East New York supermarket.

Asked if there actually had been any small arms fire in Brownsville, O'Hagan said: "Listen, I spoke to policemen who were on the scene who know what they're talking about and the report seems to be valid."

A spokesman for Mayor Lindsay, however, said the sniper reports were unconfirmed and were "just rumors." There was no foundation to the sniper reports, the spokesman said.

Order was restored in the area later in the morning. Police escorted firemen into the area and by 6 a.m. (EDT) the blazes were limited to small rubbish fires in and around the block of buildings.

FRESNO ARSENAL

Federal agent William Bertalani is surrounded by some of the weapons found in the home of William Thoresen III, who was shot to death Wednesday. The gun collector's wife, Louise, 33, was arraigned yesterday on charges of murder and of possessing marijuana for sale, after investigators found 50 pounds of the weed in the couple's Fresno home, along with dynamite, grenades, guns and ammunition. Resounding Loss For ABM Foes; Financing Bill Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejecting a last-ditch attempt to kill the Safeguard antimissile system, the House has passed a $1.99 billion military construction appropriation.

Approved 308 to 57 Thursday and sent to the Senate, the measure includes $365.8 million for Safeguard development, construction and housing.

But an effort by Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., to eliminate most of the Safeguard funds was defeated 98 to 26.

Quoting previous Defense Department testimony on Capitol Hill, Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., said the antiballistic missile system is unreliable.

"An ABM system that doesn't knock out 100 per cent of these incoming missiles permits destruction of New York City and some of our other cities and it's worthless," Giaimo said.

Spokesmen for the ABM system included Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., who said the system will be made to work, and Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, R-Mich., who told his opponents on the issue: "If I'm wrong we lose money. But if you're wrong we lose the country."

A Relative Calm Returns To Isla Vista

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Relative calm returned to the strife torn Isla Vista student community Thursday ending five successive nighst of violence.

Only three persons were arrested compared to a total of 667 for the prior five nights during an illegal sit-in and clashes between nearly 300 officers and bands of rock-throwing young persons.

There were only minor incidents of rock throwing late Thursday and two reports of trash fires in the 15-square-block area adjacent to the University of California.

The dusk to dawn curfew was relaxed earlier in the day to 11 p.m. except in a two-square-block area encompassing perfect park and the hard-hit branch of the Bank of America.

About 100 deputies and highway patrolmen moved into the area shortly before the curfew and sealed it off. Up to 600 students gathered on the outskirts of the line of officers but there was no violence.

"They (the officers) talked with the kids and gained a good rapport. When 11 p.m. came everybody went home," said Sheriff Lt. Michael Swan.

Earlier, Gov. Ronald Reagan had authorized the use of the National Guard in the troubled area. The action came after the county supervisors, meeting in emergency session, asked the governor to declare a state of emergency and send in sufficient troops to maintain order. The National Guard was not called in, however.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Yes, KKK In Army

TUSCALOOSA, Ala, (UPI) — Robert M. Shelton, Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America, said Thursday the Klan has units in the armed forces, both in the United States and abroad.

Shelton made the statement after being told the Army was reoptining its investigation into charges a Ku Klux Klan Klavern is operating in an American unit based in West Gemany.

"Yes, we have Klan units in the Army and in the Army in Germany," Shelton said. "And, before it's over, we're going to have the Klan in every town and village and hamlet in the United States."

Reds To Ink Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist party chief Leonid I. Brehznev will travel to Bucharest early in July to sign a long-delayed Soviet-Romanian friendship treaty, Tass reported today.

The official Soviet news agency called it "an official friendly visit at the invitation of the Central Committee to the Romanian Communist party and government." It gave no specific date.

Enlistments Plunge

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected drop in Army enlistments last month could herald trouble for Pentagon hopes of cutting the draft to as low as 150,000 men this year.

The Army said enlistments in May totaled 7,629—nearly 3,500 below the month's objective.

Officials were unable to explain the drop, except to note a sharp upturn in antiwar demonstration during May as a result of the U.S. drive into Cambodia.

Defense officials indicated they will pay close attention to the trend in enlistments this month and next—when the end of school traditionally brings more volunteers—in hopes the situation ights itself.

Any deficit in enlistments is made up by increasing draft calls in future months.

The Pentagon Thusday announced a July draft call of 15,000 young men for the Army.

Simple Celebration

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines today observed the 72nd anniversary of its declaration of independence from Spain amid a government mood of belt-tightening austerity.

The traditional Independence Day parade was not held, and Philippine embassies and consulates around the world were instructed to keep their festivities simple.

Wingless, But Flies

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — A wingless craft under consideration as part of a projected space shuttle program performed satisfactorily in the first of a series of tests in which an engine was used during its landing approach.

The HL10, piloted Thursday by Air Force Maj. Pete C. Hoag is a project of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

It was dropped from a bomber at 45,000 feet. Then the "wingless wedge," as it has been called, glided to a perfect landing. It is also known as a "lifting body."

The craft had been dropped from the "mother plane" at a 16-degree angle, but Hoag ignited three rocket engines in the course of a 3½-minute flight.

Bonn Envoy To Brazil Is Kidnaped

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Police seeking clues in the kidnaping of West Germany's ambassador to Brazil today reported finding a burned out car which may have been used in the getaway. The kidnapers killed a bodyguard and wounded another in a hail of machine gun fire,

The abduction Thursday night of Ambassador Ehrenfried Von Holleben was the ninth diplomatic kidnaping in Latin America since September and the third in a year in Brazil. The kidnapers demanded release of political prisoners held by the Brazilian government.

ONE MURDER

The West German Ambassador in Guatemala, Count Karl Von Spreti, was kidnaped last March by terrorists who murdered him when the government refused to meet ransom demands.

Detectives trying to find Von Holleben and some trace of his leftwing kidnapers today reported discovery of the burned car, a Volkswagen, in the outlying Barra da Tijuca neighborhood on North River Street.

In Bonn, West German Foreign Minister Walter Scheel said today he has taken both "conventional and unconventional steps" to arrange the release of Von Holleben. He did not elaborate on these steps.

"The Brazilian government is deeply interested in bringing about Von Holeben's release," Schele said at a news conference. "I have the impression the Brazilian government will do everything necessary to arrange his release.

PAST EXPERIENCE

"Experience in Brazil has been that the government there is able to bring about the release of kidnaped diplomats."

Scheel was apparently recalling the abduction of U.S. Ambassador C. Burke Elbrick on Sept. 4, 1969, by leftwing guerrilla groups. He was freed four days later when the government met ransom demands and released 15 political prisoners.

Von Holleben was kidnaped as he was driving him from the West Germany Embassy.

Agnew, Humphrey Agree On One Thing—Economic Gloom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Depending on which vice president you listen to, either the Democrats or the Republicans are to blame for the present state of the U.S. economy and voters will lower the boom on the guilty party in November.

Speaking in Washington Thursday night, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said the previous Democratic administrations are responsible for both the inflation and the Southeast Asian war and "for the first time in eight years somebody is trying to do something about the cost of living."

He also credited President Nixon with being the first chief executive "trying to get us out of that war."

Agnew's remarks were made to some 500 Republican congressional candidates, their wives and campaign aides attending a candidates' conference here.

But at the same time former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told a Democratic audience in New York that the economy will be the primary issue in the 1970 congressional elections and he charged that the Nixon administration "has done nothing to help" the current inflationary situation.

Humphrey, who is expected to announce Saturday he will be a candidate for U.S. senator from Minnesota, predicted great gains for the Democrats in the fall elections.

Humphrey also praised the Senate's Thursday action defeating an amendment that would have authorized Nixon to send U.S. ground troops into Cambodia after July 1 whenever the President felt it necessary to protect American forces in South Vietnam.

"All steps must be taken to withdraw our troops from Indochina as soon as possible," Humphrey told the $1,000-a-plate dinner audience.

But in Washington, Agnew called the Senate's 52-47 defeat of the proposal by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., a "grave mistake on the part of that distinguished body."

Sharks Kill 22

MANILA (UPI)—Sharks devoured 22 persons from a Philippine fishing boat that capsized in a storm 300 miles southwest of Manila, the Philippine News Service said today. The report said 22 other persons aboard the boat, the M.V. Baby Princesa, were rescued by other fishing boats.

Senators Hit Navy Bay Fill Project

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A Senate committee yesterday approved a resolution calling upon the Navy to comply with regulations of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission in its plans for a 95-acre fill project.

The measure, SR 225 by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, was approved by a voice vote of the Governmental Organization Committee and sent to the Senate floor.

"We're not taking on the Navy," Marks said. "We're pleased to have them in the bay, but we don't want to fill up the bay."

The Navy has announced plans to fill a former seaplane base for expansion at Alameda Naval Air Station but has reminded BCDC it is exempt from the commission's regulations as a federal agency.

The commission has strict controls over bay filling.

Alvin Baum, deputy director of BCDC, said letters had been sent to Navy brass asking compliance with commission regulations but no reply has been received.

Bill To Hike Supervisors' Pay Voted

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly Local Government Committee yesterday passed legislation that would raise the salaries of Marin's five supervisors from $12,000 to $14,000 annually.

The annual pay of $15,996 for Sonoma supervisors would remain unchanged under the legislation, AB 468 by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond.

The hike for Marin supervisors would be effective in January.

E. L. Ball, general manager of the County Taxpayers' League of Sacramento County, objected that the legislation interfered with home rule because it removes from grand juries the power to recommend supervisors' salaries.

Assemblymen Clear Bill To Expand Public Records Act

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to guard against misuse of personal records contained in computers cleared an Assembly committee yesterday.

The bill, described earlier by Bagley as a "legislative first," was approved by the Governmental Organization Committee and sent to the Ways and Means Committee.

The legislation (AB 1982), part of a three-bill package designed to stiffen Bagley's 1968 Public Records Act, would require state and local agencies to adopt procedures for making computerized public records available, guarantee a person's right to inspect his own record and make changes and require investigators to state the reason for probing a citizen's record.

It would also prohibit the bulk sale by county clerks of voter registration records.

Bagley told the committee the prospect of interconnected data banks and the "ultimate horror, a national data bank," made the legislation necessary.

The committee passed to the Assembly floor a second bill in the package (AB 1981), which would bring the state banking, savings and loan, corporations and insurance departments within the Public Records Act.

Senators Kill Measure Hiking Car Licenses

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The Senate Governmental Organization Committee yesterday killed legislation authorizing a $1 boost in motor vehicle registration fees to pay for a three-year auto pollution research program.

The measure, SB 977 by Sen. William E. Coombs, R-Rialto, would have switched the power to conduct auto smog research from the state Air Resources Board to a new Motor Vehicle Air Pollution Research Board.

Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, objected to the fee increase as a tax. The boost would have been imposed for only one year and raised $12 million.

Marks said he is the author of rival legislation supported by Gov. Ronald Reagan that would raise research funds through the sale of personalized license plates.

Sen. George E. Danielson, D-Los Angeles, opposed the extra fee, he said, because it meant Californians would be paying for research to be applied worldwide.

The measure was backed by the Automobile Club of Southern California and the California State Automobile Association.

Vote Shelves Bill To Curb Open Meets

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to enable local governing bodies to meet behind closed doors to discuss the sale or puchase of property has died for the current legislative session.

The bill, SB 1034 by Sen. Clark L. Bradley, R-San Jose, was shelved for interim study yesterday by the Senate Governmental Organization Committee, which apparently held enough votes to kill the measure.

The bill would have added to the purposes under which agencies are permitted to meet in private under the state's Ralph M. Brown Act.

Guerrillas Release 58 Foreigners In Jordan

who was killed by a group of guerrillas who invaded his residence Wednesday at the height of the fighting between the Palestinians and Jordanian troops.

Earlier reports said Mrs. Perry and two of their three children were present when Perry was killed, but the Egyptian report today made no mention of the children. Nor did it give the circumstances of the reported capture of the woman.

As the Palestine guerrillas refused to be satisfied by concessions from King Hussein of Jordan and made new demands, U.S. officials were preparing to evacuate about 400 Americans living in Jordan.

In Washington, the White House said only "precautionary planning" was being done. But a representative of the International Red Cross arrived in Amman today to arrange the evacuation, and three Lebanese jetliners were standing by in Beirut to fly the evacuees to Athens.

Subsequently, the State Department said in Washington that the airlift to evacuate the Americans would enter Jordan today. A spokesman said planes have received landing permission from Jordan authorities.

The spokesman also said it was understood by the department that the hostages held by the guerrillas are being released.

Hussein made major concession to the guerrillas Thursday by dismissing his uncle from command of his army and removing a cousin from command of an army division that had spearheaded the battle against the guerrillas in Amman. But Al Fatah, the largest of the commando organizations, said in a broadcast from Cairo that this was only "the beginning of victory for the people."

It demanded that the king renounce his commitment to a political settlement with Israel and said only such a "radical solution" could end the strife in Jordan in which more than 700 persons are reported to have been killed or wounded.

The broadcast demanded that the king join the guerrillas in their commitment to "liberate" Israel from Jewish domination. It also demanded "the liquidation of America's entire fifth column in Jordan."

"What is needed is a radical solution, not merely decisions written on paper or broadcast on the radio," Al Fatah said.

Telephone communications with Amman were still cut off, and the electricity there was out for the third day as the result of guerrilla rocket hits on the power station. Operating on an emergency transmitter, Amman Radio called on government employees to stand by for repair work on the city's water supply system.

In the Arab-Israeli war, a Lebanese military spokesman reported that two civilians were killed and three wounded by a three-hour Israeli artillery barrage on a Lebanese village in the central part of the Lebanese-Israeli border. One house was destroyed and another damaged, the spokesman said, adding that Lebanese units returned the fire.

On the Suez Canal front, Israeli commandos crossed the canal at both ends Thursday night. The Israeli command said they killed about 20 soldiers and destroyed bunkers in a strip of fortifications north of El Quantara, and that four Israeli soldiers were killed and 15 wounded. Cairo claimed both attacks were foiled and 25 of the raiders were killed, drowned or wounded.

Officers said Miss Eichhorn was traveling east on Nave Drive and failed to yield the right-of-way to the Cherva vehigood chance a single bill will be written if the authors themselves are able to sit down and air disagreements.

He explained much of the negotiating to date has been done by staff because of the busy Assembly schedule.

If a lone bill does emerge before the Assembly Natural Resources Committee, where the package is stalled, Sieroty's aide said he expects a fight bigger than the one over BCDC last year.

"This is potentially the biggest conservation issue in the State of California," he said.

The aide said the major hurdle to an agreement is deciding the degree of local control over decision-making. Wilson's bill emphasizes this, but Sieroty and Milias feel it is too strong.

Mlias told the Independent-Journal that "hard rock opposition" to the bills is coming largely from local and county governments in Southern California. The Natural Recources Committee, which Milias chairs, took testimony on the bills last month. He added that a lobbyist for the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors said the board stiffly opposes relinquishing coastline jurisdiction to the state.

"We don't see why the state should pre-empt us," said lobbyist F. M. McLaughlin.

Oil and power companies also are reportedly critical of the measures.

"The horror of this," Sieroty's aide said, "is that there will be a big fight once we get a bill but we have to get a bill first."

He said only moderate public interest in the legislation had surfaced but believed it would increase when and if a single bill is agreed upon.

Each of the three measures would create regional commissions in addition to a state board, with membership and the number of regional bodies varying under each bill.

Master plans for coastal use would be required within two to four years.

"We must insure that a bill passed by the Natural Resources Committee is the strongest, most conservationist-oriented one and has the best safeguards for preservation of the coastline," Sieroty's aide said.

"We are going to need a lot of grassroots help from all over the state if we are going to make it," Milias said.

Vietnam border to the south and east. Eighty-two enemy soldiers were listed as killed.

Six Americans were killed and 29 wounded in Cambodian fighting. The heaviest toll was three killed and 19 wounded when enemy troops ambushed a mechanized infantry unit near Minot, the second incident of its kind in two days. One North Vietnamese soldier was known dead.

The U.S. command said in a delayed report that a 10-member Viet Cong sapper team tried to break into the U.S. Navy air base at Cam Ranh Bay early Thursday. They got through the outer defenses but were stopped short of the main gate by guards' gunfire, spokesmen said. Two were killed, one was captured, and the rest escaped. Six Americans were wounded in the brief encounter.

Motorcyclist Hurt In Dog Accident

A 22-year-old Novato man was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for treatment after his motorcycle hit a dog at 8:15 p.m. yesterday at 1510 Armstrong Avenue.

Novato police said Frederick Geiger of 72 Western Drive was injured, but Hamilton hospital officials were unable to supply details.

Senate Nips Bid To Tie Army Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated Friday a move to cut the money out of the military sales bill, after hearing a warning that such action might complicate efforts to aid Israel.

The action came just one day after the Senate, in a decision likely to prove more symbolic than substantial, paved the way for expected approval next week of the proposal to curb future U.S. activities in Cambodia.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., sought to cut the funds out so that, in the future, the executive branch would have to submit detailed lists of proposed sales of military arms and equipment. At present, these can be financed out of the lump sums authorized in the bill.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., one of the Senate's leading advocates of the plan to provide jets for Israel, opposed the amendment, warning "It would result in holding it up, tying it up at a moment when we shouldn't."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, floor manager of the sales bill which has been the vehicle for the Senate's month-long debate on U.S. involvement in Cambodia, also opposed Williams' amendment.

The Williams amendment affected $250 million in cash for each of the next two years and $300 million in credits for each year that would be authorized by the pending legislation.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said the United States has sold jet planes to Arab nations under the sales bill and is currently training some 1,250 Arab pilots in the United States.

BUDGET

in the Assembly with one vacancy.

Sen. George Moscone of San Francisco, the Democratic leader, said, "I don't see any great sentiment (among Democrats) for voting for it."

Moscone said he would detail Democratic objections on the Senate floor after studying the latest version of the Senate measure.

The Republican Reagan administration proposed that the bulk of the deficit be made up by cutting various welfare programs and higher education spending — including professors' salary increases and postponing construction projects.

A final compromise will be worked out in a Senate-Assembly conference committee dominated 4-2 by Republicans.

Grunsky said he felt the budget-making process was moving well enough so that he didn't expect the type of budget crisis the state went through last year.

California went three days into the new fiscal year without a budget — something that had never happened before. Democrats held out their votes until they got promises from Reagan for new school funds.

They want more school money this year, too, but appear to be using Reagan's $1 billion tax reform package as the lever for that in 1970.

BAGS

removal by the city was no victory at all.

There were mutterings about "taking it to the supreme court if necessary," and Miss Stanford received nods and smiles from the tiny group of onlookers when she offered to finance a recall of the city council.

The council ordered the no-parking area on Bridgeway between Princes sand Anchor streets last month and it went into effect May 25. City officials say its purpose is to alleviate traffic congestion in the downtown business district and make the street easier to clean.

Across the street from the merchants, in city hall, Acting City Mgr. H. Eric Borgwardt, who ordered the bags replaced by planters Wednesday, said, "I can only feel the use of planters will substantially enhance the appearance of the area. This will remove a great deal of the stigma generated by the sandbags themselves."

Borgwardt said the planters being used have been taken from city parking lots. He also indicated the sandbags will be put to good use, with the sand "probably" going to the city's Tiffany Beach Park which, because of tidal movement, suffers from a distinct lack of the grainy substance.

Thief Gets A Decoy Bank Bag

A thief Wednesday night stole $10 in small change and a grey bank bag containing newspaper cut to the size of paper money from Marin Auto Parts, 425 Irwin Street, San Rafael Police reported today.

Manager Holly Peake told police the decoy bank bag was placed where the money was previously kept because the store had been broken into three times previously.

A $40 glass door was broken to enter the store between 7:30 and 9:20 p.m., police said.

Repeat Is Planned For Ballet Program

The Sherri Gaya Dance Company has announced that it will repeat a modern jazz and rock ballet interpretation of the "Scarlet Letter" at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Sir Francis Drake High School's Little Theater.

Performance will also be given at 8 p.m. on June 19 and 20 at Tamalpais High School.

$2,400 Haul In Theft At Lagunitas Lodge

Burglars who broke into the Lagunitas Lodge on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Lagunitas Tuesday stole cash, jewelry and alcohol valued at over $2,400, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

The thieves had ransacked both the family living quarters and public area of the lodge, according to the officers.

The $36,000 mortgage on the Terra Linda Recreation-Park District Center will be burned at a party open to the public to be given at 8 p.m. on June 20 at the center, 670 Delganado Road, Terra Linda.

Minor Quakes Shake Danville

DANVILLE (UPI) — Minor and moderate earthquakes—more than 40 in 16 hours—rattled the Danville-Walnut Creek area Thursday night and today.

Seismologists at the University of California said the most severe jolt was at 8:30 p.m. Thursday and had a 4.3 magnitude on the Richter scale, not large enough to cause damage.

The Richter scale measures the energy output of quakes with a logarithmic progression of numbers. The San Francisco disaster of 1906 was registered at 8.25.

Five Students Hurt In Wreck

Five San Rafael High School students sustained minor injuries in a collision at Third and High streets yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

A car driven by Pamela S. Wendell, 16, 12 Dominican Drive, collided at 1:46 p.m. with one driven by Kerry E. Hickey, 17, 343 D Street.

Both drivers and three passengers in the Wendell car were to see their own doctors for treatment. Two passengers in the Hickey car were not injured.

A 27-year-old man was held in lieu of $3,125 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on suspicion of embezzling a rental car from a Mill Valley service station.

Andrew Robert Valleau, of no known address, was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday after his arrest in Orange County earlier this week.

Mill Valley police said Valleau rented a 1970 Ford belonging to Hertz Rent-A-Car from I and M Shell Service, 485 Miller Avenue, on April 28 and failed to return it.

San Anselmo To Try Wage Team

The San Anselmo City Council last night abandoned its traditional practice of negotiating directly with employees on salary matters and adopted a resolution naming the city attorney and city manager as a two-man wage negotiating team.

The council voted 4-1 — with Woodward V. Capurro dissenting — to end direct negotiations between the council and city employees.

The resolution, which goes into effect immediately, calls for City Atty. John G. Buresh and City Mgr. Alfred C. Kaeppel to meet with a committee made up of one employee from each of the city's departments.

Under the new setup, each department will have 10 days in which to elect its representative. The representative will be elected by secret ballot.

Mayor James F. Reed, in pushing for adoption of the resolution, said the change would put an end to ". . .collective begging." He noted that almost all of the other Marin County cities now use the negotiating team concept.

Capurro opposed the resolution and favored dealing directly with employees. "This just opens the city up to labor relations problems," he added.

After passage of the resolution, which came at the beginning of last night's budget session, the council set next Thursday at 8 p.m. as the date of a closed session to meet with the new team to discuss the salary negotiations. The council has not discussed salary proposals during its current budget study.

The council had hoped to get through the entire public works department budget last night but bogged down badly in the street maintenance section, about halfway through the budget.

Before bogging down, the council did give tentative approval to the board of design proposed budget of $1,401, the planning commission budget of $53,661 and the engineering and administration budget of $38,591. The council made no changes in the board of design and the planning commission budgets but did add $2,424 to the engineering budget for the hiring of a part-time typist.

The council debated for nearly 45 minutes on whether to budget aproximately $20,000 this year for financing the city's general plan, even though the plan failed to qualify this year for state or federal fund assistance. The council finally decided to leave the money in the budget since it had been budgeted last year and is merely a transfer from the reserves this year. The council decided that having the money earmarked for the study would help the plan qualify for state and federal money when it is resubmitted.

The street maintenance budget held the attention of the council for well over an hour because City Eng. Charles R. Leitzell asked for $251,471 and Kaeppel recommended only $147,997.

Leitzell told the council that the city needed $16,380 in resurfacing work and $110,700 in road improvement, but Kaeppel recommended only $7,110 in resurfacing money and $40,000 in road improvement funds.

"This area was extremely difficult for me to cut," Kaeppel said. "I was hoping we could do something forward looking in the way of improving our streets. But we only have so much money to run the city with."

Leitzell told the council the city tries to resurface or otherwise renovate five miles of road each year.

Councilmen agreed the city could not afford Leitzell's complete program and, with the hour growing late, asked him to draw up a priority list for the necessary road work for next Wednesday's budget meeting.

They are scheduled to study the parks and recreation and library budgets Tuesday night. Both meetings are scheduled for 8 p.m. in city hall.

Ex-Marinite Hospitalized In Slaying

LONDON (AP) — The daughter of former world heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney was committed to a mental hospital today after admitting she bludgeoned her husband to death last Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Joan Tunney Wilkinson, formerly of Tiburon, 30, had pleaded guilty to manslaughter on the grounds of diminished responsibility in the death of her 31-year-old husband, Lynn Carter Wilkinson, in their rented cottage.

The Old Bailey criminal court here was told by a psychiatrist that Mrs. Wilkinson had suffered from schizophrenia for nine years and there was a real danger of her committing further unprovoked homicidal attacks.

Prosecutor Alan de Piro recommended that Mrs. Wilkinson be detained at the maximum security hospital at Broadmoor "without limitation on time."

Judge Carl Aarvold ordered her to be detained there. The judge said it was quite clear she was in great need of help from the medical services. He said he was satisfied she was suffering from mental illness.

Wilkinson's body was found in his bed. The couples' two daughters, Alexandra, 6, and Erin, 3, were in the house at the time, as was Wilkinson's mother.

Trustees To Get Redwood Report

The Tamalpais High School District board will hear an evaluation of Redwood High School's "academic campus expansion" — a modified form of open campus — when it meets at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the district office.

Redwood Principal Donald Kreps will relate how the program has worked in its first year. Seniors are allowed to leave the campus for independent study and other specified reasons.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in closed session to discuss the progress of salary negotiations for 1970-71.

Air Force Exams Set In San Rafael

Examinations leading to qualifying in various activities of the Air Force will be given every Tuesday at 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. in room B-10, 910 D Street, San Rafael, T/Sgt. Bennie Montoya has announced.

All male and female high school graduates and seniors may take the examinations.

Human Rights Budget Alternatives Drafted

The Marin County Human Rights Commission decided last night to present three possible human rights department budgets to choose from at a county budget hearing at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday.

The proposals, along with the commission's opinions on what kind of human rights department each would produce, are to be given the board of supervisors in lieu of a budget recommendation.

Proposals are for budgets of $77,484, which would allow expansion of the human rights department staff and of programs; $56,745, which would provide approximately the same programs and staff in fiscal 1970-71 as in 1969-70 with a $52,751 budget; and $46,746, which would cut programs and staff.

County Administrator Alan Bruce has proposed that the supervisors eliminate the paid staff of the human rights department and continue the human rights commission with a $1,000 budget, a move which prompted the resignation of a department staff member and statements from six commissioners that they would resign if the proposal were accepted.

Thompson requested the $77,484 budget and produced $46,746 as the least figure which would keep the department alive. He said that with that budget "we can exist; I'm not sure that we can do an effective job."

Bruce advanced the $56,745 figure before he made his proposal to eliminate the department, according to Thompson.

The County Human Rights Commission Also:

DISCRIMINATION — Supported California legislation to forbid sex discrimination in hiring and proposed that the county adopt comparable legislation.

SCHOOL LUNCH — Supported legislation to allow school districts to use tax money for new school lunch programs.

FARM ADVISOR'S OFFICE —Recommended to the board of supervisors that the farm adviser's office and county budget contributions to the 4-H Club program be continued.

RIGHTS BILL — Supported California Assembly Bill 2417 standerdizing rights and duties for human relations commissions.

COMMENDATION — Requested the board of supervisors to commend former field representative Joyce M. Bailey, student representative Alan Mills and housing consultant Ursula Gaaley for outstanding work with the commission.

UNIONIZATION AND SEWAGE — Agreed to discuss inadequacies of sewer treatment plants on Richardson Bay and the desirability of unionization of the Sausalito and Mill Valley school districts at their next meeting at 8 p.m. July 9 in the planning commission chambers of the civic center.

Hope Applauds Cambodian Plan

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Entertainer Bob Hope believes history will show the United States not only saved Vietnam but also India and Southeast Asia.

Hope, addressing the graduating class of the University of Nevada at Las Vegas Thursday, predicted U. S. troops will be out of Vietnam in a year and a half. He said he supported President Nixon's move into Cambodia but said the announcement was handled poorly.

He said the announcement made it sound as if the United States were moving into another war rather than backing the leaders of Cambodia and eliminating enemy sanctuaries.

Hope was presented with his 16th honorary degree, a doctorate of humane letters. He is not a college graduate.

Hub Planners To Eye Federal Insurance

A federal plan to subsidize flood and mudslide insurance for property owners will be discussed when the San Anselmo Planning Commission meets at 8 p.m. Monday at city hall.

The commission also will hear a request by Grant Perkins, John P. McGinnis and Max F. Holsinger for apartment zoning of two lots on Essex Avenue, now in commercial and one-family residential zoning.

Hoffman Selected Engineer For Ross

The Ross Town Council last night appointed Roy H. Hoffman of San Rafael as town engineer. He succeeds Philip B. Lygren who died May 15.

Hoffman, who is with the San Rafael engineering and planning firm of Hoffman and Albritton, is also town engineer of Larkspur.

In his application Hoffman noted that he or a member of his firm had several times served as acting Ross town engineer on specific projects in which Lygren was directly involved as a private consultant.

Hoffman won the job from two other competitors, Ray W. Foreaker Jr. of Foreaker-Berini Site Engineering Inc. of San Rafael and the firm of Dan Coleman Associates of Greenbrae.

The Ross Town Council Also:

DRAKE — Accepted improvements in the surface and traffic signals on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Lagunitas Road and Laurel Grove Avenue, but deducted $2,275 from the $7,395 bill for the signals because Hundley Co. Inc. of Los Angeles was late in installing them.

SHADY LANE — Accepted improvements at Lagunitas Road and Shady Lane, but specifically excluded work done to roadway withm the 1 Shady Lane subdivision. Approval was subject to one year's maintenance of the road improvements by the developer.

MAP EXTENSION — Granted a one-year extension to H. D. Pischel of Canyon Road for filing a final parcel map so he can clear up discrepancies. Councilman Roy F. Jones abstained.

LYGREN — Passed a resolution commending Lygren for his work during five years as town engineer and ordered that a copy of the resolution be sent to his wife.

REAL ESTATE — Instructed the Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott, to draw up an ordinance requiring owners to provide zoning information for prospective property buyers for introduction at the next meeting, July 9.

CREEK BLOCKAGE — Asked Elliott to draw up a resolution for introduction July 9 similar to a county one that would make landowners adjoining creeks keep their portion of a creek or water course unobstructed or bear the cost of having it cleared.

ALARMS — Directed the town attorney to draw up for introduction at the next meeting an ordinance governing burglar and fire alarms.

ARMSBY CIRCLE — Decided against buying Armsby Circle and told Paul Neese of Armsby Circle he may buy the land under the circle if he wants it.

LANDSCAPE — Decided to accept the offer of a $448 per year three-year contract for landscaping work in the town beginning fiscal 1970-71. The previous rate was $435 annually.

CARMEL — Voted to contribute $25 to Carmel to help defray Carmel's expense of $8,000 in successfully challenging in court a law that would have required disclosure of funds by public officials.

ABAG — Decided to endorse Mill Valley Councilman Jean Barnard as alternate delegate to the Association of Bay Area Governments at the June 24 meeting of Marin mayors and councilmen.

SCHOOL MEETING — Authorized councilmen Ralph C. Walker and Jewell Osterloh, who was absent, to plan a joint meeting of the council and the Ross School District board with two board members June 22.

PLANS — Officially thanked Justin Foster and John J. Fitzgerald III, two College of Marin engineering students, for drawing a lot-by-lot map of Ross that would have cost $1,200 if done by professionals.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to the July 9 meeting in memory of Lygren.

Guilty Plea By Ex-Convict In Theft Of Yacht

A 30-year-old ex-convict from Corning, Glenn County, admitted yesterday in Marin Municipal Court that he stole a $60,000 yacht belonging to San Francisco nightclub owner Joseph Finocchio.

Duane Le Roy Dittus, was ordered to appear in Superior Court Monday for setting of a sentencing date on the grand theft conviction.

Dittus was arrested aboard the "Lady Eve III" in Tomales Bay early Wednesday and was also accused of having property aboard stolen from other San Rafael yachts.

This charge as well as counts of having stolen a boat from a Long Beach man and wrecking it were dismissed yesterday when Dittus pleaded guilty to the yacht charge.

The yacht was reported missing Monday and Dittus was done aboard the vessel when wo deputies rowed out to it when it was seen anchored in Marconi cove.

According to sheriff's officers Dittus arrived at Lowrie's Yacht harbor about a month ago aboard the boat taken from the Long Beach man. This 23-foot cruiser, was later found scuttled near Angel Island.

Branson Boys Campus Nod Is Requested

Katharine Branson School in Ross, is renewing plans and preparations for a separate campus for boys in Kentfield despite threatened legal action from Kentfield residents.

Katharine Branson officials Monday will ask the county zoning administrator to grant a use permit to start a boarding and day high school on 10.5 acres at the corner of Laurel Grove Avenue and Hanken Drive, site of Dominican Order noviate.

When the school announced its proposed expansion in January, about 50 Kentfield property owners circulated a petition opposing the school because it would increase noise and traffic in the quiet residential area.

Some opponents notified Branson authorities law suits would be filed if planning was not halted.

Hearing on the use permit will be at 2:30 p.m. in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center before Deputy Zoning Administrator Ralph D. Cairns.

The boys' school, to be called Mount Tamalpais School, would add a gymnasium, additional classrooms and a tennis court to the 45-room building now used as a novitiate. A playing field, swimming pool and parking spaces for about 34 cars are also planned.

The zoning administrator will also hear four other requests, starting at 10 a.m.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of 49 Oak Knoll Avenue, Sleepy Hollow, wants a variance to build a two-car covered carport to within 13 feet of the front property line. Normal setback is 25 feet.

Frances Morris wants a use permit to keep two horses in a corral in the 500 block of Pixie Trail, Mill Valley, fronting on an unnamed street between Edgewood Avenue and Pixie Trail.

Yuri Toporof will ask for permission to set up a temporary "Flea Market" including a tent structure on the north side of Donahue Street at the corner of Drake Avenue, Marin City.

Dr. Denny Tuffanelli of 30 Vista Drive, Kentfield, wants to extend a swimming pool deck area to within six feet of the side yard where 15 feet is required.

Australia, often called an island, actually is a continent of almost 3 million square miles.

Pruning Shears Most Likely For Proposed Ross Government Outlay

The Ross Town Council last night continued planning for fiscal 1970-71, taking up estimated general government expenditures of $54,302. The figure is $11,000 higher than the equivalent section of this year's budget.

The tentative general government outlay was referred to the council's finance committee, probably for a few healthy slashes with pruning shears.

At least one item — $900 to help support a 32-week after-school community recreation program sponsored by the Ross School Parent-Teacher Association — will probably be deleted to save a penny on the tax rate, the council indicated.

Mrs. Justin L. Williams, who battled the pennypinching tendencies of the council for more than an hour at the May 14 meeting, also attended last night to plead for her program, but got little encouragement.

Mrs. Williams, who told the council 250 Ross children participated in the activities last year, said, "I think there's been a very positive opinion in the community for you to do this thing."

Mayor Frederick S. Allen replied, "I still have mixed emotions about this thing. I still don't think this is the taxpayers' burden."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones was more certain. "The basic philosophy I've heard is this: It's fine to have things to do for children, but the taxpayers shouldn't have to pay for it," he said.

After being told no final decision would be made until August, Mrs. Williams asked, "How about a little vote of confidence to last me till August?"

Allen answered, "I'm sure you all realize we're behind your program and all, but when it comes down to the real nitty-gritty. . ."

Several other items including $800 to refurbish firehouse living quarters and $404 for the county animal control program were not equivalent to categories in the 1969-70 budget. These nonmatching items totalled $3,044.

The budget proposal also showed a salary increase from $530 to $612 for the director of public works with pay for the town attorney, clerk, treasurer, auditor and accountant remaining unchanged.

The largest proposed jumps were from $2,500 in 1969-70 to $6,000 for building maintenance and from $13,000 to $15,000 for insurance.

A $1,000 jump in the cost of engineering services to $4,000 is also contemplated for the new fiscal year.

Ross discusses a segment of its budget at each monthly meeting before combining them in August. Last year the portion discussed last night equalled $43,250 of a total budget of $235,269.

BART Budget Cuts Tax Need

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tentative tax rates are lower for fiscal 1970-71 on the basis of a new $44.6 million Bay Area Rapid Transit District budget.

The budget was adopted Thursday for building of the high speed train lines which are scheduled to begin limited operation in the East Bay in late 1971. Operation through the tube under San Francisco Bay is not expected until well into 1972.

Of the total budget, $35.5 million was for debt service and $9.1 million for administrative expenses.

A tentative tax rate of 52.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation was set against 56.1 cents this year, except in Berkeley. Berkeley taxpayers now have a rate of 80 cents and a proposed 76.7-cent rate for 1970-71. BART is undergrounded through Berkeley.

Brake Failure Hurts Woman Motorist

Mary Sturla, 44, of 100 Jessie Lane, Petaluma, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for a nose injury suffered in an accident yesterday at 5:25 p.m. on El Rose Drive at Hayes Lane, Petaluma.

Police said the brakes failed on Mrs. Sturla's car and that it struck an embankment.

Kennel Permit Denied By Panel

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments yesterday denied a request for a dog and cat kennel in rural Petaluma after hearing complaints from neighbors.

Paul G. Hefner and Howard Jensen had requested permission to breed and board 80 dogs and to board 20 cats at kennels at 2761 I Street extension.

The board said the kennel use would be incompatible with the many single-family homes being built in the area.

Driver Arrested In Petaluma Collision

James Quinn, 30, of 541 Cherry Street, Petaluma, was reported in satisfactory condition at Hillcrest Hospital with head and face cuts suffered in an accident at 2:06 a.m. today on Petaluma Boulevard North at Center Park.

Although police had no details of the accident, they said Quinn was injured when a car driven by Charles Edward Powell, 22, of 724 F Street, Petaluma, struck three parked cars. Powell was arrested on suspicion of driving under the influence of alcohol.

And hidden beneath all this improvement, is even more improvement—a better suspension system.

Of course we haven't touched the things that made our place famous to begin with.

You can still come in and get our jumbo 23 mpg.* And an engine that takes little oil and no water.

But considering all the things that have changed, we wonder whether "Volkswagen Station Wagon" sounds ritzy enough.

"Le Grand Volkswagen Station Wagon?"

Recreation Plans Told For Summer

San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department has announced its summer recreation programs for tiny tots through senior citizens.

Slated to begin June 22, the program will feature an eight-week "Tiny Tot" program at Albert Park Clubhouse on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, while a similar program will be offered at Hartzell Elementary School on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Other preschool activities include acrobatics, tumbling and childrens' creative dance at Terra Linda High School.

Recreation programs for elementary aged children will be held at 13 locations throughout the city and will include arts and crafts, music, dance, individual and team sports.

Special events for elementary students include field trips to Marine World, a zoo, Golden Gate Park and a watermelon feed.

Other activities include modern dance, tennis instruction and judo classes.

Recreation programs for junior high school students include gymnastics, tennis, swimming, soccer, guitar lessons and field trips.

Activities for high school students include slimnastics, weight training, yoga, tennis, lacrosse and golf.

The adult recreation program features scuba diving, oil painting, golf, softball, tennis and homemaking.

Information on registration, fees and other courses offered may be obtained from the recreation department.

Petition Drive Near To Gain 348 Lights

A petition drive sponsored by the San Geronimo Valley Association to bring 348 street lights to the valley will begin tomorrow, secretary Mary Bocchetti of Forest Knolls announced yesterday.

Petitions will be available for the next three Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon at all post offices in Woodacre, San Geronimo, Forest Knolls and Lagunitas, Mrs. Bocchetti said.

The association's plan calls for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install 142 lights in Woodacre, 94 in Forest Knolls, 47 in San Geronimo and 65 in Lagunitas.

PG&E will install and maintain the lights at a cost of about 9 or 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation, according to Mrs. Bocchetti.

If the supervisors decide to set up the light district, the issue will have to be approved by a majority of the voters of the valley.

Boy Scouts Ready Paper Collection

Boy Scout Troop 76 of Terra Linda will collect papers on Saturday in the Terra Linda Community Services District.

Persons having papers to contribute should place them on the curb by 9 a.m. Papers also may be self in the blue container in the Terra Linda Fire Station parking lot.

Child Proves Training Worth

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — His parents told young Mark Echternach that in case they weren't around and he got into trouble, he should pick up one of several telephones in the house and dial "O."

They explained this would put him in touch with the operator who could help him.

Several days later, the telephone rang and the operator asked Mrs. Echternach, "Do you have a little boy named Mark?"

Mrs. Echternach hastened to assure her that she did.

"Well," the operator replied, "he's locked in the basement."

Life Guards Take Classes Next Week

Cardio-pulmonary classes for life guards will be given next Tuesday and Thursday from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Pacific Gas and Electric Auditorium, Third and Brook Streets, San Rafael.

Further information can be obtained from the Marin County Heart Association.

Pornography Trial Set In Oakland

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Donald Calvin Warnecke, 38, of Corte Madera, arrested last January on two charges of distributing obscene literature in Alameda County, has pleaded not guilty to one charge in Oakland Municipal Court.

Warnecke entered his plea Wednesday and will appear next Thursday for setting of a trial date. He also is expected to enter a plea on the second charge at that time.

Arthur Gaylord Slocum, 51, of Strawberry, arrested with Warnecke, will also plead next Thursday in the Oakland court to one charge of distributing obscene literature.

Warnecke also has been charged in Marin County with possessing obscene material for distribution, as a result of a raid on a warehouse in San Rafael in which quantities of allegedly pornographic magazines were stored.

Cancer Cure May Save The Tissues

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Ian MacPherson, head of the Department of Tumor Virology at Lincoln's Inn Fields Laboratories in London, held out the prospect that at some time cancer cells may be restored to normal instead of being killed.

The hint came in annual report of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund in which the scientist said cancerous hamster cells had been induced by drugs to return to normality.

Dr. MacPherson called it a "hopeful development."

Volunteers Sought For Hospital Work

The Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross has called for volunteer drivers to accompany high school students to Sonoma State Hospital and help provide recreational services in the children's ward.

The program requires either one weekday or Saturday per month, leaving San Rafael at 8:45 a.m. and returning about 4 p.m. Drivers use the Red Cross vehicle. Those interested may contact the Red Cross office in San Rafael, 712 Fifth Avenue.

Brutus And Pals Too Enthusiastic For Stage Julius

MELBOURNE (AP) — The stabbing scene in "Julius Caesar" was just a bit too life-like, or death-like, for actor Brian Muir.

Playing the Roman emperor, Muir slumped to the stage floor after being stabbed.

"Blood" from bags hidden in his clothing flowed freely—and so did his own. His assailants had wielded their knives over-enthusiastically, wounding Brian in the arm.

"I lay there for the next 10 minutes of the scene wondering how much of the blood was mine," he said.

'Same Old Club,' Says Miss Rankin

JEANETTE RANKIN
First woman in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress "hasn't changed a particle" since she was elected to it in 1917, says Jeanette Rankin, the first woman to serve there. "It's still the same old club."

Nor has the condition of women changed much since then, said Miss Rankin, a leader in the female suffrage fight at the turn of the century. "The women's liberation movement is talking about the same issues now that we talked about then."

A petite, patrician-looking woman from Montana who served as a Republican in the House from 1917-1919 and again from 1941-1943, Miss Rankin celebrates her 90th birthday today with a dinner in her honor sponsored by several senators and congressmen.

Slowed only a little by a broken hip suffered six weeks ago, Miss Rankin devotes much of her time to antiwar efforts and pushing for direct preferential presidential elections.

One of 56 congressmen to vote against American entry into World War I and the only member of Congress to vote against declaring war on Japan, Miss Rankin calls the American foray into Cambodia "wrong, stupid and cruel."

"There are better methods for settling disputes than killing young men," she said, "but we — the public — have only ourselves to blame that they aren't being used."

Last fall, she walked in moratorium marches in Georgia and California. Two years ago, she led a rally of women in a march on Capitol Hill to protest the Vietnam war. The rally was dubbed the Jeanette Rankin brigade.

Miss Rankin, who divides her time between homes in Montana and Georgia, also writes numerous letters and makes countless telephone calls to members of Congress urging an end to the war. She wishes every American would do the same.

"But don't just state your position," she cautions. "Always ask a question. And be prepared to write a half dozen times before you get an answer."

Miss Rankin would like to see a female congressman from every district. "Maybe we wouldn't do any better than the men but we certainly couldn't do any worse," she said.

Women are too dependent on men, she said, to realize their full potential.

"If they're independent, talkative and say what they think they can't get a job or husband. 'Look at me,' she said joking-ly, "unmarried and unemployed most of my life."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

An Expert Never Misses Certain Kind Of Key Play

The expert never misses a certain kind of play because experience has taught him that it costs nothing and may bring in a fortune. He unblocks without even thinking, knowing that there will be time aplenty to make up his mind about the rest of the hand.

CONTINUES HEARTS

West opens the queen of hearts and continues with another heart. South ruffs the second heart. And if South is an expert, he invariably ruffs with the nine (or some other high card). This cannot possibly cost him anything since he has more high trumps than he can possibly need.

Declarer may have nothing in mind when he makes this fine play, but he soon finds out that he is one of the most brilliant bridge players in the world. He draws two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen, and then leads out the ace and king of clubs in the hope that the queen will drop.

ONLY CHANCE

As it happens, South has no luck in clubs. This is not surprising, since the odds are about 4 to 1 against dropping the queen. Now South has only one chance for his contract: he must get four diamond tricks in order to get rid of the two losing clubs.

Declarer can get four diamond tricks if East has the queen of diamonds together with not more than two low diamonds. South must get to dummy to try a finesse with the ten of diamonds and then must return to dummy later to win tricks with the ace and jack of diamonds.

TWO ENTRIES

Since South needs two entries to dummy, he shows how brilliant he was at the second trick. He can lead the deuce of trumps to dummy's seven. Now he wins a finesse with the ten of diamonds (much to his relief), cashes the king of diamonds, and enters dummy with the king of trumps to lead the ace of diamonds. The queen falls (more relief for South), and declarer then cashes the jack of diamonds to bring the slam home.

DAILY QUESTION

What do you say?
Answer: Pass.

You have 12 points in high cards, and one point for the doubleton, enough for an optional bid — but you should not exercise your option. You need at least another point when your distribution is so balanced and your low cards are so miserably low.

4 Language Students Rate High In Test

Four foreign language students at Tamalpais High School have scored 90 per cent or better in the American Association Teacher French National Contest for first-year students, the association has announced.

Sally De Becker received the highest score, 91.5 and Andrea Ford, Frances Hartogh and Candyce Takahoshis all received scores of 90.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, June 12, the 163rd day of 1970 with 202 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1630 the first governor of the Massachusetts Bay colony, John Winthrop, entered the harbor at Salem.

In 1924 Calvin Coolidge received the presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention in Cleveland.

In 1963 a sniper killed Negro civil right leader Medgar Evers in Jackson, Miss.

In 1967 the United States Supreme Court ruled that states could not outlaw interracial marriages.

A thought for the day: Plato said, "No evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death."

Marin Seeks 10 Police Cadets

The personnel office announced that the cadets will spend one year working for different law enforcement agencies 30 hours a week and attending classes 10 hours a week. Salary will be $429 per month.

Male high school graduates in good health between 18 and 27 are eligible. Interested persons should contact the personnel office, Room 342, Civic Center, San Rafael, before June 26.

Rec Panel Puts Cuts In Budget

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night approved a revised recreation budget proposal totalling $101,393, Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of parks and recreation, reported today.

The city council Monday night refused to approve an original proposal of $162,276, and told Snyder that the city's contribution to the recreation budget would not be more than $100,000.

The revised proposal must be approved by the council.

Snyder said the new proposal contains cuts in the number of recreation supervisors at city parks and facilities and increases recreation fees.

In addition, he said that since the San Rafael Board of Education has cut off its financial support of the program, all persons living outside the city limits will be charged higher nonresident fees.

Residents of the San Rafael school districts living outside the city limits have been allowed to participate in recreation programs at the lower resident's fee rate.

Commissioner George S. Burton voiced concern about a possible hardship on families with several children.

City Mgr. James H. McCown suggested a trust fund to aid children from low-income families wishing to participate in recreation programs.

The commission also directed Snyder to inform the state division of highways that the city was not interested in leasing for a park land at the corner of Irwin street and Belle Avenue.

Russian Science Satellite Aloft

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has launched a scientific satellite, Cosmo 347, into earth orbit, Tass reported today.

Besides scientific apparatus, the satellite carries a radio system for the precision measurement of orbital elements and a radio telemetric system to transmit data to earth.

Tass reported equipment on the satellite was functioning normally.

Hub Burglary Try Denied By Suspects

Dennis Victor Chesley, 20, and Robert S. Evans, 22, both of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of attempting to burglarize a San Anselmo residence Wednesday.

A preliminary hearing was set for June 16.

Nose Count Easy At Budget Session

Novato city councilmen last night thumbed their way through about half the proposed $2,072,635 city budget for fiscal 1970-71, but failed to give any indication of where possible alterations may be imposed.

The council, meeting before an audience composed of one resident and about 30 empty chairs, deliberated three hours over nine of 22 department budgets.

The councilmen's toils netted one clerical change and a reduction of about $4,000 in animal control expenditure paid to the county.

The proposed package, if accepted, would cost Novato property owners $1.05 per $100 assessed valuation. This year's budget totals $1,906,730 at a cost of 81 cents.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown explained that last night's session, the first of seven such meetings, was only to familiarize the councilmen with his recommendations. He led the five councilmen on an item-by-item comparison of his proposed figures with those requested by department heads and with this year's budget figures.

Brown told the council most department increases could be attributed to tentative pay hikes — ranging from 2.5 to 17.5 per cent plus a 4 per cent across-the-board cost of living increase — proposed for city employees last month by the council .

About $106,000 of the $166,000 increase in the proposed budget over this year's is attributable to the planned pay raise and new employees.

A breakdown of the salary funds studied last night shows the city council remaining this year at $9,000, administration increasing from $34,500 to $35,950, legal retainer fees climbing from $6,000 to $7,200, planning hiked from $61,765 to $69,445 and nondepartmental dropping from $7,605 to $7,525 accompanied by a reduction of personnel.

Finance under the proposed pay package would drop from $36,055 to $35,450 due to a personnel shift and police would climb from $338,650 to $388,100 with an additional officer included.

Other departments studied, elections and community promotion, do not include salaries in their budgets.

The council will review the remaining 13 departments Saturday at 9 a.m. at city hall before beginning budget change considerations on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m.

Public hearings on the budget have been set for 8 p.m. June 23 and 30.

Education Board Will Reorganize

New officers for the Marin County Board of Education will be elected when the board committees meet jointly at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Marin County Schools office.

New committee assignments for 1970-71 will also be made.

The committee will discuss the 1970-71 service fund budget.

Edward Arthur Frowd, 21, and Mak Edwad Richey, 22, both of Larkspur, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced charge of disturbing the peace in Corte Madera May 15.

Frowd had earlier been accused of attempted car theft and escaping officers, and Richey with resisting arrest.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed them on probation for one year and sentenced them to time already served inn jail.

Robb Asks To Go On Inactive Status

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon has announced Marine Maj. Charles S. Robb, son-in-law of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, has requested release from active military duty effective September 1.

Robb, 30, husband of Johnson's daughter Lynda Bird, has been serving as a Marine recruiting officer since his return from a year's duty in Vietnam in April, 1969. He is expected to enter the University of Virginia law school at Charlottesville, Va. this fall.

Terra Linda Seeking Swim Class Helpers

The Terra Linda Recreation-Park District needs swimming aide volunteers 11 years and older to give lessons to younger children from 10:30 to 11:00 Tuesday through Fridays, June 16 to August 21, the district office has announced.

Aquacade 70, to be held August 22, is also being planned. Beginners, advanced beginners and intermediates may sign up at the center or call Julia Browne before June 15.

Marin City Survey Is Near Start

A community survey on the economic, social and physical needs of Marin City will be under way in a month, the Marin City Council reported last night.

The survey is a step toward revision of the Marin City master plan under the council's 701 planning grant study.

Council members approved the survey questionnaire and authorized hiring an intern, who will conduct the survey. The federal planning grant provides $1,800 in salary for an intern.

Council members agreed that residents should be notified before the survey is undertaken so they would know what it was all about.

Jack C. Williams, community coordinator, explained that future steps under the planning grant will be a market analysis, a master plan for housing and discussions with residents, community organizations and businessmen.

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill advised the community should do all it can under the existing master plan or get it amended "to agree with what you've got on the ground."

The council adjourned until 8 p.m. June 25 at Manzanita Center.

Bipartisan Fete Set For July 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — Invitations signed by high-ranking members of both major political parties have gone out to mayors of the nation's largest 108 cities, asking them to attend the July 4 Honor America Day celebration here.

GOP National Committee Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton and his Democratic counterpart Lawrence F. O'Brien and Senate Leaders Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., were among those who signed the invitations, which described the event as "a massive expression of appreciation for the blessings of our great nation."

The festivities will begin at 11 a.m. at the Lincoln Memorial and conclude at 7:30 p.m. at the nearby Washington Monument.

'Captain's Clams' Is Celebrated Dish Of The Grotto In San Rafael

Popular indeed is the "Captain's Clams" since this dish has been a regular part of the menu of the Grotto in San Rafael.

You must credit Ursula Valan for the development of this item, which is not a bouillabaise, not a paella and not a cioppino - so it can't claim French, Spanish or Italian descent. For her it originated years ago with a favorite dish of her father - cockles and rice. Remembering how fond he was of this combination and looking for a new idea, Ursula experimented and added a few more seafood goodies and mushrooms.

What she has now can stand or fall on its own merits, and I'd say that in time it could become a classic. So are new dishes born.

Each time I go the the Grotto it seems to me something new has been added - either by Ursula in the food line, or by husband Stan as a decorative touch. Both kee their minds working on their respective jobs, so it's not likely this place will ever become static.

Also well favored on the Grotto menu and at the same price ($2.85 including a few extras), although somewhat richer, is the "chef's special," a delight for gourmets that has chunks of North Atlantic cod, sauted in wine and butter.

As long as she is there, everything gets Ursula's personal inspection before it leaves the kitchen for the table.

A COMPLIMENTARY fresh fruit basket is now being served nightly with each complete dinner at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa in San Rafael. (Not served with a la carte orders).

KIRBY ATTERBURY is featuring some retail closeouts in fine European wines at the Caprice in Tiburon. Among them are a few of his wines imported from Portugal.

EDGAR HANNAGAN, who has done quite a bit of remodeling and refurbishing at his Villa Rafael Motel, 1600 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael this year, has recently been turning his attention to some big changes in the food department.

For the next few days the coffee shop will be closed (probably until next Tuesday) so work can be done here. What is in progress and was planned several months ago is the addition of separate steak house and cocktail lounge.

Early this year Ed bought out the Patio Bar and its general on sale liquor license at 869 Fourth Street, San Rafael. The Patio has now been closed and the liquor license has been transferred over to the Villa premises. But it will be another two weeks or so before everything is ready for this part of the new operation.

THERE IS A NEW OWNER and also a new name for Sausalito's little Mexican restaurant at 300 Valley Street that used to be known as Hernandez Hideaway.

George and Rose Hernandez have sold out to Mario C. Reyes of Daly City, who not calls it Tio Mario's. He formerly had a restaurant in San Francisco about seven years.

Tio Mario's is a block south of Sally's Valhalla Inn and has plenty of parking space. It does not serve lunches but is open daily for dinners starting at 5 p.m. Closing time is 11 p.m. through the week, at midnight on Fridays and Saturdays and at 10 p.m. on Sundays.

The various popular Mexican food specialties and combinations are served; there is a wine and beer license; and the restaurant seats about 50. Friday and Saturday nights are entertainment nights and there is live music from 8 p.m. to midnight, provided by Mexican guitarists.

NEW MENU at Gregory's in the Paradise Drive Shopping Center, Corte Madera makes it easier for the average diner to decide on a selection. French entrees and names which do not clearly identify the nature of the dish have been given English subtitles explaining exactly what is being ordered.

Chef and co-owner Bernard Epstein has added several new items to an already extensive list. Among them are Hungarian beef goulash, wiener schnitzel, the veal chanterelle Bernard that I recently wrote about, creamed veal sweetbreads (in addition to sweetbreads meuniere and financiere); also roast duck a l'Orange; azou tartare (a lamb filet with shallots, pimientos, mushrooms and tomatoes and served with a madeira gravy); another grenadin of beef — this one with cream gravy; and abalone meuniere.

NEXT "CALIFORNIA NIGHT" at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo will be June 24 and will honor Michael Biane of the Brookside Winery in old Guasti. But don't get your heart set on going unless you happen to be a member of a group called Les Bon Vinants. This has a membership of about 500 and Cafe Bon Vin can only hold 150 at the most. Les Bon Vinants have first call and I can't see that there's much chance of any spares being handed out.

All of which may put you in a sour grapes mood. And in that case you might try Fred Cherry's new champagne cuvee wine vinegar which is just going on the market.

BOTH THE TOP SIRLOIN and the London mixed grill are favorites at the colorful Vicarage at 681 Bridgeway, Sausalito new things planned. More about - where Tom Siddle has several this in a week or two.

ON THE SAN RAFAEL MIRACLE MILE, the Normandie French restaurant has been doing exceptionally well with its dinners recently. So much so that owners Andre Marquer and Michael Braud have decided to call off lunches in favor of concentrating on the evening trade.

They will run one more week of lunches and then Friday, the 19th, will see the last of them for a while.

Advance reservations should definitely be made for dinners.

NEARBY on the Miracle Mile, the new McDonald's quick service restaurant is almost completed. There could be an opening here before the end of the month, according to real estate broker Herman Deitch, who sold McDonald's the property and has been keeping in touch.

ON THE SAN ANSELMO section of the Miracle Mile, the London Arms has been closed while the Johnsons and their staff have been taking a vacation. Monday is the day for reopening.

Kiwanis Opposes Farm Adviser Cut

Proposed elimination of the county farm adviser's office was called "ill advised" Wednesday in a letter to Marin County supervisors from the San Rafael Kiwanis Club.

The letter, signed by president Ben C. Albritton, said the "worthy. . .and successful youth program" of 4-H clubs supervised by the office justify it and that transferring the 4-H program would not reduce the budget.

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce has proposed eliminating the office along with the health department's well-baby clinic and the Human Rights Department to reduce the county budget.

More Flooding

VIENNA (UPI)—Torrential rains sent rivers over their banks again today in much of northwestern Romania. Thousands of families were ordered to evacuate their homes. The floodwaters inundated the city of Dej for the fourth time in six weeks.

Did LBJ Ask For Bagpipers?

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson says former President Lyndon B. Johnson asked him four years ago for a token contingent of military bagpipers to serve with the U.S.-led allies in Vietnam.

Wilson, who is campaigning for reelection of his Labor government, told a television audience he turned Johnson down. He cited the incident as proof that the Laborites had "never been tied up" with U.S. foreign policy.

"In 1966 I got a request from President Johnson to put troops into Vietnam," Wilson said. "He wanted only, I think he said, only a troop of bagpipers to show the British flag. I refused."

COLLEEN MARTIN
West Marin queen

Livestock Show Queen Is Selected

Colleen Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zanardi of Olema, will reign as queen of the 21st annual West Marin Junior Livestock Show in Point Reyes Station June 20-21.

The 17-year-old Marin Ctholic High School senior was named queen after selling more tickets to the show than five other contestants.

Miss Martin sold $2,458 worth of tickets and her princesses, Elaine Zetterquist of Inverness Park and Jeanne Ballatore of Valley Ford collected $2,262 and $1,029 respectively.

Other contestants were Emilie Barnes of San Rafael, Connie Farnham of Marinwood and Mary Jo Wheeler of Marshall.

Each queen candidate may keep 25 per cent of the money collected.

Ex-New Careers Aide Faces New Bench Warrant

SAN FRANCISCO — A third bench warrant has been issued for Michael R. James, 28, Marin's former New Careers program coordinator.

The "no bail" warrant was issued Wednesday by San Francisco Municipal Court after James failed to appear for the setting of a trial date. He had earlier pleaded innocent to a charge of possessing heroin.

James was arrested Dec. 8 in the Fillmore District of San Francisco with several small balloons of heroin in his possession, police said.

A bench warrant was issued Dec. 19 after James failed to appear for a preliminary hearing on the narcotics charge. The bench warrant was later withdrawn by the court.

A second warrant was issued Jan. 13 when James again failed to appear for his preliminary hearing.

Wednesday the court set June 18 for the forfeiture of his $1,000 bail.

New Schools Chief For San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The new San Francisco school superintendent will be Dr. Thomas S. Shaheen, 53, schools chief for the past five years in Rockford, Ill.

He will replace Robert Jenkins, 59, who resigned the post effective July 31 to become president of a Los Angeles-based book publishing firm.

School Board President Alan Nichols announced Shaheen's appointment Thursday, saying Shaheen is widely known in midwest school circles as a "quality educator."

In San Francisco, he will receive $42,000 a year under a four-year contract. Jenkins was paid $38,500 the last school year.

Among those mentioned as a possible successor to Jenkins had been Wilson Riles, black assistant state superintendent of schools who will oppose his chief, Max Rafferty, in a runoff election in November.

Nichols said Shaheen's present post involves supervision of 73 schools with a total enrollment of 45,000 students.

The San Francisco district includes some 90,000 pupils.

Before going to Rockford, Shaheen was a school superintendent in Rhode Island, New Jersey and New York state over a period of 25 years. He received his doctorate in education at Columbia University in 1963.

Mill Valley To Eye Fate Of Reservoir

The fate of Mill Valley's Cascade Reservoir, a source of annoyance and frustration to city officials as well as a source of water for fire fighting, will be before the city council Monday at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Abuses of the reservoir area, including nude swimming and sunbathing, littering, blocking streets with parked cars and creating a fire hazard, have been cited by residents as reasons for closing the area.

The city council appears to be ready to take that step, perhaps even ready to demolish the center of the dam, leaving the foundations for erosion control and allow old Mill Creek to seek its own level.

The reservoir was created by the Tamalpais Land and Water Co., forerunner of the Marin Municipal Water District, in the late 1890s to serve customers in Cascade Canyon.

In 1953, the last three homes using reservoir water were brought into the district's system, and the reservoir was attached to the fire main system. It was annexed by Mill Valley on Dec. 16, 1960.

It probably was the limited fire prevention function that stopped the dam's demolition last summer after a 12-year-old San Francisco youth drowned there.

Now, with summer approaching and school out, most residents favor immediate closing of the reservoir area as a fire hazard and eventual draining of the lake when improved water lines are brought in by the water district.

Until then, they fear a tinder-dry summer without water available to fight fires. Water pressure in the canyon is said to be dangerously low.

In a half million cases of serious injury, or death, in auto accidents last year, insurance covered only 20 per cent of the losses, a study by the Department of Transportation showed.

UCLA Group Supporting Angela Davis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If regents of the University of California decide next week that Communist Angela Davis should be fired as an assistant philosophy professor at the Los Angeles campus, she may still be retained.

A spokesman for the UCLA Academic Senate said Thursday that this body, voting by mail, has agreed to retain the 26-year-old black instructor and pay her salary through creation of what was termed "special committees."

The vote of the senate was 629-594.

Her course in the contribution of black persons to philosophy would be fully accredited, a spokesman said.

Miss Davis was fired last year by the regents but a court said they acted solely on the grounds she is a Communist—grounds the court said was insufficient.

Regents reportedly voted 16-4 Monday to fire her on grounds she has acted improperly in public appearances and that the university, caught in a financial crisis, should give priority to others.

The regents meet in Los Angeles a week from today.

They are expected to announce their decision.

The Academic Senate's mail canvass of its 1,900 members supported a resolution adopted May 18.

Revoked in the balloting was a proposal to suspend all ROTC activities under the senate's jurisdiction "until the United States has terminated military operations in Indochina." This went down 826-398.

The senate later met with a bare quorum of slightly more than 100 members present.

Those present, in a voice vote, called for establishment of a joint military-faculty committee to supervise what was termed a multilateral program.

Marin Bike Trails Find It A Slow And Bumpy Struggle

Marin's effort to establish a county-wide bicycle trail system has achieved too little progress in the three years since it first began to receive serious, official consideration.

When the County Parks and Recreation Department staff first unveiled proposals for a bike trail plan, in May of 1967, the Parks and Recreation Commission appeared favorably impressed.

Because the suggested system of trails would cut across city lines, it was necessary to get approval of the cities involved. During 1968 and 1969, Tiburon, Mill Valley, Corte Madera and other city councils, one-by-one, approved and endorsed the scheme.

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District went a step farther. It allocated $40,000 to provide access ramps for bikes to the west sidewalk across the bridge. Army officialdom approved in principal the idea of bike paths through military reservations at each end of the bridge.

County supervisors approved $25,000 in the 1969-70 parks and recreation budget for bike trails. There was hope that this would provide a Sausalito-Mill Valley link. That hope is gone, although it is still likely that a bike crossing of Coyote Creek alongside Highway 1 at Tamalpais Valley will be forthcoming. Also, certain legal and title search expenses for the Sausalito-Mill Valley link are expected to be met — with part of the $25,000 still unspent and presumable available for right-of-way acquisition later.

The Parks and Recreation Department asked an additional $20,000 in the 1970-71 county budget, but the county administrator has recommended that this be deleted in the interests of economy.

Why hasn't more progress been made in the past three years?

Lack of funds is one big reason but is by no means the only stumbling block.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad and the state division of Highways have been ever greater obstacles.

NWP rights-of-way in many instances would provide ideal routes for bike trails developable at minimum expense — for example, from Sausalito to Mill Valley. But railroad officials have balked. They are intent on abandoning service and take the position that granting rights-of-way conceivable could interfere with achieving their ultimate goal, abandonment of service.

State highway officials stand steadfastly by their rule that bicycles are excluded from use of freeway properties. They argue that gas tax funds should be spent only for moving vehicles which pay gasoline taxes.

Both the railroad and the highway hierarchy have been under fire from various segments of the public.

Who knows? Perhaps they would be more cooperative if they could be brought to the realization that cooperating with bike trail seekers would help their respective public images.

Baby Robin

Several pairs of robins are nesting in our neighborhood this year. One baby robin has been flying awkwardly about our yard in short, inexpert, excited flights for about three days now.

Most of the time it just sits on bush, tree branch or clothes-line, squawking and trying to attract its parents' attention. The parent birds are kept busy searching for insects and worms to feed it.

In another week or so, this young bird will be on its own. After a brief period of uncertainty, his flight will be swift and sure and he will be able to fend for himself.

But he is just a helpless kid right now.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Senator Song Presses Passage Of Bill To Watchdog Guarantees

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — If the state Legislature does anything this year toward requiring business to live up to its guarantees, it will be largely due to the efforts of Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park.

Song has faithfully and with perseverance carried on a campaign on behalf of the California consumer through the Senate Business and Professions Committee, which he chairs.

The committee recently sent SB 272 to the Senate with a do pass recommendation, and the measure probably will be taken up soon. It gives effective assistance to the purchaser who attempts to enforce the terms of a warranty or guarantee.

UNDER THE LEGISLATION, the consumer who buys defective goods covered by a warranty has the legal right to have the goods repaired or replaced if he returns them to the retailer. And the bill makes the manufacturer liable to the retailer for the full cost of servicing the warranty.

If the manufacturer refuses to make good on the product as represented, the bill would allow the buyer or the retailer to sue the manufacturer for three times the cost of the product, plus all attorney fees.

Song's committee has had the matter of warranties under consideration for some time, having held hearings last fall on the subject.

"The committee found," he said, "that some manufacturers back up their products with a warranty that is as good as gold.

"WE ALSO FOUND that others issue warranties and guarantees that are no more than worthless paper, primarily gimmicks to help sell their products. When buyers of products with bad warranties try to claim their repairs or replacements, they are met with the run-around treatment, double talk, extra charges, and stall tactics up to six months.

"Good companies will not have to worry about this bill, for they already back up their products with integrity. This bill, and others before the legislature, are aimed at the chiselers and sharp-shooters who have plagued the state for a long time, and given the market-place a bad reputation for years."

IN ADDITION, the Senate already has passed SB 921, by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, which provides that consumers do not lose the benefit of their warranties just because they fail to send in a registration card. The warranty thus will stand good as long as the consumer can prove that he purchased the goods.

Boy Scout's Prompt Action In Tragedy

There was a drama behind the scenes last Friday (May 29) in the death of 84-year-old Max Pollak of Sausalito, who collapsed at Phoenix Lake while fishing. I think the Independent-Journal would like to know about it; would like to tell its readers that our young people can be most worthwhile; would like to recognize the value of training in the Boy Scout movement not only for the individual boy but for all of us.

The collapse of Mr. Pollak was observed by a number of persons, including several adults. No one did anything about it until Eagle Scout Bruce Collins, aged 14, senior patrol leader of Troop 11, Kentfield, stepped forward. As a Scout Bruce had learned — so well that he has become a teacher — the techniques of first aid, including artificial resuscitation.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Collins, 25 Patencio, Greenbrae.

For 20 minutes Bruce, a freshman at Redwood High School, gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. As he had been trained, he removed Mr. Pollak's dentures, noted that he had swallowed his tongue and brought it back to normal and — as Ross Asst. Fire Chief Thomas G. Casson later told him — actually had kept this fine artist breathing almost a half-hour while waiting an oxygen supply. It is possible that Mr. Pollak might be alive today had the adult community responded as promptly and efficiently as did this Eagle Scout. His initiative is a tribute to the fine qualities of our teen-agers. His training is a tribute to Scouting.

Should Return Part Of Salary

I understand my letter to the editor last week with regard to the homos from the Gay Liberation visiting the American Government class at Drake High School has prompted several hours of class discussion; readings of the letter, and attemps to have students prepare a counter letter to the editor. Also, yesterday, May 25 they had a repeat performance from the homosexuals as they were invited back to address the same classes.

Since Mr. Lim's salary at $14,060 per year to teach American Government (required of every senior to graduate) we should like to humbly suggest that he return his salary to the taxpayers for each day he doesn't teach this subject.

Also since the law calls for equal time to demonstrate an alternate viewpoint, does he now owe the classes two hours of talk with Lesbians (suggested by a member of his class)? Or will he have "Darby and Joan" tell high school kids why and how their "ideal" marriage works?

What has any of this to do with American Government I ask? Why not call the class Sexual Trivia and ask the taxpayers and parents if they want to put up $42,000 per year for three teachers to give this garbage to their kids at Drake High?

Consultant Dropped For Needed Program

In January Governor Reagan strongly advocated a program on drug abuse through the state Department of Education. He urged the development of a model curriculum as well as in-service training for teachers. A few weeks ago for budgetary reasons the only consultant in school health education in the state Department of Education is being abolished . . .

I have worked with the professional in this position over the last few years in various drug and smoking projects. It is clear to me that without the leadership emanating from this office there can be no implementation of the governor's high-minded and deserving program despite good intent.

If the governor is serious about a public education program intending to bring together top people about drugs, he can scarcely consider the abrupt abolition of his only delegate in this field to be a consistent act. It behooves all of us to react to such contradictory and two-faced behavior with appropriate responses in Sacramento.

What About Hike In Property Tax?

I was happy to learn that Proposition 8 lost. However, in last night's (June 3) paper, I read that our County Tax Assessor plans on increasing the percentage that property tax is paid upon.

With the overall rise in values and the growth in Marin County, why does the rate keep going up?

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

THE LORD CHIEF Justice of England reckoned at the last session of the year that the major portion of his judicial hours in the court for the 12 months coming to a close was spent "Investigating collisions between soberly propelled vehicles, each on its own side of the road, each sounding its horn, each with its bright lights dutifully switched oft, and each absolutely stationary."

THE LATE CARDINAL Spellman had a robust sense of humor, and dearly enjoyed exchanging quips with the many Broadway and Hollywood stars he knew personally. On one Christmas tour of Vietnam bases, for instance, Bob Hope confessed to the Cardinal, "I was so bushed from our back-breaking itinerary yesterday that I'm afraid I fell asleep twice at your mass." "Don't let that bother you," the Cardinal assured him cheerfully, "I napped straight through your last three television shows!"

Race Issue Clouds English Campaigning

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON (UPI)—Race is the one issue all three main parties in Britain wanted at all costs to keep out of the June 18 general elections. Yet it has become one of the most explosive in the campaign.

FOR THE PAST TWO years the local point of a mounting storm in Britain over colored immigration from the commonwealth has been Enoch Powell, a right-wing former Conservative cabinet member.

Powell, 58, a slightly built, intense man who speaks with almost messianic fervor, touched off a nationwide furor by demanding a total halt to colored immigration and government aid to immigrants who want to return home.

The government estimates there currently are about 1,250,000 colored immigrants in this country, mostly from the West Indies, Pakistan and India.

The labor government denounced Powell as a "racist." Conservative leader Edward Heath publicly condemned his views and ousted him from his "shadow" cabinet. Yet Powell touched on an issue that runs deep in Britain, too.

Because of possible damage to delicate race relations, party leaders wanted to keep race and immigration out of the election.

But Laborite Minister of Technology Anthony Wedgwood Benn forced it into the campaign last week with a personal attack against Powell, whose policies he denounced as "filthy and obscene racialist propaganda."

Prime Minister Harold Wilson chimed in: "All of us in the party and many outside are in complete agreement about our detestation of Powellism."

HEATH CALLEN on Wilson to condemn Benn for making race an election issue. Wilson sidestepped and called on Heath to condemn Powell.

With race now boiling near the top of campaign issues, party strategists were questioning how the estimated 850,000 colored immigrants entitled to vote will cast their ballots.

General consensus was that most probably would vote Labor

THE QUESTION was of considerable significance because districts there are enough colored voters to sway the result.

Ozarks Spa Plan Puts Poverty War On Hot Seat

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Economic Development Administration is considering approving a unique anti-poverty project.

The proposal calls for spending $4 million of federal anti-poverty funds to build a luxurious fun-in-the-sun recreation center in the plush Lake of the Ozarks area in Missouri. Another $1 million would be put up by the state.

Approved by the Duluth, Minn., regional office of EDA, this project would provide dining and merrymaking accommodations for 5,000 vacationists and pleasure seekers. The site is near two swank privately-owned resorts, and an airport completed last fall with $3 million of federal funds.

EDA, under the Department of Commerce, is a major federal antipoverty agency. It is headed by Assistant Commerce Secretary Robert Podesta.

officials contended it is de-

QUESTIONED ABOUT the unusual Missouri project, EDA officials contended it is designed to aid what they described as a "depressed area." This drew derisive hoots from local sources.

Republican State Rep. Granvil Vaughan characterized the proposal as "bordering on the ridiculous."

"Sure, we're glad to get it," he said, "but how anyone can call the lake area depressed is beyond me. Why land around there is priced at several thousand dollars an acre. The government could go broke buying bargains like that in this 'poverty-stricken' area."

Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, indignantly denouncing the proposal as another instance of "extravagant bureaucratic boondoggling," is demanding the EDA reject the approval of its Duluth regional office.

"IT IS PREPOSTEROUS PROJECTS of this kind," he declared, "which are causing so much disillusionment and discouragement among hard-working Americans who must ultimately pay the tab. They are getting thoroughly fed up with this sort of wasteful squandering of tax money."

Caustically noting that federal funds are being cut back for low-cost housing, aid to education, support of farm prices and numerous other pressing economic needs and problems, Scherle asserted, "I am going to do everything in my power to stop this wholly unnecessary and extravagant project. Whatever else the country needs at this time, it is not a swinging spa for fun-makers."

Scherle is up in arms over EDA secrecy about the proposal. He is still trying to uncover where and how it originated, why the Duluth regional office approved it, and who and what is pushing it.

EDA officials have been evasively silent about that.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS and airmen are fighting and dying in Cambodia, but the two hijackers of the munitions — carrying freighter Columbia Eagle are still enjoying pleasant political asylum there.

Neither the State Department nor Premier Lon Nol's government have done anything about returning the rebellious crewmen to the U.S. for trial.

Inquiry at the State Department produced the bland explanation that the U.S. "does not have an extradition treaty with Cambodia."

To the bureaucrats, the affair was just one of those things that had been stuck away in a pigeonhole and conveniently forgotten.

But it is very much on the mind of Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, member of the Internal Security Committee.

He is bluntly critical of the failure to forcefully press the Cambodian government to turn over the two hijackers. Scherle noted that they had seized the Columbia Eagle on the high seas while enroute to Thailand with a cargo of bombs and munitions for U.S. airbases there, and had diverted the ship to Cambodia where they were given asylum by Prince Norodom Sihanouk — who now admits he had secretly aided the Communists.

"This apparent apathy and indifference is inexplicable to me," says Scherle. "I can't understand it. It just doesn't make sense in view of the heavy sacrifice in men and treasure we are making in behalf of Cambodia . . ."

Scherle is considering asking the Internal Security Committee to summon State Department officials for questioning.

Clyde McKay Jr., 25, and Alvin Glatkowski, 20, both of California, the hijackers, reportedly are at Pnom-Penh, Cambodian naval base. The Columbia Eagle, released after the ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, returned to the U.S. last month.

'Mill Valley' Tune Fails To Sway Boundary Commissioners

The defeat of Mill Valley's bid to annex 110 acres of Strawberry by a 3-2 vote at the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission Wednesday, no doubt will delight Tiburon.

The two cities have been warring for about four years over the tax-rich Town and Country Village shopping nter. Tiburon has its eye on the entire Strawberry Peninsula, and Mill Valley's rejection enhances its prospects of absorbing the land.

THE FEUD BROKE OUT into the open four years ago when the cities filed conflicting bids for annexation. Mill Valley wanted the shopping center and Tiburon wanted the entire peninsula, just like this time.

Mill Valley withdrew its bid, and the Tiburon effort was blocked when more than 50 per cent of the homeowners in Strawberry protested the annexation.

CHANCES ARE that feelings haven't changed much in that time. It seems that Strawberry residents would prefer to be in Mill Valley.

Commissioners of LAFC apparently weren't swayed by the song "Mill Valley," written by Rita Abrams, teacher at Strawberry Point School, and recorded by a third-grade class there.

A contingent from Mill Valley had hoped to have 10 copies of the song available to give commissioners, but the records didn't arrive from Los Angeles in time.

Instead, each commissioner was given a certificate entitling him to a record when they get here.

Backers of the annexation bid had hoped the point wouldn't be lost on the commission — a chorus of third-graders from Strawberry Point School singing, "Mill Valley, that's my home." It didn't seem to do any good, though.

DEVELOPERS WTIH PLANS to build a large number of apartments and townhouses on part of the proposed annexation were backing Mill Valley, chiefly because sewer hookup fees in the Richardson Bay Sanitary District are about double what they are in Mill Valley.

A subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph wants to build more than 600 units of apartments, townhouses- and- single family residences on the hill above the Town and Country Village, but has held off so far because of the high hookup charge.

It is clear that the county doesn't want to lose the shopping center and adjacent commercial area from the county tax rolls. This probably played a key role in the denial of the annexation.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Zucker Fate Steals Limelight, Leaves Questions Unanswered

Fusselman

As I halfway expected, that which I was going to discuss was elbowed aside by the I-J front page Zucker story Wednesday afternoon. Most of us have always recognized the right of individuals to their beliefs and also their constitutional rights, but it has been interesting, though, to watch those who most insistently assert their rights, just as insistently try to deny others the same consideration.

This whole Zucker promotion has been loaded with this atmosphere. As an example, he made the pitch at one of the campaign debates, that, "My people are working for Mr. Baptiste in Novato, and he will be elected. Now, elect me and with Mr. Arrigoni and Mr. Wornum we wil have four votes and completely control county government." This was reported to me by one of those present, but too late to use.

In the report of the supervisors' meeting, this from Zucker — "I see absolutely no justification for the dismissal. There were no new issues. The only issue is that I ran for office."

He also asserted, that if the supervisors lacked confidence in him they should have fired him when he announced for election, not after the election.

NOW, WOULDN'T THAT have been just ducky for him? What a tear-jerking martyr of himself would he have exploited!

Of course there were no new issues. He had built up such a stack that there wasn't room for any more. He started in slamming things around from his first days on the job.

You may remember, I said "watch him."

There was entirely too much emphasis placed on planning and conservation in his campaign. It disclosed his unfitness for the job of supervisor. Those are only a part of the constant flow of problems over the desks of the supervisors to be solved.

TIME AFTER TIME I asked in this column as others were asking on the street and in the shopping centers — "Where is the list of his accomplishments?" We all wanted to measure and compare them with the heavy tax costs of his performance. Never an answer.

It was good to see Bill Gnoss refuse to let pressure tactics sway his vote.

Yup he, himself, made the motion for dismissal.

THERE WAS AN ANGLE to this whole show that could wonder one:

Alan Bruce, before election and after, pressed for immediate firing. This "immediate" is the "wonder" word. Ten years ago when the ordinance covering his own job was passed it provided a 10 day notice of dismissal — considered pretty foxy at that time. Then what did the laddy do after I was off the board, but get even more foxy.

He and his liberal buddies then on the board, rewrote that provision to read six months.

"How about that?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Two Plans That Could Cut Funds

The preservation of our California Constitution and the First Amendment to the United States Constitution is of vital importance to all of us. Therefore, I wish to bring to the attention of the public two bills, currently before the State Legislature, which I believe are unconstitutional and would deprive the Treasury of the State and our public schools of badly needed tax funds. If you believe in freedom of religion and also separation of church and state, please write to as many State Assemblymen and Senators as possible and ask them to vote against these bills.

SB-1204, sponsored by Senator George Moscone, provides tuition grants, transportation and books to private and parochial schools. . .

Parents who send their children to private and parochial schools do so by choice, and therefore should bear the costs themselves. . .

SB-2, introduced by Senator John Schmitz, has already been approved by the state senate. This bill would give income tax credit to parents who send their children to private schools. I hope the Assembly defeats this bill also, as it makes no difference whether tax credit is given to the parents or the money is given outright to the hierarchy that runs these schools; the result is the same.

If Senators Schmitz and Moscone were to direct their efforts toward preparing a bill which would tax the profits made by various religions and holdings (tapping a new charitable foundations from unrelated investments and source, rather than merely shifting present taxes), the state could probably afford to expand and improve its public school system, and the property owner and persons with lower incomes would really get a break.

Family Grateful For Fire Help

On Memorial Day our home was destroyed by fire and we would like to use your column to express our gratitude and thanks to all the wonderful people who came to our aid so quickly and willingly. Without their generosity and help, we don't know what we would have done.

The younger generation are seldom praised, but the children of our neighborhood were magnificent. They salvaged what few remains there were; a Koolaid stand was set up, piggy banks were raided and treasured toys were given happily. Complete strangers, as well as our friends, were calling continuously offering assittance.

To say thank you alone is inadequate, to thank everyone personally is impossible, but we hope by using this column we can express to everyone involved just a little of our deep appreciation.

Thank you all so very much.

Facts Distorted On Bulk Mail

Your June 1 editorial "The Bulk Mail Menace" represents the epitome of irresponsible journalism. Not only are the facts distorted beyond recognition, but the editorial itself is so patently a vicious, opinionated, self serving attack on a competitive medium, that it can best be described as pure libel.

First, third class bulk mail is NOT subsidized by the taxpayer, as you would have your readers believe. Had your editorial writer been concerned with some aspect of the truth he would have been aware of the latest postal cost analysis released by the U. S. Post Office Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969. As quoted in the April 13 edition of the Wall Street Journal . . . "A postal cost analysis by the Post Office Department shows that third class advertising matter paid nearly twice its handling cost in the year ending last June 30, but second class newspapers and magazines paid less than half of their handling costs . . .".

Second, by describing all third class mail as "junk" clearly stoops to the lowest form of bigotry. It is like characterising all newspapers as obscene because there are but a small percentage of "underground" newspapers that actually deserve that label. . .

Cat Story And Thomas Huxley

The recent interest in cats reminds me that Thomas Huxley once polished off a chain that Darwin had forged. This chain made it evident that old maids influence the strength of the British Navy. But it has connecting facets which once again proves that mothing is as simple as it appears. The links connect this way; with apologies.

Old maids compensate the maternal urging by keeping cats. Cats eat mice. Darwin states that mice eat bumblebees. Bees pollinate clover. Hence more clover, more cows. The people of old England eat a great deal of roast beef. More beef the more young men they can rear. So; following the chain, old maids, more cats, less mice, more bees, more clover, more cows, more young men, it can be said that the spinsters determine the strength of the British Navy. As for me I hope that's all. Power to the cats.

Novato School Lunches Defended

An article in the June 2 issue of the Independent-Journal reports the findings of the North Marin Food Service Committee. I would like to present this letter as a rebuttal in defense of the lunch program of the Novato School District.

I do have a vested interest in the program. I work in a secondary school kitchen and I have worked in the kitchen of an elementary school of the Novato Food Service. I am also a mother who has had three children go through the elementary schools and graduate from Novato High School. As my children were growing up I had, as a primary interest, the job of furnishing them with well balanced nutritive and attractive meals. It was not too difficult for me to do this as there are innumerable sources of informationy for anyone who is interested; but I found that it is one thing to present proper food to one's children and quite another to make them eat it!

. . . You should see the lunch room garbage cans of the elementary schools: discarded fresh crisp carrot and celery sticks, fruits of prime quality, half-eaten main dishes. The kitchen staff have eaten the same menu item and know of its palatability. The difference is we do not have someone to stand over the child and say "Johnny eat your vegetables or no dessert!"

As for the secondary schools, I was amazed, when I went to work there over a year ago, at the variety of sandwiches, special dishes and snacks that are offered. Sandwiches, of excellent quality, vary from 20 to 35c. Main dishes vary on the same range. What restaurant can compare? And we have the problem of serving 100 to 300 students in the space of about 40 min. Ask any restauranteur what problems this can entail. I believe we do it very well and make sure that no student goes hungry. I am proud of our program, both as a mother and a kitchen worker, and am both willing and eager to listen to and expedite any constructive suggestions within my power.

Marin Women

The Face Seemed Familiar— Chapter Awards Nurses Aid

Mrs. Walter F. Johnson, chairman of the Marin Chapter of the March of Dimes, recently underwent surgery at Ross General Hospital. During her recovery she was cared for by a dark-haired nurse whose face seemed familiar.

Noticing Ruth Johnson's inquiring look, nurse Sena Cummings said, "You know me, Mrs. Johnson — part of me belongs to you."

Mrs. Craig E. Cummings, 23, explained that in 1965, while a senior at Terra Linda High School, she had applied to the March of Dimes for financial assistance in her nursing education and had been awarded a $500 scholarship by the volunteer organization.

"If it hadn't been for that scholarship," Sena said, "I would not be here now."

Sena is one of many young Marin women who have been aided in their nursing education since the March of Dimes scholarship program was developed in 1962 by Miss Valerie Ansel.

Under Ruth's chairmanship (she has served the March of Dimes for 18 years and was chairman from 1961 until 1967), one $500 scholarship was awarded that first year of the program, financed completely through donations to the Marin Chapter.

The following year, Ann Farmer, a 1963 Tamalpais High School graduate was the recipient of the chapter's nurses scholarship and enrolled in the College of Nursing at Sacramento State College.

Two scholarships were made available the next year and in 1964 they were presented to Cynthia Wirt of San Rafael High School and Nancy Cox of Dominican Convent.

Nancy was typical of the young people being encouraged by the March of Dimes. Midway through high school Nancy decided upon a nursing career and devoted one day a week to helping handicapped children at Marindale School.

VALERIE KEHRLEIN

In 1965 a scholarship was presented to Sena Olsen, now Mrs. Cummings, of Terra Linda High School. Sena was a graduate of the first nursing class of the College of Marin in 1967 and has been a nurse for three years at Parkway Convalescent Hospital in Terra Linda, Bayside Convalescent Hospital in Ross and now at Ross General Hospital.

This year's recipients of March of Dimes $500 nursing scholarships are Valerie Lee Lyons of San Marin High School in Novato and Catherine Mary Haley of Tomales High School in Tomales. Valerie Rose Kehrlein of Marin Catholic High School is the recipient of the $100 Betty Jean Becker scholarship.

CATHY HALEY

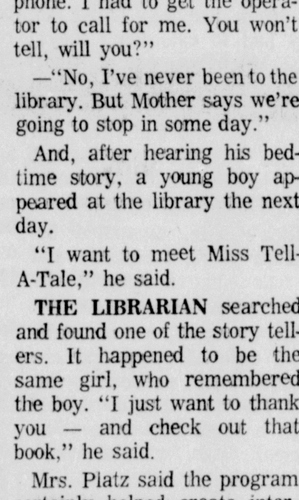
Catherine Haley plans to attend the Kaiser Foundation School of Nursing in Oakland and then to enroll in a California State College to study toward a bachelor of science degree.

"I realize a nurse's salary is not excellent when compared to that of other professions I might have chosen," says Catherine. "However I also realize that I must be happy and self-confident in my career choice and in nursing I know I will be."

Valerie Lyons has been accepted to Chico State College. She has been interested in becoming a nurse since she began Red Cross volunteer work when she entered high school and has worked as a volunteer at Sonoma State Hospital, London House Convalescent Home, and Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Valerie Kehrlein will attend the University of San Francisco. She has a pretty good idea of what her education will be as she has attended the weekly "Future Doctors" class at Marin General Hospital, served as a Red Cross volunteer and attended a course at St. Joseph's Nursing School.

"I think there is a great need for nurses" says Valerie, another future nurse being assisted by donations to the March of Dimes.



VALERIE LYONS

Miss Tell-A-Tale's Phone Never Quit

By MIKE WESTER

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — An innovation in library service for children, that of personalized bedtime stories, has proved a major success during its pilot run in this West Texas city.

Dial-a-bedtime stories from Miss Tell-A-Tale, given a six-week run in Lubbock, immediately hit a snag. Miss Tell-A-Tale was too popular!

"The program was expanded from six to eight weeks, Miss Tell-A-Tale got a private telephone number, and plans to include the program in the future are underway," said Mrs. Ella Mae Platz, head of children's services for the Lubbock City-County Library.

The one-hour program is only the second known attempt by a library to tell stories to children over the telephone. The other, at Sheridan, Wyo., pop. 11,600, also was successful — but operated on a much smaller basis. It used the slogan, "If the three bears answer, don't hang up".

Miss Tell-A-Tale's calls in Lubbock first were channeled through the city switchboard to the library. But after the first three days it was decided the narrator should have her own phone.

"IT WAS A madhouse at the city switchboard," said Mrs. Lou Prothro, communications supervisor for the city, which has a population of 180,000. "We have 20 incoming lines, and the first night they all lighted up and stayed that way for the hour the bedtime story was available. It was just like a Christmas tree."

Mrs. Prothro said it stayed that way through the first week, even after Miss Tell-A-Tale got her own phone. She said additional operators had to be used just to answer calls.

It just happened that the first night of the program a city official saw the switchboard confusion.

"What have we got — a disaster?" asked City Manager Bill Blackburn. He was told it was only children trying to reach Miss Tell-A-Tale. He was convinced there should be a special phone because the city also must take fire, police and power emergency calls.

"We tried to hold the stories to three minutes, and take another minute to get the child's name, age, and invite him to the library," said Mrs. Platz. "With three story tellers, we averaged about 45 calls per night. At that rate, we estimate we handled about 1,400 bedtime stories during the eight-week period."

IN ADDITION to members of the children's department of the library, volunteers were called upon. High school, college and young married women who enjoyed children and their books also read.

The average age of the caller was 4 to 7, although there were many older children. Mike Machen, 8, a Lubbock second-grader, said he tried to reach Miss Tell-A-Tale every night.

"It's fun to hear a bedtime story over the phone," he said. "It's better than being tucked into bed by Mother. You can get that any night."

Reaction of children was varied:

—"This isn't a recording, is it? My Daddy said it would be."

—"Now, I'm going to tell you a story. Once upon a time. . ."

—"I know Miss Tell-A-Tale doesn't come on until 8 p.m. But I'm just 6 and I can't tell time yet."

—"I'm too young to dial the phone. I had to get the operator to call for me. You won't tell, will you?"

—"No, I've never been to the library. But Mother says we're going to stop in some day."

And, after hearing his bedtime story, a young boy appeared at the library the next day.

"I want to meet Miss Tell-A-Tale," he said.

THE LIBRARIAN searched and found one of the story tellers. It happened to be the same girl, who remembered the boy. "I just want to thank you — and check out that book," he said.

Mrs. Platz said the program certainly helped create interest in the children's department and children's books. Those who already used the library came back more often, and new children started using it.

Mrs. Platz said stories were chosen that could be understood without pictures.

FIVE-YEAR-old Stephanie Fikes of Lubbock, Tex., listens to a dial-a-bedtime story from "Miss Tell-A-Tale," the story teller at the Lubbock City-County Library. The innovation in library service was given a six-week run but hit a snag because "Miss Tell-A-Tale" was too popular. (UPI Telephoto)

Drama And Opera To Benefit Autistic Program In Marin

An evening of opera and drama to benefit autistic children will be held at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur at 8 p.m., June 25 and 26.

Sponsored by the Marin County Autistic Society, the play "Children Of The Mime," by A. C. Nicholow, a specialist in emotional disorders who works with autistic children in Hayward, is about a 30-year-old autistic man — one who never developed the ability to communicate with other people.

Empathy Players will present this premier and the Mosaic Opera Co. of San Francisco will perform excerpts from six operas.

The society, under the direction of Clifford Juillerat, plans to purchase a half-acre lot by Hall School to build a treatment center so that the special education programs started at the school in 1967 by Mrs. Edna Koehler may be extended. With the help of volunteers Mrs. Koehler has been working with a class of about 15 autistic children on a one-to-one basis using a multi-stimuli approach which keeps them constantly busy.

Autism was defined in 1940 but psychologists and psychiatrists do not agree on its causes. Theories range from blaming it on an enzyme or vitamin shortage or brain damage to some damaging emotional experience.

"From very early in life, before two years old, the child

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

When Will Students Learn That Violence Is A Greater Wrong?

DEAR HELEN:

Can someone tell me how a generation whose biggest phrase is "love and peace" can justify burning buildings, rioting, shouting four-letter words at speakers, storming college offices and demanding their non-negotiable rights with raised fists?

And how can barricading a busy freeway, so that hundreds of people are late to work, possibly do anything to stop the war? When they burn down a bank, is this helping the cause of peace?

I wonder if those who begin such riots are really interested in ending the war, or in starting a revolution? And how can otherwise sane students get carried away by the mob to such an extent that they become a part of it?

Heaven knows I'm for world peace and for changes in our educational system and our country, but not by violence.

When will young people learn that they only defeat their cause when their wild actions are worse than the wrongs they are fighting against? — RYAN

DEAR RYAN:

That most of the "love and peace" generation are fairly peaceful dissenters has been proven by scores of non-violent demonstrations, several of the largest staged this spring at Washington, D.C.

But one bad move, magnified by a few firebrands, can turn a crowd into a raging mob. One or two students can throw firebombs that destroy irreplaceable research or property worth thousands of dollars.

And the blame falls on all.

Most of us are for free speech: Dissent brings needed changes, unless it erupts into mob action. Then violence brings reprisals, and the cause is lost. Youth knows this, having seen it happen many times.

It seems to me that young people themselves could do a better job of policing the destructionists.

When the majority realizes it can stop the minority cold by sheer weight of numbers, universities may get back to the business of education again. — H.

For further information, write to the party, Box 6062, Sacramento, California, 95860. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Has this ever occurred to anyone but me?

Campus violence is sometimes attributed to subversive organizations. Certain people say the Communists are masterminding the riots and battles.

But each time there is a college incident it brings us that much closer to electing a completely reactionary government of far-rights.

So isn't it possible that instead of our campus revolutionaries being paid by the Commies, they are in truth paid by the far-far-rightists who know that if you scare people badly enough, they'll swing the pendulum way back to the 1880s — with a total crack-down on everything, including heads? — T.C.

DEAR T.:

Do your initials stand for "Tongue in Cheek?" Or do they? — H.

MR. AND MRS. Orve Van Winkle of Novato stand before one of the many varieties of dog houses he makes and sells. They are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary today. The couple was married on June 12, 1920 in Auburn, Neb.

'Merry-Go-Round' Through 50 Years Of Married Life

"We met on a merry-go-round at a Fourth of July celebration and we've been on a merry-go-round ever since," said Orve Van Winkle as he and his wife reminisced about their 50 years of marriage.

Rip, as he is called by his friends, and Lola Wilson were married in the Methodist Parsonage in Auburn, Neb., 50 years ago today.

They came to California in 1938 during the depression years, and Mr. Van Winkle said, "If I'd had the money, I would have gone back to Nebraska." However, Mrs. Van Winkle says she would not have gone.

During their years of marriage Mr. Van Winkle said about his work, "You name it, and I've done it." He has worked as an auto mechanic, trucker and as a bartender.

As any couple married 50 years, they have had their sad and happy moments.

During World War II their son Floyd was a prisoner of war in Japan for 44 months. Ironically, following his release from the service, he was killed in a car accident in Colorado eight years ago.

They have four other children, who honored them at Pete's Shipwreck Lodge in Novato Saturday night with a buffet dinner.

Their children are Mrs. Arlene Foster of Burlingame, Mrs. Paul Sutton, who is visiting from Odessa, Tex., Mrs. L. G. Balmer of Novato and Lowell Van Winkle of Sonoma.

They have six grandchildren, Mrs. David Giovanolli and Roberta Foster, the children of Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Shirley Parker, Mrs. Gloria Edmiston, and William and Gerald Sutton, the children of Mrs. Sutton. They also have 10 great grandchildren.

The Van Winkles, who both have a fine sense of humor and continually kid one another, said their main pastime now is playing pinochle, almost every night with their friends. "We don't play partners, though," Mrs. Van Winkle said.

A heart condition a few years ago curtailed Mrs. Van Winkle's activities somewhat. She attends Our Lady of Loretto Church, where she became a convert five years ago.

Mr. Van Winkle keeps busy building and selling dog houses.

Time, Money Used For Funerals Is Better Spent On The Living

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Isn't the coffin beautiful?" whispered the elderly woman.

"Must have cost a fortune," agreed the lady seated next to her.

At least 30 persons were crowded into the small living room that was adorned with elaborate floral sprays. Periodically, trays of sandwiches, pastries and coffee were served.

This was the first wake I had attended in years, and it was unusual only because it was being held in the home of the deceased. Whereas this was standard practice years ago, today such services are generally held in funeral chapels.

As I watched the attention, time and care that were being given to the occasion of this man's death, I couldn't help wondering, if this same time and attention had been given him during his life, would he now be dead at age 30 — the victim of a drug overdose?

THERE WAS Mitch's mother seated next to the coffin. She took off from work to be with him now. How well I remembered childhood days when Mitch was always home alone. His father had split years ago and his Mom couldn't miss a day from her job. (After all, they had to eat, didn't they?) Once Mitch was out of school for 15 days waiting for his Mom to 'get time off' to go back to school with him and straighten out his transgressions against the hallowed-halls-of-learning. But she took a day off today.

Mitch's wife, dissipated beyond her years, sat quietly, and his four children hungrily devoured sandwiches and cookies.

This, of course, was not an isolated case of pomp and circumstance for the dead — for black folk have long considered death a monumental occasion. After all, birth, for an historically depressed peopre, was merely the beginning of a long, hard haul through life. And death was the final laying down of that burden. Proportionately few blacks have been among the esoterics who could say and believe that "live is beautiful." For too many, the epitaph has been "life is hell."

Black spirituals have long heralded the event of the "coming to the end of the line"—and many have struggled nobly to be worthy of this grand finale. Being well-versed in the Christian ethic, many blacks are believers in the "hereafter."

BLACK FOLK, of course, are not alone when it comes to wishing to "put away" their loved ones "in style." And there are reportedly several so-called psychological benefits (for the bereaved) from engaging in "Cadillac" funerals.

But, more important, there are the conditions that exist for the black family after the deceased is put away. It would appear that insurance money, now available, and savings could better be spent on the living — food for fatherless children, education and so on.

Albert Grassos, Longtime Marin Residents, Mark 50th Anniversary

Married June 6, 1920, in San Francisco were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grasso. They moved to Marin in 1921 and have lived in the Fairfax-San Anselmo area since.

Mrs. Grasso was president of the Fairfax Women's Club when that town was incorporated in 1931 and she remembers it as a "beautiful, small summertime place." The town has grown, she says, but some of the couple's friends who used to picnic together every Monday on McNear's beach are still living in Fairfax.

Mr. Grasso, who was a truck driver for Shell Oil Co. and later a bartender in Novato, San Anselmo and San Rafael, hauled gasoline to the construction site of the Golden Gate Bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Grasso were the first to walk across the bridge when it opened on May 27, 1937.

"It was terrific. It was beautiful," Mr. Grasso said of the crowds which swarmed over the completed bridge.

Mrs. Grasso was born Dorothy Hallmeyer in Oakland and attended high school in Santa Clara, and Mr. Grasso was born in San Francisco, and he attended high school there.

They have three children, Mrs. John Buttimer of Novato, George Grasso of San Mateo, who has two children, and Russell A. Grasso of Fairfax, who has two sons.

Asked if she had any advice for someone about to get married, Mrs. Grasso said "I wouldn't give them any advice at all, I'd mind my own business."

She and Mr. Grasso plan to "just live." They visit Lake Tahoe yearly and the San Mateo home of their son and daughter-in-law, who hosted a surprise cocktail party on the couple's anniversary.

Engagement Of Students Told

The engagement of Susan van de Sandt and Alan Wayne Cates has been announced by Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alan van de Sandt of Petaluma.

Both Susan and Alan are Petaluma High School graduates. He attends Santa Rosa Junior College, and she plans to enter the college in the fall.

The bride-elect is the sister of Penny van de Sandt of Petaluma and Kathryn Colsten of Sunnyvale.

Alan is the son of M. D. Cates of Amarillo, Tex., and Mrs. J. E. Cates of Petaluma. Mrs. M. W. Thompson of Petaulma is his grandmother and Jim Cates of Petaluma is Alan's brother.

Treating Autism In Marin

tends to be withdrawn," said Dr. Earnest Giraldi, a Presidio doctor who has been working with Mrs. Koehler's class for almost a year.

"It's a complete refusal to interact with other human beings. An autistic child spends his time with an object like a toy or a piece of furniture instead of reacting to people. He wants to maintain the same environment and becomes disturbed if objects or people are not in their usual place. He lives in another world," the doctor explained.

"This (multistimuli approach) is working. We've proven that the child can be educated. Three or four kids are now spending all day in regular school which is really unheard of."

He is setting up a behavioral laboratory at Letterman General Hospital so that more children can benefit from this apparently successful treatment, which has worked on some children who have been turned down by institutions and deemed hopeless.

Partly to learn more about Mrs. Koehler's class the National Society for Autistic Children is meeting in San Francisco June 25 to 27. The Marin society will present a film and slides of the Larkspur program believed to be the only one of it's kind in the U.S.

Tickets for the drama and opera may be purchased from Clifford Juillerat of Belvedere.

Warrant On Grand Theft Is Issued

A warrant charging grand theft has been issued by the Marin district attorney's office against the former captain of the guards employed at the Independent-Journal plant in San Rafael, who has been missing since March 27.

Charged with taking $1,431 from the owner of Nor-Cal Guards is Forrest Jerrold Morais, 34, who has also used the name of Jerrold Frank Morais.

In signing a complaint against Morais, Robert Borissoff claimed that he had given Morais a check for $1,431 during March to pay a bill for guard uniforms at a Sacramento store. Although Borissoff said that Morais assured him the bill had been paid, the store owner claimed it had not.

Borissoff said that he last saw Morais on March 26 and that he did not report for work on March 27 but was seen that day in Sacramento.

Borissoff also mentioned in his complaint that the house in Loma Verde which Morais and his wife had rented had been stripped and that neighbors reported seeing an unmarked moving van leave the residence.

It has been rumored that Morais, a tall, dark-haired and skinned man of Portuguese and Negro ancestry, has gone to Brazil with his small blonde wife, who was also an employee of Nor-Cal Guards.

Morais also has been charged with battery against an I-J picket and was set to be tried Aug. 3 in Marin Municipal Court.

Bail on the warrant for his arrest was set at $2,500.

Sonoma State Report Hits Tuition Proposal

A research report released yesterday at Sonoma State College declared that any legislation imposing tuition will "constitute a highly regressive education tax" unless the law waives tuition for low-income college and university students.

Tuition without regard to abiliy to pay "will hit hardest those least able to afford it — the self-supporting adult student," according to the report.

In the report on "Tuition and the Economic Condition of Students" issued by a research seminar conducted by Dr. George McCabe, the typical Sonoma State student was pictured as a self-supporting adult between the ages of 22 and 25 years.

In addition to carrying a full academic load, students work an average of 15 to 20 hours per week at $1.25 to $1.75 per hour. The report said the student is also likely to have borrowed $1,500 to cover education costs.

"If tuition is imposed on state college students, McCabe said, "It will hit hardest those least able to afford it — the self-supporting adult student. Tuition would be an educational tax imposed on one of the lowest income troups in our society — the young adult students earn between $100 and $125 per month."

The self-supporting student, according to the report, would absorb the additional education cost of tuition "by increasing a work load which is already too heavy and by going further into debt."

The minority of students whose education is being paid for by their parents will pay added costs by getting still more assistance from the family, McCabe said.

Compared to the self-supporting students, "fewer parent-supported students will pay for tuition from their own funds. Fewer will pay for tuition by borrowing. Fewer will defer tuition until after graduation. Fewer will drop out for a while to earn money. Fewer will drop out permanently," the report added.

The survey of 442 psychology majors showed that the amount of family income usually determines how much financial assistance students receive.

"For example," according to the survey, "the median income of families totally supporting men students is $18,000. Less affluent families seem to be more willing to support their daughters than they are their sons. The median income of families which pay more than half the expenses of their daughters is $12,000. But the majority of students of both sexes who support themselves come from markedly poorer families."

If legislation enacting tuition is to authorize the waiving of tuition for those who cannot afford it, as has been suggested by Gov. Ronald Reagan, as many as half the students enrolled in the state colleges will be exempted, the report showed.

If legislation does not provide for the waiving of tuition for lower income stduents, it will, in the opinion of McCabe, "constitute a highly regressive education tax which will hit hardest the self-reliant student who is working his way through college."

High Speed Chase Nabs Novato Youth

A 20-year-old Novato youth was booked at Marin County Jail at 4:28 a.m. today on suspicion of reckless driving, resisting arrest, and possession of alcohol while a minor after a chase through west Novato at speeds approaching 70 miles per hour.

Arresting officer Kenneth L. Ankeny reported seeing a sports car with only one headlight and one taillight driven by Robert Doyle Fuller, run a stop sign on Wilson Avenue.

When pursued by the officer, the car turned up Virginia Avenue and raced to Grant Avenue at about 70 m.p.h. with its lights out, Ankeny reported. At Grant Avenue, the car ran another stop sign and continued up Seventh Street before the chase ended at Carmel Drive and Vallejo Street at 3:37 a.m., he said.

Fuller, of 205 San Felipe Way, said his brakes didn't work, according to Ankeny. The officer reported finding a six-pack of beer in the car.

Fuller, who has been arrested several times on suspicion of narcotics or alcohol law violations, is awaiting trial in Superior Court on charges of possessing alcohol as a minor and possession of marijuana stemming from a March 30 arrest.

In November he was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, but pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of felonious assault and was sentenced to a week in jail and one year of summary probation.

He was released today on $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

FAMILY

"Let It Be" - The Beatles opened the doors to one of their rehearsals, this is a documentary film record of the event. Will appeal to Beatle fans.

"Horse in the Grey Flannel Suit" - Disney weaves pleasant characters, genial humor and a touch of romance that surround exciting scenes of superb horsemanship and magnificent horses.

"How the West Was Won" - Story of development of American West, following a family of early settlers and their descendants. Magnificent scenery, exciting action with a host of stars.

"King of Grizzlies" - Disney tells us of the adventurous life of a grizzly bear in the Canadian Rockies, marvelously photographed. Has appeal for whole family.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Anne of the 1000 Days" - Magnificently staged and cast, historical drama of lust and political intrigue which encompasses the courtship, marriage, trial and beheading of Anne Boleyn.

"Battle of Britain" - An exceptional and absorbing account of four terrible but triumphant months in England's history in the summer of 1940. Semi-documentary, superior direction, acting and photography.

"Impossible Years" - A slick farce about a professor of psycology getting a massive dose of those problems for which he had always blamed other parents. His attendant hysteria when he learns his daughter is no longer a virgin is old as time.

"Rider in the Rain" - Parental guidence suggested for this murder mystery that is a battle of wits between a young wife, who kills a stranger who invades her home and rapes her and then disposes of body, and an army Colonel who is searching for the murdered man. (Motion Picture Exhibitor Magazine).

"Sicilian Clan" - Head of Mafia arranges a prison break in order to accomplish one final robbery before retirement. Well acted and photographed. Treatment of sexual material makes film unsuitable for younger members of family, but much less violence than most of this type story.

BORDERLINE

"Alice's Restaurant" - Thought-provoking true story about a commune of hippies in an uncommitted life that is both sad and funny. Son of the language and actions are in very poor taste.

"Goodbye Columbus" - Sophisticated, very frank comedy about a summer love affair of a teen-aged Jewish girl. Her characterful family's behavior and mannerisms are real and humorous. A dispute over the use of contraceptives is very explicit.

"Lady In Cement" - In this tale of violence and crime, dialogue is rough, action brutal. Frank Sinatra is private detective and is much smarter than police - crime treated as comedy.

"Petulia" - Sophisticated comedy about a young couple's life of aimless luxury that is complicated when the wife becomes enamored with older man who is a doctor. Frequent use of flashback technique is sometimes confusing.

"Suppose They Gave a Way and Nobody Came" - Plot relates to no historical war but a slapstick skirmish between the U.S. military and the paramilitary citizenry near an army base in the southwest. It is a battle of computer against computer and the basic question is "What did it all prove?" (Catholic Newsletter)

ADULTS ONLY

"Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" - An irreverent social satire, slick in its trimmings and has a sharp bite in its characters, dialogue and frank appraisal of modern marriage and morals.

"The Losers" - The army recruits a motorcycle gang to rescue a Presidential adviser, a prisoner of the Chinese in Cambodia. Each member of gang has a reason for wanting to be there. Very violent. (Boxoffice Magazine)

"M-A-S-H" - Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Antiwar film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

"What Do You Say to a Naked Lady?" - Allen Funt of Candid Camera extends his debasing Peeping Tom technique to feature length with sex and nudity as the trashy gimmick.

"Women In Love" - Film abounds in art, visual effects and style. D. H. Lawrence's novel written 50 years ago is strongly put forth with very explicit, sensual eroticism and much nudity, both male and female.

New Mexico state engineers indicate their state will need to import 1.5 million acre-feet of water annually by the year 2020 to meet needs.

Narcotics Bust For Hells Angels

OAKLAND (AP) — A top Hells Angels leader was arrested Thursday night and $250,000 in heroin and cocaine was seized in one of the biggest narcotics raids in the city's history.

After a year of surveillance, 23 police searched the ranch-style home of Ralph Hubert "Sonny" Barger, president of the Oakland Hells Angels, one of the biggest chapters of the nationwide motorcycle club.

Arrested with Barger were Susan Marie Gruhlke, 20, who lives at Barger's house, and two other Hells Angels, Donald Howorth, 35, Studio City, and Alfred "Fat Freddie" Gutierrez, 32, who was arrested in a house across the street.

All were booked for investigation of possession of narcotics and dangerous drugs, violation of the federal firearms act and conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws.

Grosvenor To Head National Geographic

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Gilbert M. Grosvenor, fifth member of his family to serve with the National Geographic Magazine, has been elected editor of the publication effective Oct. 1.

Grosvenor will succeed Frederick G. Vosburg, who is retiring. Grosvenor's great-great grandfather, Gardiner Greene Hubbard, founded the publication in 1888, and his great grandfather, inventor Alexander Graham Bell, was its second president.

3 Large Signs Coming Down, Larkspur Says

Three large signs advertising the Bon Air Apartments will be removed by the Schultz Building Co., the Greenbrae Property Owners Association was told last night.

Director Howard M. Oser told the board that the city of Larkspur had assured the signs, long the subject of residents' complaints, are coming down, reported Secretary Beth Reilly.

One sign is on Via La Cumbre, visible from Highway 101, and the other two are in front of the apartments on Via Casitas.

The board named Clyde R. Widnes to represent the association in planning for a Larkspur town meeting this fall.

A resolution of appreciation was ordered sent to Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni for getting a pedestrian guard rail installed along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The rail is now under construction.

FIRST GRADUATES OF SAN MARIN HIGH SCHOOL

Barbecue Almost Suffocates Family

A family of five at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary narrowly escaped death Wednesday when a portable barbecue was brought into their apartment before the coals were extinguished, it was reported today.

Ila Zeman, whose husband, Gregory, is a student at the seminary, told the Independent-Journal the family had used the new barbecue Tuesday evening. To keep it from rusting, she wheeled it into the living room of their apartment on the seminary campus about midnight.

At 2:30 a.m., she was awakened by her 16-year-old son Russell, who told her that Zeman was on the floor of the living room, where he had been studying, and couldn't get up.

Within minutes, Russell and Stephanie, 12, had passed out, and Rene, 14, was on the bedroom floor, also unable to get up.

Mrs. Zeman began opening windows and called a doctor. Zeman and the children had suffered carbon monoxide poisoning. Mrs. Zeman was unaffected because she had had the bedroom door closed.

Wildlife Habitat Is Blessed: $2,000 Gift

The class donated $2,000 raised for the class gift to the fund to save Lower Tubbs Island, a wildlife habitat in Sonoma County off Sears Point.

At commencement last night, Class President Joseph Enzensperger handed the $2,000 check, raised from class dues, bake sales and car washing, to Douglas P. Ferguson of Sausalito, Marin chairman of the Nature Conservancy, a nationwide foundation which initiated the purchase of the 330-acre bird sanctuary.

Nature Conservancy launched the purchase campaign last fall with a down payment of $27,000 toward the $300,000 price.

Enzensperger said class members listed suggestions on how to spend their money, then voted on the four mentioned most often.

"We didn't want to make the usual stereotyped gift," Enzensperger said. "Tubbs Island is a living thing, and all my classmates will be able to say that they helped make this island stay alive."

The gift is the largest ever presented by a Redwood senior class.

Tubbs Island is one of San Francisco Bay's few remaining wintering areas for canvasback ducks, and is populated with more than 60 other bird species, including egrets, herons, and the rare California clapper rail.

$1,000 Bronze Figurine Stolen

A $1,000 bronze verdigris figurine was stolen between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. Thursday from the Marin Medical Group courtyard, 11 Professional Parkway, San Rafael police reported today.

The figurine is a wingless version of a caduceus, the winged staff of Mercury, symbol of the medical profession.

Motorcycle Accident Hurts Novato Woman

A 24-year-old Novato woman was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a fractured right collarbone suffered in a motorcycle accident, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Grace P. Halloran, of 1253 Yukon Way, was thrown from her vehicle after the front wheel struck a small ditch while she was riding on the Gallagher Brothers Ranch near Nicasio at 8:20 p.m., officers said.

FBI Agent Retires; To Span Post

Dale F. Norton, resident agent in Marin for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, retired today to take a $16,000-a-year security and personnel job with the Golden Gate Bridge District.

His retirement ends more than 29 years' service with the FBI. Norton has been resident agent in Marin for 17 years, previously working as special agent in Illinois and San Francisco.

Norton, who lives in Greenbrae, will start work for the bridge district Monday.

Valley Ford Pot Suspect In Court

Michael Lee McCoy, 25, of Valley Ford, who told the officers who arrested him Wednesday they were "the nicest cops I've ever met," was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of growing and possessing marijuana.

His companion, arrested at the same time, Joel Richard Duckett, also 25, was freed yesterday, however, because of lack of evidence.

McCoy reportedly posed for officers in his patch of 400 pot plants at his rural home and then willingly pulled up all the plants.

He was to return to court today to enter pleas to the charges.

Motorcycle Crash Hurts Prove Fatal

John Allan May, of 376 Sunset Way, died of a head injury at 1 a.m., according to coroner's investigator Keith Craig.

Mill Valley police said May was riding his motorcycle south on Camino Alto at 12:35 p.m. Wednesday when a car driven by Lucie B. Mellor, 38, of 241 Solano Street, San Rafael, made a left turn in front of him at Sycamore Avenue.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

May's death brings to 17 the number of persons killed on Marin County highways this year, the same as at this time last year.

Educators To Discuss Tax Proposal

Marin school superintendents will meet at 10 a.m. Monday to discuss the possible effects on Marin schools of Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax overhaul plan.

Anthony G. Bacich, superintendent of Kentfield School District and president of the Association of Marin School Administrators, said today he called the meeting on learning that the tax plan would cost all Marin school districts sizeable amounts of money. The revenue loss in Kentfield district would be approximately $50,000, he said.

The tax bill, Assembly Bill 1000, authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Anselmo, would freeze school spending at current operating levels, allowing increases only for higher costs of supplies and salaries or increased enrollment. Tax rate increases would require a vote in the district.

Bacich said the plan would knock out all district override taxes, such as those levied for the extra cost of seventh and eighth grade programs and paying teachers' fringe benefits.

The plan was attacked by educators in a hearing Wednesday before the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee. Another hearing is scheduled for June 24.

The superintendents will meet in the Marin County Schools Office.

Directors Favor Three Youth Jobs

The Richardson Bay Sanitary District board agreed last night to hire three high school youths for summer work in the district, according to president Douglas De La Fountaine.

The board authorized plant operator Max H. Graefe to hire the youths at $1.75 an hour for a minimum of six weeks. They will perform minor maintenance tasks such as weeding and painting, De La Fontaine said.

The next meeting was set for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Trestle Glen treatment plant, 500 Tiburon Boulevard.

Minor Injuries As Driver Blacks Out

A San Francisco man and his wife were treated for minor cuts and released at Marin General Hospital after 2 one-car accident in San Rafael yesterday.

Police reported that Henry Derruau Jr., 73, blacked out at the wheel and struck a utility pole in front of 22 Woodland Avenue at 4:44 p.m.

Ronson Stock Likely To Stay Depressed

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought Ronson at 21⅛ a share. Should I hang on or sell? — D.M.

A. Despite diversification moves into new product areas in 1969, Ronson was unable to reach its projected sales goal of $102 million for the year. A reshaping of marketing territories, designed to increase the number of distribution channels and thereby boost RON's selling potential, resulted in undermanned districts and lost sales. A 48 cents-a-share deficit was rung up for the fourth quarter. Also contributing to this sharp decline were extraordinary year-end write-offs and adjustments at the domestic appliance division.

An improvement was seen in the first quarter of 1970 with net reported at 10 cents per share on sales of $20.6 million. However, this was still well below first-quarter 1969 results. Pressures working against Ronson are expected to continue near term, but the introduction of new appliances and aggressive marketing of the firm's big ticket item, Foodmatic, should have a positive impact on sales during 1971. Until new products generate substantial earnings gains, RON shares are likely to remain depressed.

Q. Please explain the relationship between ecology and pollution. What companies are involved in the field of ecology? — J.Y.

A. Your evident confusion is not surprising. Ecology, which is a broader term than pollution, is the study of the relationships of one life form to another and the contribution of each to the natural elements which sustain human life. Pollution of these elements therefore threatens human life. If such pollution, being recognized, is neither controlled nor eradicated, the estimated damage to society will be appallling.

Because the social problems of ecological imbalance are so all-encompassing, ecology as a study is rightfully the function of government under the Department of the Interior. There are, however, numerous firms engaged in various aspects of pollution abatement, many of which have been discussed here in the past.

Stock Prices Dip Again; Sales Gain

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished lower today for the fourth consecutive session, although the Dow Jones Industrial Average made a smart recovery in the final hour.

Turnover was relatively light.

The UPI Marketwide Indicator showed a loss of 0.94 per cent on 1,497 issues traded. Of these, 866 retreated, 358 advanced.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 selected blue chips was off 0.21 at 684.21. It had been down more than 6 points at the halfway mark.

Turnover amounted to around 8,750,000 shares, up from 7,770,000 shares Thursday.

The market's action generally was described as a further consolidation of last month's sharp advance. But some analysts attributed part of the hesitancy to concern over events in Jordan and normal pre-weekend caution.

Point-sized losses cropped up most often in the electronics. IBM closed off 1-4 at 259. Honeywell was down 2 1-8 in late trading. Most other major stock groups surrendered fractions, although declines of a point or so were noted in a few instances.

Wells Fargo See Slump Over By '71

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Wells Fargo Bank predicted yesterday in its monthly business review that the current business slowdown will be shortlived, perhaps lasting only until the end of the year.

"The modest degree of slowing that has occurred so far indicates that the present decline will be mild when compared with postwar recessions, which also were relatively brief and hardly severe."

The bank found encouragement in the continued high level of consumer spending, the bottoming out in residential construction, and an end to the sharp drop in sales of autos and household durables.

DELINQUENT TAX NOTICE
AFFIDAVIT OF INTENT TO SELL REAL PROPERTY TO THE STATE

STANLEY J. FONTEZ, Tax Collector of the County of Marin, State of California, being first duly sworn upon oath, deposes and says:

That notice is hereby given that unless the total amount due for taxes, assessments and other charges levied in the year 1969-70 on any property as shown on the secured roll in my custody, is paid before 5:00 o'clock P.M. June 30, 1970, the real property on which such amounts are a lien (except real property previously sold to the state and not redeemed) will, by operation of law, be sold to the State of California at such time in the Office of the Tax Collector at the Civic Center, City of San Rafael, County of Marin.

Real property sold to the State may be redeemed by payment of all unpaid taxes and assessments together with such additional penalties and fees as prescribed by law, or may be redeemed under an installment plan of redemption.

Unless sooner redeemed or an installment plan of redemption is initiated and maintained thereon, real property sold to the State for delinquent taxes will be subsequently deeded to the State at the time prescribed by law. ONLY MAN IN HIS CLASS WHO HAS ONE

Seventeen-year-old Darlene P. Balzan of 1201 Grand Avenue, wasn't one to let the graduation of her friend, Christopher Blanc Coyne, from San Rafael High School go unheralded. So she and Christopher's brother, Michael, prepared a surprise, a large red and white sign on her front lawn. Unsuspecting Christopher of 360 Summit Avenue, said, "It cracked me up," and it also brought smiles to passing motorists. The sign went up yesterday and will come down after graduation tonight.

Muskie, The Touted Fox, Back At Home

A young San Anselmo television personality who ran away from home about a month ago — possibly miffed at being denied a movie role — was returned Wednesday after a harrowing experience with gun-toting youngsters.

The runaway, known as Muskie, was not the typical youngster who throws a knapsack over his shoulder and stomps out of the house in pique. He is a fox.

Muskie has appeared on television with Captain San Francisco on Channel 44 and on Channle 2's "Dialing for Dollars." However, his budding career suffered a reversal when his owner Donald McCuaig Jr. of San Anselmo refused him a role in a Walt Disney film three months ago. He was afraid his pet would be mistreated.

Muskie's subsequent departure was his only comment, but he must have had a few oaths for the gunmen. One of them shot him in a paw while he was romping in an Upper Lucas Valley field Monday.

A farmer who saw the star on his land must not watch "Captain San Francisco" or Dialing for Dollars" because he sicced three boys on the fox, according to Mrs. Kirk Beales of 11 Mount Burny Court, who took the rover in.

He was returned to his 1417 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard home after his owner and friends saw his picture in the Independent-Journal Wednesday.

Although he was well cared for at the Beales' home after he was shot, McCuaig hopes he will stay home from now on.

The last time he strayed, a car ran over him, breaking both his hind legs and a hip.

Sisters Held In Burglary Cases

Two teen-age girls from San Pablo were arrested in Petaluma yesterday on suspicion of burglary and receiving stolen property.

Arrested were Beverly Diana Watters, 18, and her sister, Robin Marie Watters, 14.

Police said they stopped the girls' car for speeding on Petaluma Boulevard South and found a metal box that had been reported stolen yesterday from the home of Josephine Lane, 1787 Spring Hill Road, Petaluma.

The stolen box contained $74 in cash and personal papers. Police said they also found money and watches in the car that had been reported stolen in San Pablo.

Beverly Watters was booked into the Sonoma County Jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Robin Watters was turned over to juvenile authorities.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Marijuana Legalization Would Add To Grief Of Booze, Smokes

Those who want to legalize marijuana claim the weed is no more harmful than alcohol and tobacco. Perhaps this is true, but two wrongs do not make a right.

At present, we are having enough trouble with alcohol and tobacco, and it would be a serious mistake to add pot to the list.

Less than 100 years ago, many prominent people said the same thing about opium. One wrote in the London Times "Pro-opiumists maintain that opium smoking is no worse than gin or whisky drinking."

Another described that habit "as harmless as twiddling your thumbs." Time disproved these theories.

MARIJUANA IS NOT a narcotic, although it is so classified for legal purposes. It is an hallucinogen that produces a feelinf of euphoria, exaltation, and a dreamy sensation associated with a free flow of ideas. The drug has no medical value. It produces a strong psychic dependence but not a physical dependence.

Once the amount needed to achieve the desired results is established, the dose need not be increased (tolerance) as in physical dependence. The drug can be sniffed or taken orally, but the effects occur most quickly when it is smoked.

The feeling that follows is roughly comparable to having a couple of drinks. At a pot party, the user is talkative and laughs easily; if he takes the drug when alone, he becomes drowsy and quiet.

The user may feel capable of extraordinary physical and mental feats which he seldom performs because he does not want to disrupt the "way out" feeling.

But marijuana is not as innocuous as many people have been led to believe. The ability to drive, for example, may be seriously impaired. The psychic dependence may lead to self-neglect, lethargy, and loss of ambition.

THE MOST SERIOUS objection to marijuana is that it may precipitate psychotic episodes with hallucinations. In a recent report, three people were admitted to a mental institution as a result of marijuana. A California study showed that 11 per cent of students smoked pot. But the majority of these young adults had only used it once or twice.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

INTRACTABLE FLU

C. C. writes: Can chronic influenza be cured?

REPLY

This depends upon what you mean by chronic flu. I assume you refer to an attack of flu that fails to subside. In such instances, a secondary infection or a complication usually exists. For example, infection may spread to the sinuses or the kidneys. Bouts of influenza often are followed by marked fatigue and injections of vitamin B or B12 may have a tonic effect. Now and then nervousness prolongs recovery.

SWEET TOOTH

W. T. writes: My elderly mother puts sugar in and on everything, including potatoes. She doesn't care much for meat or fish. Do you think I should let her continue to eat this way?

REPLY

Yes. There is no need for concern if she has been examined by the family doctor and is in good health. If she is not getting all the basic foods, a vitamin-mineral supplement is in order.

Hearing Is Continued To July

A preliminary hearing for three International Typographical Union members charged with conspiring to damage property of Independent-Journal advertisers yesterday was postponed in Marin Municipal Court to July 7 at 9 a.m.

The continuance was granted by Judge Peter Allen Smith when Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said that some of his witnesses were not available yesterday.

It was reported that the attorney for the defendants, Robert D. Carrow of Novato, would not be able to appear again until the July date.

The three men, Dennis Joseph Crowley, 41, of San Jose; James Robert Brucato, 31, of Santa Rosa, and Grant William Anders, 30, of Pleasant Hill, were arrested early the morning of June 3 near the Strawberry Shopping Center.

They are charged with conspiring to break windows of six San Rafael stores and three Novato businesses belonging to merchants who refused to discontinue advertising in the I-J.

They were the first persons arrested in connection with such window-smashing since the San Francisco Typographical Union 21 went on strike against the I-J in January. About 40 businesses have been vandalized.

Fairfax Artist's Birds Displayed

Sixteen ceramic birds and four linoleum block rints of birds are on display at the Fairfax branch of Marin County Library at 47 Broadway, Fairfax.

Branch Librarian Emily Shortell announced that the display, all the work of Mrs. John L. Rockwell of Fairfax, will continue through June 30.

A graduate of Oberlin College in Ohio, Mrs. Rockwell studied ceramics for several years with Edward Cadogan at College of Marin. She has lived in Fairfax 25 years.

TV REVIEW

No Longer Are They Uptight

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A cynic once wrote that all good ideas go to television when they die.

Well, Hollywood's movie star system is dead. And now it is moving over to video.

It's well known by now that such headliners as Henry Fonda, Glenn Ford, Tony Curtis, Shirley MacLaine and James Garner are going to do regular network series within the next year or two.

And James Stewart is the latest big catch, signing to do a weekly half-hour situation comedy on NBC-TV the season after next — with his role reported to be that of a college professor.

The question in all these signings, so far as the public is concerned, is: Why are movie stars, who used to look down on television generally, finally succumbing to its weekly lures?

There are a number of answers.

First, to be blunt: While some who have signed still can pull their weight on a movie marquee, others really are not major motion picture boxoffice attractions any more, despite their often superior talent and famous names.

So they are cleverly and — they hope — gracefully moving over to video while still big enough to command huge television fees.

By switching to the home screen, they are also, in a sense, returning to the older audience — televiewers — that was weaned on the Hollywood star system, and still suitable is impressed.

The big new movie audience is very young, and anti-star system, at least the Hollywood kind. Yet there are occasional exceptions like Steve McQueen and Paul Newman. And sometimes a new star is even made — like Elliott Gould.

But you won't see any of these in a regular television series—certainly not so long as the are hot as major movie headliners.

Question: Why else are film stars switching to television?

Well, among other reasons, there is an element of the security that movie studios used to offer—a steady place to work for a reasonable length of time. Movies today, on the other hand, are a changing, insecure business—with no hit assuring long stardom.

But why is television coming up with some incredible deals for these stars when they are no guarantee to succeed—and when it may hurt the chances of a series to make a real profit?

For one reason, the networks are under increasing competitive pressure these days—with the future sure to bring opposition lures such as cable television and video cassettes. And pre-sold star power is a pretty shrewd commodity for middleaged home viewers.

Senators Favor Lockheed Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has voted in favor of an administration request for $200 million in contingency funds for the financially troubled Lockheed Aircraft Corp., manufacturer of the C5 cargo plane.

The funds are part of an advance payment to the company for the super transport. The vote breakdown was not disclosed.

The committee rejected an amendment by Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., to delete the $200 million from the $2 billion military procurement authorization bill.

Bandleader Lawrence Welk, playing in the ninth annual Harrah's Invitational Golf Tournament yesterday at Lake Tahoe, could have used his well known words to count the strokes he lost when his shot on the 18th hole dropped into a water hazard, making him look more like a fisherman than a golfer. Casino manager Harry Goodheart won the tournament.

MUST SIT ON ICE

Finley Delayed In Seals Deal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The current owners of the Oakland Seals have gone to bankruptcy court to delay at least temporarily the purchase of the debt-ridden hockey club by sports maverick Charles O. Finley.

U.S. District Judge Gerald S. Levin blocked the purchase Thursday by accepting a petition which gives the current owners more time to pay off nearly $4 million in debts.

MONDAY HEARING

Finley could find a clear road once again, however, if bankruptcy referee Sheridan Downey, Jr., dismisses the petition in a hearing set for Monday in Oakland.

Levin's decision came an hour before San Francisco Superior Court Judge Robert Schnacke was to sign the club over to Finley. Schnacke bowed to Levin's order and said he would hold off signing ownership transfer papers at least until Monday.

Finley, a millionaire insurance man, is the owner of baseball's Oakland A's. He is famous for trading star players, abruptly firing managers and dressing his baseball players in white shoes.

Finley has been in Montreal most of this week to try and get his $3.4 million offer for the Seals approved by the National Hockey League Board of Governors.

LATER IN N.Y.

But William Wirtz, president of the Chicago Black Hawks and chairman of the 14-man league governing board, said Finley's offer probably will be considered at a later date in New York.

"He came here (to Montreal) to meet some of the governors and study how to obtain the franchise," Wirtz said. "His effort to purchase runs through June 30 and it is likely the governors will meet in New York some time before then to consider it."

Trans-National Communications of New York owns 80 per cent of the Seals and Seymour and Northrup Knox of Buffalo, N.Y., hold the remainder.

Athletics Let One Get Away

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Oakland A's let one get away, just when they appeared to be putting it all together for a run toward the top of the American League West.

With two out in the ninth inning and two strikes against him, Chuck Hinton rifled a two-run homer to tie the A's Thursday night. Then Cleveland came from behind once again, after Oakland had scored a go-ahead run in the 10th, to win it 6-5 on Roy Foster's two-run homer.

HARD-LUCK

The defeat ruined a tough pitching effort by hard-luck Chuck Dobson and prevented the A's from climbing to within five games of the idle Minnesota Twins. Instead, they fell six games out of first place.

The A's had won three in a row and six of their last seven, gaining two full games on Minnesota in the first two contests against Cleveland. Now they'll have to regain the winning touch all over again, except this time they'll be up against the tough Baltimore Orioles.

Rollie Fingers (3-3) goes against Tom Phoebus (3-4) as the A's to dent the Orioles, first place team in the AL East, in the opener of a three-game set tonight.

NEW FACES

The A's will have a couple of new faces on the roster as they open against Baltimore.

Steve Hovley, an outfielder, was obtained from Milwaukee Thursday in exchange for pitcher Al Downing and veteran first baseman Tito Francona. Pitcher Fred Talbot was promoted from the A's Des Mines Triple-A club to fill Downing's spot.

Hovley is a 24-year-old outfielder and Stanford University graduate who batted .277 last year. He had 38 hits for a .288 average with the Brewers this season but entered manager Dave Bristol's dog house when he failed to pay a fine imposed for tardiness.

Talbot, who appeared briefly with Oakland late last season, had a 2-2 record and 4.08 earned run averages with Des Moines.

Rookie Debut Vs. Gibson

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Skip Pitlock's professional baseball career was delayed a couple of years by his college education, so he made up for it by advancing through the minors to the San Francisco Giants in short order.

Pitlock, 23, makes his first major league appearance tonight when San Francisco takes on Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The lithe lefthander has hurled only 204 professitnal innings after graduating from Southern Illinois University.

10-3 RECORD

In 106 innings with the Giants' Phoenix club of the Pacific Coast League, Pitlock won 10 games in 13 decisions and struckout 92 batters while walking 43. He piled up an earned run average of 2.46 in 13 games, and was called up a couple of days ago by San Francisco manager Charlie Fox.

Fox gave Pitlock's career a big lift when both started this season at Phoenix. Fox reviewed Pitlock's record in Class A ball and decided a big jump to Triple-A would not be premature.

The Giants are 15 1-2 games away from pacesetter Cincinnati in the National League West. They're coming off a 4-2 win Wednesday over Pittsburgh in which Gaylord Perry looked sharp and three players rammed homers.

BAD PITCHING

But San Francisco has failed to put together a winning streak of any duration, largely because of a pitching staff that has a combined earned run average of 5.65.

The Cardinals were stung Thursday night 2-1 by the Los Angeles Dodgers in 12 innings. The Cards, unlike the Giants, are in contention in their division race. St. Louis trails first place Chicago by 5 1-2 in the National League East.

Rich Robertson pitches against St. Louis' Chuck Taylor Saturday afternoon, with Juan Marichal rounding out the Candlestick Park series against the Cards' Mike Torrez on Sunday.

World Cup Soccer Action At Win-Or-Go-Home Stage

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — It's win from now on in the World Cup Soccer championships, or pack for home. It's that simple.

Mexico, Russia, Italy, Uruguay, Brazil, England, West Germany and Peru survived the group round-robin qualifications and square up for the quarterfinals Sunday where the loser takes the plane home. It's sudden death from now on.

The survivors rested up Friday in readiness for the quarters, although some teams will have to travel to new playing sites.

PAIRINGS

The quarter-final pairings for Sunday are Mexico or Russia against Uruguay at Mexico City, Mexico or Russia against Italy at Toluca, Brazil against Peru at Guadalajara and West Germany against England at Leon.

The International Football federation (FIFA) must decide whether Mexico or Russia travels to Toluca. The teams finished even at five points each and with a goal difference of five in group I. The group winner stays at the Aztec Stadium.

AZTEC STADIUM

Mexican officials are demanding the host nation be allowed to remain at the 107,000-seat Aztec Stadium, claiming a precedent was set in 1966 when England won the Cup without leaving home base at Wembley.

The Russians, however, also want to remain in Mexico City. Russian coach Gavrill Katchaline said "it's like home now. We have gotten used to the peculiar conditions and don't particularly want to go to Toluca."

Mexico made it into the quarter-finals with a disputed 15th minute penalty shot by fullback Gustavo Pena for a 1-0 triumph over Belgium.

England and Italy took the other quarter final places at stake, although neither displayed championship form.

Alan Clarke rapped in a 48th minute penalty, also a disputed shot, for England's 1-0 triumph over Czechoslovakia, while Italy was held to a scoreless tie by the amateur Israeli outfit.

In another match, of no interest as both teams were out of quarter finals contention, Bulgaria and Morocco played a 1-1 tie at Leon.

Determined To Win 'Baja Thing'

ENSENADA, Mexico (UPI)—Veteran race driver Parnelli Jones, a former Indianapolis 500 winner, raced around the rugged Baja California Peninsula in record time to win the second annual Baja 500 off-road race Thursday.

Jones, of Torrance, Calif., and car builder Bill Stroppe toured the 558 mile triangular course in 11 hours and 55 minutes in their Ford Bronco Colt, finishing ahead of 236 other entries.

HAPPY

Jones, thwarted in several past Baja events with mechanical troubles, was elated.

"I feel better now," he said. "I was determined to win one of these Baja things."

Jones' time was first overall and first in the four-wheel vehicle class. It beat last year's top time by five hours and five minutes.

First in the motorcycle category, with a time of 12 hours and 36 minutes, were Bill Silverthrone, Lemon Grove, Calif., and Gene Fetty, El Cajon, Calif.

Entrants in the National Off-Road Racing Association event left here at one minute intervals starting at n oon Wednesday. The final vehicles were gone by 4:30 p.m. and had 30 hours to finish the race and still qualify for the $80,000 in prize money.

Golf Leader Says 'Do-It-Yourself'

Reid, never a winner on the pro tour at the age of 33, rebuilt his grip and his swing in his St. Louis home during the winter, ignoring the fact that he had the best single round and the best string of consecutive birdies on the pro tour last year.

FIVE UNDER

Thursday the new form worked so well he became the first day leader in the $130,000 Western Open with a five-under-par 66 at Beverly country Club and held a one-stroke margin over eight challengers.

The eight were Arnold Palmer, who had a four-putt green on his first round, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Dick Lotz, the second-leading money winner this year, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Hugh Royer.

Reid said he changed his style after lengthy consideration. "I decided if I ever was going to be successful," he said, "it wouldn't be with the grip I had. And when you make quite a change in the grip, the mechanics of the swing have to change, too.

"I've only felt comfortable for the last couple of weeks," he added. "Any change takes a while to become accustomed to. Nobody helped me. I developed it myself.

Actually Reid caught fire on the home stretch after a miserable opening. He birdied six of the last eight holes, two of them on putting snakes of 20 and 40 feet.

Palmer perhaps could have claimed a share of the lead, or maybe been in front alone, except for his performance on the green of the 570-yard, par five second hole.

He was "45 or 50 feet" from the pin after his second shot, but he left his first putt "eight or 10 feet short," charged his second 18 inches past the pin, sent the next effort past the cup to the right and said, "Thank God it was only a few inches, or I might have missed that."

Brundage Warns On Ski Future

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Avery Brundage has warned that skiing's future in the Olympic Games may depend on whether amateurism can be fostered in the sport by 1972.

Brundage, 82, is chairman of the International Olympics Games. He reiterated here Wednesday that there are only amateurs and professional athletes and the Olympics are for the former.

He told the U.S. Ski Association convention that the sport must "clean house" and said he was shocked at what happened during the 1968 winter games in Grenoble, France, when he said most of the competitors were given money to compete.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Bob Bailey Happy, Not Satisfied

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Bob Bailey was happy but not satisfied.

Bailey smashed a two-run pinch hit homer for Montreal Thursday night as the Expos beat the Cincinnati Reds, 8-4, but he still had a complaint to lodge after the game.

"I only get into the game as a pinch hitter," Bailey said. "I sure would like to play regularly but I guess everyone would like to be a regular."

Obviously, Montreal manager Gene Mauch is hesitant about tampering with a good thing since it was only a month ago that Bailey delivered a pinch hit grand slam homer which beat the New York Mets.

AFTER ERROR

Bailey's homer against Cincinnati, his fourth of the season, came in the sixth inning after Reds third baseman Tony Perez misplayed San Anselman John Boccabella's grounder. It increased the Expos lead to 7-4 and gave reiever Claude Raymond some breathing room over the final three innings as Raymond shutout the Reds on one hit to preserve starter Carl Morton's sixth victory against three losses.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta beat Philadelphia, 6-4; Chicago downed San Diego, 7-1; and Los Angeles edged St. Louis, 2-1, in 12 innings. All other teams were idle.

A.L. SCORES

In the only American League action, Baltimore routed California, 9-1; Cleveland edged Oakland, 6-5, in 10 innings; Detroit beat Milwaukee, 6-2; and Washington at Kansas City was rained out.

The Expos jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead in the first inning off loser Jim Merritt (11-4) with John Bateman's three-run homer capping the outburst. Perez ignited a three-run Cincinnati uprising in the fourth with his 22nd homer and 64th RBI, both major league highs, and Johnny Bench brought the Reds to within one run in the sixth with his 19th homer.

Bailey put Montreal out of danger in the bottom of the sixth and Coco Laboy doubled home Rusty Staub with the Expos' final run in the seventh.

CEPEDA HITS

Orlando Cepeda collected three hits and drove in two runs for Atlanta as the Braves cut the Reds' lead in the West Division to nine games. Rico Carty, the leading hitter in the majors with a .401 average, tripled home the Braves' first run in the third off loser Rick Wise. Jim Nash, with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm and Bob Priddy, upped his record to 8-2.

Jim Hickman's 100th major league homer and the six-hit pitching of Bill Hands carried Chicago past San iDego and enabled the Cubs to increase their East Division lead to 4 1-2 games. The Cubs took advantage of Mike Corkins' wildness as the Padres' starter issued nine walks in 6 1-3 innings, including one to Johnny Callison in the first inning with the bases loaded which scored Glenn Beckert with the first run. The victory was Hands' eighth but his first since May 24.

12 INNINGS

Willie Davis doubled home Maury Wills with the winning run in the 12th inning as Los Angeles shaded St. Louis. Joe Hague's sacrifice fly gave the Cardinals a 1-0 lead in the fourth but the Dodgers tied it in their half of the inning on Manny Mota's second home run of the season and the first round tripper for Los Angeles since June 1. Jim Brewer (1-1) got the win in relief while Frank Linzy (3-3) took the loss.

DIPLOMA AND PRO BASEBALL PACT

Big Week For Young Marinite

By DAVID EINSTEIN

On Tuesday, four days after graduating from San Jose State College with a degree in advertising, ex-Novato High School star Tom Corder signed a contract to play baseball for the Los Angeles Dodgers. Thus he fulfilled two American dreams in one week.

"All I've ever wanted was to play professional baseball, and now I'm going to get the chance," he reported exhubertantly from his San Jose apartment after Dodger scout Ray Perry signed him in what he termed was "A great deal, especially for a college senior."

In a sense, Corder has worked almost half his life to be able to go to Ogden, Utah, where the Dodgers are sending him next week to join one of their rookie teams.

To be exact, he has played baseball since age 12, when his family moved to Novato from Albany, Oregon. Until that time, he had played softball, but never baseball.

For nine seasons since then, on high school, college, American Legion and semi-pro teams, Corder has evolved into a complete shortstop. A news release from San Jose, where he played three varsity seasons, calls him one of the greatest players in the school's history.

In his junior year he hit .385 and was the most valuable player in the West Coast Athletic Conference. This season, although his average dropped to .289, he still led the Spartans in doubles (6), home runs (4), RBI's (33), total bases (61) and slugging percentage (.409).

His sub-par average this season is understandable for two reasons. First, San Jose played this season in the Pacific Coast Athletic Conference, a much stronger league than the WCAC.

Second, since he was the only professionally dangerous hitter on the team, Tom almost never saw a fastball, and found himself being pitched around and at more often than to.

Even so, his performance this was a disappointment to the scouts, who reflected their caution by passing over him until the 13th round of the major league draft last week. He was chosen number 328 out of almost 1,000.

For Corder, not hitting .300 was probably the best thing that could have happened. "It taught me a lot not having a good year," he said thoughtfully. "Now I know that when I have a slump in professional ball, and everybody does, I'll know how to handlie it."

Up until this season, Corder had always torn asunder whatever league he happened to be in, gaining all star recognition every year since 1965, when he was a junion at Novato High School.

After graduating he played for and was most valuable player on Gene Ferretti's Novato American Legion team for two summers. In 1968 and '69 he played for Joe Anselmo's semi-pro San Rafael Braves. "The summers I spent with Joe were the ones that helped me the most," says Corder.

Before the draft Corder made a list of the clubs that he would like to play for. The Dodgers were on it.

"The Dodgers have a great organization. They take care of their ballplayers,' he says. "They have a lot of young kids, but they always give you a chance. I'm lucky to have been drafted by them."

The Dodgers drafted Corder 13th out of a total of 45 players. So they must feel that he can do the job.

Before he signed, Perry asked him if he thought he could play in the class A California League. Tom said yes. Whether or not he gets a chance this season will be decided by his performance in Ogden, where his wife, Linda, will join him the first of July.

FISH AND GAME

Red Hot Trout Angling At Marin's Reservoirs

By AL GIDDINGS

With heavy trout plants in both Phoenix and Lagunitas reservoirs last Friday, the fishing really began to pick up by Sunday. Well, here's some more good news for you trout anglers! By the time you read this column, another large plant of trout in Phoenix, Lagunitas and Rodeo Lagoon will have been made! Fishing this weekend will be red hot! Get your kids up there and rig them up with small hooks and light leaders, not over three pound test; two pound, or even one and a quarter pound test is still better.

Norm Quadros from Mill Valley has been using the plastic floating bubble with a fly trailer at Rodeo. He took two quick limits in two evenings using this method. Use a spinning rod for this, casting out and retrieving in mixed pulls and jerks. At times, on one retrieve, he would get three or four hits until finally a fish would be hooked. This should work at Lagunitas and Phoenix too. The leader should be about two feet long behind the bubble.

ON MAY 29, the Marin Municipal Water District planted 436 yearling silver salmon in Papermill Creek in the vicinity of the westerly boundary of Samuel P. Taylor State Park. The district attorney, Bruce Bales, also dropped me a note saying an additional purchase by the MMWD of 7,000 to 8,000 fingerling steelhead has been made to be placed in the stream next spring to help maintain an ecological balance. The water company is to be commended for its quick action in this case.

AND FOR you travelers: Mr. Nick Campanion of Greenbrae called me after spending last weekend up on Trinity Lake. Nick said the trout fishing was excellent, but he had heard about some big black bass so decided to drift night crawlers in some of the hotspots. His catch? One 9¾ pound Black Bass which is the largest bass ever taken there.

ENOS FOSTER, Ropie Clark and Don Greer, all Marinites, took their families to Diamond Lake in Oregon for trout. I saw the fish they brought home — all beauties to 16 inches, but also very heavy. Enos used six pound test leaders and things were slow until they started using two pound test or less. The Oregon Fish and Game men give citations if you don't have a fire extinguisher and a life jacket for every person aboard. Go prepared.

UP AT Clear Lake, the residents working in conjunction with the F. and G. Dept. are determined to reestablish Clear Lake as a top fishing spot. They are growing catfish (20,000 of them) and releasing them when they reach eight inches in length. And a second stocking of Florida largemouth bass was completed last month. Approximately 380 of these broad fish have been stocked to date. These fish grow larger than the California bass, and will also crossbreed.

ANGLERS ARE reminded that the trout — salmon limit at Shasta Lake has been cut to five fish as part of the Fish and Game Dept's. program to bolster the lake's trophy trout fishing. There is no weight limit on the five fish limit. Some 3600 silver salmon were planted last fall. Indications are that silvers grow even faster than the populations of browns and rainbows now there. Ten thousand more silvers were planted this year. Spectacular fishing is expected this fall with fish from 3-5 pounds.

PLANS TO burn 50 acres in the Mendocino National Forest were announced by the U.S. Forest Service and the F. & G. Dept. This sounds like a good step in the right direction especially in areas where dense brush of little value as food for deer and other wildlife is concerned.

The Fish and Game Commission has revised its policy on season opening dates to provide a uniform statewide dove opener of Sept. 1. No season on doves may begin before Sept. 1. The usual Saturday opening on Sept. 5 would have been five days after the opening in Mexico and Arizona, so the commission adopted the Sept. 1 opening.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

In bowling, the wrist should be firm at all times. Should the wrist twist, the ball will probably have some sort of sidespin instead of the good, rolling motion needed.

Reno's VIP's Outlast The No-Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Reno's VIP's outlasted the KSFO No-Stars 11-9 Thursday night before more than 12,000 Cow Palace fans in a loosely-played softball game held annually for the benefit of the Police Athletic League.

David Hartman of the TV series "The Bold Ones" won the MVP award for slamming a three-run homer.

Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants also showed up long enough to belt a homer, but VIPs manager Reno Barsochinni managed somehow to convince scorekeepers that it was just a batting exhibition and should not count for real.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Bob Bailey Happy, Not Satisfied

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Bob Bailey was happy but not satisfied.

Bailey smashed a two-run pinch hit homer for Montreal Thursday night as the Expos beat the Cincinnati Reds, 8-4, but he still had a complaint to lodge after the game.

"I only get into the game as a pinch hitter," Bailey said. "I sure would like to play regularly but I guess everyone would like to be a regular."

Obviously, Montreal manager Gene Mauch is hesitant about tampering with a good thing since it was only a month ago that Bailey delivered a pinch hit grand slam homer which beat the New York Mets.

AFTER ERROR

Bailey's homer against Cincinnati, his fourth of the season, came in the sixth inning after Reds third baseman Tony Perez misplayed San Anselman John Boccabella's grounder. It increased the Expos lead to 7-4 and gave reiever Claude Raymond some breathing room over the final three innings as Raymond shutout the Reds on one hit to preserve starter Carl Morton's sixth victory against three losses.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta beat Philadelphia, 6-4; Chicago downed San Diego, 7-1; and Los Angeles edged St. Louis, 2-1, in 12 innings. All other teams were idle.

A.L. SCORES

In the only American League action, Baltimore routed California, 9-1; Cleveland edged Oakland, 6-5, in 10 innings; Detroit beat Milwaukee, 6-2; and Washington at Kansas City was rained out.

The Expos jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead in the first inning off loser Jim Merritt (11-4) with John Bateman's three-run homer capping the outburst. Perez ignited a three-run Cincinnati uprising in the fourth with his 22nd homer and 64th RBI, both major league highs, and Johnny Bench brought the Reds to within one run in the sixth with his 19th homer.

Bailey put Montreal out of danger in the bottom of the sixth and Coco Laboy doubled home Rusty Staub with the Expos' final run in the seventh.

CEPEDA HITS

Orlando Cepeda collected three hits and drove in two runs for Atlanta as the Braves cut the Reds' lead in the West Division to nine games. Rico Carty, the leading hitter in the majors with a .401 average, tripled home the Braves' first run in the third off loser Rick Wise. Jim Nash, with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm and Bob Priddy, upped his record to 8-2.

Jim Hickman's 100th major league homer and the six-hit pitching of Bill Hands carried Chicago past San iDego and enabled the Cubs to increase their East Division lead to 4 1-2 games. The Cubs took advantage of Mike Corkins' wildness as the Padres' starter issued nine walks in 6 1-3 innings, including one to Johnny Callison in the first inning with the bases loaded which scored Glenn Beckert with the first run. The victory was Hands' eighth but his first since May 24.

12 INNINGS

Willie Davis doubled home Maury Wills with the winning run in the 12th inning as Los Angeles shaded St. Louis. Joe Hague's sacrifice fly gave the Cardinals a 1-0 lead in the fourth but the Dodgers tied it in their half of the inning on Manny Mota's second home run of the season and the first round tripper for Los Angeles since June 1. Jim Brewer (1-1) got the win in relief while Frank Linzy (3-3) took the loss.

DIPLOMA AND PRO BASEBALL PACT

Big Week For Young Marinite

By DAVID EINSTEIN

On Tuesday, four days after graduating from San Jose State College with a degree in advertising, ex-Novato High School star Tom Corder signed a contract to play baseball for the Los Angeles Dodgers. Thus he fulfilled two American dreams in one week.

"All I've ever wanted was to play professional baseball, and now I'm going to get the chance," he reported exhuberantly from his San Jose apartment after Dodger scout Ray Perry signed him in what he termed was "A great deal, especially for a college senior."

In a sense, Corder has worked almost half his life to be able to go to Ogden, Utah, where the Dodgers are sending him next week to join one of their rookie teams.

To be exact, he has played baseball since age 12, when his family moved to Novato from Albany, Oregon. Until that time, he had played softball, but never baseball.

For nine seasons since then, on high school, college, American Legion and semi-pro teams, Corder has evolved into a complete shortstop. A news release from San Jose, where he played three varsity seasons, calls him one of the greatest players in the school's history.

In his junior year he hit .385 and was the most valuable player in the West Coast Athletic Conference. This season, although his average dropped to .289, he still led the Spartans in doubles (6), home runs (4), RBI's (33), total bases (61) and slugging percentage (.409).

His sub-par average this season is understandable for two reasons. First, San Jose played this season in the Pacific Coast Athletic Conference, a much stronger league than the WCAC.

Second, since he was the only professionally dangerous hitter on the team, Tom almost never saw a fastball, and found himself being pitched around and at more often than to.

Even so, his performance this was a disappointment to the scouts, who reflected their caution by passing over him until the 13th round of the major league draft last week. He was chosen number 328 out of almost 1,000.

For Corder, not hitting .300 was probably the best thing that could have happened. "It taught me a lot not having a good year," he said thoughtfully. "Now I know that when I have a slump in professional ball, and everybody does, I'll know how to handlie it."

Up until this season, Corder had always torn asunder whatever league he happened to be in, gaining all star recognition every year since 1965, when he was a junion at Novato High School.

After graduating he played for and was most valuable player on Gene Ferretti's Novato American Legion team for two summers. In 1968 and '69 he played for Joe Anselmo's semi-pro San Rafael Braves. "The summers I spent with Joe were the ones that helped me the most," says Corder.

Before the draft Corder made a list of the clubs that he would like to play for. The Dodgers were on it.

"The Dodgers have a great organization. They take care of their ballplayers,' he says. "They have a lot of young kids, but they always give you a chance. I'm lucky to have been drafted by them."

The Dodgers drafted Corder 13th out of a total of 45 players. So they must feel that he can do the job.

Before he signed, Perry asked him if he thought he could play in the class A California League. Tom said yes. Whether or not he gets a chance this season will be decided by his performance in Ogden, where his wife, Linda, will join him the first of July.

FISH AND GAME

Red Hot Trout Angling At Marin's Reservoirs

By AL GIDDINGS

With heavy trout plants in both Phoenix and Lagunitas reservoirs last Friday, the fishing really began to pick up by Sunday. Well, here's some more good news for you trout anglers! By the time you read this column, another large plant of trout in Phoenix, Lagunitas and Rodeo Lagoon will have been made! Fishing this weekend will be red hot! Get your kids up there and rig them up with small hooks and light leaders, not over three pound test; two pound, or even one and a quarter pound test is still better.

Norm Quadros from Mill Valley has been using the plastic floating bubble with a fly trailer at Rodeo. He took two quick limits in two evenings using this method. Use a spinning rod for this, casting out and retrieving in mixed pulls and jerks. At times, on one retrieve, he would get three or four hits until finally a fish would be hooked. This should work at Lagunitas and Phoenix too. The leader should be about two feet long behind the bubble.

ON MAY 29, the Marin Municipal Water District planted 436 yearling silver salmon in Papermill Creek in the vicinity of the westerly boundary of Samuel P. Taylor State Park. The district attorney, Bruce Bales, also dropped me a note saying an additional purchase by the MMWD of 7,000 to 8,000 fingerling steelhead has been made to be placed in the stream next spring to help maintain an ecological balance. The water company is to be commended for its quick action in this case.

AND FOR you travelers: Mr. Nick Campanion of Greenbrae called me after spending last weekend up on Trinity Lake. Nick said the trout fishing was excellent, but he had heard about some big black bass so decided to drift night crawlers in some of the hotspots. His catch? One 9¾ pound Black Bass which is the largest bass ever taken there.

ENOS FOSTER, Ropie Clark and Don Greer, all Marinites, took their families to Diamond Lake in Oregon for trout. I saw the fish they brought home — all beauties to 16 inches, but also very heavy. Enos used six pound test leaders and things were slow until they started using two pound test or less. The Oregon Fish and Game men give citations if you don't have a fire extinguisher and a life jacket for every person aboard. Go prepared.

UP AT Clear Lake, the residents working in conjunction with the F. and G. Dept. are determined to reestablish Clear Lake as a top fishing spot. They are growing catfish (20,000 of them) and releasing them when they reach eight inches in length. And a second stocking of Florida largemouth bass was completed last month. Approximately 380 of these broad fish have been stocked to date. These fish grow larger than the California bass, and will also crossbreed.

ANGLERS ARE reminded that the trout — salmon limit at Shasta Lake has been cut to five fish as part of the Fish and Game Dept's. program to bolster the lake's trophy trout fishing. There is no weight limit on the five fish limit. Some 3600 silver salmon were planted last fall. Indications are that silvers grow even faster than the populations of browns and rainbows now there. Ten thousand more silvers were planted this year. Spectacular fishing is expected this fall with fish from 3-5 pounds.

PLANS TO burn 50 acres in the Mendocino National Forest were announced by the U.S. Forest Service and the F. & G. Dept. This sounds like a good step in the right direction especially in areas where dense brush of little value as food for deer and other wildlife is concerned.

The Fish and Game Commission has revised its policy on season opening dates to provide a uniform statewide dove opener of Sept. 1. No season on doves may begin before Sept. 1. The usual Saturday opening on Sept. 5 would have been five days after the opening in Mexico and Arizona, so the commission adopted the Sept. 1 opening.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

In bowling, the wrist should be firm at all times. Should the wrist twist, the ball will probably have some sort of sidespin instead of the good, rolling motion needed.

Reno's VIP's Outlast The No-Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Reno's VIP's outlasted the KSFO No-Stars 11-9 Thursday night before more than 12,000 Cow Palace fans in a loosely-played softball game held annually for the benefit of the Police Athletic League.

David Hartman of the TV series "The Bold Ones" won the MVP award for slamming a three-run homer.

Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants also showed up long enough to belt a homer, but VIPs manager Reno Barsochinni managed somehow to convince scorekeepers that it was just a batting exhibition and should not count for real.

O'Dowd Cage Coach Gets Promotion

MORAGA (UPI)—Frank LaPorte, one of the winningest high school coaches in Northern California basketball, has been given the assistant varsity coaching job at St. Mary's College.

Athletic director Bruce Hale said LaPorte also will coach the frosh. LaPorte comes from Oakland's Bishop O'Dowd High School, where his clubs have amassed a tremendous won-lost record of 342-75.
